STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA	)	IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
COUNTY OF BERKELEY	)	FOR THE NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
Ronald E. Price And Diana R. B. Price,	)	CASE NO. 04-CP-08-1855
Plaintiffs,	)
vs.	)	ORDER DENYING FOXES MOTIONS FOR JNOV, NEW TRIAL AND TO ALTER OR AMEND THE FINAL ORDER AFTER TRIAL ON THE MERITS
Belinda Fox, et. al.	)
Defendants,	)

This matter came before me for a hearing on September 24, 2018 by way of motions by the Defendants Gerry and Belinda Fox ("Foxes") for judgment notwithstanding verdict ("JNOV") pursuant to Rule 50(b) SCRCP, for a new trial pursuant to Rule 59(a) SCRCP and to alter of amend this court final order after a trial on the merits filed June 29, 2018. Present at the hearing were Paul Ferrara and Nadia Baig for the Foxes and J. Derrick Jackson for Ronald and Diana Price who were also present. After carefully considering the detailed briefs of counsel, the previous evidence and testimony at trial and the arguments of counsel, the court denies these motions for the reasons discussed herein.

I. JUDGMENT NOTWITHSTANDING VERDICT (JNOV)

The court believes this type of motion is generally considered exclusive to jury trials allowing the judge -in essence- to overrule the jury in certain very limited circumstances. However, to the extent the Foxes arguments may be reclassified or considered by the court under Rules 52(b) or 59(e) SCRCP, the court will address each of them.

A. PLAINTIFFS' DAMAGES ARE FULLY SUPPORTED BY THE RECORD AND EXPERT TESTIMONY.

The Foxes argue that the Plaintiff's proven damages were speculative and not certain. The court disagrees.

For damages to be recoverable, the evidence should be sufficient to "enable the court or jury to determine the amount thereof with reasonable certainty or accuracy." Whisenant v. James Island Corp., 277 S.C. 10, 13, 281 S.E.2d 794, 796 (1981). "While neither the existence, causation nor amount of damages can be left to conjecture, guess or speculation, proof with mathematical certainty of the amount of loss or damage is not required." Id. Armstrong v. Collins, 366 S.C. 204, 225-26, 621 S.E.2d 368, 379 (Ct. App. 2005).

The Prices offered the expert testimony of Edward Carter who was qualified by the court as an expert in residential appraisals. Mr. Carter owns his own appraisal firm and has been performing appraisal for 20 years. He testified he was familiar with appraising lots in residential subdivisions. Mr. Carter has several professional designations. Mr. Carter prepared a detailed report of his findings which was offered into evidence (P#38) and Mr. Carter testified at trial. He concluded that the value of the Prices property as represented to them was $145,410 but with all the conditions misrepresented by the Defendants was only worth $62,880, a difference of $82,530. Mr. Carter explained his methodologies at trial and in his report. The Prices as owners of the property testified that they agreed with this damage analysis.

The Foxes attempt to manufacture speculation by focusing on a single phrase used in a letter dated November 1, 2005 by the Prices previous counsel to a different appraiser. The Foxes allege "However, page 62 of Plaintiffs' Exhibit 38, hereinafter "Carter's Report," is in direct conflict with the Court's finding of fact regarding the wetlands on the Plaintiffs property. Carter's report makes the faulty assumption that

Plaintiffs' 7.86-acre property contains "one-third to one-half wetlands." This is not true, and Mr. Carter did not make any faulty assumption about the wetlands.

The Foxes ignore several significant points which render this argument moot. First, the letter containing the reference to "one-third to one half wetlands" is dated November 1, 2005. The Prices wetlands delineation letter from the Army Corp of Engineers (showing the 2.0 acres of wetlands) is dated November 7, 2005 after that letter. Thus, the precise amount of wetlands was not available to the Prices previous counsel at the time he wrote the letter but was available once the Prices received their wetland delineation report a few days later. His report shows that Mr. Carter was fully aware of the precise 2.0 acres of wetlands in reaching his conclusions on damages. There was no faulty assumption or direct conflict in is report. The wetland delineation showing the 2.0 acres was included in his report. Furthermore, under the heading Property Description, Usable Site Size, Mr. Carter states "+- 5.681 Acres upland and +- 2.00 Acres Wetlands" and references the wetland delineation letter.

Indeed, the transcript shows that Mr. Ferrara cross-examined Mr. Carter on this point and tried to get him to value just the 2.0 acres wetlands separately but he refused noting that property was not sold that way but rather at a blended rate. Upon redirect, Mr. Carter also confirmed the accuracy of the Army Corp's delineation as being "pretty right on" based on his experience.

The court also notes that the alleged speculative phrase was not Mr. Carter's but the Price's previous counsel in a letter to a different appraiser. Furthermore, the Prices were the only party to submit evidence on this issue.

For all these reasons, the court denies this argument and affirms that the Prices damages are fully supported by the record and expert testimony.

B. THE FOXES ARE FULLY LIABLE FOR GILBERT'S REPRESENTATIONS AS AGENT AND PARTNER.

The Foxes argue they should not be held liable because the actual misrepresentations were made by Gilbert their agent and partner. This is an old argument with a new coat of paint. The Foxes contend the Prices failed to show that Gilbert was "authorized" to make representations on behalf of the partnership. This argument is not supported by the record and is a misstatement of the law.

First, the record contains ample evidence that Gilbert was "authorized" to make representations. Gerry Fox allowed Gilbert to "do all the work" in exchange for a split of the profits. (Dep. 54) Belinda Fox testified in her deposition that Gilbert was the one who dealt with prospective buyers (Dep. 38) The Foxes specifically allowed Gilbert to market and sell the properties. (Dep. 77). Ms. Price testified that Gilbert told her Belinda Fox was his partner, they work together, and he was her salesman. Furthermore, the acts of Gilbert are consistent with that of a development partner selling lots within a subdivision.

Second, the Foxes misstate the law and what the Prices must prove to establish liability for Gilbert's misrepresentations. The Foxes argue the Prices must show that Gilbert was authorized to make representations for the partnership. Under the law, the opposite is true, the Defendants must not only show that Gilbert was not authorized but also that the Prices knew he was not authorized. Every partner is an agent of the partnership. S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-310 "The act of every partner, including the execution in the partnership name of any instrument, for apparently carrying on in the usual way the business of the partnership of which he is a member binds the partnership, unless the partner so acting has in fact no authority to act for the partnership in the particular matter and the person with whom he is dealing has knowledge of the fact that he has no such authority. S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-310

(Emphasis added.) In this case, Gilbert apparently did have such authority and there is no evidence that the Prices had any knowledge of facts to the contrary.

An admission or representation made by any partner is evidence against the partnership. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-330) Notice or knowledge of any partner of any matter relating to partnership affairs, operates as notice to or knowledge of the partnership (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-340) For any wrongful act or omission of any partner which causes loss or injury to any person, the partnership is liable therefore to the same extent as the partner so acting or omitting to act. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-350.) All partners are liable jointly and severally for everything chargeable to the partnership. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-370).

For all these reasons, the court denies the Foxes motion on this ground.

C. THE COLLATERAL SOURCE RULE PROHIBITS THE FOXES FROM CLAIMING THEIR DAMAGES WERE PAID BY THE PRICES TITLE INSURANCE.

Clothed as an election of remedies argument, the Foxes argue they are entitled to the benefit of the Prices' title insurance despite not being a party to that contract and not paying any of the premiums. The Foxes contend that the Prices elected their remedy by pursuing a title insurance claim for some of the same damages. The Foxes argue the Prices are recovering twice for the same damages; however, as this court found in the order, the collateral source rule applies and prohibits such an argument. This exact argument was considered and rejected in the following case:

"Grainger proposes that the general rule disallowing an injured party from recovering twice for his damages should be applied in this instance. We find no persuasive reason to distinguish underinsurance proceeds from other insurance proceeds that are subject to the collateral source rule." Estate of Rattenni v. Grainger, 298 S.C. 276, 278, 379 S.E.2d 890, 890 (1989).

"The collateral source rule provides that compensation received by an injured party from a source wholly independent of the wrongdoer will not reduce the amount of damages owed by the wrongdoer. Rattenni v. Grainger, 298 S.C. 276, 379 S.E.2d 890 (1989); Young v. Warr, 252 S.C. 179, 165 S.E.2d 797 (1969); Powers v. Temple, 250 S.C. 149, 156 S.E.2d 759 (1967). This rule has been liberally applied in South Carolina to preclude the reduction of damages. See Otis Elevator v. Hardin Construction Co., S.C , 450 S.E.2d 41 (1994)(contractual right to indemnification not defeated by fact that loss was actually paid by an insurance company); Rattenni v. Grainger, supra (tortfeasor's liability for damages not reduced by underinsurance proceeds); Powers v. Temple, supra (tortfeasor's liability for damages not reduced by disability payments from employer); New Foundation Baptist Church v. Davis, 257 S.C. 443, 186 S.E.2d 247 (1972)(tortfeasor's liability for damages not reduced by value of gratuitous repairs). The only requirement for qualification as a collateral source is that the source be "wholly independent of the wrongdoer."

"Other jurisdictions have specified a source is wholly independent, and therefore a collateral source, when the wrongdoer has not contributed to it, see Kistler v. Halsey. Colo., 173 Colo. 540, 481 P.2d 722 (Colo. 1971), and when payments to the injured party were not made on behalf of the wrongdoer, see Maduff Mortgage Corp. v. Deloitte, Haskins & Sells, 98 Ore. App. 497, 779 P.2d 1083 (1989)" Citizens & S. Nat'l Bank v. Gregory (In re W.B. Easton Constr. Co.), 320 S.C. 90, 92, 463 S.E.2d 317, 318 (1995)

In this case, the compensation received by the Prices from their title insurance company was from a source wholly independent of the Defendants (the title policy). The Defendants did not contribute to the Prices title insurance premiums and the compensation made by the title insurance company was not made on behalf of the Defendants.

The Foxes also contend that this is a windfall to the Prices. However, the Foxes ignore that to rule otherwise would provide a windfall to them.

The collateral source rule acts to prevent a benefit directed to the injured party from resulting in a windfall for the tortfeasor. Dixon v. Besco Eng'g, Inc., 320 S.C. 174, 182, 463 S.E.2d 636, 640 (Ct. App. 1995). A tortfeasor cannot take advantage of a contract between an injured party and a third person, no matter whether the source of the funds received is "an insurance company, an employer, a family member, or other source." Johnston v. Aiken Auto Parts, 311 S.C. 285, 287, 428 S.E.2d 737, 738 (Ct. App. 1993); see Dixon, 320 S.C. at 181, 463 S.E.2d at 640. "It is the tortfeasor's responsibility to compensate the injured party for all the harm that he causes, not the net loss the injured party receives." Dixon, 320 S.C. at 182, 428 S.E.2d at 640. Pustaver v. Gooden, 350 S.C. 409, 413, 566 S.E.2d 199, 201 (Ct. App. 2002)

This court denies the Foxes motion on this ground as the collateral source rule applies and the Foxes should pay for their own damages.

D. GILBERT'S MISREPRESENTATIONS WERE FALSE WHEN MADE AND DID RELATE TO PRESENT OR PRE-EXISTING FACTS.

The Foxes make a conclusory argument that the Plaintiffs failed to prove that the misrepresentations Gilbert made were false when made. However, the record demonstrates that this claim lacks merit.

SEPTIC TANK

Gilbert misrepresented to the Prices that their lot would perk and could support a septic tank, but at the time he made this representation he already knew their lot would not perk and could not support a septic tank. As found by the court, (Order, ¶11) On February 7, 2002, DHEC sent Gilbert a letter informing him that several lots in Eagle Harbor, including Lot 20 which the Prices would purchase "do not meet current minimum standards for any type subsurface treatment and disposal system currently offered by DHEC regulations." DHEC further advised Gilbert that "Gray mottles occur in the soil at the depth the water table is expected to rise. Our soil borings indicated these color patterns within 12 inches of the soil surface of the proposed lots..." [including Lot 20]. This shows that Gilbert knew that Lot 20 had a high-water table within a foot of the soil surface. DHEC states in this letter, "This limitation is so severe that an [sic] type of septic tank system would almost certainly fail to function in this type of soils. Also, I know of no reasonable way to improve the drainage capability of the soil." P#42)

SUBDIVISION

As found by the court (Order, ¶20), the Prices questioned the need for purchasing such a large tract (7.861 acres) but Gilbert represented that the tract could be subdivided to finance the construction of their house. Gilbert represented that the property could be subdivided into two lots, and three lots with homeowner's association approval. However, this representation was not true when made. In truth, the lot could not be subdivided because it would not support a septic tank. As found by the court (Order, ¶ 73-74) , "The Prices requested an administrative review by DHEC and asked, "Please confirm our understanding that the permit denial we received from Columbia prevents us from subdividing our lot for residential use, and please tell us the conditions that would need to exist (or changes that would need to happen) for us to sell half our lot as "residential" or meet DHEC standards, and therefore give us the ability to subdivide for residential sale." (P#30) DHEC responded by certified mail on May 17, 2005, "Unfortunately, this property would not pass for a septic system when originally subdivided. This is the reason for the small lot across Haney Branch Road, to accommodate the drain field for your residence. Therefore, this property could not be subdivided any further using septic systems. The only way I know to subdivide this property at this time would be to have public sewer access." (P#30)

The Foxes argue and offered evidence that Lot 20 could be subdivided but not for any residential use and no homes could be constructed on the subdivided lots. It would be patently misleading to suggest to prospective homeowners that the large lot they were purchasing in a new subdivision could be subdivided but never tell them they could not resell the subdivided lots for residential use. There is no evidence Gilbert or anyone else qualified or limited the representation to non-residential use when the representation was made.

RESTRICTIVE COVENANTS

Gilbert further represented that the lot would be part of a gated, restricted community with a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits which would enhance the value of their property. (Order, ¶22). The representation was false when made because there were no valid restrictive covenants encumbering Phase II at the time and there are still no valid covenants for Phase II.

LACK OF AMENTITIES

Gilbert promised various amenities would be built for the boy's home that could also be used by residents of Eagle Harbor Phase II. This is the only misrepresentation which relates to future events or unfulfilled promises.

TESTING/WETLANDS

Gilbert represented to the Prices that testing had been done and everything was fine. (Order, ¶4) By definition, something that "has been done" relates to a pre-existing fact. This representation was false because everything was not fine as the soil had a very high-water table which would not support a septic tank. Furthermore, pursuant to DHEC regulations implementing the Clean Water Act, the Prices had the reasonable expectations that Gilbert and the Foxes would follow the law and perform wetlands delineations as part of their application for a permit under the Clean Water Act and Comprehensive Stormwater Prevention Plan (CSWPP). (S.C. Code Ann. § 48-14-30; S.C. Code Ann. Regs. 72-305; 33 U.S.C.S. § 1344). They did not. The Prices were informed by letter from the Army Corp of Engineers that their property contained 2.0 acres of wetlands. (P#43) There is no evidence that Gilbert disclosed to the Prices that their lot contained wetlands or that the soil had such a high-water table. These were present or pre-existing facts.

The Foxes also appear to misstate the law. The Foxes argue that "The Order does not find and the Plaintiff's failed to prove that Gilbert actually knew that the statements were false when made." While the court disagrees and asserts there is evidence that Gilbert knew the representations were false[1], ultimately it does not matter as that is not required for negligent misrepresentation. One of the distinguishing characteristics of negligent misrepresentations from outright fraud, is that fraud requires "scienter" or knowledge of the falsity of the representation and intent that the other person rely on the falsity. This is not required for negligent misrepresentation.

II. THERE ARE NO GROUNDS FOR A NEW TRIAL

A. The Foxes are liable for the unfair and deceptive acts of their agent and partner.

The Foxes argument on this point is not clear. The argument heading sets forth the argument that the Foxes should not be liable because Gilbert's acts were not within the scope of the agency of the partnership. If this is the argument, then it must fail for the reasons set forth above in the similar argument made under the JNOV motion. There is ample evidence that Gilbert was authorized by the partnership and Foxes to sell lots in the subdivision and deal with prospective buyers. Cp. State ex rel. McLeod v. C & L Corp., 280 S.C. 519, 528, 313 S.E.2d 334, 339 (Ct. App. 1984) ("C & L authorized Wayne Cooper to sell lots in Green Briar. Wayne Cooper in turn authorized the salesmen to assist him. The misrepresentations were made during negotiations for sale of the lots and thus were made while the salesmen were acting within the scope of the salesmen's and Wayne Cooper's actual authority. As principals, both C & L and Wayne

[1] See for example the letter from DHEC to Gilbert stating that Lot 20 would not support a septic tank because of the poor soil.

Cooper, are liable regardless of their knowledge.")

The Foxes then make an incorrect statement of law. The Foxes argue "In order to hold the Foxes liable under the South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act, there must be testimony that the Foxes consented to Gilbert's acts." The Foxes do not cite any support for this assertion and its contrary to case law.

"Furthermore, the theory of ratification is not necessary to hold C & L liable. Wayne Cooper and his salesmen were acting with authority from C & L when they sold the lots. Regardless of any subsequent ratification, a principal is liable to third persons for the frauds, deceits, concealments, misrepresentations, negligences and other malfeasances and omissions of duty of his agent acting within the scope of his agency, although the principal did not authorize, participate in, or know of such misconduct. Reynolds v. Witte, 13 S.C. 5 (1879); Williams v. Commercial Casualty Insurance Co., 159 S.C. 301, 156 S.E. 871 (1931). The same rule is applicable to the misrepresentations of subagents. See, Restatement (Second) of Agency § 264 (1958). For this reason, it is immaterial whether C & L ratified the misrepresentations." State ex rel. McLeod v. C & L Corp., 280 S.C. 519 *, 313 S.E.2d 334, (S.C. Ct. App. 1984).

"In our opinion actual knowledge is not required under the Act to hold a principal liable for the misrepresentations of his agent. At common law actual knowledge is not necessary to hold a principal liable, if misrepresentations are made by the agent while acting within the scope of his agency. See, West v. Service Life & Health Insurance Co., 220 S.C. 198, 66 S.E. (2d) 816 (1951); see also, Restatement (Second) of Agency § 261, comment a (1958). The Act should not be construed to increase the plaintiff's burden of proving liability. Its purpose is to give additional protection to the victims of unfair trade practices, not to make a case harder to prove than it would be under common law principles. Consistent with this policy, the federal courts hold that actual knowledge of the principal is not necessary to hold him liable for the acts of his agent committed within the scope of authority. "Goodman v. Federal Trade Commission,

244 F. (2d) 584 (9th Cir. 1957). State ex rel. McLeod v. C & L Corp., 280 S.C. 519 *, 313 S.E.2d 334, (S.C. Ct. App. 1984).

In short, as Gilbert's partner's the Foxes are liable for his acts including his bad acts. The Foxes placed Gilbert in the position to deal with the Prices and commit the unfair and deceptive acts. Gerry Fox allowed Gilbert to "do all the work" in exchange for a split of the profits. (Dep. 54) Belinda Fox testified in her deposition that Gilbert was the one who dealt with prospective buyers (Dep. 38) The Foxes specifically allowed Gilbert to market and sell the properties. (Dep. 77). Ms. Price testified that Gilbert told her Belinda Fox was his partner, they work together, and he was her salesman.

The court also notes that the definition of "person" under the Unfair Trade Practice Act, includes a partnership," (a) "Person" shall include natural persons, corporations, trusts, partnerships, incorporated or unincorporated associations and any other legal entity. S.C. Code Ann. § 39-5-10

For all these reasons, the Foxes motion is denied and there is no basis for a new trial on this ground.

B. Plaintiffs' damages are fully supported by the record and expert testimony and there is not basis for a new trial.

This argument appears to be identical to the Foxes argument under their JNOV motion and is denied for the same reasons set forth in part I., A. supra. In short, the Prices offered expert testimony as to their damages and their expert Edward Carter was fully aware of the 2.0-acre wetland delineation and included it in his report. Further, the Prices as owners corroborated this testimony and the Defendants failed to offer any contradictory evidence.

III. EXCEPT AS QUALIFIED BELOW, THE MOTION TO ALTER OR AMEND IS DENIED.

A. Equitable Indemnification

The Foxes argue that they are entitled to be equitably indemnified against Danny Gilbert for any damages that they pay because of the representations of their co-defendant and partner Danny Gilbert. As the Foxes have not paid any damages pursuant to the judgment, the court finds this premature; however, the court will consider a subsequent motion for equitable indemnification if and when the Foxes pay damages under the judgment.

Res judicata does not apply

1) The Foxes are not in "privity" with Investors Title Insurance Company ("Investors Title").

The Foxes argue that the Price's settlement with Investor's Title which resulted in a stipulation of dismissal is res judicata as to them in the present lawsuit. The court fully addressed this in the order denying the motion to dismiss on this ground. (Order, pp. 16-18). The Foxes were not parties to that suit. The Foxes now claim that they were in "privity" with Investors Title Insurance Company. This argument lacks merit.

The term "privy," when applied to a judgment or decree, means one so identified in interest with another that he represents the same legal right. One in privity is one whose legal interests were litigated in the former proceeding. H.G. Hall Construction Co., Inc. v. J. E. P. Enterprises, 283 S.C. 196, 321 S.E.2d 267 (Ct. App. 1984). Roberts v. Recovery Bureau, 316 S.C. 492, 496, 450 S.E.2d 616, 619 (Ct. App. 1994). Privity is not established from the mere fact that persons may happen to be interested in the same question or in proving or disproving the same state of facts or because the question litigated was one which might affect such other person's liability as a judicial precedent in a subsequent action. 46 Am. Jur. 2d Judgments § 532 at 685-686 (1969). One whose interest is almost identical with that of a party, but who does not claim through him, is not in privity with him. 50 C.J.S. Judgments § 788 at 327 (1947). Roberts v. Recovery Bureau, 316 S.C. 492, 496, 450 S.E.2d 616, 619 (Ct. App. 1994).

A proper example of privity would be that of a guardian and ward. First Nat'l Bank v. United States Fid. & Guar. Co., 207 S.C. 15, 35 S.E.2d 47 (1945). An adjudication against the guardian in that capacity would be binding on the ward. In this case, the Foxes and Investors Title are not so identified with one another that they represent the same legal right. The Prices rights against Investors Title arise out their title insurance policy and not any tortious conduct. Furthermore, the Foxes cannot assert a claim through Investors Title. Finally, no legal interests were litigated in the prior action and there was no real final judgment for res judicata purposes.

2) The Transfer of Rights is a contractual provision does not establish privity and that was expressly waived.

The Foxes attempt to base their privity argument on the "Transfer of Rights" provision (Condition 7 of the title insurance policy) This is curious for a couple of reasons. First, as this a contractual document between the Prices and Investors Title, the Foxes are a stranger to the contract and have no rights to claim under its provisions. Second, as the right to be transferred include the rights to bring an action against the Foxes it is hard to understand how this could create the same legal right or interest between the Foxes and either the Prices or Investor Title. Finally, Investors expressly waived, and the Prices expressly preserved these rights as part of the settlement.

c. Investors Title hereby waives any and all subrogation rights it would otherwise be entitled to pursuant to the terms of the Policy. Investors Tile expressly waives its rights under condition 7 of the Policy, "Transfer of your Rights" as shown on Exhibit 1 incorporated by reference. Specifically, the waiver of subrogation and transfer rights shall include but not be limited to the following civil actions now pending or previously pending in Berkeley County (Case No. 04-CP08-1855); (Case No. 04-CP-08-1150); (2014-CP-08-00052). (Court Exhibit 1, Item 4 (c)).

If somehow the Foxes are in privity and "step in the shoes" of Investors Title, they do so subject to this waiver and the terms of the settlement which expressly survive the execution of settlement. The terms of the settlement also expressly excluded the Foxes and other Defendants from any release.

The parties expressly agree that the following persons or entities that are or may be part of litigation by the Prices in other cases (See Item 4(c)) are not included in this release and are not Released Parties: Danny Gilbert, Elizabeth Gilbert, Belinda Fox, Gerry Fox a/k/a Gerry D. Fox, Eagle Harbor, Inc., EHHOA, Inc., Troy L. Winn, Sarah C. Winn, Heritage Classic Homes, Inc., Metro Contracting, Inc. and Concerned Citizens of Eagle Harbor, Inc.

(Court Exhibit 1, paragraph 6).

3) There was never a final judgment or adjudication of any issues on the merits for res judicata purposes.

In their settlement agreement, the parties agreed in part as follows:

E. The case was appealed to the Court of Appeals and by certiorari to the South Carolina Supreme Court which issued a remittitur and by order dated November 20, 2013 awarded costs to the Prices as Petitioners in the amount of $2,582.38. The parties acknowledge as a final judgment will not be rendered and the case was settled, that these costs will not be paid by Investors Title.

2. Non-Admission of Liability . Nothing in this Agreement shall constitute or be construed as an admission of liability on behalf of Investors Title or the Prices, their agents, affiliates, assigns, parents, successors, subsidiaries, and/or successors, or an admission as to the validity of the allegations in the Civil Action or the Answer.

Thus, it is clear the parties never intended the Stipulation of Dismissal with prejudice to serve as a final judgment on any of the issues in that case.

The Foxes cite Jones v. City of Folly Beach, 326 S.C. 360, 483 S.E.2d 770 (Ct. App. 1997) as support for their argument; however, a close examination of that case and the cases it cites therein, refutes rather than supports the Foxes argument.

"In Lawlor, the Supreme Court concluded a dismissal with prejudice, unaccompanied by findings of fact and conclusions of law, could not operate to preclude relitigation of issues in a different cause of action. Lawlor, 349 U.S. at 327 Jones v. City of Folly Beach, 326 S.C. 360, 366, 483 S.E.2d 770, 773 (Ct. App. 1997). Obviously the Stipulation of Dismissal between the Prices and Investors Title did not include any findings of fact or conclusions of law since it was based on a settlement and the parties expressly disclaimed admission of liability.

The Jones court concluded, "Applying these principles here, we observe the final decision in the federal suit was a procedural action dismissing the constitutional claim on a form order containing no findings with regard to the factual issues. It is a final determination on the merits of the cause of action being tried. We further conclude our supreme court has declined to apply the bar of collateral estoppel to speculative comparisons of factual issues not litigated or directly determined in any final decision. See Dunlap, 223 S.C. at 150, 74 S.E.2d at 828. Therefore, we conclude the trial court erred by concluding collateral estoppel barred these causes of action. Jones v. City of Folly Beach, 326 S.C. 360, 367, 483 S.E.2d 770, 774 (Ct. App. 1997)

The parties are not the same, the claims are different, and the claims were not litigated and determined in a final decision. For all these reasons the court affirms its previous ruling that res judicata does not apply to the suit against the Foxes.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth herein, in the court's final order on the merits, and the arguments and evidence presented over two days of trial, this court denies the motion for JNOV, for a new trial and to alter or amend the judgment.

CASE NO. 04-CP-08-1150

ORDER AFTER TRIAL ON THE MERITS

This matter came before me for a non-jury trial on May 3rd and May 4th, 2018[1]. The Plaintiffs' Ronald and Diana Price (Prices) were represented by Derrick Jackson. The Defendants Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox (Foxes) were represented by Paul Ferrara, and the Defendants Danny Gilbert (Gilbert), Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. (HCH), Eagle Harbor, Inc. (EHI) and Eagle Harbor Phase II Development Partnership (Partnership) were represented by Carl Hubbard. After carefully considering the testimony, the demeanor of the witnesses, the exhibits, the pleadings and argument of counsel, this court makes the following findings of fact and conclusion of law pursuant to Rule 52(a) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Knight's Redi-Mix (Knights) commenced an action for foreclosure of a mechanic's lien for concrete delivered to the Prices construction site (1150). The Prices answered, counterclaimed for negligence, filed a cross-claim against HCH and a third-party complaint against Gilbert for negligence, breach of contract and unfair trade practices. HCH counterclaimed against Knights for negligence, breach of contract, breach of warranty and indemnification. HCH also cross-claimed against the Prices for breach of contract, attorney's fees and quantum meruit. Gilbert filed an answer denying liability. Knights' claims and related counterclaims were resolved prior to trial leaving only the breach of contract claims between the Prices, HCH and Gilbert. (the "Construction Litigation").

The Prices filed a separate lawsuit (1855) against Belinda Fox and Danny Gilbert alleging fraud, negligent misrepresentation and unfair trade practices relating to the sale and purchase of Lot 20 in Phase II of Eagle Harbor Subdivision (Eagle Harbor).

[1] The trial was scheduled to begin at 1pm on Wednesday, May 2nd with the mechanic's lien case filed by Knight's Redi-Mix; however, prior to that date the parties informed the court that part of the case was settled by mutual releases. Steve Smith represents Knight's Redi-Mix.

This complaint was amended to add EHI as a Defendant. The factual allegations in the complaint concern misrepresentations that were made to the Prices about their lot and Eagle Harbor Subdivision. Also, the Prices contend that Gilbert, and the other Defendants failed to comply with applicable local and federal regulations concerning the development which caused them damage.

Both 1150 and 1855 were referred by order of reference to the Master-in-Equity for Berkeley County. Subsequently, by consent order, 1150 and 1855 were consolidated for trial.

The Prices subsequently filed a motion to amend and supplement their 1855 complaint to add Gerry Fox, Troy and Sarah Winn[2], Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. and Eagle Harbor Phase II Development Partnership. In their Second Amended Complaint, the Prices dropped their causes of action for fraud, and civil conspiracy, and added a cause of action for breach of fiduciary duty alleging the development partners breached their duty to develop the subdivision in accordance with all applicable governmental regulations, to properly setup and fund an Eagle Harbor Homeowners Association, Inc., and to adequately construct common area improvements including the roads and to transfer the common area improvements to the owners in good condition. The Prices seek an affirmative injunction requiring the Partnership and Partners to cause the roads to be restored to adequate standards, and to provide segregated funds account for the roads continued maintenance for a reasonable time. The court granted this Prices' motion to amend and supplement their complaint.

Subsequently, the Winns filed a motion to dismiss the Prices supplemental complaint or for joinder concerning the Prices' claims related to the common areas of Eagle Harbor. This court denied that motion but required the Prices to join as parties

[2] The Winns were granted summary judgment as to the Prices individual claims but not the road litigation claims. The Winns are represented by Richard Hyman.

all existing and former owners of lots in Eagle Harbor Subdivision as well as Concerned Citizens of Eagle Harbor, Inc. (CCEHI)[3] and EHHOA, Inc.[4] (the "Road litigation"[5]).

This court held a status conference on March 20, 2018 at which all the parties and their counsel were present. The parties agreed at the status conference to proceed to trial on the Prices construction litigation claims and partnership development claims, but to bifurcate the road litigation and defer that to a later time. An order for bifurcation was entered on March 28, 2018 excusing from trial CCEHI, the Winns and the other lot owners besides the Prices.

The case was called for trial on May 3rd, 2018 on all other claims except the road litigation.

FINDINGS OF FACTS[6]

1. In the summer of 2001, the Foxes, EHI, HCH and Gilbert formed a partnership to develop Phase II of the Eagle Harbor Subdivision.

2. Pursuant to this partnership, the Foxes acquired certain real property which would become part of Phase II of the Eagle Harbor Subdivision and shared the expenses of the development including the roads. Gilbert would be the marketing Partner and market and sell the lots and manage the development. (P#41: G. Fox, 77; B. Fox 38))

3. The Partners would then split the profits after the lots were sold and expenses were paid. (P # 32-34, 41: G Fox Dep. 18, 32, 46, 49, 53, 54, 80, 91; Gilbert 49, 50 and 52)

[3] CCEHI is represented by Hamlin O'Kelly.

[4] EHHOA, Inc. has legal title to the roads and as alleged by the Prices is a shell corporation with no members other than its incorporater, Gilbert.

[5] The Prices filed a 3rd Amended Complaint to add these parties as well as an alternative claim for damages if injunctive relief was not granted as to the roads.

[6] To the extent these findings of fact include conclusions of law they shall be so deemed and to the extent the conclusions of law include findings of fact they shall be so deemed.

4. According to Gilbert's calculations on November 10, 2002, the Foxes could expect $730,954 in income from the lot sales, and a net profit of $324,153 which would be split evenly with Danny and Liz Gilbert. (P#32)

5. On August 13, 2001, Belinda Fox acquired by deed of Bennie Harvey Ordell approximately 62 acres of land to subdivide as part of Eagle Harbor Phase II subdivision. This deed was recorded in Deed Book 2382 at Page 143 on August 21, 2001.

6. The purchase money for the buying the 62-acre tract came out of a joint account of the Foxes but title was placed in Belinda Fox's name for asset protection reasons. (P# 41: G. Fox 42, 45, 85)

7. On August 13, 2001, Danny Gilbert signed an Application for Subdivision Approval with DHEC for Eagle Harbor Phase II. He signed as Executive Director but listed his individual name and omitted EHI in item 4 where it requests Name of Company. (P# 35)

8. Right above Gilbert's signature on this application is a warning that "no lot in the subdivision can be sold, rented, or leased, or any lot further subdivided until and unless subdivision approval is granted by the Department." (P#35)

9. On August 23, 2001, B.B. Bozardt of DHEC sent Gilbert a letter concerning his applications for subdivision approval for Phases I and II of Eagle Harbor. In this letter, Gilbert was specifically warned that development of a subdivision using on-site wastewater treatment systems without prior knowledge of the soil conditions is "very risky." Mr. Bozardt further noted that "at no time in our conversation did you mention developing this property into individual lots" and that "I was amazed to roads under construction and land being cleared." (P#42)

10. Neither Gilbert, EHI nor the Foxes applied to DHEC or Office of Coastal Resource Management (OCRM) for a permit before clearing the land and constructing roads. Nor did they submit a Stormwater Management Plan. (P#42, #45, ¶10-13).

11. On February 7, 2002, DHEC sent Gilbert a letter informing him that several lots in Eagle Harbor, including Lot 20 which the Prices would purchase "do not meet current minimum standards for any type subsurface treatment and disposal system currently offered by DHEC regulations." DHEC further advised Gilbert that "Gray mottles occur in the soil at the depth the water table is expected to rise. Our soil borings indicated these color patterns within 12 inches of the soil surface of the proposed lots..." [including Lot 20]. This shows that Gilbert knew that Lot 20 had a high-water table within a foot of the soil surface. DHEC states in this letter, "This limitation is so severe that an [sic] type of septic tank system would almost certainly fail to function in this type of soils. Also, I know of no reasonable way to improve the drainage capability of the soil." P#42)

12. By March 7, 2003, and despite the prohibition against selling lots prior to subdivision approval by DHEC, Gilbert on behalf of the Partnership had closed the sale, contracted to sell or gift, 16 of the 20 lots in Phase II. (P#32)

13. The Foxes were aware of and approved of Gilbert's marketing of their property and he acted as their agent and as a marketing agent of the partnership. (P#41: G. Fox, 77; B. Fox 38)

14. In the summer of 2003, the Prices were looking for a house of suitable location to build a house. Mr. Price had moved to South Carolina to work at SPAWAR Systems Center Atlantic in Charleston.

15. They learned about Eagle Harbor from Doug Cotton and his daughter and met Gilbert at an office in Eagle Harbor Subdivision.

16. Gilbert, in his role as marketing Partner, showed the Prices Lot 20 and a master plan of Eagle Harbor. (P#1).

17. Gilbert held himself out as a developer with the requisite, knowledge, experience and skill to develop the subdivision.

18. Neither Gilbert nor EHI owned Lot 20 or the other Lots they sold for the Foxes and Winns and are not licensed to sell real estate.

19. Gilbert, in his role as marketing Partner, made several material representations to the Prices concerning the subdivision and Lot 20.

20. The Prices questioned the need for purchasing such a large tract (7.861 acres) but Gilbert represented that the tract could be subdivided to finance the construction of their house. Gilbert represented that the property could be subdivided into two lots, and three lots with homeowner's association approval.

21. Also, despite the letter he received from DHEC, Gilbert represented to the Prices that the lot would perk. When the Prices inquired what that meant, he told them they could put a septic tank on the property.

22. Gilbert further represented that the lot would be part of a gated, restricted community with a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits which would enhance the value of their property.

23. Gilbert promised various amenities would be built for the boy's home that could also be used by residents of Eagle Harbor Phase II.

24. Gilbert represented to the Prices that testing had been done and everything was fine.

25. At no time did Gilbert disclose to the Prices that their lot contained wetlands or that the soil had such a high-water table.

26. This condition was not readily apparent as it had been very dry when the Prices first looked at the property and their lot was still wooded.

27. Gilbert's representations were false, and misleading all which Gilbert knew or should have known if he had exercised the requisite skill and knowledge of a true developer and had followed applicable federal, state and county regulations pertaining to the subdivision.

28. Gilbert made similar representations to other purchasers of lots in the subdivision who also relied on the representations in purchasing lots.

29. Gilbert as a marketing partner who would split the profits and the partnership itself had a pecuniary interest in making these representations.

30. On or about September 13, 2003, the Prices, in justifiable reliance on the representations of Gilbert entered into an Agreement to Buy and Sell Lot 20 for $90,400. (P#2)

31. Gilbert signed the contract for Belinda Fox. Gilbert explained that the owner of Lot 20, Belinda Fox was his Partner.

32. Typed into the contract as the closing agent for the Prices was Attorney, Jeff Spell, who Gilbert testified was his good friend and in fact according to a letter authored by Gilbert on September 29, 2003, represented Gilbert at the same time in a dispute with the Winns related to the development. (P#51)

33. Gilbert also referred the Prices to National City Mortgage (NCM) for their construction financing.

34. Gilbert informed the Prices that he was a qualified residential builder and persuaded the Prices to allow him to construct their new residence.

35. On September 13, 2003, the Prices entered into a Standard Form AIA Stipulated Sum Construction Contract (the Contract) with Gilbert to construct their home on Lot 20. (P#5)

36. Gilbert provided the initial costs estimates for the Stipulated Sum of $160,175; however, NCM suggested a greater cushion so the Stipulated Sum was increased to $185,175. The Prices agreed to the increase. (P#5, Item 4.1)

37. Gilbert drew up site plans on his computer and showed the Prices where the septic tank would go. (P#41: Gilbert 69).

38. The Prices closed the sale of Lot 20 on November 25, 2003. Jeff Spell was not present, but the closing was covered by another attorney.

39. The Prices received the deed to Lot 20 on November 25, 2003 from Belinda Fox which was duly recorded on December 3, 2003. (P#3)

40. As part of the disbursements at closing, Heritage Classic Homes, Gilbert's wholly owned company received $41,020.22. Gerry Fox testified that this was Gilbert's share of the profit. (P#41: G. Fox, 88-89). Gilbert also received $2,000 in earnest money which he directed that the Prices pay to him prior to the closing.

41. Pursuant to the Contract, the Prices house was to be finished (substantial completion) by February 25, 2004. This date was extended from February 1, 2004 because the closing took place later than anticipated. (P#5, 3.1, 3.2). Time was of the essence in the contract. (P#6, 8.21)

42. By email to Gilbert dated December 1, 2003, Mr. Price requested that Gilbert provide a schedule and sequence of events as "We have 90 days from 24th of November to move in." (P#8)

43. On December 29, 2003, Gilbert told the Prices in an email that the building permit had been approved and that "Currently we are waiting on the design of your septic tank system to be completed by DHEC." Ms. Price responded the next day that she was "concerned about the timeline." (P#9)

44. This email was false and misleading in that the building permit should not have been issued without septic tank approval, DHEC had not issued a septic tank permit, and DHEC could not approve a septic tank for the Prices site because it would not support an onsite septic tank. Gilbert was aware of this because of the DHEC's prior letters.

45. Gilbert began demanding that the Prices pay him his first draw; however according to the requirements of NCM (P#5, Attachment 1) a copy of the septic tank permit was required among other items listed.

46. On January 9, 2004, Mr. Price emailed Gilbert asking for copies of the building permit and septic tank permit, he further noted that the Prices were following the NCM requirements, he also requested that Gilbert "be more attentive in keeping us informed during the rest of the construction process."

47. On or about January 22, 2004, the Prices received a copy of a letter from the Berkeley County Permitting Manager addressed to Gilbert. This letter informed Gilbert to immediately stop construction on the project because he had not been issued a septic tank approval letter by DHEC in violation of S.C. Code of Regulations §61-56 Section III C. The Berkeley County Permitting Manager also noted that Gilbert's subcontractor for plumbing did not pick up or apply for a permit on this project and that the subcontractors for electrical and mechanical work have not picked up their permits. (P#13)

48. Gilbert has been subsequently cited by Berkeley County Code enforcement for other instances of failing to obtain the proper building and related permits (P#48) and had permits denied for not submitting required information with six months. (P#48)

49. Upon receipt of this information, the Prices wrote Gilbert a letter the same date, January 22, 2004. In this letter the Prices highlighted several problems to Gilbert including unreasonable cost increases. For example, the Boozer Building System package had increased from $23,000 to $55,000 (a 144% increase) and Gilbert's failure to obtain a septic tank permit resulting in further delays. The Prices reiterated that they were prepared to listen to Gilbert on how he would fix these problems and achieve timely progression of their home. (P#12)

50. Also, on January 22, 2004, Ms. Price herself applied a septic tank permit from DHEC which was issued on February 12, 2004. The court notes that the permit application contains language warning that construction cannot begin until a permit for construction of a sewage disposal system has been issued. (P#14, p.6)

51. During this same period of late January 2004, Gilbert installed a foundation for the Price's home. This foundation was inspected by Hank Jackson from the Berkeley

County Building Inspectors Office. The foundation failed inspection because the soil had not been compacted and a vapor barrier installed.

52. The Prices met the Gilbert on January 26, 2004 to discuss the problems with construction and were told by Gilbert, "I'm done."

53. Thereafter, on January 30, 2004, the Prices gave Gilbert and HCH written notice of the termination of the construction contract for cause under the terms of the contract. (P#16)

54. On February 9, 2004, the Prices hired John F. Kahler, III as construction manager to finish the construction of their home. Based on Kahler's estimates the stipulated sum for the contract had to be increased to $209,050. (Def HCH #1)

55. After Gilbert's termination, Gilbert threatened the Prices with a lien unless they paid him what he believed they owed him. By letter dated February 9, 2004, the Prices asked Gilbert to "Please do not try to create obstacles in us proceeding with our Home." (P#17)

56. Gilbert now wearing his developer hat and as President of Eagle Harbor, Inc. told the Prices in a letter dated February 19, 2004 that the President of Eagle Harbor Home Owners Association "has not been given the authority by the Developer, (Declarant) Eagle Harbor, Inc. to handle such matters. Any future issues, including ARC requirements should be handled directly by me..." (P#18)

57. Gilbert then threatened the Prices in this letter with fines or "other measures" if the Prices did not pay a $500 application fee and have their plans approved by his architect. Gilbert notes in the letter that "The matter was delayed until payment for construction was made by you...." Gilbert also states, "It is because of my relationship with the Architect and because I am the developer that construction was started on your home. But, we still must adhere to covenants." Covenants, which the court notes and will discuss in the Conclusion of Law are not valid. (P#18)

58. The following day, on February 20, 2004, Danny Gilbert, pro se, individually filed and recorded a Mechanic's Lien against the Prices in the amount of $23,709.75. Ms. Price testified she does not recall being served with a statement of account. (P#19)

59. On February 26, 2004, DHEC wrote the Prices informing them that DHEC was revoking the Prices 2/12/2004 septic tank permit because Eagle Harbor Subdivision has yet to obtain permission from SCDOT to allow four separate borings under Leisure Drive for four separate lots in the subdivision. DHEC also noted that it still needed a final approved plat for the subdivision. (P#39)

60. In a separate letter to Gilbert on this same date, DHEC informed Gilbert of these same requirements to obtain a SCDOT encroachment permit for Leisure Drive and final plat approval. DHEC reminded him that DHEC had sent him a letter back on 2/07/02. DHEC also noted "Final approval of a plat by Berkeley County Planning Commission does not constitute final approval under S.C. DHEC Regulation 61-57...Section V, Paragraph (A) states, "No lot shall be sold in any subdivision where the on-site systems are proposed ...unless the owner or agent has received written approval by this department."

61. On April 3, 2004, the Prices wrote Gerry Fox about the lack of response by EHI and the numerous problems they were having with Gilbert and the development. In that letter, the Prices specifically mention the responsibilities of the developers to the buyers, their accumulation costs because of the delays in getting their septic tank permit, the ARC fee and the concern in the community over the validity of the covenants. (P#44)

62. While waiting on their septic tank issue to be resolved, Kahler recommend that the Prices have their concrete slab and concrete masonry walls inspected to determine if they could be used. Mr. Price had also observed after a strong wind that one of the concrete pillars had fallen over.

63. The Prices hired Albert J. Schweikhardt, PE to inspect the concrete slab and concrete masonry pillars. He did so on April 19, 2004 and prepared a written report. Mr. Schweikhardt noted several construction deficiencies in both the concrete slab and the concrete masonry walls including improperly positioned rebar, lack of joints, improper grade, unstruck mortar joints, unstable walls and piers (at least one collapsed pier) random cracking, the slope in the storage area exceeded requirement and the height of the walls also exceeded requirements. In his summary, he recommended that the slab and walls be replaced. (P#36).

64. Prior to his termination, Gilbert offered to allow the Prices to temporarily store various appliances they had purchased and some motorcycle parts in a storage building owned by EHI. After Gilbert was terminated, Gilbert refused to allow the Prices access to retrieve their property. The Prices had to send Gilbert a demand letter to allow them to retrieve their property. (P#21)

65. On May 18, 2004, DHEC granted "Final approval for Phase II, Eagle Harbor S/D ... for at least one three (3) bedroom single family dwelling for Lots 1 thru 16, and Lots 18 thru 20." This was a prerequisite for the Prices to legally begin construction on their home after an almost six months delay after their closing on the property.

66. On May 19, 2004, the Prices bonded off Gilbert's lien with Western Surety pursuant to the provisions of S.C. Code Ann. §29-5-110. (P#20)

67. On August 6, 2004, the Prices hired Todd Seibels as construction manager to manage the completion of the construction of their home[7]. (P#31).

68. Ms. Price kept copies of the receipts and expenses related to construction which she kept in a large black notebook which she brought to trial and was available for examination.

[7] Mr. Price testified he had a disagreement with Mr. Khaler on the job site resulting in Mr. Khaler's termination as construction manager.

69. She transferred these expenses to a summary spreadsheet and with the help of her counsel created a summary extract of these expense. (P#23 & P#24).

70. After completion of their home, the total costs of construction for which the contractor was responsible was $283,011.83. This exceeded the Prices Stipulated Sum contract with Gilbert by $97,836.83. (P#23)

71. On October 25, 2004, Gilbert and EHI recorded a Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions for Eagle Harbor ("Covenants"). The Declarant was EHI as the alleged owner of property described in the attached Exhibit A. The property described in Exhibit A references the Final Plat for Phase II.

72. At the time these Covenants were recorded, most if not all the Lots of Phase II had already been sold and deeded to the purchasers including the Prices Lot 20. Also, EHI never owned the property it was trying to restrict. (P#32)

73. The Prices requested an administrative review by DHEC and asked, "Please confirm our understanding that the permit denial we received from Columbia prevents us from subdividing our lot for residential use, and please tell us the conditions that would need to exist (or changes that would need to happen) for us to sell half our lot as "residential" or meet DHEC standards, and therefore give us the ability to subdivide for residential sale." (P#30)

74. DHEC responded by certified mail on May 17, 2005, "Unfortunately, this property would not pass for a septic system when originally subdivided. This is the reason for the small lot across Haney Branch Road, to accommodate the drain field for your residence. Therefore, this property could not be subdivided any further using septic systems. The only way I know to subdivide this property at this time would be to have public sewer access." (P#30)

75. On September 20, 2005, the Prices requested a wetland delineation from the Regulatory Division of the Army Corp. of Engineers, Charleston District, Corp. of Engineers. (P#25)

76. The Army Corp. responded to the Prices request on November 7, 2005 and determined that "The property in question contains approximately 2 acres of federally defined freshwater wetlands or other waters." The approximate boundaries of wetlands are depicted on a copy of the survey plat the Prices submitted from their closing. (P#43)

77. On February 16, 2006, Gilbert applied to SCDOT for an encroachment permit for the entrance to Eagle Harbor subdivision at the intersection of the public Haney Branch road and the private Champions Drive. SCDOT granted this permit on February 28, 2007 subject to attached Special Provisions required to bring the entrance to SCDOT standards. Rather than perform the work required, Gilbert cancelled the permit. (P#46-47)

78. The Prices retained the services of Edward Carter, MSA, MFLA, MRA to determine the difference in value of their land if the representations by Gilbert on behalf of the partnership had been true (the land can support a septic tank for more than one single family residence and thus is subdividable into 2 or 3 lots, was not burdened by 2 acres of wetlands, had valid restrictive covenants and viable home owners association) and the value if the representations were not true. Mr. Carter is a South Carolina Certified Residential Appraiser and is qualified as an expert. (P#38, pp. 47,61)

79. Mr. Carter prepared a report listing his findings and determined that the difference in the fair market value based on Gilbert's misrepresentations was $82,530 ($145,410 -$62,880) (P#38, pp. 42-43). The Prices agreed with his value. No testimony as to value was offered by the Defendants. The court agrees with Mr. Carter's analysis and accepts his findings.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Based on these findings, the court makes the following conclusions of law:

MOTION TO DISMISS/RES JUDICATA

As a preliminary matter the court will address the motion to dismiss filed by the Foxes on the eve of trial. The Foxes contend that this action should be dismissed because the Prices filed and settled a separate lawsuit against their title insurance company (2007-CP-08-0458) under the Prices title insurance policy alleging some of the same type of damages as alleged against the Defendants in this case (1855). The court concludes that this argument is not correct as a matter of law and denies the motion.

At trial the court held an in camera proceeding to hear the evidence concerning the title insurance suit, the settlement and the dismissal of that suit as the settlement portion was subject to confidentiality clause.

Res judicata may be applied if (1) the identities of the parties are the same as in the prior litigation, (2) the subject matter is the same as in the prior litigation, and (3) there was a prior adjudication of the issue by a court of competent jurisdiction. Johnson v. Greenwood Mills, Inc., 317 S.C. 248, 250-51, 452 S.E.2d 832, 833 (1994). The doctrine of res judicata is not an "ironclad bar," however, to a later lawsuit Clark v. Aiken Cnty. Gov't, 366 S.C. 102, 109, 620 S.E.2d 99, 102 (Ct. App. 2005). In this case, the Prices and the title insurance company were the only parties to the prior suit (0458). The Foxes were not parties in that suit, so there was no identity of parties. The primary purposes of the doctrine, commonly known today as claim preclusion, are to bring an end to litigation and prevent a defendant from being forced to defend the same action repeatedly. See 50 C.J.S. Judgment §§ 697, 702 (1997). Garris v. Governing Bd. of the State Reinsurance Facility, 333 S.C. 432, 449, 511 S.E.2d 48, 57 (1998) (emphasis added.)

Also, the subject matter and claims are different. In the prior suit, the Prices made claims for title defects under their title insurance policy. In this case, the Prices are making claims against the Foxes and other Defendants for negligent misrepresentation, breach of fiduciary duty and unfair trade practices. Furthermore, although a dismissal with prejudice can qualify as an "adjudication on the merits." In this case, the dismissal was the result of a settlement agreement, not a true adjudication which violates the spirit if not the letter of the rule. The court further notes that in the settlement agreement reviewed in camera by the court, the parties expressly carved out this suit and the Prices claims against these Defendants from being affected. Finally, the court notes the Foxes did not plead res judicata as an affirmative defense, although the Foxes did reserve additional affirmative defenses in their answer. For all these reasons, the Foxes motion to dismiss and claims based on res judicata are denied.

COLLATERAL SOURCE RULE

The Foxes further argue that even if the court does not conclude that the Prices suit should be dismissed under res judicata that the Foxes and other Defendants are entitled to offset the settlement amount with the title insurance company against any damages which may be awarded against them in this case.

"The collateral source rule provides that compensation received by an injured party from a source wholly independent of the wrongdoer will not reduce the amount of damages owed by the wrongdoer. Rattenni v. Grainger, 298 S.C. 276, 379 S.E.2d 890 (1989); Young v. Warr, 252 S.C. 179, 165 S.E.2d 797 (1969); Powers v. Temple, 250 S.C. 149, 156 S.E.2d 759 (1967). This rule has been liberally applied in South Carolina to preclude the reduction of damages. See Otis Elevator v. Hardin Construction Co., S.C , 450 S.E.2d 41 (1994)(contractual right to indemnification not defeated by fact that loss was actually paid by an insurance company); Rattenni v. Grainger, supra (tortfeasor's liability for damages not reduced by underinsurance proceeds); Powers v. Temple, supra (tortfeasor's liability for damages not reduced by disability payments from employer); New Foundation Baptist Church v. Davis, 257 S.C. 443, 186 S.E.2d 247 (1972)(tortfeasor's liability for damages not reduced by value of gratuitous repairs). The only requirement for qualification as a collateral source is that the source be "wholly independent of the wrongdoer."

"Other jurisdictions have specified a source is wholly independent, and therefore a collateral source, when the wrongdoer has not contributed to it, see Kistler v. Halsey. Colo., 173 Colo. 540, 481 P.2d 722 (Colo. 1971), and when payments to the injured party were not made on behalf of the wrongdoer, see Maduff Mortgage Corp. v. Deloitte, Haskins & Sells, 98 Ore. App. 497, 779 P.2d 1083 (1989)" Citizens & S. Nat'l Bank v. Gregory (In re W.B. Easton Constr. Co.), 320 S.C. 90, 92, 463 S.E.2d 317, 318 (1995)

In this case, the compensation received by the Prices from their title insurance company was from a source wholly independent of the Defendants (the title policy). The Defendants did not contribute to the Prices title insurance premiums and the compensation made by the title insurance company was not made on behalf of the Defendants. This court concludes the collateral source rule applies and the Defendants may not offset the compensation the Prices received in their settlement of Civil Action 2007-CP-08-0458.

BREACH OF CONTRACT

On September 13, 2003, the Prices entered into a Standard Form of Agreement Between Owner and Contractor (the Contract) with Gilbert[8] to construct their home on

[8] Gilbert argues that the contract was with Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. and not Gilbert individually; however, his individual name is listed as Contractor (and not just Heritage Classic Homes)(P#5); he executed a mechanic's lien for himself which he filed and certified as true and accurate that the money under the contract was owed to "Danny L. Gilbert d/b/a Heritage Classic Homes, Inc." (P#19); and perhaps most bluntly, in a letter dated February 19, 2004 addressed to the Prices, Gilbert states in part, "Because to date you have not paid the money owed to me while under contract to build your home..."(P#18). Furthermore, almost all the email and correspondence between the Prices is to Danny Gilbert and not Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. The court rejects the argument that Danny Gilbert, individually is not liable under the Contract.

Lot 20. (P#5) The Stipulated Sum[9] was originally $160,175; however, NCM suggested a greater cushion so the Stipulated Sum was increased to $185,175. (P#5, Item 4.1) Pursuant to the Contract, the Prices house was to be finished (substantial completion) by February 25, 2004. This date was extended from February 1, 2004 because the closing took place later than anticipated. (P#5, 3.1, 3.2). Time was of the essence in the contract. (P#6, 8.21) The contract incorporated by reference other contractual documents including General Conditions of Contract Construction (AIA 201) ("General Conditions").

Gilbert breached the Contract in several ways. Section 3.71 of the General Conditions[10] provides that "the Contractor shall secure and pay for the building permit and other permits and governmental fees, licenses and inspections necessary for proper execution and completion of the Work." Under Section 3.7.2, "The Contractor shall comply with and give notices required by laws, ordinances, rules, regulations and lawful orders of public authorities bearing on performance of the Work. In Section 3.7.4, "If the Contractor performs Work knowing it to be contrary to laws, statutes, ordinances, building codes, and rules and regulations ..., the Contractor shall assume full responsibility for such Work and shall bear the attributable costs."

[9] Gilbert argues that in reality the Contract was a "Costs plus" contract because of a provision Gilbert inserted in Section 4.1 which references the cost estimate he prepared and attached to the contract and states, "The Owner assumes the responsibility for any costs exceeding the costs in each description." However, the title to the contract clearly states the basis of payment is a Stipulated Sum and it would be misleading to use that type of contract, but then treat it as a cost plus. The Prices reasonably assumed that phrase meant reasonable price fluctuations due to market conditions. In any event, once Gilbert breached the contract he was responsible for any difference. (General Conditions, 14.24)

Gilbert applied for and received a building permit without first having a septic tank permit in violation of S.C. Code of Regulations §61-56 Section III C[11]. Also, Gilbert's subcontractor for plumbing did not pick up or apply for a permit on this project and that the subcontractors for electrical and mechanical work have not picked up their permits. (P#13) As a result, Berkeley County issued a stop work order for the Prices home on January 22, 2004. (P#13) The Prices were not able to resume work on their home until after May 18, 2004, when Gilbert finally had performed the required steps for DHEC to give final approval for the septic plans for the Prices lot. This delayed the Prices construction by almost six months and was several months past the substantial completion date called for in the contract. Section 8.2.1 provides that "Time Limits stated in the Contract Documents are of the essence of the contract. By executing the Agreement, Contractor confirms that the Contract Time is a reasonable period for performing the Work." Under Section 8.2.3, "The Contractor shall proceed expeditiously with adequate forces and shall achieve Substantial Completion within the Contract Time."

In addition to the problems with Gilbert complying with applicable regulations, obtaining necessary permits, and the delay, there were also issues with the quality of the limited work Gilbert and his subcontractors were able to complete. Hank Jackson, then Berkeley County Inspector testified that the initial foundation did not pass inspection because it did not contain a vapor barrier and the soil was not compacted. The Prices engineering expert, Albert J. Schweikhardt, PE testified he inspected the concrete slab and concrete masonry pillars and found several construction deficiencies in both the concrete slab and the concrete masonry walls including improperly positioned rebar, lack of joints, improper grade, unstruck mortar joints, unstable walls

[11] Gilbert misled the Prices on this point in his letter dated 12/29/03 when he claimed he was "waiting on the design of your septic tank system to be completed by DHEC."

and piers (at least one collapsed pier) random cracking, the slope in the storage area exceeded requirement and the height of the walls also exceeded requirements. In his summary, he recommended that the slab and walls be replaced. (P#36).

Also, while the Prices understood there could be reasonable cost increases, Gilbert had notified them of several large, material cost increases. For example, one of the principal components of construction was the Boozer Building Systems Package. This increased from $23,000 to $55,000, more than double.

The Prices notified Gilbert and testified they were willing to work with him, but Gilbert told them "he was done." This court finds ample justification for the Prices terminating Gilbert for cause under Section 14.2.1 of the contract.

BREACH OF CONTRACT DAMAGES

Having determined that Gilbert breached his contract with the Prices, the court will now consider the damages resulting from that breach. Section 14.2.2.3 allows the Owner to "finish the work by whatever reasonable method the Owner may deem expedient. "The Prices did so by hiring John Khaler and subsequently Todd Seibels as construction managers to complete the job. Pursuant to 14.2.4 if the costs of completion exceed the unpaid balance, the Contractor shall pay the difference. The Prices offered into evidence two spreadsheets backed by source documents showing the various construction charges attributed to the Contractor and the Owner. As shown on Plaintiff's Exhibit 23, the total construction costs charged to Contractor are $283,011.83 less the Stipulated Sum total of $185,175.00 results in costs of completion exceeding the balance by $97,836.83.

The Prices also sought reimbursement for interest, storage fees, lodging and rent. The Court declines to award these fees as speculative and in some cases duplicative to costs or expense that the Prices would have incurred in the event the home was completed by Gilbert in a timely fashion.

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY AND RIGHT TO CURE

Gilbert argued for the first time at trial that he was entitled to a directed verdict under the provisions of Right to Cure Act.[12] Under the Act, a claimant must give a contractor written notice of a claim and an opportunity to settle the dispute before filing suit. The Prices provided Gilbert a letter on January 22, 2004 in which they raised construction issues with Gilbert. In that letter, the Prices reiterated that they were prepared to listen to Gilbert how we would fix these problems and achieve timely progression of their home. (P#12). However, assuming arguendo without deciding that this letter does not meet the requirements of the Act, Gilbert has a more fundamental problem. The Act specifically prescribes a mechanism for a Contractor if an Owner fails to give the notice required by the Act and then files suit: to file a motion for stay. "If the claimant files an action in court before first complying with the requirements of this article, on motion of a party to the action, the court shall stay the action until the claimant has complied with the requirements of this article." S.C. Code Ann. § 40-59-830

As a result of Gilbert's prior conduct, he could not seek a stay. He told the Prices "he was done." He filed a mechanic's lien against the Prices' property, and he took no action while the Prices proceeded to mitigate their damages and hire other contractors to complete the job. Gilbert waived any right to a stay or seek a cure by his failure to timely assert his rights under the statute for a period of fourteen years.

[12]Sections 40-59-810 to 860 of the South Carolina Code

EXISTENCE OF A PARTNERSHIP

A "partnership" is an association of two or more persons to carry on as co-owners a business for profit. S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-210. A partnership agreement may rest in parol. It may be implied and without express intention. Wyman v. Davis, 223 S.C. 172, 74 S.E.2d 694 (1953) Halbersberg v. Berry, 302 S.C. 97, 101, 394 S.E.2d 7, 10 (Ct. App. 1990). In this case, there is an abundance of evidence to show that in the summer of 2001, the Foxes, EHI, HCH and Gilbert formed a partnership to develop.

Phase II of the Eagle Harbor Subdivision. Pursuant to this Partnership, the Foxes acquired certain real property which would become part of Phase II of the Eagle Harbor Subdivision and shared the expenses of the development including the roads. Gilbert would be the marketing Partner and market and sell the lots and manage the development. (P#41: G. Fox, 77; B. Fox 38)) The Partners would then split the profits after the lots were sold and expenses were paid. (P # 32-34, 41: G Fox Dep. 18, 32, 46, 49, 53, 54, 80, 91; Gilbert 49, 50 and 52). The Prices offered handwritten documents detailing the shared expenses, expected profits and the split. In a letter dated September 29, 2003, Gilbert details some of the responsibilities with the Winn[13] family related to the subdivision development. (P#51) The subdivision plat for Phase II was signed by Belinda Fox, EHI and Troy Winn. (D. Fox#1) The Prices sent Gerry Fox a letter on February 3, 2004 for help with problems in Eagle Harbor subdivision.

Gerry Fox specifically testified that Phase II was an investment in which he expected to make a profit. He also testified that he had an agreement with Gilbert to develop the property and split the profit. Mr. Fox further testified that Gilbert had to get his permission on what was spent. Gilbert testified that the development was "a joint effort by several folks..." and described EHI as a "oversight developer." (P#41: Gilbert, 49) Plaintiff's Exhibit 33 shows payments to Stantec, the engineer hired for the development from Gerry Fox, Troy Winn and EHI. In a subsequent lawsuit against Stantec (08-CP-10-5699) EHI, Danny Gilbert, Belinda Fox, and Troy Winn were all Plaintiffs and alleged in paragraph 7 that they entered into an agreement with Stantec to provide certain subdivision development services including the development of a Master Plan (P#45). On the Declaration of Covenants and Restrictions, EHI is listed as the "Declarant." (P#28) This court concludes as a matter of law, the Foxes, EHI, HCH and Gilbert formed a partnership to develop Phase II of the Eagle Harbor Subdivision.

NEGLIGENT MISREPRESENTATION

In a claim for the tort of negligent misrepresentation where the damage alleged is a pecuniary loss, the essential elements include: (1) the defendant made a false representation to the plaintiff; (2) the defendant had a pecuniary interest in making the statement; (3) the defendant owed a duty of care to see that he communicated truthful information to the plaintiff; (4) the defendant breached that duty by failing to exercise due care; (5) the plaintiff justifiably relied on the representation; and (6) the plaintiff suffered a pecuniary loss as the proximate result of his reliance upon the representation. Redwend Ltd. P'ship v. Edwards, 354 S.C. 459, 473-74, 581 S.E.2d 496, 504 (Ct. App. 2003). "A duty to exercise reasonable care in giving information exists when the defendant has a pecuniary interest in the transaction." Winburn v. Insurance Co., 287 S.C. 435, 441, 339 S.E.2d 142, 146 (Ct. App. 1985). "The recovery of damages may be predicated upon a negligently made false statement where a party suffers either injury or loss as a consequence of relying upon the misrepresentation." Id. These general rules have been applied, in every case this Court has located, to support the recognition of a negligent misrepresentation claim where the misrepresented fact(s) induced the plaintiff to enter a contract or business transaction. See, e.g., Winburn, supra (recognizing that under appropriate facts, negligent representations inducing the signing of an endorsement could be actionable); Pittman v. Galloway, 281 S.C. 70, 313 S.E.2d 632 (Ct. App. 1984) (negligent representation inducing the plaintiff's purchase of land is actionable); and First Federal Sav. Bank v. Knauss, 296 S.C. 136, 370 S.E.2d 906 (Ct. App. 1988) (recognizing that under appropriate facts, negligent representations inducing property purchase could be actionable). Redwend Ltd. P'ship v. Edwards, 354 S.C. 459, 474, 581 S.E.2d 496, 504 (Ct. App. 2003)

FALSE REPRESENTATIONS

In this case Gilbert made several material false misrepresentations to the Prices which induced their purchase of Lot #20 in Eagle Harbor subdivision.

SEPTIC TANK

Gilbert specifically told the Prices all the testing had been done on the property and was fine. Gilbert represented to the Prices that the lot perked and that a septic tank could go on the lot. Gilbert made these representations despite having received a letter from DHEC in 2002 –prior to even meeting the Prices-which specifically said that Lot 20 would not perk, had poor soil conditions and a high-water table. (P#42)

SUBDIVISION

Gilbert told the Prices in response to their statement that they did not need 7.86 acres that they could subdivide it and sell it off and use the money to pay for the construction of their house. However, because the property would not perk and support a septic tank, the Prices cannot subdivide the property for residential purposes.[13] (P#30, DHEC letter confirming the property cannot be subdivided for residential purposes.)

RESTRICTIVE COVENANTS

The Prices were told before purchasing their property that it would be a restricted community with a valid homeowner's association. However, the covenants for Phase II were not even recorded until almost a year after the Prices had purchased [13] The Defendants argue that the lot could be subdivided, but not for residential purposes. This argument lacks merit as clearly the inducement to the Prices for subdividing the lot was, so the lots could be sold to help pay for construction costs. It is unlikely that someone would buy a lot in a subdivision which could not be used for residential purposes. Furthermore, if this was all that was intended it would be fraudulent and misleading not to disclose this material limitation.

their property and even then, the covenants were invalid because EHI the Declarant did not own the property it was trying to restrict. (P#28).

AMENTITIES

The Prices, and Merrill and Dianne Cox testified that they were told there would be amenities which could be shared with the Boy's Home but were either never developed or added much later than represented.

WETLANDS

The Prices did not know that their property had wetlands. Indeed, Gilbert's representations that they could subdivide their 7.86-acre lot and then sell the lots to help pay for the construction of their house would lead a reasonable buyer to believe that the lots could be developed. Furthermore, pursuant to DHEC regulations implementing the Clean Water Act, the Prices had the reasonable expectations that Gilbert and the Foxes would follow the law and perform wetlands delineations as part of their application for an NPDES permit under the Clean Water Act and Comprehensive Stormwater Prevention Plan (CSWPP) which is required for any construction project of more than one acre. (S.C. Code Ann. § 48-14-30; S.C. Code Ann. Regs. 72-305; 33 U.S.C.S. § 1344). They did not. The Prices were informed by letter from the Army Corp of Engineers that their property contained 2.0 acres of wetlands. (P#43)

GOVERNMENTAL REGULATIONS

Gilbert held himself and his partners as developers with the requisite skill or training to properly develop a residential subdivision with multiple lots and roads in accordance with local, state and federal law. However, the evidence shows that neither Gilbert nor his partners were competent to develop Eagle Harbor Phase II.

PECUNIARY INTEREST

The partnership and its partners unquestionably had a pecuniary interest in Gilbert as marketing partner making the false representations to induce lot sales. As reflected in Gilbert's handwritten projections, the Foxes could expect $730,904 in total income from lot sales and net profit of $324,153 which would be split (P#32).

DUTY OF CARE

"A duty to exercise reasonable care in giving information exists when the defendant has a pecuniary interest in the transaction." Winburn v. Insurance Co., 287 S.C. 435, 441, 339 S.E.2d 142, 146 (Ct. App. 1985). Since Gilbert, his partners and the partnership had a pecuniary interest in the lot sales, they also had a duty to represent truthful, accurate information about the lot and the subdivision.

BREACH OF DUTY

As set forth in the false representations discussed supra, Gilbert and the partnership breached their duty to communicate accurate information about the Prices lot and the subdivision, by misrepresenting that the lot would perk and support a septic tank, could be subdivided, would be furnished with amenities and valid, enforceable restrictive covenants, and had good soil, and the testing was fine and that the lot did not have wetlands.

JUSTIFIABLE RELIANCE

A determination of justifiable reliance involves the evaluation of the totality of the circumstances, "including the positions and relations of the parties." Elders v. Parker, 286 S.C. 228, 233, 332 S.E.2d 563, 567 (Ct. App. 1985). West v. Gladney, 341 S.C. 127, 134, 533 S.E.2d 334, 337-38 (Ct. App. 2000) Generally this is an issue of fact to be decided by the trier of fact. " Unlimited Servs., Inc. v. Macklen Enters., Inc., 303 S.C. 384, 387, 401 S.E.2d 153, 155 (1991); see also Starkey v. Bell, 281 S.C. 308, 313, 315 S.E.2d 153, 156 (Ct. App. 1984) ("Issues of reliance and its reasonableness, going as they do to subjective states of mind and applications of objective standards of reasonableness, are preeminently factual issues for the triers of the facts."). As between the parties, the recipient of a fraudulent misrepresentation of fact is justified in relying upon its truth, although he might have ascertained the falsity of the representation had he made an investigation. Restatement (Second) of Torts Section 540 (1979). This is especially true when the facts are not readily discoverable, or the facts are within the peculiar knowledge of the misrepresenting party.

In this case, there are several circumstances which factor into the reasonableness of the Prices reliance on the representations made by Gilbert as a marketing partner. They were moving to South Carolina and not familiar with its laws. Gilbert represented himself as the developer and as representing Belinda Fox. He showed the Prices a Master Plan which showed the Boy's Home, so he appeared trustworthy being associated with a non-profit charitable entity. He also was a licensed residential builder and was going to build their home, so the Prices assumed he had proper knowledge of construction and subdivision development. Gilbert referred the Prices to Jeff Spell to represent them at closing even though Mr. Spell was currently Gilbert's attorney (P#51) in a dispute with Troy Winn and despite that Mr. Spell also represented the partnership in holding construction funds in escrow. The contract provided by Gilbert had Jeff Spell's name typed on it. Mr. Spell failed to attend the closing and did not respond to the Prices calls thereafter. Indeed Mr. Spell tried to represent Gilbert and Eagle Harbor, Inc. in this very suit against the Prices until he was disqualified by this court. (See Order of Disqualification and Plaintiffs' Response to Notice of Appearance on file in this case and attached exhibits).

The misrepresentations were also not readily apparent to the Prices but were within the knowledge of Gilbert and the partnership. For example, Gilbert was aware that the lot would not perk, had a high-water table and could not support a septic tank. Gilbert was aware that EHI did not own the property in Phase II when he recorded the covenants.

This court concludes the Prices were justified in relying on Gilbert's representations.

LIABILITY OF THE FOXES FOR GILBERT'S REPRESENTATIONS

Even though the Foxes did not directly make the representations, both Belinda and Gerry Fox and the Eagle Harbor Phase II Development Partnership are liable for the representations.

According to his deposition testimony, Gerry Fox didn't know if he made an effort to make sure Gilbert was complying with subdivision regulations (P#41, G. Fox. 68), knew about the covenants but made no investigation if they were accurate (P#41, 87), made no investigation to see if the property sold to the Prices could be subdivided (P#41,83), was aware that a drain field would be required for certain lots including the Prices but did not discuss that with them or know if Gilbert did. (P#41, 97).

Every partner is an agent of the partnership. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-310) An admission or representation made by any partner is evidence against the partnership. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-330) Notice or knowledge of any partner of any matter relating to partnership affairs, operates as notice to or knowledge of the partnership (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-340) For Any wrongful act or omission of any partner which causes loss or injury to any person, the partnership is liable therefore to the same extent as the partner so acting or omitting to act. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-350.) All partners are liable jointly and severally for everything chargeable to the partnership. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-370).

THE PAROLE EVIDENCE RULE AND CONTRACTUAL DEFENSES

The Foxes argued at trial that the Prices could not prevail because of certain boilerplate contractual terms set forth in the contract. Specifically, the Foxes argued that the parole evidence rule, the "as is" and other terms in the contract, and the integration clause should prevent the Prices from recovering for negligent misrepresentation. The court disagrees as the Prices are suing for negligent misrepresentation of the marketing partner to induce them to purchase their lot, not breach of the seller's contract. The doctrine of caveat emptor does not apply in cases of misrepresentation or fraud.

"In a majority of jurisdictions, the parol evidence rule bars oral testimony in certain contract cases but is not applicable in misrepresentation cases." Rempel v. Nationwide Life Ins. Co., 471 Pa. 404, 370 A.2d 366, 370 (1977). The parol evidence rule has been held inapplicable to tort causes of action (including negligent misrepresentation) since the rule is one of substantive contract law. Formento v. Encanto Business Park, 154 Ariz. App. 495, 744 P.2d 22 (1987). Furthermore, it has been held that "a seller should not be allowed to hide behind an integration clause to avoid the consequences of a misrepresentation, whether fraudulent or negligent." Id., 744 P.2d at 26. We follow the reasoning of the Formento court and hold that neither the parol evidence rule nor the merger or integration clause in the parties' contract prevents Elmwood from proceeding on its negligent misrepresentation theory. Gilliland v. Elmwood Props., 301 S.C. 295, 302, 391 S.E.2d 577, 580-81 (1990)(emphasis added.)

See also cases cited by the court in Slack v. James. Miles Excavating, Inc. v. Rutledge Backhoe & Septic Tank Servs., Inc., 23 Kan. App. 2d 82, 927 P.2d 517 (Kan. App. 1997) (parol evidence admissible to show fraud even where the contract contains provision stating parties have not relied on any representations other than those contained in the writing). See also Allen-Parker Co. v. Lollis, (even specific provisions or stipulations in a contract providing in effect for immunity from or nullification or waiver of preliminary or extraneous misrepresentations are generally ineffective, and do not prevent subsequent assertion of misrepresentations as a basis for fraud). An opposite finding "would leave swindlers free to extinguish their victims' remedies simply by sticking in a bit of boilerplate." Whelan v. Abell, 310 U.S. App. D.C. 396, 48 F.3d 1247, 1258 (D.C. Cir. 1995). A party should not be given the opportunity to free himself from an allegation of fraud by incorporating a generalized non-reliance clause into a contract. Slack v. James, 364 S.C. 609, 618-19, 614 S.E.2d 636, 641 (2005).

Furthermore, the Foxes are liable for their marketing partner's misrepresentations on behalf of their partnership. Neither Gilbert nor the Partnership were named parties to the contract.

DAMAGES FROM NEGLIGENT MISREPRESENTATION

Having concluded that the Defendants are jointly and severally liable for the negligent misrepresentations of Gilbert as marketing partner, the next question are the damages from that misrepresentation.

The Prices retained the services of Edward Carter, MSA, MFLA, MRA to determine the difference in value of their land if the representations by Gilbert on behalf of the partnership had been true and the value if the representations were false. Mr. Carter is a South Carolina Certified Residential Appraiser and was qualified as an expert. (P#38, pp. 47,61)

Mr. Carter prepared a report listing his findings and determined that the difference in the fair market value based on Gilbert's misrepresentations was $82,530 ($145,410 -$62,880) (P#38, pp. 42-43). The Prices agreed with his value. No testimony as to value was offered by the Defendants. The court agrees with Mr. Carter's analysis and accepts his findings.

UNFAIR TRADE PRACTICES ACT

The South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act (SCUTPA)[14] provides that:

Unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce are hereby declared unlawful. [15]

Any person who suffers any ascertainable loss of money or property, real or personal, as a result of the use or employment by another person of an unfair or deceptive

method, act or practice declared unlawful [by the Act] may bring an action individually, but not in a representative capacity, to recover actual damages. [16]

"Trade or commerce" is defined to include "advertising, offering for sale, sale or distribution of any services and any property, tangible or intangible, real, personal or mixed, and any other article, commodity or thing of value wherever situate, and ... any trade or commerce directly or indirectly affecting the people ..." of South Carolina. [17] Misrepresentations related to the sale of lots in a subdivision have previously be found to be unfair trade practices. State ex rel. McLeod v. C & L Corp., 280 S.C. 519, 313 S.E.2d 334 (Ct. App. 1984)

A deceptive act is any act which has a tendency to deceive. deBondt v. Carlton Motorcars, Inc., 342 S.C. 254, 269, 536 S.E.2d 399, 407 (Ct. App. 2000). "Even a truthful statement may be deceptive if it has a capacity or tendency to deceive." Wogan v. Kunze, 366 S.C. 583, 606, 623 S.E.2d 107, 120 (Ct. App. 2005) (citations omitted). Whether an act or practice is unfair or deceptive within the meaning of the UTPA depends on the surrounding facts and the impact of the transaction on the marketplace. deBondt, 342 S.C. 269, 536 S.E.2d at 407. "An act is 'unfair' when it is offensive to public policy or when it is immoral, unethical, or oppressive." Bessinger v. BI-LO, Inc., 366 S.C. 426, 432, 622 S.E.2d 564, 567 (Ct. App. 2005) (cert. pending) (citing Gentry v. Yonce, 337 S.C. 1, 12, 522 S.E.2d 137, 143 (1999)).

In order to bring an action under the UTPA, the plaintiff must demonstrate (1) that the defendant engaged in an unlawful trade practice, (2) that the plaintiff suffered actual, ascertainable damages as a result of the defendant's use of the unlawful trade practice, and (3) that the unlawful trade practice engaged in by the defendant had an adverse impact on the public interest. See S.C. Code Ann. § 39-5-140; Daisy Outdoor Advertising Co., Inc. v. Abbott, 322 S.C. 489, 473 S.E.2d 47, 49 (S.C. 1996). The Prices have established all of these elements.

UNFAIR AND DECEPTIVE ACTS

As discussed herein, the record is replete with specific examples of unfair and deceptive acts committed by Gilbert as marketing partner on behalf of the Phase II development partnership. Gilbert marketed and sold lots in Phase II without having the plat for the lots approved by DHEC in violation of Reg. 61-57 (P#40) which expressly prohibited that activity. By March 7, 2003, and despite the prohibition against selling lots prior to subdivision approval by DHEC, Gilbert on behalf of the Partnership had closed the sale, contracted to sell or gift, 16 of the 20 lots in Phase II. (P#32)[18]

Neither Gilbert, EHI nor the Foxes applied to DHEC or Office of Coastal Resource Management (OCRM) for a permit before clearing the land and constructing roads. They also failed to perform wetlands delineations as part of an application for an NPDES permit under the Clean Water Act and Comprehensive Stormwater Prevention Plan (CSWPP) which is required for any construction project of more than one acre. (S.C. Code Ann. § 48-14-30; S.C. Code Ann. Regs. 72-305; 33 U.S.C.S. § 1344). (P#42, #45, ¶10-13).

Despite Gilbert's knowledge that the Prices lot would not perk or support a septic tank, and a high-water table, Gilbert represented the Prices lot could have a septic tank and that the Prices lot could be further subdivided. Indeed, Gilbert's testimony was that he showed them on the plans where the septic tank would be located.

[18] Compare State ex rel. McLeod v. C & L Corp., 280 S.C. 519, 313 S.E.2d 334 (Ct. App. 1984)(selling lots early in violation of local subdivision ordinance)

Gilbert referred the Prices to Jeff Spell who was typed into the contract as the closing agent. Gilbert testified Spell was his good friend and in fact actually represented Gilbert at that time in matters related to the partnership.

Gilbert promised the Prices and others there would be amenities and valid, restrictive covenants. The amenities were not developed or where late in being developed and the restrictive covenants were invalid.

IMPACT ON THE PUBLIC INTEREST

Since 1986, South Carolina courts have required that a plaintiff bringing a private cause of action under UTPA allege and prove the defendant's actions adversely affected the public interest. See Noack Enters., Inc. v. Country Corner Interiors, 290 S.C. 475, 351 S.E.2d 347 (Ct. App. 1986) (initial case finding requirement of adverse impact on public interest), cert. dismissed, 294 S.C. 235, 363 S.E.2d 688 (1987). This is typically shown by evidence that the conduct has the potential for repetition. Plaintiffs in prior cases generally have shown potential for repetition in two ways: (1) by showing the same kind of actions occurred in the past, thus making it likely they will continue to occur absent deterrence (e.g., Jones Chevrolet), or (2) by showing the company's procedures create a potential for repetition of the unfair and deceptive acts (e.g., Haley Nursery, Dowd) Daisy Outdoor Advert. Co. v. Abbott, 322 S.C. 489, 496, 473 S.E.2d 47, 51 (1996).

The court has made it clear, however, that those are not the only means for showing potential for repetition/public impact. Rather, each case must be evaluated on its own merits. The court expressly rejected any rigid, bright line test that delineates in minute detail exactly what a plaintiff must show to satisfy the potential for repetition/public impact prong of the UTPA test. Daisy, 473 S.E.2d 47, 51 (1996).

In this case, the adverse public impact is apparent. Gilbert was selling lots and making representations to the public concerning Phase II of Eagle Harbor. According to Gilbert's application for subdivision approval, Eagle Harbor, Phase II has 23 lots.[19] He sold many, if not all these lots before receiving DHEC approval as required. Gilbert also suggested to other owners to use Jeff Spell, his attorney for their closings. The public also was impacted by the defective covenants as this directly affected the ability of the owners to maintain the common elements. Also, the Prices offered direct testimony of repetition in the testimony of Merrill and Diane Cox, other owners who purchased lots and testified as to the misrepresentations and heavy-handed acts by Gilbert as marketing partner and developer. Merrill Cox recalled a meeting of the owners to try and convince the owners they were bound by the defective covenants. The Prices also reference this in their Aril 3, 2004 letter to Gerry Fox.

This court concludes that the public impact requirement is satisfied in this case.

DAMAGES

The Prices suffered ascertainable damages as a result of Gilbert and the Partnership's unfair and deceptive acts. The Prices expert Edward Carter, MSA, MFLA, MRA determined the difference in value of their land if the representations by Gilbert on behalf of the partnership had been true and the value if the representations were false. Mr. Carter is a South Carolina Certified Residential Appraiser and was qualified as an expert. (P#38, pp. 47,61)

Mr. Carter prepared a report listing his findings and determined that the difference in the fair market value based on Gilbert's misrepresentations was $82,530 ($145,410 -$62,880) (P#38, pp. 42-43). The Prices agreed with his value. No testimony as to value was offered by the Defendants. The court agrees with Mr. Carter's analysis and accepts his findings.

[19] There is also a Phase 3 in Eagle Harbor Subdivision.

WILFUL VIOLATION

If the court finds that the use or employment of the unfair or deceptive method, act or practice was a willful or knowing violation of § 39-5-20, the court shall award three times the actual damages sustained and may provide such other relief as it deems necessary or proper. S.C. Code Ann. § 39-5-140(a)

For the purposes of this section, a willful violation occurs when the party committing the violation knew or should have known that his conduct was a violation of § 39-5-20. S.C. Code Ann. § 39-5-140(d)

The court finds the violations were willful in this case as Gilbert knew or should have known that his acts and conduct were unfair, in violation of local, state and federal regulations and had the tendency or capacity to deceive and thus violations of the Act.

For example,[20], right above Gilbert's signature on the application for subdivision approval is a warning that "no lot in the subdivision can be sold, rented, or leased, or any lot further subdivided until and unless subdivision approval is granted by the Department." (P#35) Despite this, Gilbert sold virtually all the lots in Phase II before final approval was granted by DHEC. Gilbert had specific knowledge from DHEC letters that the soil conditions for the Prices lot were poor and would not support a septic tank system of any type but still represented to the Prices they could have a septic tank and subdivide their property. In an email to the Prices after getting a building permit, Gilbert states "Currently we are waiting on the design of your septic tank system to be completed by DHEC." This email was false and misleading in that the building permit should not have been issued without septic tank approval, DHEC had not issued a septic tank permit, and DHEC could not approve a septic tank for the Prices site because it would not support an onsite septic tank. Gilbert was aware of this because of the DHEC's prior letters.

[20] This list is not exhaustive and there are other examples in the record.

Gilbert suggested to the Prices and others to use Jeff Spell as their closing attorney in this case, despite knowing that Spell was his personal attorney and represented the partnership in the development.[21]

On October 25, 2004, Gilbert and EHI recorded a Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions for Eagle Harbor ("Covenants"). The Declarant was EHI as the alleged owner of property described in the attached Exhibit A. The property described in Exhibit A references the Final Plat for Phase II. At the time these Covenants were recorded, most if not all the Lots of Phase II had already been sold and deeded to the purchasers including the Prices Lot 20. Also, EHI never owned the property it was trying to restrict. (P#32)

The court finds the violations were willful in this case as Gilbert knew or should have known that his acts and conduct were in violation of the Act.

COSTS AND ATTORNEY'S FEES

S.C. Code Ann. § 39-5-140 provides, "Upon the finding by the court of a violation of this article, the court shall award to the person bringing such action under this section reasonable attorney's fees and costs." Accordingly, the Plaintiff's counsel shall file with this court and serve upon opposing counsel and affidavit as to attorney's fees and costs. Defendants shall have ten days after service to notify opposing counsel of any objections to the fees and costs. If the parties are unable to timely resolve the objections, any party may request a hearing to review.

LIABILITY OF PARTNERSHIP AND OTHER PARTNERS FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE ACT

While the Foxes, Eagle Harbor, Inc. and the Phase II Development Partnership may not have directly made these misrepresentations in violation of the Act. Gilbert as their marketing agent did so and the partnership and other partners are liable for his acts in the scope of his agency. In State ex rel. McLeod v. C & L Corp., 280 S.C. 519, 313 S.E.2d 334 (Ct. App. 1984)[22] a corporation and real estate agent argued they are not liable under the Act for the misrepresentations of the salesmen, since they were made without their knowledge. The court held this argument lacked merit and stated,

> In our opinion actual knowledge is not required under the Act to hold a principal liable for the misrepresentations of his agent. At common law actual knowledge is not necessary to hold a principal liable, if misrepresentations are made by the agent while acting within the scope of his agency. See, West v. Service Life & Health Insurance Co., 220 S.C. 198, 66 S.E. (2d) 816 (1951); see also, Restatement (Second) of Agency § 261, comment a (1958). The Act should not be construed to increase the plaintiff's burden of proving liability. Its purpose is to give additional protection to the victims of unfair trade practices, not to make a case harder to prove than it would be under common law principles. Consistent with this policy, the federal courts hold that actual knowledge of the principal is not necessary to hold him liable for the acts of his agent committed within the scope of authority. Goodman v. Federal Trade Commission, 244 F. (2d) 584 (9th Cir. 1957).

State ex rel. McLeod v. C & L Corp., 280 S.C. 519 *, 313 S.E.2d 334, (S.C. Ct. App. February 24, 1984)

In this case, Gerry Fox allowed Gilbert to "do all the work" in exchange for a split of the profits. (Dep. 54) Belinda Fox testified in her deposition that Gilbert dealt with prospective buyers (Dep. 38) The Foxes specifically allowed Gilbert to market and sell the properties on their behalf. (Dep. 77) Indeed, Gilbert was given a power of attorney from Belinda Fox to attend the closing and sign on her behalf. (Dep. 77).

Every partner is an agent of the partnership. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-310) An admission or representation made by any partner is evidence against the partnership. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-330) Notice or knowledge of any partner of any matter relating to partnership affairs, operates as notice to or knowledge of the partnership (S.C. Code

(S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-350.) All partners are liable jointly and severally for everything chargeable to the partnership. (S.C. Code Ann. § 33-41-370).

The court concludes that the Foxes, Eagle Harbor, Inc. and the Phase II Development Partnership are liable for the violations of their marketing partner in violation of the Act.[23]

WHEREFORE, having fully set forth its findings of fact and conclusions of law, the court awards judgment as follows:

1) The Plaintiffs shall have judgment against Danny Gilbert individually, and Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. for breach of contract for the sum of $97,836.83.
2) The Plaintiffs shall have judgment, jointly and severally, against Danny Gilbert, Belinda Fox, Gerry Fox, Eagle Harbor, Inc. and Eagle Harbor Phase II Development Partnership in the amount of $82,530 in damages for negligent misrepresentation;
3) The Plaintiffs shall have judgment, jointly and severally, against Danny Gilbert, Belinda Fox, Gerry Fox, Eagle Harbor, Inc. and Eagle Harbor Phase II Development Partnership in the amount of $82,530 actual damages trebled to $247,590 under S.C. Bagnal, 316 S.C. 283, 450 S.E.2d 36 (1994) (in private actions under the UTPA, directors and officers are not liable for the corporation's unfair trade practices unless they personally commit, participate in, direct or authorize the commission of a violation of the UTPA." THIS MATTER came before the Court on March 21, 2019, for a status conference regarding the potential trial of the case. Present before the Court were the following attorneys:

1. J. Derrick Jackson, attorney for the Plaintiffs,
2. M. Richardson Hyman, Jr., attorney for Sarah Winn and Troy L. Winn,

ORDERED, that as a result of this Court's ruling here, the Court's prior Order in this matter requiring publication of the Third Amended Summons and Complaint shall be held in abeyance until after the trial of the Development and Construction Litigation to be held May 2, 3, and 4, 2018; and

RONALD E. PRICE AND DIANA R. PRICE,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

BELINDA FOX, GERRY FOX, DANNY L, GILBERT, SARAH WINN, TROY L. WINN, EAGLE HARBOR, INC., HERITAGE CLASSIC HOMES, INC., and the EAGLE HARBOR PHASE II DEVELOPMENT PARTNERSHIP, Defendants.

ORDER FOR PARTIAL SUMMARY JUDGMENT AS TO DEFENDANTS TROY AND SARAH WINN

BACKGROUND

This matter came before the Court on the motion for partial summary judgment of the Defendants Troy L. Winn and Sarah Winn ("Winns") as to certain claims brought by the Plaintiffs Ronald and Diana Price as set forth in the Second Amended and Supplemental Complaint served on the Winns. For practical purposes, the claims can be designated as fiduciary claims arising out of the development of the roads in Eagle Harbor Subdivision, and claims which were not. The Winns moved for partial judgment against Plaintiffs on all "non-road-related" claims set forth in the Plaintiffs' Second Amended and Supplemental complaint which was served upon them. The basis for the motion was that the statutes of limitation had run prior filing of a motion to amend and add such claims against the Winns; who were not original parties to the action.

DISCUSSION

It appears from the representations of the Prices counsel to the court and the Winns' counsel that he will not oppose the motion and it further appears to the satisfaction of this court that there are sufficient grounds to order partial summary as to the Winns on the non-road related claims.

THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, that partial summary judgment is granted in favor of Defendants Winn on all claims raised in the Plaintiffs' Second Amended and Supplemental Complaint EXCEPT, those set forth below; and,

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that those claims against the Winns in the Plaintiffs' Second Amended and Supplemental Complaint alleging a breach of a fiduciary duty in regard to the roads of Eagle Harbor Subdivision are not included within the scope of the partial summary judgment above and remain viable claims against the said Defendants.

CLERK OF COURT
BERKELEY COUNTY S.C.

This matter came before me for a hearing on August 24, 2017 pursuant to a motion for summary judgment filed by Defendant Gerry Fox ("Fox"). Present at the hearing were the Plaintiff Diana Price represented by her counsel, J. Derrick Jackson and Paul B. Ferrara, III representing the movant Defendant Gerry Fox. After carefully considering the briefs with attachments submitted by the parties, the arguments of counsel and the applicable law, this court denies the motion for summary judgment.

FACTUAL/PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND[1]

Gerry Fox along with Danny Gilbert, Heritage Classic Homes, and Eagle Harbor, Inc. decided to develop a subdivision Eagle Harbor, Inc. Gerry Fox purchased 90.96 acres of land which would become Phase I for Eagle Harbor. (Deed, Deposition pp 17-18, 23) Gerry Fox purchased another 62.63 acres of land but placed the land in his wife Belinda Fox's name "for asset protection" because he had "Dr." in front of his name. (Deed, Deposition pp. 42, 45-46, Plat). He opened up a bank account in the name of

MLE MV DW

Heritage Classic Homes, and according to his deposition testimony, Danny Gilbert required Gerry Fox's approval to spend money. (Deposition p. 56, 80-81) Gerry Fox allowed Gilbert to "do all the work" in exchange for a split of the profits. (Deposition p.54) The Foxes specifically allowed Gilbert to market and sell the properties on their behalf. (Deposition p. 77) According to the public records, the Fox sold almost $900,000 in sales of real property in Eagle Harbor Subdivision. (See Sales Summary)

As alleged in the Second Amended Complaint, in the summer of 2003, the Prices were looking for a subdivision lot to build their home on and came across Gilbert at what looked like a sales office in Eagle Harbor Subdivision. Gilbert, in his role as marketing partner, showed the Prices Lot 20. He made several material representations to the Prices including that the Lot 20 (approximately 8 acres) could be subdivided into three, separate residential lots, that the lots would perk, and that the lot would be part of a gated, restricted community with a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits which would enhance the value of their property. On or about September 13, 2003, the Prices, in reliance on the representations of Gilbert entered into an Agreement to Buy and Sell Lot 20 for $90,400. Gilbert explained that the owner of Lot 20, Belinda Fox was his partner. Subsequent to the closing, the Prices learned that the representations by Gilbert as marketing partner were false. The property could not be subdivided into three, separate residential lots because the soil does not perk, a condition known to Gilbert and the partnership as early as February 2002. Also, the lot would not be part of a restricted community with a valid homeowner's association, associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits, which would enhance the value of the subject property being purchased by them because valid, restrictive covenants were not properly recorded for the Phase II subdivision. The promised amenities were never developed.

GN

In addition to these problems, the developers of Phase II of Eagle Harbor Subdivision failed to comply with applicable governmental regulations before selling lots. After wetland studies were conducted by the Army Corp of Engineers, the Prices learned that approximately two acres of Lot 20 were delineated as federally defined freshwater wetlands. Various roads in the subdivision were also impacted by wetlands.

According to his deposition testimony, Gerry Fox didn't know if he made an effort to make sure Gilbert was complying with subdivision regulations (Dep. p. 68), knew about the covenants but made no investigation if they were accurate (Dep. p. 87), made no investigation to see if the property sold to the Prices could be subdivided (Dep. p. 83), was aware that a drain field would be required for certain lots including the Prices, but did not discuss that with them or know if Gilbert did. (Dep. p. 97)

The Prices filed suit on August 23, 2004, against Danny Gilbert and Belinda Fox alleging fraud, negligent misrepresentation, and unfair trade practices. The Prices amended their suit on October 20, 2005 adding Eagle Harbor, Inc. and including the factual allegations about the defective restrictive covenants. On November 29, 2005, the Prices filed a motion to file a Second Amended Complaint. This Second Amended Complaint added Gerry Fox as a party and included the allegations about negligent development. Inexplicably this Second Amended Complaint was withdrawn by Consent Order on February 7, 2006 by a previous counsel of the Prices.

After the Foxes and the Winns transferred the roads in Eagle Harbor while still in a defective state, the Prices filed a motion on September 23, 2011 to amend and supplement the Amended Complaint to add the Winns and Gerry Fox and include a declaratory judgment cause of action related to the roads. The court granted the motion and the Second Amended and Supplemental Complaint was filed and served.

Gerry Fox has filed the present motion seeking summary judgment based on the statute of limitations.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

Summary judgment is appropriate where there is no genuine issue of material fact and it is clear the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. Rule 56(c), SCRCP. In determining whether any triable issues of fact exist, the evidence and all inferences which can be reasonably drawn from the evidence must be viewed in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. Koester v. Carolina Rental Ctr., 313 S.C. 490, 493, 443 S.E.2d 392, 394 (1994). In cases applying the preponderance of the evidence burden of proof, the non-moving party is only required to submit a mere scintilla of evidence in order to withstand a motion for summary judgment. "Summary judgment is not appropriate where further inquiry into the facts of the case is desirable to clarify the application of the law" and "should not be granted even when there is no dispute as to evidentiary facts if there is disagreement concerning the conclusion to be drawn from those facts." Lanham v. Blue Cross & Blue Shield of S.C., Inc., 349 S.C. 356, 362, 563 S.E.2d331, 333 (2002)

DISCUSSION

Fox argues that the Prices individual claims against him are barred by the three year statute of limitations set forth in South Carolina Code Annotated §15-3-530. Fox asserts the Prices knew about their claims for damages in 2004 and that at least by 2005 knew about their claims against Gerry Fox. The Prices do not contest that they knew about their claims in 2004 or that they filed a Second Amended Complaint which included Gerry Fox in 2005, but assert that under the relation back provisions of Rule 15(c) their claims against Fox relate back to the original pleadings.

RELATION BACK UNDER RULE 15(c) SCRCP

Rule 15(c) SCRP provides as follows:

(c) Relation Back of Amendments. Whenever the claim or defense asserted in the amended pleading arose out of the conduct, transaction or occurrence set forth or attempted to be set forth in the original pleadings, the amendment relates back to the date of the original pleading.

An amendment changing the party against whom a claim is asserted relates back if the foregoing provision is satisfied and, within the period provided by law for commencing the action against him the party to be brought in by amendment (1) has received such notice of the institution of the action that he will not be prejudiced in maintaining his defense on the merits, and (2) knew or should have known that, but for a mistake concerning the identity of the proper party, the action would have been brought against him.

All these factors have been satisfied in this case. There is no dispute that the Second Amended Complaint arose out of the conduct, transaction or occurrence set forth or attempted to be set forth in the original pleadings relating to misrepresentations made to the Prices and lack of disclosure, the failure to properly develop the subdivision, the defective covenants and the presence of wetlands on the property.

Also, there is no prejudice for Gerry Fox as his wife (who he put forth as the proper party by buying the land in her name) was an original Defendant from the beginning of the lawsuit. Finally, he had sufficient knowledge that he should have been included as a Defendant during the limitations period.

Fox does not contest these elements, but rather relies on a line of cases going back to Jackson v. Doe, 342 S.C. 552, 558, 537 S.E.2d 567, 570 (Ct. App. 2000). In Jackson the court states, "The language of Rule 15(c) clearly speaks to a change in party, not the addition of a defendant to an already existing defendant. In our view, the addition of a party is not the same as a substitution or change of party. See Kraly v. Vannewkirk, 69 Ohio St.3d 627, 635 N.E.2d 323 (1994) (determining that Ohio's Rule 15(c), which is similar to our Rule 15(c), allows for relation back when a party is substituted but not when a party is added while retaining a party named in the original suit).

The court notes that even in that case, there was a split in authority on whether adding a party was a change under Rule 15(c). The Jackson court notes, " But see Harding

v. Godwin, 238 Ga. App. 432, 518 S.E.2d 910 (1999) (noting the Georgia relationship back statute, which contains essentially the same language as our Rule 15(c), authorizes the addition of a new party under certain circumstances if the requirements of the statute are strictly met), cert. denied(Oct. 22, 1999)(emphasis added). Jackson v. Doe, 342 S.C. 552, 558, 537 S.E.2d 567, 570 (Ct. App. 2000). The other cases cited by the Fox all rely on this single 2000 Court of Appeals decision.

The Prices submit that the interpretation of the relation back doctrine under Rule 15(c) has changed or evolved in the seventeen years since Jackson . This court agrees. The modern interpretation of Rule 15(c) is that an amendment adding a party relates back if the new party received adequate notice within the limitations period and suffers no prejudice in its defense. This modern rule can be seen in the following cases[2].

In Goodman v. Praxair, Inc., 494 F.3d 458, 468 (4th Cir. 2007) the court states,

> In light of these policies, Rule 15(c) must be understood to freely permit amendment of pleadings and their relation-back so long as the policies of statutes of limitations have been effectively served. See 3 James Wm. Moore, et al., Moore's Federal Practice § 15.19[3][a] (3d ed. 1997) ("The purpose of Rule 15(c) is to provide the opportunity for a claim to be tried on its merits, rather than being dismissed on procedural technicalities, when the policy behind the statute of limitations has been addressed"). And that is accomplished in Rule 15(c) by requiring that a new party have had adequate notice within the limitations period and by assuring that the new party not be prejudiced by the passage of time between the original pleading and the amended pleading.

In Goodman, the lower district court ruled -similar to the citations by the Fox in his brief-, "(1) that the amended complaint did not "change the party or the naming of the party against whom the claim [was] asserted," but rather added Praxair Services,

[2] The court is aware and the Prices disclosed these cases are based on federal law and application of the federal rules of civil procedure; however, our Rule of Civil Procedure is based on the Rule 15 of the federal rules of civil procedure and typically the federal courts and especially the Fourth Circuit for our jurisdiction point the way to the developing interpretations of the law.

Inc.; (2) that Goodman "was fully aware of the existence of [Praxair Services, Inc.] and its correct name," and therefore his mistake in naming only Praxair, Inc., in the original complaint was not the type of mistake on which Rule 15(c)(3) acts..." Goodman v. Praxair, Inc., 494 F.3d 458, 468 (4th Cir. 2007).

In response to the district court ruling, the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals found that the addition of parties to a complaint may be broadly construed as a change of parties. See Goodman, 494 F.3d at 468 (accepting plaintiff's interpretation of Rule 15(c) that an " 'an addition to something is generally regarded as a change to that thing' "). The court wrote, "[W]e can discern no policy that would be served by the ... defendants' restrictive reading of 'changes,' which would force the amending party to drop a defendant for each defendant he adds." Id. at 469. This appears to be what Fox is contending, that the Prices must drop a Defendant (presumably Ms. Fox) to add him to the complaint.

The Goodman court also clarified the "mistake" language of Rule 15(c), "The "mistake" language is textually limited to describing the notice that the new party had, requiring that the new party have expected or should have expected, within the limitations period, that it was meant to be named a party in the first place, although it also implies that the plaintiff in fact made a mistake. No policy supports permitting relation-back for typographical mistakes, but not for oversights or mistakes of inclusion or omission. The policy considerations of Rule 15(c) concern whether the repose granted by statutes of limitations is preserved for parties named in amended pleadings. And that depends on the notice to and effect on the new party. The limitations of Rule 15(c)(3) thus only apply when the policies underlying limitations rules may be trampled. As Justice Holmes explained:

> Of course an argument can be made on the other side, but when a defendant has had notice from the beginning that the plaintiff sets up and is trying to enforce a claim against it because of specified conduct, the reasons for the statute of limitations do not exist, and we are of opinion that a liberal rule should be applied.

New York Cent. & Hudson River R.R. v. Kinney, 260 U.S. 340, 346, 43 S.Ct. 122, 67 L.Ed. 294 (1922) (emphasis added); see also Rebecca S. Engrav, Relation Back of Amendments Naming Previously Unnamed Defendants Under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 15(c), 89 Calif. L.Rev. 1549, 1573–78 (2001) (advocating liberal construction of "mistake" language in Rule 15(c)(3))." Goodman v. Praxair, Inc., 494 F.3d 458, 471 (4th Cir. 2007). In this case, Fox had notice from the beginning of the Prices claim.

The Goodman case has been cited and followed by the district court for South Carolina in a product liability case, "Based on this evidence, Mid–Continent should have known that, as the chair manufacturer, it would be included in McKnight's complaint. When an added party "has been given fair notice of a claim within the limitations period and will suffer no improper prejudice in defending it, the liberal amendment policies of the Federal Rules favor relation back." Goodman, 494 F.3d at 471. McKnight v. Iceberg Enterprises LLC, No. 9:10-CV-03248-DCN, 2012 WL 2418870, at *4 (D.S.C. June 26, 2012).

The present case provides a good illustration of the application and intent of the rule. Gerry Fox had full notice of the claims against him from the beginning of this litigation. He was not named as a party initially because of his own design to place the Phase II property in his wife's name for asset protection. He is not prejudiced in his defense in this matter because his wife Belinda Fox was named in the original pleadings and Mr. Fox has had a front row seat to monitor the course of this litigation. Furthermore, this case has not been scheduled for trial and this court can enter an appropriate scheduling order to mitigate any prejudice. This court finds that policies behind the statute of limitations have been satisfied as to Gerry Fox and that the amended pleadings relate back under the modern interpretation of Rule 15(c). Therefore, Fox's motion for summary judgment based on the statute of limitations is denied.

EQUITABLE ESTOPPEL

The Prices also assert that summary judgment should be denied because there is a least a scintilla of evidence to create a genuine issue of material fact as to the issue of equitable estoppel. The court notes that Gerry Fox testified he placed the Phase II property in his wife's name despite her lack of involvement or knowledge of the project.

Application of equitable estoppel does not require an intentional misrepresentation. It is sufficient if the plaintiff reasonably relied upon the words or conduct of the defendant in allowing the limitations period to expire. Dillon County Sch. Dist. No. Two v. Lewis Sheet Metal Works, Inc., 286 S.C. 207, 218–19, 332 S.E.2d 555, 561 (Ct.App.1985) (overruled on other ground by Atlas Food Sys. v. Crane Nat'l Vendors, 319 S.C. 556, 462 S.E.2d 858 (1995)); Brown v. Pearson, 326 S.C. 409, 419, 483 S.E.2d 477, 482 (Ct.App.1997). "Silence, when it is intended, or when it has the effect of misleading a party, may operate as equitable estoppel." S. Dev. Land & Golf Co. v. South Carolina Pub. Serv. Auth., 311 S.C. 29, 33, 426 S.E.2d 748, 751 (1993) (citation omitted). Whether the actions lulled the plaintiff into "a false sense of security" is usually a question of fact. Dillon County Sch. Dist. No. Two, 286 S.C. at 219, 332 S.E.2d at 561.

Here, Gerry Fox testified in his deposition he intentionally put his wife Defendant Belinda Fox forward so as to protect his assets from claims like the Prices. This court finds there is at least a scintilla of evidence on this issue, that it is usually a question of fact and therefore denies summary judgment.

THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, that Gerry Fox's motion for summary is denied.

CLERK OF COURT
BERKELEY COUNTY, S.C.

This matter came before me by way of Plaintiffs', Ronald E. Price and Diana R.B. Price ("Prices") motion to amend and file a supplemental complaint. The Defendant Belinda Fox filed a memorandum in opposition to the motion, and the Prices filed a reply brief. By agreement of the parties and status conference order the court took the motion under advisement to be decided upon the briefs. A subsequent telephone status conference was held by the court on August 26, 2015. After considering the briefs and applicable law, the court concludes that the motion to amend and supplement should be granted.

BACKGROUND[1]

The Plaintiffs alleges various causes of action against Danny Gilbert, Belinda Fox, and Eagle Harbor, Inc. related to the sale and purchase of Lot 20 in Phase II of Eagle Harbor Subdivision. The factual allegations in the complaint concern alleged misrepresentations that were made to the Prices about their lot and Eagle Harbor Subdivision. Also, the Prices contend that Gilbert, and the other Defendants failed to comply with applicable local and federal regulations concerning the development which caused them damage.

CHANGES MADE BY AMENDMENT

The Plaintiffs proposed Second Amended Complaint includes Gerry Fox, Troy and Sarah Winn, Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. and Eagle Harbor Phase II Development Partnership ("Partnership"). It drops causes of action for fraud, and civil conspiracy, because the Prices allege the existence of a "developmental partnership" versus a conspiracy, and adds a cause of action for breach of fiduciary duty. The Prices allege the development partners breached their duty to develop the subdivision in accordance with all applicable governmental regulations, to properly setup and fund an Eagle Harbor Homeowners Association, Inc., and to adequately construct common area improvements including the roads and to transfer the common area improvements to the owners in good condition. The Second Amended Complaint also seeks a declaratory judgment declaring the Plaintiffs rights to use the private roads within the subdivision and to an affirmative injunction requiring the Partnership and Partners to cause the roads to be restored to adequate standards, and to provide a segregated funds account for the roads continued maintenance for a reasonable time.

REASONS FOR AMENDMENT

The Prices contend that after finally being able to take the deposition of Gerry Fox, the Prices discovered that the development of Phase II, Eagle Harbor Subdivision was the result of a real estate development partnership including Gilbert, the Winns and the Foxes. The Prices note that Mr. Fox testified in his deposition that he had an agreement with Defendant Danny Gilbert to split the profits of Phase II and that he along with the Winns (who purchased the land for the other lots in the subdivision) would split the expenses. Fox could approve how the money for development was spent and Gilbert marketed the property. Gilbert determined the prices and shared in the profits at closing. (See deposition excerpts and map attached to Prices' Memorandum in Support.)

REASONS FOR SUPPLEMENT

The Prices allege the Developers/Grantors owed fiduciary duties to the Prices and other homeowners in Eagle Harbor subdivision to insure that the common areas were in good repair at the time the developers conveyed the property to EHHOA, Inc. The Prices further allege that the developers failed to provide the association with funds sufficient to effectuate any needed repairs to those areas. Concerned Dunes West Residents, Inc. v. Georgia-Pacific Corp., 349S.C. 25, 562S.E.2d 633 (2002)(citing Goddard v. Fairways Development General Partnership, 310 S.C. 408, 426 S.E.2d 828 (1993).)

After the Prices filed their complaint, the developing Partners (sought to be included in the amendment) conveyed their interests in the roads to EHHOA, Inc. in the summer of 2011, when the roads allegedly were still in need of repair. The Prices further allege the Developing Partners filed a lawsuit against the engineer for the development of Phase II of Eagle Harbor, and received settlement proceeds, in part, based on the condition of the roads in the summer of 2011. (See Deeds, Business Filing, and Fox Deposition Excerpts, pp. 108, 109, and 118 attached to original memorandum.) The Prices supplemental allegations adds to the complaint the allegations about the roads and seeks to enforce the alleged fiduciary responsibilities set forth in Concerned Dunes West Residents, Inc.

The court was informed by the parties that a separate lawsuit (2014-CP-08-00052) was filed by an entity called the Concerned Citizens of Eagle Harbor, Inc. This entity represented some of the private property owners in Eagle Harbor subdivision, but not all and not the Prices. The Prices were not made party to this suit and there was no class action filed in the suit. The suit was dismissed as settled pursuant to Rule 43(k) SCRCP on June 12, 2015.

APPLICABLE LAW

Rule 15, SCRCP, provides that leave to amend shall be freely given when justice requires and does not prejudice any other party. See Rule 15, SCRCP; Foggie v. CSX Transp., Inc., 313 S.C. 98, 431 S.E.2d 587, 590 (1993). It is well established that a motion to amend or supplement is addressed to the discretion of the trial judge, and the party opposing the motion has the burden of establishing prejudice. Id. The prejudice envisioned by Rule 15 is a lack of notice that the new issue is going to be tried, and a lack of opportunity to refute it. Pool v. Pool, 329 S.C. 324, 328-29, 494 S.E.2d 820, 823 (1998).

In this case, the court concludes that justice does require leave to amend as the Prices discovered after Gerry Fox's deposition the alleged partners and real estate partnership which developed Phase II, and it would be unjust to leave them out of the suit when other alleged partners are already named. More importantly, the court does not conclude that the party opposing amendment has met the burden of establishing prejudice as envisioned by the rule.

First, while this case is old for various reasons including multiple changes of counsel on both sides and an intervening appeal, the essential facts alleged remain unchanged and the unnamed partners should have been aware of these facts from their actual participation in the events, from the factual allegations in the original pleadings, and from the inclusion of the other development partners in the original complaint. In short, there is no surprise wrought by the amendment and supplemental pleadings.

Second, even if the issues alleged in the amendment and supplemental pleadings somehow were a surprise, then there is still no prejudice because the parties will have ample time to prepare a defense. This entire matter has been referred to this court for disposition and the court can mitigate any alleged prejudice to the parties. Moreover, while substantial discovery has taken place, the court believes much of this discovery can be shared and used among the parties. For example, there is no reason to believe that Gerry Fox cannot share and use the discovery conducted by his wife Belinda Fox. Any additional discovery needed to prepare can be handled by an appropriate scheduling order which the court is requiring within ninety days of the service of this Second Amended and Supplemental Complaint.

SUPPLEMENTAL COMPLAINT

Rule 15(d) SCRCP provides, "Upon motion of a party the court may, upon reasonable notice and upon such terms as are just, permit him to serve a supplemental pleading setting forth transactions or occurrences or events which have happened since the date of the pleading sought to be supplemented."

Even though a supplemental pleading is technically different than a motion to amend the pleadings under Rule 15(a) SCRCP, the standard for granting or denying these motions is the same. Cf. Charles Alan Wright, Arthur R. Miller & Mary Kay Kane, Federal Practice and Procedure: Civil 2d § 1504 (1990) ("Inasmuch as the discretion exercised by the court in deciding whether to grant leave to amend is similar to that exercised on a motion for leave to file a supplemental pleading, the court's inattention to the formal distinction between amendment and supplementation is of no consequence.").

In this case, as with the motion to amend, the Defendants have not established any surprise or prejudice which would result from allowing the supplemental pleading. Indeed the motion to supplement to include the allegations and parties about the roads was filed within a few months after the roads were transferred to EHHOA, Inc.

Furthermore, the court does not believe the suit filed by the Concerned Citizens of Eagle Harbor, Inc. adversely affects the Prices' motion. The Prices were not parties to that suit and that suit has been dismissed and is no longer pending.

CONCLUSION

Rule governing amendment of pleadings strongly favors amendments, and the court is encouraged to freely grant leave to amend. Parker v. Spartanburg Sanitary Sewer Dist. 362 S.C. 276, 607 S.E.2d 711(S.C. App. 2005). Rule 8(f), SCRCP, requires that "[a]ll pleadings shall be so construed to do substantial justice to all parties." We agree with the committee note on amended Fed. R. Civ.P. 15(c) that Rule 8(f), SCRCP, is applicable and that the rules should be liberally construed. Hughes v. Water World Water Slide, Inc., 314 S.C. 211, 442 S.E.2d 584 (1994).

THERERFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED AS FOLLOWS:

1) Plaintiffs' motion to amend and supplement the complaint is hereby granted and the Plaintiffs may file the Second Amended and Supplemental Complaint;
2) Plaintiffs shall serve the Second Amended and Supplemental Complaint within thirty (30) days of filing;
3) The Parties shall conference and submit a proposed scheduling order within 90 days after service of the amended pleadings. If the parties cannot consent to the proposed scheduling order then each party should submit a proposed scheduling rrder.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

CLERK OF COURT
BERKELEY COUNTY, SC

This matter came before me pursuant to a Motion to Reconsider, Alter or Amend filed by Jeffrey T. Spell, Esquire ("Spell") on February 4, 2013 to amend this court's November 1, 2012 Order of Disqualification to allow Spell to represent Defendant Danny Gilbert, Eagle Harbor, Inc. and Heritage Classic Homes in all pretrial matters in certain litigation filed by Ronald and Diana Price ("Prices"). In this court's November 1, 2012 order, Spell was disqualified under Rule 3.7[1] because Spell was a likely witness. In response to Spell's motion, the Prices filed a Return on February 22, 2013, in which they renewed their argument from their brief[2] before the prior Order on Disqualification that Spell should also be disqualified under Rule 1.9(a) since the Prices were Spell's former clients in a substantially related matter. This court elected to treat that argument as a motion to reconsider the court's ruling on that issue. After carefully considering Spell's Motion to Reconsider the Order of Disqualification dated November 1, 2012 as well as Price's Return to the Motion, this court now concludes that Spell is also disqualified under Rule 1.9(a) and hereby amends its order accordingly.

[1] All references to "Rules" are to the South Carolina Rules of Professional Conduct unless otherwise stated.

[2] The court allowed parties to submit briefs, affidavits and exhibits prior to the original Order of Disqualification dated November 1, 2012.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

After a status conference and motion hearing on February 28, 2012, this court granted Jay Masty, Esquire's motion to be relieved[3] as counsel for Danny Gilbert ("Gilbert"), Eagle Harbor, Inc. ("Eagle Harbor" or "EHI") and Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. ("Heritage Classic Homes" or "HCH") (collectively "Gilbert entities"). The court gave Gilbert and his entities 20 days to secure other counsel and notify the court and opposing counsel that he had done so. On March 22, 2012, Jeffrey T. Spell ("Spell") called J. Derrick Jackson ("Plaintiffs' counsel") notifying him that Gilbert wanted Spell to represent him and the Gilbert entities. Plaintiffs' counsel then contacted his clients to see if they had any objections and if they would waive the conflict acknowledged by Spell. On March 28, 2012, Plaintiffs' counsel notified Spell by e-mail that his clients were not willing to waive the conflict and that Gilbert would need to find other counsel as soon as possible. Spell responded "Thank You" Thereafter, there was no record of any communication until May 4, 2012, when Plaintiffs' counsel e-mailed Spell about scheduling his deposition On or about May 18, 2012, Plaintiffs' counsel spoke with Spell confirming his deposition date and time and following up on a subpoena for his records that was issued on May 4, 2012. On May 23, 2012, Plaintiffs' counsel notified Spell that he may want to reschedule his deposition which was scheduled for May 25, 2012, and on May 24, 2012, Plaintiffs' counsel confirmed with Spell that his deposition would be rescheduled to a mutually agreeable time and date.

On June 5, 2012, at the previously rescheduled status conference, Spell appeared and stated that he intended to represent Gilbert and the Gilbert entities despite the Prices objections. This issue surprised Prices' counsel who thought the issue had been settled by the March 28, 2012 e-mail noting the Prices objections and that they were not willing to waive any conflicts. This court held a conference with the attorneys and allowed counsel 20 days[4] to submit a brief on the issue. Thereafter, the court issued its order dated November 1, 2012 disqualifying Spell under Rule 3.7 because Spell was a likely witness. As previously discussed, Spell filed a Motion to Reconsider, Alter or Amend and the Prices filed a Return asking the court to amend its order to include disqualification under Rule 1.9(a). This Amended Order follows:

FACTUAL BACKGROUND[5]

Spell is a licensed South Carolina attorney and is the owner of Low Country Title Services, LLC. Both Troy Winn (Winn) and Gerry Fox (Fox) have testified that Spell was Danny Gilbert's attorney throughout the development process and that he closed most of the real estate closing for lots in Eagle Harbor Subdivision. (Exhibits[6] 9, 10, 11, 12, 15) Fox also testified that Spell could have provided the real estate contracts which were used to sell lots in Eagle Harbor Subdivision. (Exhibit 11) Gilbert handled the sale of the lots as an agent of both Winn and Fox. (Exhibits 8, 13) Spell also represented Eagle Harbor, Inc. in closing construction loans. (Exhibits 20, 27) Spell is listed as a contributor of Services to Eagle Harbor (Exhibit 19) Spell may also have prepared the covenants and restrictions which were recorded for Eagle Harbor Subdivision. (Exhibit 10) Spell may also have prepared the incorporation documents for Eagle Harbor Homeowners Association, Inc. for which Danny Gilbert is the organizer. Spell did prepare and record the documents conveying the roads in the subdivision from the Winns and Foxes to Eagle Harbor Home Owners' Association, Inc. (Exhibit 16)

On or about September 13, 2003, the Prices signed an Agreement to Buy and Sell (which may have been prepared by Spell) to purchase Lot #20 in Eagle Harbor. Subdivision Phase II from Belinda Fox. This Agreement had "Jeff Spell" preprinted as the closing attorney. (Exhibit 21)

[4] This was extended an additional five days upon request by Plaintiffs' counsel.
[5] This shall be the court's findings of fact, unless otherwise qualified.
[6] References to "Exhibits" herein are to Plaintiff's Response to Spell's Notice of Appearance.

On November 06, 2003, Spell submitted a title research request for Lot #20 and in the blank for "My Client" listed "Ronald Price" and "Dana [sic] RB Price." (Exhibit 22) On or about November 25, 2003, Ronald Price individually and as attorney in fact for Diana Price executed an Attorney Preference form designating Jeffrey T. Spell as attorney. (Exhibit 23)

The closing took place on November 25, 2003 at the law office of Spell. He did not attend the closing, but had an associate, Brian Badger witness the closing. Spell's agency, Low Country Title, LLC is listed as the Settlement Agent. On the HUD-1 Settlement Statement, the Prices were charged several fees by Low Country Title Services, LLC including a "closing fee", "an Abstract or Title Search", and "Document Preparation." The HUD-1 also shows the Prices were charged for and issued an owners title policy. (Exhibit 24, 25) The HUD-1 was signed "Jeffrey T. Spell by Brian W. Badger." The HUD-1 reflects payments to Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. of $41,020 and Dee Dee Cox another $3,000 which was a debt of Gilbert. (Exhibit 24) Fox testified that this was Gilbert's share of the profits. (Exhibit 14) According to the Prices, Spell never disclosed to the Prices his prior representation or relationship with Gilbert, Fox, Eagle Harbor or the Winns. (Price Affidavits Exhibits 1, 3)

The closing was for buying the property and constructing a home and the Prices had contracted with Gilbert/Heritage Classic Homes to construct their home. After building started, the Prices discovered several issues which they allege were contrary to what Gilbert had represented to them when he sold the lot. The Prices contacted Spell by e-mail as their closing attorney for advice about these problems. (Exhibit 2) In this e-mail, Price states in Item 4, "Since you were our closing agent, we assume you are the #1 person to ask about the following ...issues as well." Price then proceeds to list items like the delay in getting a septic tank permit, the inability to subdivide, the legality of the restrictive covenants (all of which are part of the present lawsuit.) Price concludes, "you as our closing agent, should be able to help us."

The Prices were named as Defendants in a lawsuit filed by Gilbert's subcontractor (Case #1150) and subsequently the Prices filed the present suit for the alleged misrepresentations related to the property issues (Case#1855).

LAW/ANALYSIS

STANDARD

It should be noted that doubts as to the existence of an asserted conflict of interest should be resolved in favor of disqualification. See, International Business Machines Corporation v. Levin, 579 F. 2d 271 (3rd Cir. 1978) and Chugach Electric Association v. United States District Court, 370 F. 2d 441 (9th Cir. 1966), cert. denied, 389 U.S. 820, 88 S. Ct. 40 (1967). However, the burden of proving a conflict of interest is on the party seeking the disqualification. Duncan V. Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., 646 F. 2d 1020 (5th Cir. 1981)(quoted in S.C. Bar Ethics Advisory Opinion No. 90-34[7]).

RULE 1.9 DUTIES TO FORMER CLIENTS

Rule 1.9(a) provides as follows:

> (a) A lawyer who has formerly represented a client in a matter shall not thereafter represent another person in the same or a substantially related matter in which that person's interests are materially adverse to the interests of the former client unless the former client gives informed consent, confirmed in writing.

The Prices were Spell's Clients

In this case, Spell cannot seriously dispute that he "formerly represented" the Prices. He was selected as attorney on the attorney preference form, his company Lowcountry Title Services, LLC was listed as "Settlement Agent" for the closing. He is responsible for the title search which lists the Prices as "My Client", the title commitments and the title policy that were issued. Lowcountry Title was paid fees by the Prices at closing. The closing documents are signed Jeffrey Spell by various persons in his office. Subsequent to the closing, the Prices contacted Spell by e-mail for his help as "closing attorney." The Prices state they believed he was their attorney and relied upon him to protect their interests. (Price Affidavits, Exhibits 1 and 3)

[7] All future references to the SC Bar Ethics Advisory Opinions will only be to the Opinion No.

The matters are substantially related.

The present litigation is substantially related to the Spell's former representation of the Prices. Many of the issues raised in the complaint are issues which the Prices asked for Spell's help. Looking at the Prices, Amended Complaint (1855)(Exhibit 29), paragraph 8 refers to the Agreement to Buy and Sell. This Agreement may have been drafted and provided by Spell and is the Agreement closed for the sale of the property. Paragraph 10 alleges the condition in the Agreement about being able to subdivide the property into two separate lots, paragraphs 11 alleges that this representation was made by Defendants during negotiations and "up through the closing." Paragraph 12 includes allegations that the property could not be subdivided because of DHEC requirements for a septic tank system. Advising the Prices about their Agreement and whether or not the subdivide condition could be satisfied due to DHEC regulations were all part of Spells former representation. Indeed, in Diana Prices' March 11, 2004 e-mail to Spell (Exhibit 2), she specifically asks Spell about the DHEC permits and the notification that she could not subdivide the property. She asks Spell, "This was a main factor in us purchasing the lot.... does this constitute a breach of contract?"

Another example of how Spells' former representation is substantially related to this case is the lack of binding restrictive covenants. In paragraph 13 (as well as other paragraphs) of the Amended Complaint, the Prices allege, "all Defendants led your Plaintiffs to believe that they were purchasing property in a gated, restricted community with a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits confirmed by the same, which would enhance the value of the subject property being purchased by them, and otherwise provide for amenities and services not otherwise available in a neighborhood without the same benefits." Winn testified that he thought Spell prepared the covenants (Exhibit 10) which the Prices allege are not valid since they were executed by a Declarant (Eagle Harbor) that never owned the property. (See paragraph 14 of the Amended Complaint.)

Regardless of whether or not Spell prepared and recorded the restrictive covenants, as closing attorney he had a duty to advise the Prices as to what restrictions were binding (or not binding) on the property they were purchasing. This is another issue Ms. Price asked Spell about in her March 11, 2004 e-mail to Spell. (Exhibit 2)

The same point can be made about the Eagle Harbor Homeowners Association, Inc. ("EHHOA") which is the recipient of the roads in the subdivision conveyed through deeds prepared and recorded by Spell. EHHOA's registered agent is Gilbert and the Prices contend membership is not required because of the invalid covenants. Therefore, according to the Prices, the roads have no source of continued maintenance. These allegations are the subject of a proposed amendment to the complaint which the court has under consideration.

Yet another example is the allegation that property purchased by the Prices was not ready for construction because Gilbert had not applied for the proper DOT permit to install a septic line across a state road. (Exhibit 2 (A)). According to the Prices, this delayed construction on the Prices house and was another matter upon which Spell should have advised the Prices. In her e-mail she asks Spell to explain her options.

Another example is the presence of wetlands encumbering about 2.0 acres of the Prices property. (Exhibit 26) This is part of the Prices alleged damages. As part of his title search, and as closing attorney, Spell should have advised the Prices as to possible wetlands encumbering their property and cannot now represent the same Defendants who should have obtained the required wetland studies.

Indeed, Spell's former representation is so substantially related that a previous attorney of the Prices included him as a Defendant in a proposed Second Amended Complaint (Exhibit 30)(Fifth Cause of Action) which was never served and later withdrawn for reasons unknown to the Prices or their current counsel.

The final elements of Rule 1.9(a) are easily satisfied. Obviously, Gilbert and his entities interests are materially adverse to the Prices being on opposite sides in contested litigation. Finally, the Prices did not consent to the conflicted representation which was communicated to Spell by e-mail from the Price's counsel.

Opinion 10-3 is distinguishable

The primary Ethics Opinion recited and relied upon by Spell is distinguishable. Spell principally relies on Opinion 10-3. (Exhibit 35) The facts of that opinion are as follows:

> "Several years ago, an attorney conducted a transaction which pertained to a bond for title/contract for sale for two parties. ...Another attorney with the same law firm, who practices at another location than the previous attorney, may be retained by the Homeowners Association to address a violation of the recorded covenants and restrictions on the subject real property. This would include sending letters to the prospective purchasers on behalf of the Homeowners Association regarding such violations, and potentially filing a lawsuit on behalf of Homeowners Association against both prospective purchaser and title owner."

In Opinion 10-3, the committee begins it opinion by stating, "The South Carolina Supreme Court has held that representing a borrower in a residential transaction and later representing the lender in foreclosure does not create an appearance of impropriety. In re Anonymous, 298 S.C. 163, 378 S.E.2d 821 (1989). Ironically, this statement comes from a footnote in the opinion. The actual holding of the opinion was that a lawyer who represented both the buyer and seller in a residential real estate transaction should not subsequently represent the purchaser against the seller in litigation regarding the condition of the property sold so as to avoid the appearance of impropriety. The "appearance of impropriety" was the test under the old rules and has been replaced by Rule 1.9(a) and the substantial relationship analysis.

Under the specific facts of 10-3, the committee concluded as follows:

When the closing involves an installment land sale contract, rather than a sale by deed, whether a substantial relationship exists between the closing and a later action against the buyer would depend on 1) whether the lawyer advised the buyer about the specific contract involved or merely advised the buyer about land contracts generally and 2) whether the subsequent adverse representation involved the same legal issues about which the lawyer gave the buyer advice. Ordinarily, neither would occur. Therefore, without more, enforcement of HOA covenants or restrictions based solely on post-closing acts or omissions of the buyer would not ordinarily be substantially related to the prior closing.

This conclusion shows several distinguishing factors from this case. First, Gilbert and his entities are not mere lenders or an HOA, they are the developers of a project for which Spell provided substantial services before providing closing services for the Prices. Second, as pointed out in detail above, there are common legal issues about which the Prices sought Spells advice as closing attorney and which are part of the present litigation. Third, the committee emphasized that the litigation was based solely on post-closing action or omissions. As noted above, in this case, many of the allegations relate to pre-closing conduct, actions or omissions. Fourth, the sale in this case was by deed, and not an installment land sale contract.

Finally, this court notes that the committee itself noted that its opinion conflicted with many previous opinions on the subject: 84-24 (closing attorney cannot represent lender in subsequent foreclosure on same property;) 90-22 (closing attorney may update title but cannot file lis pendens or represent lender in foreclosure;) 05-05 (closing attorney cannot represent HOA in collecting dues for property purchased.)

While the committee continued in its opinion to try an explain this conflict, some of the quotes from those opinions are worth noting. From 90-22, "Rule 1.9 concerns loyalty to the client in cases of serial representation; its protections are for the benefit of the former clients." G. Hazard and W. Hodes, The Law of Lawyering: A Handbook on the Model Rules of Professional Conduct (1986) at 174." "The concerns underlying this proscription are the potential for violation of the lawyers duty of loyalty, as well as the risks that confidential information gained in a prior representation will be used to the disadvantage of the former client." ABA/BNA Lawyers Manual on Professional Conduct, 51:202.

From 05-05, "One of the signal events in a client's life is the purchase of a home. A lawyer representing a client purchasing a home finds herself in the role of helping a client acquire a valuable and enduring possession. The expected duty of loyalty is profound. For a lawyer to ultimately take a position endangering home ownership when that lawyer had previously used his or her best efforts to help the client obtain a home would be an expression of hostility to a former client in violation of Rule 1.9 and a breach of the corresponding duty of loyalty owed to that former client.

This court concludes that Spell is disqualified from representing Gilbert and his entities under Rule 1.9(a) because of this previous representation of the Prices. The present litigation is substantially related to his previous representation and Spells representation would be materially adverse and breach his duty of loyalty to the Prices.

RULE 3.7 LAWYER AS WITNESS

Rule 3.7(a) provides that "A lawyer shall not act as advocate at a trial in which the lawyer is likely to be a necessary witness." Spell is likely to be a necessary witness in this case. Indeed, the best evidence of this is that the same parties Spell wants to represent listed him as a witness in their answer to the Prices interrogatories in this case. (Exhibit 31) Likewise, the Prices also listed him as a witness in their answers to interrogatories. (Exhibit 32) Therefore, it defies logic to suggest he is not likely to be a necessary witness. Moreover, since the interrogatories listing Spell date back to 2006 and 2007, it demonstrates that the Prices are not naming him as a witness to disqualify him.

Spell's deposition was originally scheduled before the June 5, 2012 hearing at the same time as Troy Winn, but postponed because of the possibility that Winns' attorney would also take Spell's deposition if Winn was added as a party.

Spell obviously has substantial information about the facts in this case since he represented Gilbert and Eagle Harbor. As noted in the factual background, he closed most of the loans in the subdivision, possibly prepared the covenants and restrictions, possibly prepared the contract which were used in the sale of the lots, and prepared and recorded the deeds concerning the roads to the EHHOA. He also may have organized and prepared the Bylaws for EHHOA. It not clear at this point how much a role Spell played in advising Gilbert and the other developers, but Winn testified when asked about Spell's role, "It was Danny's attorney. That's all I Know. And that he used him for everything that needed to be done." (Exhibit 10) And as alleged in the pleadings, Danny Gilbert played a role in everything.

Spell argues that it's premature to disqualify him as attorney and that can be done later at trial as needed; however this argument ignores the language of the Rule and the cases that have considered the issue. First, the rule uses the phrase "is likely" which looks to a present calculation of a possible future event. Second, the cases suggest the withdrawal should take place when the potential to be a witness is recognized. See In re Westmoreland, 353 S.C. 44 ,577 S.E.2d 209(2003)(public reprimand for lawyer who refused to withdraw from representing one of the partners in a partnership dispute when it became apparent he would be required to testify in the trial of the matter both as a witness to some events and as a party-defendant to others.) See also In re Hawkins, 320 S.C. 57, 463 S.E.2d 92 (1995) (under Code of Professional Responsibility lawyer failed to withdraw as counsel even though lawyer should have known he might be called as a significant and probably adverse fact witness.)

Finally, contrary to Spell's representations at the rescheduled Status Conference, this rule is not solely for the benefit of his potential clients. Comment 1 to Rule 3.7 provides, "Combining the roles of advocate and witness can prejudice the tribunal and the opposing party and can also involve a conflict of interest between the lawyer and client." Emphasis added.

Comment 2 to Rule 3.7, "The opposing party has proper objection where the combination of roles may prejudice that party's rights in the litigation. A witness is required to testify on the basis of personal knowledge, while an advocate is expected to explain and comment on evidence given by others. It may not be clear whether a statement by an advocate witness should be taken as proof or as an analysis of the proof." Comment 3, "To protect the tribunal, paragraph (a) prohibits a lawyer from simultaneously serving as advocate and necessary witness except in those circumstances specified in paragraphs (a)(1) through (a)(3)." So it is apparent the rule is also intended to protect the tribunal and opposing party.

There are three limited exceptions to the rule, none of which apply to this case. First, the rule does not apply to uncontested matters. Until Spell's deposition is taken, its unknown which matters will be uncontested, but it's likely many of the matters will be. For example, in the Defendants Answers to Prices' Interrogatories Spell is expected to testify that there was no representation that the property could be subdivided, a statement with which the Prices strongly disagree. Second, there is no issue about the value of legal services, and finally, Gilbert and his entities will suffer no hardship from disqualification. Spell filed his notice of appearance in June 2012, and Gilbert has had since September 2011 to secure other counsel, and can still do so. Furthermore, as part of this court's previous order, Gilbert and his entities were afforded an additional 30 days to secure counsel because of the disqualification.

This court finds that Spell is disqualified under Rule 3.7 (a) because it is apparent he is likely to be a fact witness at the trial of this civil action.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER DENIED

As this court has found that Spell is also disqualified under Rule 1.9(a), the court finds it unnecessary to decide if Spell could have represented the Gilbert Defendants in pretrial matters only.

CONCLUSION

Under Rule 1.9(a), Spell cannot now represent Gilbert and his entities in a matter which is substantially related to Spell's former representation of the Prices and in which Gilbert and his entities interests are materially adverse to the Prices. Also, it appears likely that Spell will be a necessary witness at the trial of this matter; accordingly, he is disqualified under Rule 3.7. For all these reasons, and because any doubts about a conflict of interest should be resolved in favor of disqualification, this court hereby disqualifies Spell from representing Gilbert and his entities.

Danny Gilbert, Eagle Harbor, Inc. and Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. have had ample time before to secure other counsel. Accordingly, they shall only have 15 days to secure other counsel.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

CONSENT ORDER OF CONSOLIDATION

This matter comes before me heard upon the consent of the parties to the above captioned civil actions now pending. ELECTRONICALLY FILED - 2018 Sep 27 5:11 PM - BERKELEY - COMMON PLEAS - CASE#2004CP0801855

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that Defendants Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox, by and through their undersigned attorney, will move the Court, ten (10) days after the service of this Notice or at such time as is scheduled to be heard, for an Order, pursuant to all applicable rules of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure and South Carolina case law, directing Plaintiffs Ronald E. Price and Diana R. B. Price to elect a remedy, and in support of this motion shows the Court as follows:

Election of remedies is the act of choosing between different remedies allowed by law on the same state of facts. Tzouvelekas v. Tzouvelekas, 206 S.C. 90, 94, 33 S.E.2d 73, 74 (1945). The purpose of election of remedies is to prevent double or multiple recoveries for a single wrong. Tomlinson v. Mixon, 367 S.C. 467, 470-71, 626 S.E.2d 43, 44-45 (Ct. App. 2006). While modern procedure permits a plaintiff to assert all viable causes of action available under one set of facts, there is a restriction on the possible recovery such that a plaintiff may only recover their actual damages once. Inman v. Imperial Chrysler-Plymouth, 303 S.C. 10, 13, 397 S.E.2d 774, 776 (Ct. App. 1990); Tomlinson, 367 S.C. at 470-71, 626 S.E.2d at 44-45; Brown v. Felkel, 320 S.C. 292, 294, 465 S.E.2d 93, 95 (Ct. App. 1995).

A defendant may raise the issue of election of remedies at any stage of the case. Cowart v. Poore, 337 S.C. 359, 364-65, 523 S.E.2d 182, 185 (Ct. App. 1999). Indeed, to carry out the doctrine's purpose, the Court should, on his own motion, require election if multiple causes of action go to the jury. Id. In this case, Defendants bring this motion as part of their post-trial motions under Rule 59, and it is entirely proper to raise this motion at this stage. Collins Music Company v. Smith, 332 S.C. 145, 503 S.E.2d 481 (1998) (requiring election of remedies as a result of a Rule 59(e) motion); Smith, (reversing trial court's denial of motion to require election of remedies made as part of a Rule 59(e) motion and remanding with instruction that plaintiff elect the one cause of action on which they wish to recover). Moreover, it is of no significance that the various causes of action had different elements. Smith (election of remedies applied to 4 different causes of action). Additionally, it does not matter that the various causes of action all had different measures of damages. Orangeburg Sausage Co. v. Cincinnati Ins. Co., 316 S.C. 331,450 S.E.2d 66 (Ct. App. 1994). Given the above, an election is still required.

This matter was decided by a bench trial, which returned verdicts against these Defendants in favor of Plaintiffs on two claims: (1) negligent misrepresentation; and (2) violation of the S.C. Unfair Trade Practices Act. These two claims were based upon the same set of facts: whether the Defendants made false and misleading representations to Plaintiffs so that Plaintiffs would purchase Lot 20. The trier of fact in this action awarded Plaintiffs $82,530 in damages for negligent misrepresentation against these Defendants. The trier of fact also awarded $82,530 actual damages trebled to $247,590, plus reasonable attorney's fees and costs, for violating the South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act. In its Order, the Court stated that Plaintiffs could not collect damages for both negligent misrepresentation and unfair trade practices because they are two theories for recovery of the same damages but are limited to a single recovery: Under the doctrine of election of remedies, Plaintiffs must now elect as to which of the remedies presented by the Court it wishes to accept, and its award is accordingly limited to that remedy.

The two claims on which the Master returned a verdict in favor of Plaintiffs against these Defendants are all based on the same set of facts and involve damages that are the direct and natural consequence of the same conduct. Therefore, multiple recoveries as to these claims are not permitted. Brown, at 294,465 S.E.2d at 95; Collins Music Co., at 148, 503 S.E.2d at 482.

Moreover, the Clerk of Court has entered a judgment of $330,120 against Defendants Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox, further supporting the notion of double recovery ($82,530 for negligent misrepresentation plus $247,590 for unfair trade practices equals $330,120). A final judgment in this case needs to reflect the correct dollar amount that Plaintiffs elect.

WHEREFORE, Defendants Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox, respectfully pray that this Honorable Court enter an Order granting that Plaintiffs Ronald E. Price and Diana R. B. Price be required to make an election at this time as to just one cause of action under which to recover and a final judgment that is reflective of the damages awarded.

Respectfully Submitted,

Defendants Belinda and Gerry Fox (Foxes) filed a motion to require the Plaintiffs to elect remedies. After the non-jury trial on the merits, the court returned verdicts against the Foxes and other Defendants in favor of Plaintiffs Ronald and Diana Price (Prices) on two claims: (1) negligent misrepresentation; and (2) violation of the S.C. The court awarded Plaintiffs $82,530 in damages for negligent misrepresentation against these Defendants. The court also awarded $82,530 actual damages trebled to $247,590, plus reasonable attorney's fees and costs, for violating the South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act. NOW COME the Defendants, Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox, by and through their undersigned attorney, and move this Court to grant a judgment notwithstanding the verdict, or in the alternative, an Order granting a New Trial. Additionally, the Foxes respectfully request the Court to reconsider its ruling on res judicata. Defendants' motions are based upon the foregoing issues of law and good cause, which should be explored at a hearing on this motion:

I. MOTION FOR JUDGMENT NOTWITHSTANDING THE VERDICT

Pursuant to Rule 50(b) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, the Defendants, Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox, by and through their undersigned attorney, move the Court for an Order granting judgment notwithstanding the verdict. "In ruling on motions for judgments notwithstanding the verdict, the Court is required to view the evidence and the inferences that reasonably can be drawn therefrom in the light most favorable to the party opposing the motions." Strange v. South Carolina Dep't of Highways and Pub. Transp., 314 S.C. 427, 429-30, 445 S.E.2d 439, 440 (1994). The motions should be denied where either the evidence yields more than one inference, or its inference is in doubt. Id. The Court will reverse only where there is no evidence to support the ruling below. Id.

A. Plaintiffs' damages proven at trial were speculative and not certain.

Here, judgment notwithstanding the verdict should be granted in favor of the Foxes because the Plaintiffs' award of damages is speculative and not proper. South Carolina courts have held that proof of damages may not be left to mere speculation or conjecture. 22 Am. Jur. (2d) Damages Section 177 (1965). See South Carolina Finance Corp. v. West Side Finance Co., 236 S.C. 109, 123, 113 S.E.2d 329, 336 (1960). In this case, the Court has made a finding of fact that the Prices' property contained 2.0 acres of wetlands. However, page 62 of Plaintiffs' Exhibit 38, hereinafter "Carter's Report," is in direct conflict with the Court's finding of fact regarding the wetlands on the Plaintiff's property. Carter's report makes the faulty assumption that Plaintiffs' 7.86-acre property contains "one-third to one-half wetlands." This yields a range of 2.62 acres to 3.93 acres on the 7.86-acre tract. The Court, in its Order, made a finding that Plaintiffs were damaged in the amount of $82,530.00 based upon the difference between the assumed land pre and post misrepresentation. The Court's damage award for negligent misrepresentation directly relies on Plaintiff's Exhibit 38, which assumes facts not in evidence and opposite of the Court's finding of fact above. As Plaintiff's damages failed to account for the .62 acres value difference, judgment notwithstanding the verdict should be granted and a new trial be issued.

B. Plaintiffs trial testimony failed to prove that any false representations were made by Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox.

Plaintif failed to establish the first element of the cause for negilgenct misrpersentation. An additional basis for judgment notwithstanding the verdict is established as the Court's record is void of any false representations by the Foxes to the Prices. The first element of negligent misrepresentation requires: (1) "the defendant to make a false representation to the plaintiff." See Redwend Ltd. P'ship v. Edwards, 354 S.C. 459, 473-74, 581 S.E.2d 496, 504 (Ct. App. 2003)(Emphasis added). While the Court made several findings of fact of misrepresentations by Gilbert: (1) he represented the property as dividable into two lots, and that the property could be subdivided into three lots with the homeowners' association approval; (2) he represented to the Plaintiffs that they could put a septic tank on the property; (3) he represented that the lot would be a part of a gated community with valid covenants and restrictions; (4) he represented that various amenities would be available for use by the residents; (5) he represented that testing had been done; and (6) he did not disclose to the Prices that their lot contained wetlands or that the soil had a high-water table, it did not find that the Foxes made or acquiesced in the above representions. The trial record contains no testimony that the Foxes actually made any false representations to the Prices. The Court summarily found that the Foxes were liable for the misrepresentations of Gilbert based upon agency principles and partnership. This finding is flawed as there was no testimony that the partnership to develop Eagle Harbor authorized Gilbert to make any of these misrepresentations on behalf of the Eagle Harbor partnership. The Plaintiffs failed to establish this critical link. Moreover, the trial testimony is clear that Gilbert acted in his own self-interest to secure a home building contract with the Prices.

C. Plaintiff cannot receive double recovery for the same wrong.

The doctrine of election of remedies involves a choice between two or more different and coexisting modes of procedure and relief afforded by law for the same injury. Tzouvelekas v. Tzouvelekas, 206 S.C. 90, 33 S.E.2d 73 (1945). Its purpose is to prevent double redress for a single wrong. Use of the doctrine is limited to cases where a double recovery by the plaintiff is threatened. Save Charleston Foundation v. Murray, 286 S.C. 170, 333 S.E.2d 60 (Ct.App.1985). When one set of facts entitles the plaintiff to alternative remedies, he may plead and prove his entitlement to either or both; however, the plaintiff may not recover both. Id. The plaintiff should have a full opportunity to prove his claim to some form of relief, but he should not receive a double recovery. Id. The invocation of one remedy constitutes an election of remedies that will bar another remedy consistent therewith where the suit upon the remedy first invoked reached the stage of final adjudication. Id; See Brown v. Felkel, 320 S.C. 292, 294, 465 S.E.2d 93, 95 (Ct. App. 1995) cert. dismissed, 326 S.C. 36, 482 S.E.2d 564 (1997).

Our Supreme Court has held that that there can be no double recovery for a single wrong. This is the basic purpose of the election of remedies doctrine. Id. A defendant may raise the issue of election of remedies at any stage of the case. Moroever, in order to carry out the doctrine's purpose, the trial judge should on his own motion require election if he lets both causes of action proceed to trial. See Nichols, 279 S.C. at 341, 306 S.E.2d at 619 (holding trial judge acted properly in striking verdict on one cause of action to prevent double recovery). Inman v. Imperial Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc., 303 S.C. 10, 15, 397 S.E.2d 774, 777 (Ct. App. 1990).

Here, the Plaintiff's have asserted a claim for damages for the negligence misrepresentation and Unfair Trade Practices Act. The Court has instructed the Plainitff to elect its remedy on either cause. However, the same damages asserted by Plaintiff's have been recovered in case number 2007-CP-08-458. The testimony at trial was that the Price's received $125,000 for their claims associated with loss of value based upon misrepresentation, invalid covenants, and other monetary damages associated with their purchase of lot 20 from Belinda Fox. In this case, the Court has found that Price's suffered actual damages of Eighty-Two Thousand Five Hundred Thirty ($82,530) Dollars for their loss of value and use of land. As the Price's already received One Hundred Twenty Five Thousand ($125,000.00) Dollars, in case number 2007-CP-08-458 for the same injury, they can not recover twice for the same wrong. To do so would provide a windfall to the Price's. The Court stated in its Order that the Foxes did not pay the Price's and as such, it should not be allowed to benefit from the title insurance company litigation. However, the Court should focus on the inequitable result of the Prices recovering an additional Forty-Two Thousand Four Hundred Seventy ($42,470) Dollars which it the difference between this Court actual damage award and the prior settlement amount. If the Price's had not negotiate the subrogation claim with Investor's title, the maximum damages recoverable by the Investor's Title would have only been One Hundred Twenty Five Thousand ($125,000) Dollars against Belinda Fox. However, as the Price's retained the subrogation interest, it will be allowed to recover Two Hundred Seven Thousand Five Hundred Thirty ($207,530) Dollars for the same damages. Clearly that result is violative of South Carolina law and is inequitable. Moreover, "Courts have the inherent power to do all things reasonably necessary to ensure that just results are reached to the fullest extent possible." Ex Parte Dibble, 279 592, 310 S.E.2d 440 (Ct. App. 1983).

D. Plaintiffs failed to prove that the alleged misrepresentations were false when made.

The trial testimony failed to establish the falsity of statements at or prior to closing on Lot 20. In order for a claim of negligent representation to be actionable, the representation must relate to a present or pre-existing fact and be false when made. Fields v. Melrose Ltd.

Partnership, 312 S.C. 102, 105, 439 S.E.2d 283, 285 (Ct.App.1993). "The representation cannot ordinarily be based on unfulfilled promises or statements as to future events." Id.

Here, the Court found that Gilbert represented the following: (1) Lot 20 was dividable into two lots, and that the property could be subdivided into three lots with the homeowners' association approval; (2) Plaintiffs could put a septic tank on the property; (3) that the lot would be a part of a gated community with valid covenants and restrictions; (4) that various amenities would be available for use by the residents; (5) that testing had been done; and (6) Gilbert failed to disclose to the Prices that their lot contained wetlands or that the soil had a high-water table. All of the above misstatements 1-6 are based on unfulfilled promises or statements as to future events. The Order does not find and the Plaintiff's failed to prove that Gilbert actually knew that the statemetns were false when made. Additionally, Ty Adley, a representative from Berkeley County testified that the lot can currently be subdivided. Plaintiffs did not prove that the lot could not be subdivided and further did not prove that they tried to get the homeowner's association approval to subdivide the lots into three separate lots. As such, Plaintiff failed to establish the representations to actually be actionable.

For the above reasons, judgment notwithstanding the verdict should be granted.

II. MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Pursuant to Rule 59(a) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, the Defendants, Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox, by and through their undersigned attorney, move the Court for an Order granting a new trial. South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 59(a) provides that in an action tried without a jury, "a new trial may be granted to all or any of the parties and on all or part of the issues... for any of the reason for which rehearings have heretofore been granted in the courts of the State." Rule 59(a) further provides, "the court may open the judgment if one has been entered, take additional testimony, amend findings of fact and conclusions of law or make new findings and conclusions, and direct the entry of a new judgment."

A. A new trial should be granted for the Foxes because principals are not liable for the acts of their agents unless the agent's acts are within the scope of their agency of the partnership.

An Order granting a New Trial should be granted in favor of both Defendants Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox on the grounds that the evidence at trial failed to establish that neither Belinda Fox or Gerry Fox violated the Unfair Trade Practices Act, hereafter "UTPA". The Court imputed the acts of Gilbert onto the Foxes based upon agency. In order to hold the Foxes liable under the South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act, there must be testimony that the Foxes consented to Gilbert's acts. South Carolina Code § 39-5-20 (a) further states, "[u]nfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce are hereby declared unlawful." The plain reading of the statute establishes the tort of UTPA requires the Plaintiff to establish willful conduct not mere negligence. South Carolina courts have held that principals are liable for the acts of their agents, but only when their acts are within the scope of their agency. Abbot v. Sumter Lumber Co., 93 S.C. 131, 76 S.E. 146. Additionally, when one partner commits a willful and malicious tort not within the scope of the agency or the common business of the partnership, and the other partners did not consent to or ratify the action, they are not liable for harm thereby caused. Schloss v. Silverman, 172 Md. 632, 192 A. 343 (Md., 1937).

In the trial of this matter, the evidence did not establish consent or ratification of Gilbert's actions by the Foxes. The Court found in its Order that the willful and malicious tort of UTPA was established through the misrepresentations by Gilbert and his actions were implied consent to as his actions benefited the partnership. However, a careful review of the record evidences there was no testimony at trial that the Foxes consented to Gilbert's actions. While there may be an inference that Gilbert's actions were not carefully monitored by the Foxes, this alone does not meet the requisite intent required for liability pursuant to UTPA. It is true that South Carolina Code § 33-41-350 states that a "partnership is liable for harms caused by any partner"; however, that principal only applies when a partner is acting in the partnership's ordinary course of the business or with the authority of his copartner. Plaintiff's failed to establish that the partnership's ordinary course of business was to make false representations to sell property in Eagle Harbor or the the Foxes gave Gilbert the authority to make false representations. Again, the trial record is completely devoid of such testimony to establish a basis for the above findings. Moreover, the trial record also lacks any evidence that the Foxes engaged in an unlawful trade practice in their own individual capacity, or that the Foxes' individual actions had an adverse impact on public interest. See S.C. Code Ann. §§ 39-5-10 to 39-5-560.

As Plaintiff's have failed to establish the Foxes either consented to the actions of Gilbert or are liable, in their own individual capacity for UTPA, a new trial should be granted.

B. A new trial should be issued as the Court's award of damages to the Plaintiffs is not supported by the evidence at trial.

An Order granting a New Trial should be granted in favor of the Foxes because the Plaintiffs' award of damages is not supported by the verdict. As discussed above, the Court's findings of fact on the amount of acreage in the wetlands is lower than the amount of acreage used in the damages calculation. The Court found 2.0 acres of wetlands existed on the Plaintiffs' property. However, the Court's damage award is based upon Mr. Carter's report which assumes at least 2.62 to 3.93 acres of wetlands on the property. This critical difference clearly would result in the Plaintiff's damages being reduced. Two acres of the total 7.86 acres yields a percentage of wetland to total acreage of 25.44. The mathematical difference is 25.44 versus 33.33-50 percent. This could result in the loss property value of being reduced by 47.46 to 7.89 percent. The above establishes that the award is too speculative and the Court's award of damages to the Plaintiffs for the loss of value does not meet the requisite proof of certainty. Therefore, a new trial should be granted on this issue as well.

III. MOTION TO ALTER OR AMEND THE JUDGMENT

Pursuant to Rule 59(e) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, the Defendants, Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox, by and through their undersigned attorney, move the Court for an Order to Alter or Amend the Judgment. South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 59(e) states, "[a] motion to alter or amend the judgment shall be served not later than 10 days after receipt of written notice of entry of the order."

A. The Court should issue an order addressing equitable indemnification asserted by the Foxes in this matter.

An equitable indemnification claim was asserted by the Foxes against Gilbert in the pleadings in this action and at trial. South Carolina has long recognized the principle of equitable indemnification. See Stuck v. Pioneer Logging Machinery, Inc., 279 S.C. 22, 301 S.E.2d 552 (1983); Addy v. Bolton, 257 S.C. 28, 183 S.E.2d 708 (1971). "Indemnity is that form of compensation in which a first party is liable to pay a second party for a loss or damage the second party incurs to a third party. A right to indemnity may arise by contract (express or implied) or by operation of law as a matter of equity between the first and second party." Town of Winnsboro v. Wiedeman-Singleton, Inc.(Winnsboro I), 303 S.C. 52, 56, 398 S.E.2d 500, 502 (Ct. App. 1990), aff'd, 307 S.C. 128, 414 S.E.2d 118 (1992) (Winnsboro II)(citation omitted).

The testimony by Gilbert and the Foxes established the required elements for equitable indemnification. As a matter of equity, if the Foxes are deemed liable to Plaintiffs, under the theory of agency, based on the false statements of Gilbert, it is only fair and equitable to allow the Foxes to recover any losses they have sustained from Gilbert. At trial there was clear testimony that Gilbert was the one who caused the damages incurred by the Prices, which have been imputed onto the Foxes. The Defendants Foxes request that the Court issue an order holding that the Foxes be allowed to recover against Gilbert, pursuant to equitable indemnification, any damages that the Foxes may pay to the Prices.

B. The Court should reconsider its ruling on the res judicata.

The Court found that res judicata did not apply but did not address the "privies" element. For res judicata to be established, the parties must be the same or their privies. Bagwell v. Hinton, 205 S.C. 377, 400, 32 S.E.2d 147, 156 (1944). The identity of the parties in the first lawsuit also includes persons in privity with the named parties. Pye v. Aycock, 325 S.C. 426, 480 S.E.2d 455 (Ct. App. 1997). One not a party to a prior action can be precluded from relitigating the issue only if he is in privity with a party to the prior action against whom an adverse finding is made. Roberts v. Recovery Bureau, Inc., 316 S.C. 492, 450 S.E.2d 616 (Ct. App. 1994). In regard to res judicata or collateral estoppel, privity "does not embrace relationships between persons or entities, but rather it deals with a person's relationship to the subject matter of the litigation." Wyndam v. Lewis, 292 S.C. 6, 8, 354 S.E.2d 578, 579 (Ct. App. 1987). "Privity" means one so identified in interest with another that he represents the same legal right. Carrigg v. Cannon, 347 S.C. 75, 552 S.E.2d 767 (Ct. App. 2001).

The Court admitted as a trial exhibit the complaint between Chicago Title and the Price's, Berkeley County case 2007-CP-08-458. A careful review of that action as compare to the instance case establish that all elements of res judicata apply, including privity. The privies element is established through the title policy that the Prices entered into with Investors Title Insurance Company. Paragraph 7 of the policy, which was admitted as court exhibit, states:

7. TRANSER OF YOUR RIGHTS
"When we settle a claim, have all the rights you had against any person or property related to the claim. You must transfer these rights to us when we ask . . . You must let us use your name in enforcing these rights."

Although it is true that the Prices later bargained away the subrogation right, the policy language establishes that, there was as a matter of fact, privity between Chicago Title and Belinda Fox at the time of the policy. The Investors Title case was resolved with a stipulation of dismissal as evidence by the Court exhibit entitled "Stipulation of Dismissal" in case number 2007-CP-08-458. When an action has been dismissed with prejudice, the judgment operates in subsequent litigation to the same extent as if the action had been tried to a final adjudication. Jones v. City of Folly Beach, 326 S.C. 360, 483 S.E.2d 770 (Ct. App. 1997). In this case, it is clear that the claims are the same, the privies are the same and there was a final adjudication on the merits. As such, res judicata should bar Plaintiffs claims.

As such, the Court should reconsider its prior Order and hold the collateral source rule bars Plaintiffs' claims against the Foxes. Otherwise, the Plaintiffs will be allowed to recover twice on the same action.

Wherefore, Defendants Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox respectfully request the Court to grant their Motion for Judgment notwithstanding the Verdict, or grant their Motion for New Trial, or grant their Motion to Reconsider.

5. Notwithstanding the fact of the incorporation of the business known as Eagle Harbor, Inc., your Plaintiff is informed and believes that the Defendant Danny Gilbert should be found to be personally, jointly and severally liable for the injuries and damages outlined herein below, due to his having operating the business of Eagle Harbor, Inc., as his alter ego, and otherwise due to those other factors justifying the piercing of the Corporate Veil under current South Carolina Jurisprudence.

FOR A FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION AS TO THE DEFENDANT JEFF SPELL

(Professional Negligence)

50. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully and completely as though said matters were set forth herein verbatim.

51. Defendant Attorney Jeffrey Spell, acting in his capacity as the residential closing attorney with respect to the purchase of property by the Plaintiffs, owed your Plaintiffs a duty of due care in the handling of all matters related to that closing.

52. As an attorney licensed to practice in the State of South Carolina, with a practice emphasis in the area of residential loan closings, Defendant Spell was required to exercise that minimum degree of care normally attributed to an attorney holding himself out as one with a practice emphasis in residential closing transactions.

53. Defendant Jeff Spell violated the minimum degree of care, and otherwise breached his duty of due care to your Plaintiffs, acting negligently, willfully, wantonly, and with reckless disregard for the rights of your Plaintiffs, in one or more of the following ways, to wit:

a) By representing to the Plaintiffs and otherwise leading them to believe that he was representing their interest at closing when in fact he was not; thereby effectively preventing your Plaintiffs from seeking effective counsel in the closing of the underlying transaction;

b) By failing to properly disclose his representation of the Sellers and Developers with respect to the closing on the property purchased by your Plaintiffs until several months after the

closing, thereby effectively preventing your Plaintiffs from seeking effective counsel in the closing of the underlying transaction;

c) By failing to advise your Plaintiffs and proffering a consent to duel representation at or before closing in such a timely manner that Plaintiffs could be assured that their interest had been adequately protected;

d) By failing to properly review the record title documents in such a meaningful way that Plaintiffs could be properly informed that they were not indeed purchasing a property in a private community with well maintained roads, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits conferred by the same;

e) By failing to take proper exception to the invalidity of the declaration of covenants and restrictions in both the owners and/or mortgage title policies so as to put Plaintiffs on notice that the property purchased by them was not in a private community with well maintained roads, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits conferred by the same;

f) Notwithstanding the failure of properly taking exception to the invalidity of the declaration of covenants and restrictions pertaining to the property, by failing to properly advise your clients of said invalidity of those documents purportedly filed of record;

g) By failing to disclose to your Plaintiffs all other information relevant to the purchase of the subject property of which he knew or should have been aware, and in particular, the utter unsuitability of the property for subdivision as had been contemplated in the original agreement to buy and sell real estate;

h) By not attending the closing and instead allowing another attorney or individual with whom he associated to represent the Plaintiffs interest at closing, whom did not have the requisite skill,

knowledge and other information vital to the Plaintiffs in their decision to purchase the subject property; and

i) By not advising your Plaintiffs of the availability and advisability of obtaining additional title coverage for subdivision related title issues.

j) By otherwise failing to exercise that minimum degree of skill, diligence and competence necessary and proper given the circumstances then and there prevailing.

54. As a direct result of the negligent, careless, reckless, willful and wanton actions and inactions of the Defendant Spell, as aforesaid, your Plaintiffs have been injured in the following respects, to wit:

a) Plaintiffs have lost value to their property which would not have otherwise been purchased if it were not for the actions and inactions of said Defendant Spell;

b) Plaintiffs have been prevented from subdividing their property as contemplated, and therefore have lost the ability they had bargained for to sell individual tracts within the lot purchased by them;

c) Plaintiffs have lost the use of their property by virtue of the fact that a portion of their parcel constitutes wetlands and is restricted in use;

d) Plaintiffs have been made to incur interest carrying charges and other refinancing costs associated with their underlying financial obligation for property that they would not have purchased were it not for the actions and inactions of Defendant Spell,;

e) Such other and further damages as might be determined by the Jury in this Cause.

55. That to the extent that the Jury in this cause finds that Defendant Spell's actions and inactions were reckless, willful and/or wanton, as previously alleged, your Plaintiffs believe that they are entitled to an appropriate award of punitive damages.

FOR A SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION AS TO ALL DEFENDANTS

(Negligent Development)

56. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully and completely as though said matters were set forth herein verbatim.

57. As developers of the subdivision in which Plaintiffs' property was purchased, all Defendants owed to your Plaintiffs a duty to use due care in the development of Eagle Harbor.

58. All Defendants breached their duty of due care properly owing to your Plaintiffs in one or more of the following ways, to wit:

a) By failing and refusing to comply with state, federal and local rules and regulations pertaining to the subdivision of residential property;

b) By selling the subject lot to your Plaintiffs before obtaining requisite county and state regulatory approvals and/or obtaining the requisite encroachment permits such that Plaintiffs were extremely delayed in their ability to improve the property and to use the same for its purposes.

c) By failing and refusing to obtain the requisite granting of easements and other conveyances before subdivision of the property so as to ensure the creation and perpetual maintenance of a properly gated, restricted community with private, well maintained roads, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits conferred by the same, which would enhance the value of the subject property being purchased by them, and otherwise provide for amenities and services not otherwise available in a neighborhood without the same benefits.

d) By failing and refusing to ensure the proper creation of a valid homeowners association so as to generate homeowner's dues vital for the preservation and maintenance of the private roads, common areas and drainage easements located within the subdivision;

e) By failing and refusing to obtain necessary wetlands studies before development so as to prevent illegal subdivision and innocent individual encroachment on federally protected wetlands;

f) By encumbering with mortgages and other financial obligations property intended for the common use and enjoyment of the residents purchasing property within the subdivision;

g) By failing and refusing to disclose to your Plaintiffs the latent defects and other problems connected with the subdivision so as to put your Plaintiffs on notice of the dangers they would be assuming by purchasing property so negligently developed by Defendants;

h) By creating the appearance that Plaintiffs were purchasing property within a properly gated, restricted community with private, and well maintained roads, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits conferred by the same, when in fact, Defendants knew or should have known that the same was simply not true;

i) By failing and refusing to properly advise your Plaintiffs through Defendants duly authorized representatives before closing that the lot being purchased by them was entirely unsuitable for subdivision, and in fact further deceiving Plaintiffs by representing that that their property could be subdivided when Defendants knew or should have known at the time of the Plaintiffs' purchase that this representation was wholly untrue;

j) By otherwise engaging in additional negligent, careless, reckless, willful and wanton acts and omissions in direct violation of the standard of care by developers to your Plaintiffs as may be found by the Jury.

k) That as a result of the negligent, careless, reckless, willful and wanton actions outlined hereinabove, Plaintiffs have been injured and damaged as heretofore alleged, and seeks an appropriate award for their actual and compensatory damages suffered in an amount to be determined by the Jury in this cause.

59. To the extent that the Jury in this cause finds that Defendants actions and inactions were reckless, willful and/or wanton, as previously alleged, your Plaintiffs believe that they are entitled to an appropriate award of punitive damages.

FOR A SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION AS TO THE DEFENDANT INVESTORS TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY

(Declaratory Judgment)

60. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully and completely as though said matters were set forth here verbatim.

61. Plaintiffs seek a declaratory judgment brought pursuant to S.C. Code Annotated Sections 15-53-10 et seq, whereby Plaintiffs seek this Court's declaration of whether Defendant Investor's Title Insurance Company has responsibility for covering the loss claimed by Plaintiffs under the either or both the Mortgage Title Insurance Policy and the Owners Title Policy issued at the closing with respect to the subject property, namely policy numbers OR-A-055849 and M-A 146678.

62. The Plaintiffs have brought certain claims for relief against the remaining Defendants in this cause touching and concerning, among other things, the defective recording of a declaration evidencing certain covenants and restrictions, the same not being excluded from coverage under the Defendant Investor's Title Insurance Coverage Statement.

63. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that this issue of coverage should be resolved by declaratory decision.

64. Plaintiffs allege that they will suffer irreparable harm if their cause seeking a declaratory judgment is not heard, as the underlying case and the question of coverage contain common questions of law and fact, and should as a practical matter be resolved in a simultaneous fashion.

65. Under the circumstances herein, there is a controversy of a justifiable nature between the parties, and your Plaintiffs are informed and believe that they are entitled to have the Court inquire into these matters and issue a declaratory judgment determining the rights of the parties with respect to the question of coverage by Defendant Investors Title Insurance Company of America.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs pray for judgment against the Defendants, jointly and severally, for actual damages in excess of $50,000, incidental, consequential, and punitive damages, treble damages, attorney's fees, interest, the costs of this action, and for such other and further relief as this Court or the Jury might deem just and proper; and

As to the Defendant Investors Title Insurance Company of America, for a judgment declaring whether or not coverage exists for the loss so suffered by the Plaintiffs, and in the case such coverage does exists, then for a determination of the monetary amount of coverage to be paid over to Plaintiffs and their mortgage lender in satisfaction of the respective owners' and mortgagee's policy.

or former owner in Eagle Harbor
Subdivision,

Defendants.

The Plaintiffs, Ronald E. Price and Diana R. B. Price complaining of certain acts committed by some of the above named Defendants as described herein, hereby allege as follows:

1. The Plaintiffs, Ronald E. Price and Diana R. B. Price (hereinafter the "Prices"), are residents of the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina.

2. Upon information and belief, the Defendants, Gerry and Belinda Fox ("Foxes"), are residents of the County of Berkeley.

3. Upon information and belief, the Defendant, Danny L. Gilbert ("Gilbert"), is a citizen and resident of the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina.

4. Upon information and belief, the Defendants, Sarah and Troy Winn ("Winns"), are residents of the County of Berkeley.

5. Heritage Classic Homes, Inc. ("HCH") is a corporation organized and existing pursuant to the laws of the State of South Carolina and at all relative times alleged herein was acting as the alter ego of Defendant Gilbert.

6. The Defendant Eagle Harbor, Inc. ("EHI") was incorporated as a not for profit entity, but through its officer and agent Gilbert was the beneficiary and partner of the conduct alleged herein.

7. The Defendant EHHOA, Inc. ("EHHOA") is or is purported to be a nonprofit domestic South Carolina corporation. The Plaintiffs are informed and believe this is a merely a "shelf" corporation with no shareholders and only an incorporator and Defendant Danny Gilbert, the registered agent.

8. The Defendant Concerned Citizens of Eagle Harbor Subdivision, Inc. ("CCEHI") upon information is a South Carolina nonprofit mutual benefit corporation whose members are some but not all of the lot owners in Eagle Harbor Subdivision.

9. The other named Defendants are current or former lot owners in Eagle Harbor Subdivision and are being added pursuant to an order of this court. ("Lot Owner Defendants") as necessary parties who may have an interest in the subject matter of the litigation.

10. In the summer of 2001, the Foxes, Winns, EHI, HCH and Gilbert formed a partnership denominated for the purpose of this suit as the Eagle Harbor Phase II Development Partnership ("the Partnership").

11. Pursuant to this Partnership, the Winns and Foxes acquired certain real property which would become Phase II of the Eagle Harbor Subdivision and shared the expenses of the development including the roads. Gilbert would be the marketing Partner and market and sell the lots and manage the development. The Partners would then split the profits when the lots were sold. Gilbert's company HCH would be the builder and would receive Gilbert's share of the profits for his role in developing and selling property.

12. In the summer of 2003, the Prices were looking for a subdivision lot to build their home on and came across Gilbert at what looked like a sales office in Eagle Harbor Subdivision. Gilbert, in his role as marketing Partner, showed the Prices Lot 20. He made several material representations to the Prices including that the Lot 20 (approximately 8 acres) could be subdivided into three, separate residential lots, that the lots would perk, and that the lot would be part of a gated, restricted community with a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits which would enhance the value of the property being purchased by them, and otherwise provide for amenities and services not otherwise available in a neighborhood without the same benefits. Gilbert showed them the Master Plan for the Eagle Harbor Subdivision.

13. On or about September 13, 2003, the Prices, in reliance on the representations of Gilbert entered into an Agreement to Buy and Sell Lot 20 for $90,400. Gilbert explained that the owner of Lot 20, Belinda Fox was his Partner. Concurrently, the Prices entered into an SF Agreement with HCH/Gilbert to construct their home on Lot 20. Subsequently the Foxes passed their realtor exams, to become licensed realtors with the state of SC, on/about Nov 15, 2003 prior to the Prices purchase of the property.

14. On November 25, 2003, the closing for the sale of Lot 20 to the Prices occurred and Gilbert received $46,000 as his share of the profits. Gilbert directed that $41,000 be paid to HCH, an entity he owned and controlled and another $3,000 to Dee Dee Cox in settlement of an obligation of GB Fox and Gilbert's company HCH. He also received $2,000 in earnest money which he directed that the Prices pay to him.

15. Subsequent to the closing, the Prices learned that the representations by Gilbert as marketing Partner were false. The property could not be subdivided into three, separate residential lots because the soil does not perk, a condition known to Gilbert and the Partnership as early as February 2002.

16. Also, the lot would not be part of a restricted community with a valid homeowner's association, associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits, which would enhance the value of the subject property being purchased by them because valid, restrictive covenants were not properly recorded for the Phase II subdivision.

17. The promised amenities were never developed.

18. In addition to these problems, the Partnership as Developer of Phase II of Eagle Harbor Subdivision failed to comply with applicable governmental regulations before selling lots, including but not limited to the following:

a) SC Code §48-14-10, Stormwater Management, not obtaining land disturbance permits;
b) The Clean Water Act, Section 33 USC 1344, not ensuring wetlands studies were conducted;
c) SCDHEC Regulations 62-57, and/or 56 for septic system requirements, and Berkeley County Regulation
d) §59-93(a)(14) not obtaining SCDOT encroachment permits.

19. After wetland studies were conducted by the Army Corp of Engineers, the Prices learned that approximately two acres of Lot 20 were delineated as federally defined freshwater wetlands. Various roads in the subdivision were also impacted by wetlands.

20. These violations have injured the Prices resulting in loss of time and resources to construct their home, limited use of their property, particularly subdividing for residential use, and with no system for perpetual maintenance of the common areas.

21. The Partnership failed to adequately organize and fund EHHOA, Inc. ("EHHOA") such that it would be an entity capable of receiving and maintaining any common areas within the subdivision including the gates and roads.

22. Foxes, Winns, Gilbert, and EHI filed suit against Stantec, an engineering company and received a settlement in June 2011 concerning the defective roads in the subdivision.

23. Despite knowledge through the lawsuit that the roads were defective and in need of repair, in June 2011, the Foxes and the Winns conveyed the roads to an inadequately capitalized EHHOA with no apparent means to maintain and repair the defective roads. Gilbert is still listed as the registered agent for EHHOA.

24. Since the Restrictive Covenants were not valid and do not bind individual owners to be members of EHHOA, there is no recorded access for the individual owners to use the private roads.

FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Negligent Misrepresentation)

25. The preceding allegations are realleged as if fully repeated herein.

26. The Partnership and its marketing partner Gilbert had a pecuniary interest in making representations to prospective purchasers including the Prices concerning property for sale in Phase II, Eagle Harbor Subdivision.

27. The Partnership and its marketing partner Gilbert owed a duty to use due care in making representations to prospective purchasers and to disclose all material information concerning the purchase.

28. The Partnership and its marketing partner Gilbert breached that duty and were negligent by failing to exercise due diligence before making any representations and by making the following material misrepresentations: (1) all governmental requirements had been met before selling the property; (2) that the lot was approved and ready for residential building; (3) that the property was approved for residential subdivision and could be subdivided into three, separate residential lots; and (4) that the property was restricted by valid, enforceable restrictive covenants, creating a perpetual maintenance of the private roads and other subdivision improvements.

29. The Partnership and Gilbert, due to their negligence, also failed to disclose the material fact that two acres of Lot 20 and parts of the roads were subject to wetlands and that Lot 20 would require a separate Lot 21(which they did not own) to use as a sewage drain field.

30. As a direct and proximate result of the Partnership and Gilbert's negligent misrepresentations, the Prices have suffered damages including the delay of construction due to the Defendants not ensuring the property met SCDHEC and SCDOT requirements prior to the sale. Delay damage include costs for additional rent, storage of personal property, added mortgage loan interest paid, refinancing of loan cost due to increased interest rate penalty because of delay in construction.

31. Also as a direct and proximate result of the Partnership and Gilbert's negligent misrepresentations, the Prices have suffered damages in the form of loss of use of their property and diminution in value.

32. The Prices are entitled to judgment against the Partnership, and the individual Partners for all damages the Prices have suffered from Negligent Misrepresentation.

FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Declaratory Judgment)

33. The allegations of the preceding paragraphs are realleged as if fully repeated herein.

34. The Partnership as Developer for Eagle Harbor Subdivision Phase II had a fiduciary duty to purchasers in the subdivision to develop the subdivision in accordance with all applicable governmental regulations, to properly setup and fund EHHOA, Inc. and to adequately construct common area improvements including the roads and to transfer the common area improvements to the owners in good condition.

35. The Partnership breached that duty by failing to comply with applicable governmental regulations before selling lots, including but not limited to the following:

a) SC Code §48-14-10, Stormwater Management, not obtaining land disturbance permits;

b) The Clean Water Act, Section 33 USC 1344, not ensuring wetlands studies were conducted;

c) SCDHEC Regulations 62-57, and/or 56 for septic system requirements, and Berkeley County Regulation;
d) §59-93(a)(14) not obtaining SCDOT encroachment permits.

36. The Partnership also breached its duty by failing to properly set up EHHOA, Inc. as the Restrictive Covenants were invalid and do not require membership and there is no mechanism to assess dues for the continued repair and maintenance of the common areas.

37. The Partnership further breached its fiduciary duty by transferring the roads which were then in disrepair to an inadequately capitalized EHHOA, Inc., a paper entity with Gilbert as registered agent.

38. The Prices are further informed and believe that the Partnership has failed to secure easements or other rights of access to ensure the owners have full rights of access and use of the private roads within the subdivision.

39. The Prices are informed and believe that the Defendant Partners received a settlement from a lawsuit filed against Stantec, an engineering firm that worked on the development, but the Partners have not notified the Prices or other owners about the settlement or showed them documentation which would ensure the roads would be repaired and maintained.

40. As a direct and proximate result of the Partnership's breach of its fiduciary duty as developer of Phase II, the Prices have suffered damages from the delay of construction due to the Defendants not ensuring the property met SCDHEC and SCDOT requirements prior to the sale. Delay damage include costs for additional rent, storage of personal property, added mortgage loan interest paid, refinancing of loan cost due to increased interest rate penalty because of delay in construction. The Prices have also suffered damages in the form of loss of use of their property and diminution in value.

41. The Prices are entitled to judgment against the Partnership and the Partners for all of their damages together with punitive damages for the reckless disregard for their rights as owners.

42. The Prices are further entitled to a declaration by this court as to their rights to use the private roads within the subdivision and to an affirmative injunction requiring the Partnership and Partners to cause the roads to be restored to adequate standards, and to provide a segregated funds account for the roads continued maintenance for a reasonable time.

43. In the event an affirmative injunctive is not ordered, the Prices seek as alternative relief monetary damages against the Defendants in an amount sufficient to cause the roads to be restored to adequate standards as certified by a professional engineer, and to provide a segregated funds account for the roads continued maintenance for a reasonable time.

FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(Unfair Trade Practices Act)

44. The allegations of the preceding paragraphs are realleged as if fully repeated herein.

45. The misrepresentation made by the Partnership and its marketing Partner Gilbert, its failure to comply with governmental regulations, its unwillingness to properly create and fund the subdivision are unfair and deceptive acts in the conduct of trade or commerce.

46. The acts impact the public interest in that the acts were done to the public at large in the offering of lots in a residential subdivision, further, the acts are capable of repetition and upon information and belief were repeated.

47. As a direct and proximate result of the Partnership's unfair and deceptive acts, the Prices have suffered damages the delay of construction due to the Defendants not ensuring the property met SCDHEC and SCDOT requirements prior to the sale. Delay damage include costs for additional rent, storage of personal property, added mortgage loan interest paid, refinancing of loan cost due to increased interest rate penalty because of delay in construction. The Prices have also suffered damages in the form of loss of use of their property and diminution in value.

48. Upon information and belief that the acts of the Partnership, especially its marketing Partner Gilbert were willful and that the Partnership and Gilbert knew or should have known its acts were unfair and deceptive.

49. The Prices are entitled to judgment against the Partnership and its Partners for three times its actual damages together with reasonable attorney fees.

WHEREFORE, having set for the grounds therefore, the Prices pray for judgment against the Defendants, jointly and severally as follows:

For all actual, consequential and special damages as alleged herein;

For treble damages under the unfair trade practices act and reasonable attorney' fees;

For punitive damages as appropriate for breach of a developer's fiduciary duty;

For a declaration that the Prices have the right to use the private roads within the subdivision;

For an affirmative injunction requiring the Defendants to repair the roads within the subdivision and to create a segregated account for their continued maintenance for a reasonable period of time;

In the event an affirmative injunctive is not ordered, as alternative relief for monetary damages against the Defendants in an amount sufficient to cause the roads to be restored to adequate standards as certified by a professional engineer, and to provide a segregated funds account for the roads continued maintenance for a reasonable time.

For such other relief as may be just and property.

Also, the lot would not be part of a restricted community with a valid homeowner's association, associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits, which would enhance the value of the subject property being purchased by them because valid, restrictive covenants were not properly recorded for the Phase II subdivision.

14. The promised amenities were never developed.

15. In addition to these problems, the Partnership as Developer of Phase II of Eagle Harbor Subdivision failed to comply with applicable governmental regulations before selling lots, including but not limited to the following:

a) SC Code §48-14-10, Stormwater Management, not obtaining land disturbance permits;

b) The Clean Water Act, Section 33 USC 1344, not ensuring wetlands studies were conducted;

c) SCDHEC Regulations 62-57, and/or 56 for septic system requirements, and Berkeley County Regulation

d) §59-93(a)(14) not obtaining SCDOT encroachment permits.

16. After wetland studies were conducted by the Army Corp of Engineers, the Prices learned that approximately two acres of Lot 20 were delineated as federally defined freshwater wetlands. Various roads in the subdivision were also impacted by wetlands.

17. These violations have injured the Prices resulting in loss of time and resources to construct their home, limited use of their property, particularly subdividing for residential use, and with no system for perpetual maintenance of the common areas.

18. The Partnership failed to adequately organize and fund Eagle Harbor Homeowners Association, Inc. ("EHHOA") such that it would be an entity capable of receiving and maintaining any common areas within the subdivision including the gates and roads.

19. Foxes, Winns, Gilbert, and EHI filed suit against Stantec, an engineering company and received a settlement in June 2011 concerning the defective roads in the subdivision.

20. Despite knowledge through the lawsuit that the roads were defective and in need of repair, in June 2011, the Foxes and the Winns conveyed the roads to an inadequately capitalized EHHOA with no apparent means to maintain and repair the defective roads. Gilbert is still listed as the registered agent for EHHOA.

21. Since the Restrictive Covenants were not valid and do not bind individual owners to be members of EHHOA, there is no recorded access for the individual owners to use the private roads.

FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Negligent Misrepresentation)

22. The preceding allegations are realleged as if fully repeated herein.

23. The Partnership and its marketing partner Gilbert had a pecuniary interest in making representations to prospective purchasers including the Prices concerning property for sale in Phase II, Eagle Harbor Subdivision.

24. The Partnership and its marketing partner Gilbert owed a duty to use due care in making representations to prospective purchasers and to disclose all material information concerning the purchase.

25. The Partnership and its marketing partner Gilbert breached that duty and were negligent by failing to exercise due diligence before making any representations and by making the following material misrepresentations: (1) all governmental requirements had been met before selling the property; (2) that the lot was approved and ready for residential building; (3) that the property was approved for residential subdivision and could be subdivided into three, separate residential lots; and (4) that the property was restricted by valid, enforceable restrictive covenants, creating a perpetual maintenance of the private roads and other subdivision improvements.

26. The Partnership and Gilbert, due to their negligence, also failed to disclose the material fact that two acres of Lot 20 and parts of the roads were subject to wetlands and that Lot 20 would require a separate Lot 21(which they did not own) to use as a sewage drain field.

27. As a direct and proximate result of the Partnership and Gilbert's negligent misrepresentations, the Prices have suffered damages including the delay of construction due to the Defendants not ensuring the property met SCDHEC and SCDOT requirements prior to the sale. Delay damage include costs for additional rent, storage of personal property, added mortgage loan interest paid, refinancing of loan cost due to increased interest rate penalty because of delay in construction.

28. Also as a direct and proximate result of the Partnership and Gilbert's negligent misrepresentations, the Prices have suffered damages in the form of loss of use of their property and diminution in value.

29. The Prices are entitled to judgment against the Partnership, and the individual Partners for all damages the Prices have suffered from Negligent Misrepresentation.

FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Declaratory Judgment)

30. The allegations of the preceding paragraphs are realleged as if fully repeated herein.

31. The Partnership as Developer for Eagle Harbor Subdivision Phase II had a fiduciary duty to purchasers in the subdivision to develop the subdivision in accordance with all applicable governmental regulations, to properly setup and fund the Eagle Harbor Homeowners Association, Inc., and to adequately construct common area improvements including the roads and to transfer the common area improvements to the owners in good condition.

32. The Partnership breached that duty by failing to comply with applicable governmental regulations before selling lots, including but not limited to the following:

a) SC Code §48-14-10, Stormwater Management, not obtaining land disturbance permits;

b) The Clean Water Act, Section 33 USC 1344, not ensuring wetlands studies were conducted;

c) SCDHEC Regulations 62-57, and/or 56 for septic system requirements, and Berkeley County Regulation

d) §59-93(a)(14) not obtaining SCDOT encroachment permits.

33. The Partnership also breached its duty by failing to properly set up Eagle Harbor Home Owners Association, Inc. as the Restrictive Covenants were invalid and do not require membership and there is no mechanism to assess dues for the continued repair and maintenance of the common areas.

34. The Partnership further breached its fiduciary duty by transferring the roads which were then in disrepair to an inadequately capitalized EHHOA, Inc., a paper entity with Gilbert as registered agent.

35. The Prices are further informed and believe that the Partnership has failed to secure easements or other rights of access to ensure the owners have full rights of access and use of the private roads within the subdivision.

36. The Prices are informed and believe that the Defendant Partners received a settlement from a lawsuit filed against Stantec, an engineering firm that worked on the development, but the Partners have not notified the Prices or other owners about the settlement or showed them documentation which would ensure the roads would be repaired and maintained.

37. As a direct and proximate result of the Partnership's breach of its fiduciary duty as developer of Phase II, the Prices have suffered damages from the delay of construction due to the Defendants not ensuring the property met SCDHEC and SCDOT requirements prior to the sale. Delay damage include costs for additional rent, storage of personal property, added mortgage loan interest paid, refinancing of loan cost due to increased interest rate penalty because of delay in construction. The Prices have also suffered damages in the form of loss of use of their property and diminution in value.

38. The Prices are entitled to judgment against the Partnership and the Partners for all of their damages together with punitive damages for the reckless disregard for their rights as owners.

39. The Prices are further entitled to a declaration by this court as to their rights to use the private roads within the subdivision and to an affirmative injunction requiring the Partnership and Partners to cause the roads to be restored to adequate standards, and to provide a segregated funds account for the roads continued maintenance for a reasonable time.

FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(Unfair Trade Practices Act)

40. The allegations of the preceding paragraphs are realleged as if fully repeated herein.

41. The misrepresentation made by the Partnership and its marketing Partner Gilbert, its failure to comply with governmental regulations, its unwillingness to properly create and fund the subdivision are unfair and deceptive acts in the conduct of trade or commerce.

42. The acts impact the public interest in that the acts were done to the public at large in the offering of lots in a residential subdivision, further, the acts are capable of repetition and upon information and belief were repeated.

43. As a direct and proximate result of the Partnership's unfair and deceptive acts, the Prices have suffered damages the delay of construction due to the Defendants not ensuring the property met SCDHEC and SCDOT requirements prior to the sale. Delay damage include costs for additional rent, storage of personal property, added mortgage loan interest paid, refinancing of loan cost due to increased interest rate penalty because of delay in construction. The Prices have also suffered damages in the form of loss of use of their property and diminution in value.

44. Upon information and belief that the acts of the Partnership, especially its marketing Partner Gilbert were willful and that the Partnership and Gilbert knew or should have known its acts were unfair and deceptive.

45. The Prices are entitled to judgment against the Partnership and its Partners for three times its actual damages together with reasonable attorney fees.

WHEREFORE, having set for the grounds therefore, the Prices pray for judgment against the Defendants, jointly and severally as follows:

For all actual, consequential and special damages as alleged herein;

For treble damages under the unfair trade practices act and reasonable attorney' fees;

For punitive damages as appropriate for breach of a developer's fiduciary duty;

For a declaration that the Prices have the right to use the private roads within the subdivision;

For an affirmative injunction requiring the Defendants to repair the roads within the subdivision and to create a segregated account for their continued maintenance for a reasonable period of time;

For such other relief as may be just and property.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA COUNTY OF BERKELEY	IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS CASE NO: 2007-CP-08-458
RONALD E. PRICE and DIANA R.B. PRICE, Plaintiffs, -versus- INVESTORS TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY, Defendant	COMPLAINT (Jury Trial Demanded)

FILED
2007 FEB 22 PM 12:15
HARRY P. BRAGG
CLERK OF COURT
BERKELEY COUNTY, SC

THE PLAINTIFFS above-named, complaining of the Defendant above-named, would show and allege unto this Honorable Court as follows:

ONE: That Plaintiffs are residents of the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina.

TWO: That upon information and belief, the Defendant, Investors Title Insurance Company, is a North Carolina title insurance company licensed to do business in South Carolina and insuring title risks in the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina.

THREE: This matter involves real property located in the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina.

FOUR: That the parties hereto and the things and matters alleged herein are all within the jurisdiction of this Honorable Court and venue is proper.

FIVE: That on or about September 13, 2003, the Plaintiffs signed a contract to purchase a tract of land in the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina, known and designated as Lot 20 located in the subdivision known as Eagle Harbor, Phase II, St. James, Goose Creek Parish, containing 7.861 acres, more or less, and bearing Berkeley County TMS Number 194-00-02-122, of parent tract 194-00-02-031. A copy of said contract is attached hereto as Exhibit "A". Concurrently, on September 13, 2003, the Plaintiffs entered into a Standard Form Construction Agreement to build their residence on said property.

SIX: That on or about November 25, 2003, the Plaintiffs purchased the aforementioned tract of land. The deed by which the Plaintiffs purchased said tract is recorded in the Berkeley County RMC Office in Book 3723 at Page 200. A copy of said deed is attached hereto as Exhibit "B" and is incorporated herein by reference.

SEVEN: That in conjunction with the closing and purchase of the above described property on November 25, 2003, the Defendant issued a title insurance commitment covering the Plaintiffs' property described in paragraph Five above (hereinafter referred to as "Plaintiffs' property"). A copy of the title insurance commitment is attached hereto as Exhibit "C" and is incorporated herein by reference. The Plaintiffs were not provided with a copy of said title commitment until on or about July 10, 2006, despite the requests of the Defendant for a copy of said Commitment.

EIGHT: That in connection with the purchase of Plaintiffs' property, they obtained an Owner's Policy of Title Insurance issued by Defendant, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit "D" and incorporated herein by reference.

NINE: That subsequent to Plaintiffs' purchase of their property, Plaintiffs discovered various defects, which have resulted in devaluation of their property and/or has affected the marketability of their property. Plaintiffs submit that the following defects and/or risks are covered by the title insurance policy issued by the Defendant:

1. Fraud or misrepresentation of seller in stating special stipulation in the Purchase Agreement (Exhibit A) that the property could be subdivided, when in fact it could not be subdivided, and such terms and conditions were not excepted from coverage of policy.

2. Public recorded documents giving constructive notice of defects or violations:

(a) Eagle Harbor Subdivision, Phase II Plat, recorded September 2002; and

(b) Declarations of Restrictive Covenants, recorded February 2003.

3. Restricted from use as residential property due to non-compliance with SCDHEC requirements prior to sale of property to Plaintiffs.

4. Construction liens, unauthorized work of contractor due to non-compliance of SCDHEC and building code regulations, which subsequently forced Plaintiffs to demolish and dispose of uncompleted structure, due to its hazardous condition and risk. The terms and conditions of the Standard Form of Agreement between Owner and Contractor (Exhibit "E") were not excepted from coverage.

5. Seller's failure to perform wetland studies, as required under the Federal Coastal Zone Management Act, or other federal law or SC Code, Chapter 39, Title 48, or any other such regulations pursuant to local, state or federal laws, prior to selling the property to the Plaintiffs, which has resulted in the use of a portion of Plaintiffs' property being restricted; and the Defendant did not except this from policy coverage.

TEN: That the Plaintiffs provided a written claim for damages under their Owners Policy of Title Insurance by written correspondence dated March 14, 2004 and March 26, 2004. The Plaintiffs have also corresponded in writing with the Defendant concerning their claim numerous times since the original claim letters. The Defendant, through one if its employees, initially suggested that Plaintiffs' claims were not covered by the title insurance policy. However, Plaintiffs did not receive a formal written denial of their claims until October 9, 2006.

FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Declaratory Judgment)

ELEVEN: The Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege the matters set forth in paragraphs One through Ten above as if fully set forth verbatim herein.

TWELVE: That Plaintiffs seek a declaratory judgment brought pursuant to South Carolina Code, annotated, §15-53-10 et seq., whereby Plaintiffs seek this Court's declaration of whether the Defendant has responsibility for covering the loss claimed by Plaintiffs under either or both the mortgage title insurance policy and the owners title insurance policy issued by Defendant with respect to Plaintiffs' property, namely policy numbers OR-A-055849 and M-A 146678.

THIRTEEN: That Plaintiffs also seek this Court's declaration that Plaintiffs are owed coverage on their Owner's Policy, commensurate with that of the lender's policy, due to the fact that the policies were issued simultaneously, and the premium paid by the Plaintiffs afforded them with coverage matching that of the lender, in the amount of $261,700.00.

FOURTEEN: That Plaintiffs are informed and believe that this issue of coverage and amount of coverage should be resolved by declaratory decision. Plaintiffs allege that they will suffer irreparable harm if their cause seeking a declaratory judgment is not heard.

FIFTEEN: That under the circumstances herein, there is a controversy of a justifiable nature between the parties, and your Plaintiffs are informed and believe that they are entitled to have the Court inquire into these matters and issue a declaratory judgment determining the rights of the parties with respect to the questions of coverage and amount of coverage by the Defendant.

FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Contract / Specific Performance)

SIXTEEN: The Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege the matters set forth in paragraphs One through Fifteen above as if fully set forth verbatim herein.

SEVENTEEN: That the title insurance commitment and the title insurance policies issued by the Defendant with respect to Plaintiffs' property constitutes a contract between the Plaintiffs and Defendant.

EIGHTEEN: That the Plaintiffs have fully performed their obligations and all conditions required of them by the above referenced policies.

NINETEEN: That the failure and refusal of the Defendant to defend the Plaintiffs' title and pay the benefits due under its policies is a violation of its contractual duties to Plaintiffs and represents Breach of Contract.

TWENTY: That the Plaintiffs are entitled to recover damages resulting from the Defendant's Breach of Contract.

TWENTY-ONE: That further, because the Plaintiffs have adhered to and performed their obligations under the contract, including without limitation, paying the applicable premium, the Plaintiffs are entitled to an Order of Specific Performance, compelling the Defendant to defend the Plaintiffs' title.

FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Bad Faith)

TWENTY-TWO: The Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege the matters set forth in paragraphs One through Twenty-One above as if fully set forth verbatim herein.

TWENTY-THREE: That implied in the title insurance policies issued by Defendant, is a Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealings, which requires the Defendant to adjust Plaintiffs' claims in an objective, good faith manner.

TWENTY-FOUR: That Defendant has failed to evaluate Plaintiffs' claims objectively and has failed to take the actions required of it under its policies.

TWENTY-FIVE: That the Defendant, upon information and belief, conducted its investigation in an effort to deny Plaintiffs' claims, rather than with an objective attempt to correctly administer Plaintiffs' claims.

TWENTY-SIX: That the Defendant did virtually no investigation concerning Plaintiffs' claims until a substantial lapse in time had occurred.

TWENTY-SEVEN: That the Defendant has acted unreasonably in refusing to defend the Plaintiffs' title.

TWENTY-EIGHT: That the Defendant has acted in disregard of the terms of the contract of title insurance issued in this matter and of the Plaintiffs' rights and has acted in bad faith.

TWENTY-NINE: That the Defendant has breached the duty of Good Faith and Fair Dealing.

THIRTY: That the Defendant's denials of the Plaintiffs' covered were willful and in reckless disregard of the Plaintiffs' rights.

THIRTY-ONE: That as a result of the Defendant's bad faith, the Plaintiffs are entitled to actual damages, consequential damages, and punitive damages.

THIRTY-TWO: That if Plaintiffs prevail in this case, they will be entitled to recover all reasonable attorney's fees for prosecution of the case against the Defendant in an amount to be determined by the trial Court pursuant to South Carolina Code §38-59-40.

FOR A FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Fiduciary Duty)

THIRTY-THREE: The Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege the matters set forth in paragraphs One through Thirty-Two above as if fully set forth verbatim herein.

THIRTY-FOUR: That the Defendant at all times owed a fiduciary duty to the Plaintiffs and that as a result of Defendant's conduct as set forth above, the Defendant has breached the fiduciary duty and the Plaintiffs were damaged as a result thereof.

FOR A FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Negligence and Negligence Per Se)

THIRTY-FIVE: The Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege the matters set forth in paragraphs One through Thirty-Four above as if fully set forth verbatim herein.

THIRTY-SIX: That Defendant owed a duty to Plaintiffs to:

1. Act with reasonable promptness regarding the claims submitted by Plaintiffs;
2. Promptly investigate Plaintiffs' claims;
3. Make a good faith effort to promptly, fairly, and equitably settle Plaintiffs' claims;
4. Act without unreasonable delay;
5. Offer sufficient Owner Title Insurance Coverage to Plaintiff and have Plaintiffs sign form SC-305; and
6. Have Plaintiffs sign form SC-512a regarding Owner's Title Insurance Coverage.

THIRTY-SEVEN: That the Defendant breached its duties to Plaintiffs by:

1. Failing to act with reasonable promptness with respect to Plaintiffs' claims;
2. Failing to promptly investigate Plaintiffs' claims;

3. Failing to use good faith and to effect prompt, fair, and equitable settlement of claims as required by South Carolina Code Section 38-59-20, and

4. Failure to offer sufficient Owner's Title Insurance Coverage to Plaintiffs and have them sign all necessary forms that are required by South Carolina law, such as form SC-305 required by South Carolina Code Section 38-75-960 and form SC-512a, which amounts to Negligence Per Se.

THIRTY-EIGHT: That the Defendant, by its acts and/or omissions of its agents and employees, was negligent, careless, reckless, wanton, and grossly negligent in the particulars set forth above.

THIRTY-NINE: That as a direct and proximate result of the aforesaid wrongful conduct on the part of the Defendant, its agents, and/or employees, the Plaintiffs sustained damages in the amount of actual and punitive damages to be determined by the trier of fact in this case.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs pray unto this Honorable Court for judgment against the Defendant as follows:

1. For judgment against the Defendant for actual damages, consequential damages, punitive damages, and attorney's fees, plus such other legal or equitable relief as this Honorable Court deems proper.
2. For a judgment declaring whether or not coverage exists under the title insurance policies issued by the Defendant for the losses suffered by the Plaintiffs, and in the case that such coverage does exist, for a determination of the proper amount of coverage and the monetary amount of coverage to be paid over to Plaintiffs and/or their mortgage lender, and satisfaction of the respective owners and mortgagee title insurance policies.

3. For such other and further relief as this Honorable Court may deem just and proper.

Ms. Price,

To follow-up on the voicemail I just left you at the number below, attached is the response from SCDOT. The encroachment permit you were concerned about was obtained. We are very close to being able to confirm whether or not we will be able to settle with you under the terms you discussed previously with Jamie Becker. In light of this, it makes sense to request another continuance of the hearing while we are in the midst of settlement discussions.

Please give me a call at your earliest opportunity to discuss further, or just reply to this e-mail.

Re: USACOE non-jurisdictional wetlands
SAC 87-2005-2039-2
Berkeley County

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Price:

The S. C. Department of Health and Environmental Control – Office of Ocean and Coastal Resource Management (OCRM) received a copy of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACOE) wetland delineation determination letter to you dated November 7, 2005. This letter was in response to your request for a wetland determination, and indicated that there are federally defined wetlands on the property referenced in the letter.

As a result of the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision regarding isolated wetlands the USACOE has determined that the isolated wetland associated with the property are not subject to the jurisdiction of the USACOE. However, if these wetlands are to be impacted, and if activity on the property will, at any time, require other state or federal permits, then OCRM will exert jurisdiction over these non-jurisdictional wetlands through Coastal Zone Management and Wetland Mitigation policies of the S. C. Coastal Zone Management Program. OCRM will address these issues through its certification of these state or federal permits.

If you have any questions concerning this matter, please contact me at 843-747-4323 ext. 133.

Re: SAC 87-2005-2039-2
Berkeley County

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Price:

This is in response to your letter of September 20, 2005, requesting a wetland determination for a 7.86 acre tract located at the terminus of Saddlehorn Road, in Berkeley County, South Carolina. The project area is depicted on the survey plat you submitted which was prepared by Ashley Engineering & Surveying, Inc., dated October 20, 2004, and entitled "CLOSING SURVEY FOR DON PRICE & DIANA PRICE CITY OF GOOSE CREEK BERKELEY COUNTY, SOUTH CAROLINA."

I have depicted the approximate boundaries of wetlands and other waters of the United States on a copy of the plat referenced above. The property in question contains approximately 2 acres of federally defined freshwater wetlands or other waters. However, none of these aquatic resources are considered to be subject to the jurisdiction of this office due to a recent decision by the U.S. Supreme Court. The location and configuration of these areas, as well as their status relative to jurisdiction, are reflected on the plat referenced above.

It should be clearly noted that the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court to exclude certain waters and wetlands from federal jurisdiction under the Clean Water Act has no effect on any state or local government restrictions or requirements concerning aquatic resources, including wetlands. You are strongly cautioned to ascertain whether such restrictions or requirements exist for the area in question before undertaking any activity which might destroy or otherwise impact these wetland resources.

Based on an on-site inspection and a review of aerial photography and soil survey information, it has been determined that the boundaries shown on the referenced plat are a reasonable approximation of the location and boundaries of the wetlands or other waters found on the site. However, you are cautioned that this delineation is approximate, subject to change, and should be used for planning purposes only. In order for a more accurate determination to be provided, these areas should be surveyed and platted. Upon receipt of such a plat, this office can then issue a letter verifying the accuracy of the actual boundaries. Please note that this office does not require that these non-jurisdictional areas be surveyed. However, if the owner voluntarily wishes to obtain a more accurate determination or needs to perform this type of mapping due to the requirements of state or local governmental entities, we will provide review and verification of this mapping upon request.

Please be advised that this determination is valid for five (5) years from the date of this letter unless new information warrants revision of the delineation before the expiration date. All actions concerning this determination must be complete within this time frame, or an additional delineation must be conducted. Further, be advised that this preliminary jurisdictional determination is not an appealable action under the Corps of Engineers administrative appeal procedures defined at 33 CFR 331.

In future correspondence concerning this matter, please refer to SAC 87-2005-2039-2. You may still need state or local assent. Prior to performing any work, you should contact the South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control, Office of Ocean and Coastal Resource Management. A copy of this letter is being forwarded to them for their information.

If you have any questions concerning this matter, please contact me at 843-329-8044 or toll free at 1-866-329-8187.

Reference: Policy Number OR-A 055849, County of Berkeley, in South Carolina

In review of our title insurance policy and guidance stated under the "CONDITIONS" Item 3, "HOW TO MAKE A CLAIM" we are notifying you of conditions, which have resulted in us experiencing "undue costs/damages" although we do not yet know the magnitude of our loss. We have invested over $50,000 cash into the land and preparation to build our home. We see a $50,000 loss in the "inability" to subdivide our lot as promised in our land purchase contract and another $50,000 due to contractor "unauthorized" construction, defective construction, and misrepresentation of construction costs.

We've only known of the following for a short period of time and have attached documents which we feel justify and serve as evidence to our situation.

The Developer (on behalf of seller) and Contractor—Mr. Gilbert:

- Sold us, as well as other persons a lot that has not yet been "finally approved" through South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control (SCDHEC) and the Department of Transportation (SCDOT). Refer to letters from DHEC (Berkeley County/Trident District) dated Feb 7, 2002, and two letters dated Feb 26, 2004, which are attached as #1, 2, and 3.
- Misrepresented our ability to "subdivide" our lot. Our ability to subdivide was the "main" consideration in purchasing this lot... we had no need for a lot of 8 acres. Refer to our purchase agreement and SCDHEC letter from Columbia, SC, dated Feb 26, 2004, attached at #4 and 5.
- Performed "unauthorized" construction on our property. Refer to County Permitting, Berkeley County, SC letter dated Jan 22, 2004 and our contract termination letter dated Jan 30, 2004, attached as #6 and 7.
- Threatened to "lien" our property. Refer to email dated Feb 5, 2004 and "mechanic's lien" documents recorded at Berkeley County, although not yet served to us, attached as #8, and 9 A, B, and C. We have been trying to determine what the document entitled "Construction/Rehab Loan Title Company (Closing Agent) Certification" does or doesn't do for us. It appears the document is stating that we are insured against mechanic's liens during the life of the loan, including the construction/rehab period. Is that with you? Refer to attachment #10. For the time being, we have sent Mr. Gilbert a NOTICE OF NON-RESPONSIBILITY, under SC Law, Section 29-5-80, which should prevent him from serving and/or filing the lien documents he has initiated.

We have been unable get information from Mr. Gilbert (attachment #11 and #12) or to establish communication with our closing agent—using phone, email, and fax, in an effort to get answers to several issues and find out our rights and entitlements. It appears there may be some sort of "conflict of interest" for the closing agent in his representation of the seller and/or developer and us. We were not given a choice of closing agents on our purchase agreement. we are not sure why and never questioned it until now. We have numerous other documents/pieces of correspondence for more details, if needed.

Recent contact with Berkeley County/Trident District of the SCDHEC and SCDOT confirms Mr. Gilbert made application on/about March 1, 2004, to get the required SCDOT "encroachment" permit, allowing him to seek the "final plat" approval from SCDHEC. It appears that the authorization is well under way. However, there is still the delay in getting the work hired and the follow through of the work.

We are delayed in construction based on negligence of the contractor/developer, and/or the seller, as responsibility is appropriately placed. These delays are causing us "extra" costs, such as household goods storage, additional lender interest payments, communications, transportation etc.. We are not quite sure of the scope of our "extra" cost at this time. The contractor's "unauthorized" work—verified by Berkeley County Permitting, has resulted in costs associated with hiring a new contractor, repairing the current structure, and getting "real" cost estimates, is definitely a burdensome cost.

At this point we have NOT yet retained an attorney, although we have consulted several, which is in fact how we got the guidance to contact you. We do not wish to hire an attorney on our own, if the possibility for representation will be handled by you—a choice under the provisions of the title policy. We are simply trying to get our house built with the least amount of cost to us or others, as well as alert you to damages/losses we have and will incur beyond our control and, as we understand it, falls under coverage by our title insurance. Please contact us--our most urgent need is the "mechanic's lien" insurance. Once Mr. Gilbert gets the encroachment permit from SCDOT, we may be given permission, from SCDHEC, to proceed with constructing our home.

Sincerely,

Ronald E. Price and Diana R. B. Price

Re: Septic Tank Permit #2004010050

Dear Ms. Price,

It has come to our attention that the Eagle Harbor Subdivision has yet to obtain written permission from the SCDOT allowing four separate borings under Leisure Drive (S-8-1119) for four separate lots in the subdivision, of which Lot 20 is one. Per our recent discussions, I regret to inform you that our agency has no choice but to temporarily revoke your septic tank permit for Lot 20 in Eagle Harbor until this written permission is obtained from the DOT and a copy of the final approved plat for the subdivision is submitted to our office. I deeply reget the hardship and inconvenience this may cause you, but rest assured that your permit will be reinstated immediately upon satisfaction of these two requirements.

If you have any questions, or if I can be of any further service to you, please do not hesitate to contact me at (843) 821-9524.

Sincerely,

Re: 1104 Saddlehorn Road (BP2003-1517)

Dear Mr. Gilbert,

It has come to our attention that a septic tank approval letter has not been issued by the Department of Health and Environmental Control for the above referenced project.

Pursuant to S.C. Code of Regulations §61-56, Section III. C. The general contractor (or prime contractor, or person constructing the building) shall not begin construction of the building until a permit to construct an individual sewage treatment and disposal system is issued by the Health Authority. If it is discovered that you do not have your own individual septic tank system and are not connected to an approved sewage system, you will be found in violation of this regulation and will be punished in accordance with Section 44-1-150, code of Laws of South Carolina, 1976, with each day being deemed a violation and treated as a separate offense; the maximum punishment for which is 30 days in jail or a fine of $200.00.

Please be advised that you are to immediately stop construction on this project until you receive the proper permit for construction of the septic tank required by DHEC.

It has also come to our attention that the sub-contractor hired to install the plumbing did not pick up or apply for his permit on this project. The fee has been doubled for the permit and if they have not picked up their Permit Authorization Card, that too, will be double fees. The sub-contractors for the electrical and mechanical work have not picked up their permits, either. Those permits will not be double fees unless work began without their permits. This must also be rectified before construction can resume.

The Plaintiffs, Ronald E. Price and Diana R. B. Price complaining of certain acts committed by the above named Defendants, hereby allege as follows:

1. The Plaintiffs, Ronald E. Price and Diana R. B. Price (hereinafter the "Prices"), are residents of the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina.

2. Upon information and belief, the Defendant Belinda Fox, is a resident of the County of Berkeley and was the prior owner of Lot 20, Eagle Harbor, Phase II, Tax Map # 194-00-02-122, and also a developing partner in that certain residential development and joint enterprise known as Eagle Harbor, Phases I, II and III.

3. Upon information and belief, the Defendants Gary Fox, Sarah Winn, Dr. Troy Winn, and Elizabeth Gilbert are all citizens and residents of the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina, and all served and participated at all relevant times here to as developing partners in that certain residential development and joint enterprise known as Eagle Harbor, Phases I, II, and III.

4. Upon information and belief, the Defendant Eagle Harbor, Inc., is a South Carolina non-profit Corporation, licensed do business and in fact doing business in the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina, where it engages in, among other things, the business of Residential Development, and in particular, served in concert with, and as a principal and/or partner in, that certain residential development and joint enterprise known as Eagle Harbor, Phases I, II and III.

5. Upon information and belief, the Defendant Metro Contracting, is a SC Corporation licensed to do business and in fact doing business in the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina, and in particular, served in concert with, and as a principal and partner in, that certain residential development and joint enterprise know as Eagle Harbor, Phases I, II, and/or III.

6. Upon information and belief, the Defendant, Danny L. Gilbert, is a citizen and resident of the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina, and at all times relevant hereto, acted as a principal, developer, agent and owner of Eagle Harbor, Inc., and also as an agent, principal and partner, along with said Defendants Dr. Troy Winn, DVM, Gary Fox, Troy Winn, Elizabeth Gilbert, Metro Contracting, Eagle Harbor, Inc., and Jeff Spell in that certain residential development and joint enterprise known as Eagle Harbor, Phases I, II and III.

7. Upon information and belief, the Defendant Jeffrey Spell, was at all pertinent times hereto an attorney licensed to do business and in fact doing business in the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina, where he concentrated his practice in the area of residential real estate closings, particularly with respect to properties located within the Development known as Eagle Harbor, Phases I, II and III.

8. Notwithstanding Defendant Jeffrey Spell's representation of buyers at closings involving the purchase of residential properties within said Eagle Harbor, Phases I, II and III, it is alleged, upon information and belief, that at all times pertinent hereto, he also acted in the capacity as an agent principal and partner, along with said Defendants Gary Fox, Troy Winn, Elizabeth Gilbert,

Metro Contracting, Danny L. Gilbert and Eagle Harbor in the residential development and joint enterprise known as Eagle Harbor, Phases I, II and III.

9. Notwithstanding the fact of the incorporation of the business known as Eagle Harbor, Inc., your Plaintiff is informed and believes that the Defendant Corporate Officers Danny Gilbert and Elizabeth Gilbert should be found to be personally, jointly and severally liable for the injuries and damages outlined herein below, due to their having operated the business of Eagle Harbor, Inc., as their alter ego, and otherwise due to those other factors justifying the piercing of the Corporate Veil under current South Carolina Jurisprudence.

10. As is more specifically alleged hereunder, Plaintiffs are informed and believes that the Defendants Gilbert, along with Defendants Fox, Winn, Spell and Eagle Harbor Inc., conspired with one another and/or others, as well as participated in, authorized, ordered, directed, and perpetuated the tortuous acts against the Plaintiffs, as more specifically alleged hereunder,

11. As common partners in that certain joint enterprise and development known as Eagle Harbor, Phases I, II and III, it is alleged that each Defendant named above is jointly and severally responsible for the tortuous acts committed against the Plaintiffs, as more specifically alleged hereunder.

12. Upon information and belief, Investors Title Insurance Company is a North Carolina title insurance company insuring title risks in the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina, and did in fact issue an owner's policy with respect to the lot purchased by the Plaintiffs that constitutes the subject of this action, that lot lying and being in the County of Berkeley, State of South Carolina, and being more particularly described as lot 20, located in Eagle Harbor Subdivision, Phase II.

13. It appears that the parties hereto, and the things and matters alleged herein are all within the jurisdiction of this Honorable Court, and that venue is proper.

14. On or around September 13, 2003, the Prices entered into an Agreement to Buy and Sell (hereinafter "Agreement") to purchase certain property located within Eagle Harbor, Phase II, Lot 20, with the seller of that individual lot being Defendant Fox, wherein the Defendant, Gilbert serving in both his individual capacity and as the agent for that certain Defendant, Eagle Harbor, also acted on behalf of, as agent for, in concert with, and in fact signed that "Agreement" on behalf of Defendant, Fox, and for the other Defendant partners in the Development.

15. The aforesaid Agreement, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit A, provided for the Prices to buy property from the Defendant Fox upon certain terms and conditions as set forth in the contract.

16. The Agreement provided in pertinent part: "Developer agrees to allow subdividing of the property into 2 separate lots, with possibility of 3 upon approval of Homeowners Association." (Agreement, para. 8(I).)

17. During negotiations for the property up through the closing, the Defendants Danny L. Gilbert, Belinda Fox, Attorney Jeff Spell and Eagle Harbor, Inc., acting individually, and as principals and agents for the other Defendant partners in the joint enterprise, continually represented that the property being sold to your Plaintiffs could be subdivided into at least two separate lots.

18. Prior to selling the property to the Prices, all the Defendants knew or should have known that the property could not be subdivided because it did not meet the minimum requirements imposed by DHEC for a septic tank system.

19. Further, at all times pertinent hereto and as an inducement to Plaintiffs to enter into the "Agreement", it is alleged that Defendants led your Plaintiffs to believe that they were purchasing property in a gated, restricted community with private, well maintained roadways, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits confirmed by the same, which would enhance the value of the subject property being purchased by them, and otherwise provide for amenities and services not otherwise available in a neighborhood without the same benefits.

20. Upon information and belief, Attorney Jeff Spell, presumably acting as the closing agent for the Plaintiffs Price and charged with the duty of fully examining title on behalf of Plaintiff purchasers, knew or should have known both in his professional capacity and as a partner in Defendants' certain joint enterprise that the property could indeed not be subdivided and that your Plaintiffs were not actually purchasing the property they had bargained for, a gated, restricted community with private, well maintained roadways, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits confirmed by the same

21. After entering into that purchase agreement and thereafter closing on the property, Plaintiffs later came to discover to their amazement that although an attempt had been made to give the appearance that such covenants, restrictions, bylaws, ARK guidelines and, a valid homeowners association existed, it appears that these neighborhood amenities were never created and the record notice documents evidencing theses amenities were instead a sham, because no Declaration of Covenants and Restrictions had been properly filed with respect to Phase II of the Development prior to the closing. Further, it appears that Defendant Eagle Harbor, Inc., never specifically owned the properties composing the development, and thus never had the authority to set up the homeowner's association and other amenities so reflected in the record notice documents.

(Fraud)

22. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully as if said matters were set forth herein verbatim.

23. The Defendants made the following express and implied representations to your Plaintiffs, to wit:

a) That the property could be subdivided into at least two separate lots; and

b) That your Plaintiffs were purchasing property in a gated, restricted community with private, well maintained roads, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits conferred by the same, which would enhance the value of the subject property being purchased by them, and otherwise provide for amenities and services not otherwise available in a neighborhood without the same benefits.

24. The aforesaid representations by the Defendants were false.

25. The aforesaid representations were material to the Prices' decision to purchase the property.

26. The Defendants knew that the representations made by them were false, and the Defendants made the representations with the reckless disregard for the truth.

27. The Defendants intended that the aforesaid representations be acted upon.

28. The Defendants has a pecuniary interest in making the representations as aforesaid;

29. The Plaintiffs did not know that these representations were false and the Plaintiffs relied on the representations by the Defendants and in deciding to purchase the property.

30. The Plaintiffs had a right to rely on the representations concerning the property, particularly since the representations were specifically stated in the Agreement, the existence of a valid declaration of covenants and restrictions had been excepted to in the title policy issued by Jeff Spell, and these facts were material to your Plaintiff's decision to purchase the property.

31. As a direct and proximate result of the aforesaid fraudulent representations made by the Defendants, which were false, and due to such representations being willful, wanton, and with the reckless disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs, and the Plaintiffs have incurred actual damages in excess of $50,000 and are entitled to incidental and consequential damages, as well as and punitive damages in an amount to be determined by the Jury.

FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Negligent Misrepresentation)

32. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully as if said matters were set forth here verbatim.

33. The Defendants made false representations to the Plaintiffs concerning the ability to subdivide the property.

34. The Defendants had a pecuniary interest in making the false statements to the Plaintiffs.

35. The Defendants owed a duty of due care to the Plaintiffs to provide truthful information to the Plaintiffs.

36. The Defendants breached the duty by failing to exercise due care in making knowingly false representations concerning the ability to subdivide the property.

37. The Plaintiffs justifiably relied on the representations by the Defendants concerning the ability to subdivide the property.

38. As a direct result of the negligent misrepresentations by the Defendants, which were grossly negligent, willful, wanton and with reckless disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs, the Plaintiffs have incurred actual damages in excess of $50,000 and are entitled to incidental and consequential damages, and punitive damages, in an amount to be determined by the Jury in this cause.

FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Unfair Trade Practices)

39. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully as if said matters were set forth here verbatim.

40. The Defendants' false representations as outlined above constitute the unfair and/or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of trade or commerce in violation of S.C. Code Ann. § 39-5-10, et. seq., South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act.

41. The Defendants' conduct affects the public interest by misrepresenting what is being purchased versus what is actually being provided.

42. The Defendants' conduct is capable of being of repeated and in fact has been repeated.

43. The Defendants' misrepresentations were willful, knowing, and with total disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs and other members of the public.

44. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' actions described above, the Plaintiffs have suffered actual damages, and are entitled to an award of treble damages, costs, and attorney's fees as this Court may deem appropriate.

(Civil Conspiracy)

45. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully as if said matters were set forth here verbatim.

46. Upon information and belief, your Plaintiffs allege that all of the Defendants acted together and in concert in making the above described representations, all working together toward the injuries and damages suffered by your Plaintiffs.

47. Plaintiffs, upon information and belief, allege that the Defendants, so acting together, all acted for the specific purpose of injuring your Plaintiff so that they (the Defendants) might realize economic gain at your Plaintiff's expense.

48. Plaintiff has suffered special damages and other damages as heretofore alleged as a result of the conspiratorial actions of the Defendants.

49. That to the extent that the Defendants acted willfully, wantonly, and/or with reckless disregard for the rights of your Plaintiffs and for the purpose of injuring them for their own profiteering, your Plaintiffs are informed and believe that they are entitled to an award of punitive damages in an appropriate amount to be determined by the jury in this cause.

(Professional Negligence)

50. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully and completely as though said matters were set forth herein verbatim.

51. Defendant Attorney Jeffrey Spell, acting in his capacity as the residential closing attorney with respect to the purchase of property by the Plaintiffs, owed your Plaintiffs a duty of due care in the handling of all matters related to that closing.

52. As an attorney licensed to practice in the State of South Carolina, with a practice emphasis in the area of residential loan closings, Defendant Spell was required to exercise that minimum degree of care normally attributed to an attorney holding himself out as one with a practice emphasis in residential closing transactions.

53. Defendant Jeff Spell violated the minimum degree of care, and otherwise breached his duty of due care to your Plaintiffs, acting negligently, willfully, wantonly, and with reckless disregard for the rights of your Plaintiffs, in one or more of the following ways, to wit:

a) By representing to the Plaintiffs and otherwise leading them to believe that he was representing their interest at closing when in fact he was not, thereby effectively preventing your Plaintiffs from seeking effective counsel in the closing of the underlying transaction;

b) By failing to properly disclose his representation of the Sellers and Developers with respect to the closing on the property purchased by your Plaintiffs until several months after the

closing, thereby effectively preventing your Plaintiffs from seeking effective counsel in the closing of the underlying transaction;

c) By failing to advise your Plaintiffs and proffering a consent to duel representation at or before closing in such a timely manner that Plaintiffs could be assured that their interest had been adequately protected;

d) By failing to properly review the record title documents in such a meaningful way that Plaintiffs could be properly informed that they were not indeed purchasing a property in a private community with well maintained roads, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits conferred by the same;

e) By failing to take proper exception to the invalidity of the declaration of covenants and restrictions in both the owners and/or mortgage title policies so as to put Plaintiffs on notice that the property purchased by them was not in a private community with well maintained roads, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits conferred by the same;

f) Notwithstanding the failure of properly taking exception to the invalidity of the declaration of covenants and restrictions pertaining to the property, by failing to properly advise your clients of said invalidity of those documents purportedly filed of record;

g) By failing to disclose to your Plaintiffs all other information relevant to the purchase of the subject property of which he knew or should have been aware, and in particular, the utter unsuitability of the property for subdivision as had been contemplated in the original agreement to buy and sell real estate;

h) By not attending the closing and instead allowing another attorney or individual with whom he associated to represent the Plaintiffs interest at closing, whom did not have the requisite skill,

knowledge and other information vital to the Plaintiffs in their decision to purchase the subject property; and

i) By not advising your Plaintiffs of the availability and advisability of obtaining additional title coverage for subdivision related title issues.

j) By otherwise failing to exercise that minimum degree of skill, diligence and competence necessary and proper given the circumstances then and there prevailing.

54. As a direct result of the negligent, careless, reckless, willful and wanton actions and inactions of the Defendant Spell, as aforesaid, your Plaintiffs have been injured in the following respects, to wit:

a) Plaintiffs have lost value to their property which would not have otherwise been purchased if it were not for the actions and inactions of said Defendant Spell;

b) Plaintiffs have been prevented from subdividing their property as contemplated, and therefore have lost the ability they had bargained for to sell individual tracts within the lot purchased by them;

c) Plaintiffs have lost the use of their property by virtue of the fact that a portion of their parcel constitutes wetlands and is restricted in use;

d) Plaintiffs have been made to incur interest carrying charges and other refinancing costs associated with their underlying financial obligation for property that they would not have purchased were it not for the actions and inactions of Defendant Spell,;

e) Such other and further damages as might be determined by the Jury in this Cause.

55. That to the extent that the Jury in this cause finds that Defendant Spell's actions and inactions were reckless, willful and/or wanton, as previously alleged, your Plaintiffs believe that they are entitled to an appropriate award of punitive damages.

FOR A SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION AS TO ALL DEFENDANTS

(Negligent Development)

56. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully and completely as though said matters were set forth herein verbatim.

57. As developers of the subdivision in which Plaintiffs' property was purchased, all Defendants owed to your Plaintiffs a duty to use due care in the development of Eagle Harbor.

58. All Defendants breached their duty of due care properly owing to your Plaintiffs in one or more of the following ways, to wit:

a) By failing and refusing to comply with state, federal and local rules and regulations pertaining to the subdivision of residential property;

b) By selling the subject lot to your Plaintiffs before obtaining requisite county and state regulatory approvals and/or obtaining the requisite encroachment permits such that Plaintiffs were extremely delayed in their ability to improve the property and to use the same for its purposes.

c) By failing and refusing to obtain the requisite granting of easements and other conveyances before subdivision of the property so as to ensure the creation and perpetual maintenance of a properly gated, restricted community with private, well maintained roads, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits conferred by the same, which would enhance the value of the subject property being purchased by them, and otherwise provide for amenities and services not otherwise available in a neighborhood without the same benefits.

d) By failing and refusing to ensure the proper creation of a valid homeowners association so as to generate homeowner's dues vital for the preservation and maintenance of the private roads, common areas and drainage easements located within the subdivision;

e) By failing and refusing to obtain necessary wetlands studies before development so as to prevent illegal subdivision and innocent individual encroachment on federally protected wetlands;

f) By encumbering with mortgages and other financial obligations property intended for the common use and enjoyment of the residents purchasing property within the subdivision;

g) By failing and refusing to disclose to your Plaintiffs the latent defects and other problems connected with the subdivision so as to put your Plaintiffs on notice of the dangers they would be assuming by purchasing property so negligently developed by Defendants;

h) By creating the appearance that Plaintiffs were purchasing property within a properly gated, restricted community with private, and well maintained roads, a valid homeowner's association, and associated covenants, restrictions, architectural guidelines and other benefits conferred by the same, when in fact, Defendants knew or should have known that the same was simply not true;

i) By failing and refusing to properly advise your Plaintiffs through Defendants duly authorized representatives before closing that the lot being purchased by them was entirely unsuitable for subdivision, and in fact further deceiving Plaintiffs by representing that that their property could be subdivided when Defendants knew or should have known at the time of the Plaintiffs' purchase that this representation was wholly untrue;

j) By otherwise engaging in additional negligent, careless, reckless, willful and wanton acts and omissions in direct violation of the standard of care by developers to your Plaintiffs as may be found by the Jury.

k) That as a result of the negligent, careless, reckless, willful and wanton actions outlined hereinabove, Plaintiffs have been injured and damaged as heretofore alleged, and seeks an appropriate award for their actual and compensatory damages suffered in an amount to be determined by the Jury in this cause.

59. To the extent that the Jury in this cause finds that Defendants actions and inactions were reckless, willful and/or wanton, as previously alleged, your Plaintiffs believe that they are entitled to an appropriate award of punitive damages.

(Declaratory Judgment)

60. The Plaintiffs repeat and reallege the matters set forth in the preceding paragraphs as fully and completely as though said matters were set forth here verbatim.

61. Plaintiffs seek a declaratory judgment brought pursuant to S.C. Code Annotated Sections 15-53-10 et seq, whereby Plaintiffs seek this Court's declaration of whether Defendant Investor's Title Insurance Company has responsibility for covering the loss claimed by Plaintiffs under the either or both the Mortgage Title Insurance Policy and the Owners Title Policy issued at the closing with respect to the subject property, namely policy numbers OR-A-055849 and M-A 146678.

62. The Plaintiffs have brought certain claims for relief against the remaining Defendants in this cause touching and concerning, among other things, the defective recording of a declaration evidencing certain covenants and restrictions, the same not being excluded from coverage under the Defendant Investor's Title Insurance Coverage Statement.

63. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that this issue of coverage should be resolved by declaratory decision.

64. Plaintiffs allege that they will suffer irreparable harm if their cause seeking a declaratory judgment is not heard, as the underlying case and the question of coverage contain common questions of law and fact, and should as a practical matter be resolved in a simultaneous fashion.

65. Under the circumstances herein, there is a controversy of a justifiable nature between the parties, and your Plaintiffs are informed and believe that they are entitled to have the Court inquire into these matters and issue a declaratory judgment determining the rights of the parties with respect to the question of coverage by Defendant Investors Title Insurance Company of America.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs pray for judgment against the Defendants, jointly and severally, for actual damages in excess of $50,000, incidental, consequential, and punitive damages, treble damages, attorney's fees, interest, the costs of this action, and for such other and further relief as this Court or the Jury might deem just and proper; and

As to the Defendant Investors Title Insurance Company of America, for a judgment declaring whether or not coverage exists for the loss so suffered by the Plaintiffs, and in the case such coverage does exists, then for a determination of the monetary amount of coverage to be paid over to Plaintiffs and their mortgage lender in satisfaction of the respective owners' and mortgagee's policy.

(INDEX AT REAR OF TRANSCRIPT)

1 THE COURT: All right. So we are here
2 on motions in the Price versus Fox, et al.,
3 2004-CP-08-1855, and my understanding is that we
4 have two motions to reconsider. One on behalf of 5 the Foxes by Mr. Ferrara and then the second one by 6 Mr. Hubbard; is that correct?
7 MR. HUBBARD: Yes, Your Honor.
8 THE COURT: That's what we have in
9 front of us today. Anything else that I don't 10 understand or missed that we would be considering
11 today?
12 MR. JACKSON: No, Your Honor.
13 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, may it please
14 the Court, Paul Ferrara, I -- just inside of that 15 motion to reconsider we had a motion for a new 16 trial and motion to alter or amend, but, yeah,
17 that's correct.
18 THE COURT: Okay. The same two motions
19 filed by you two. Okay. So whichever wants to go
20 first, have at it. Mr. Ferrara?
21 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, Your Honor,
22 may it please the Court. Your Honor, first and 23 foremost, I was speaking with Mr. Jackson about 24 this and I would like some direction from the Court
25 because this will dispense with some of my argument

1 today. I understand Your Honor's ruling that
2 alternatively you have awarded the Prices damage
3 for the negligent misrepresentation cause of action
4 or the South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices cause
5 of action and that they're not allowed to recover
6 on both of those because that would be duplicate
7 damages.
8 And so as I understand it, based upon
9 Mr. Jackson's affidavit in the filings with the 10 Court, it appears that the Prices have elected to 11 proceed forward on the Unfair Trade Practice Cause
12 of Action. And so, if that is the case, then I can 13 just limit my argument today on that and not waste
14 that Court's time regarding the negligent
15 misrepresentation causes of action.
16 THE COURT: Is that right?
17 MR. JACKSON: Well, Your Honor, I
18 assume he meant based on my attorney's fee
19 affidavit, perhaps, that he concluded that. I'm 20 not sure that I'm required to elect as long as I'm 21 limited to a single recovery. For example, if he 22 decides to appeal, I believe I could defend either
23 position. And if either one of them gets 24 overturned, I would still have the other position.
25 I'm definitely leaning to a single recovery, but

1 that's 100 percent clear, but in terms of election,
2 I don't think I'm required to elect at this time.
3 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Ferrara,
4 certainly if you wanted to withdraw the argument as 5 to one, but you might end up waving that again if 6 there was some appeal or some crossover on that.
7 I'll leave that to you on how you want --
8 MR. FERRARA: Sure.
9 THE COURT: -- how you want to do it.
10 MR. FERRARA: Okay. Your Honor, I
11 guess first and foremost, Your Honor, I would like 12 to first start with the motion for a new trial as 13 it relates to the unfair trade practices cause of 14 action. Specifically, Your Honor is very familiar
15 with that and respectfully, Your Honor, I would 16 just -- I'll rest on the grounds and the motion
17 that's been filed with the Court that Your Honor
18 has read.
19 I will just briefly highlight for 20 today's purposes, Your Honor, that I reviewed the 21 trial transcript and I have received that from the 22 court reporter, Your Honor, and I can find no
23 evidence that defendants Belinda Fox nor Gerry Fox
24 meet the first element of unfair trade practice.
25 Which is that either one of those two individuals,

1 Your Honor, engaged in an unlawful trade practice
2 in their own capacity. That's important, Your
3 Honor.
4 This cause of action, unfair trade
5 practices as created by statute to allow a remedy
6 to plaintiffs, but there must be willful conduct on 7 behalf of the defendants. Just simply saying that 8 Belinda and Gerry are part of an enterprise that 9 Mr. Gilbert was part of is not enough, I submit to 10 Your Honor.
11 This cause of action, as Your Honor is 12 aware, allows for treble damages and that is 13 because of the element that requires willful
14 conduct to severe cause of action, and it's not as 15 simple as a negligence cause of action or even a 16 negligent misrepresentation cause of action to make 17 my clients liable.
18 I have looked at the trial transcript,
19 looked at the depositions that were part of the 20 trial and I think it's clear, Your Honor, that 21 neither Belinda nor Gerry made not only unlawful 22 trade practice, but not even a misrepresentation.
23 There was no negligent misrepresentation by Belinda
24 or Gerry in their own capacity. I understand the 25 Court's order about Mr. Gilbert and his

1 representations, but I respectfully request Your
2 Honor to hold that against Mr. Gilbert in his own
3 individual capacity.
4 THE COURT: So you're saying that
5 wouldn't be imputed again as a -- in partnership
6 with these folks, with your folks? Is that what
7 you're saying?
8 MR. FERRARA: Yes, Your Honor. And I
9 understand, of course, the general principles of 10 agency. However, in this case, Your Honor, as the 11 trial testimony established, there is no evidence
12 that Belinda nor Gerry authorized Mr. Gilbert to 13 act deceptively or to make false representations.
14 I reviewed the trial transcript and I
15 will be happy to share that with the Court if you
16 need it at a later date, but I think that it's 17 clear according to the Prices and even Gerry Fox
18 and Belinda Fox that the representations that the 19 Court is basing its award upon were not made by my 20 clients. And furthermore, Your Honor, Mr. Gilbert
21 admitted and so did Mrs. Fox that there was no
22 connection between representation and his conduct
23 being acquiesced or authorized by Gerry or Belinda.
24 Now, respectfully, Your Honor, I do
25 think if there was some evidence that Mr. or

1 Mrs. Fox authorized Mr. Gilbert to act and make
2 false representations and make actionable conduct,
3 I think the plaintiff would have met their burden.
4 But in this case, that's missing. The plaintiff
5 has not met their burden as to the Foxes on that.
6 So really what I'm getting to, Your Honor, is when
7 I cited this in the motion Abbott versus Sumter
8 Lumber Company by our supreme court basically said
9 the principals are liable for an agent's acts if 10 it's within the scope of the agency.
11 So in this case, Your Honor, careful
12 review of the transcript doesn't evidence that 13 there is any -- that Mr. Gilbert was authorized to 14 make false representations on behalf of the Foxes.
15 Importantly, Your Honor, to elicit that point, if 16 we look at the timeline in the trial transcripts,
17 the closing of this property happened, as I recall,
18 in November of 2003, and the DHEC letters, Your 19 Honor, that are exhibits, Plaintiff's Exhibit 40 I
20 believe was after.
21 The Court apparently relied upon this
22 DHEC letter, as Your Honor may remember, to base
23 its understanding that Mr. Gilbert was on notice
24 that there were deficiencies with this particular 25 lot that the Prices purchased. But that letter was

1 in February of 2004 and the closing happened
2 before. So if we think about this, the improper
3 conduct that Mr. Gilbert is being found responsible
4 for by the Court, his conduct occurred presumably
5 at the time of closing. And then we have a DHEC
6 letter that the Court, I presume, is relying upon
7 to establish Mr. Gilbert's willful conduct which 8 happened later. And so the -- it's impossible that 9 the false or misleading, unlawful conduct of 10 Mr. Gilbert could have been known to him at the 11 time of closing. In fact, the trial testimony,
12 Your Honor, was that Mr. Gilbert was not aware
13 about the status of the property until later.
14 Importantly, I did want to also direct
15 the Court's attention to Plaintiff's Exhibit 40
16 where Mr. Bozart (ph) admits that he did issue a
17 permit to Diana Price for the construction of her
18 home on February 12, 2004. And so I submit to Your 19 Honor that in order for that permit to have been 20 issued at that time, even DHEC must have been under 21 the impression that that property was able to be 22 sold and in compliance.
23 Later on, they revoked the permit and 24 the letter references that because of the 25 encroachment permit from the DOT that was missing.

1 But as I understand the Court's award of damages,
2 the delay of building on this lot is not part of 3 the damages that the Prices have been awarded. And 4 so now what we have, Your Honor, is that the 5 unlawful conduct, if the Court is relying upon the 6 DHEC information, does not naturally and probably 7 flow to the damages in this.
8 And so, the third element, Your Honor,
9 on unlawful trade practice cause of action requires
10 that the conduct has an adverse impact on public
11 interest. I'll just simply state, Your Honor, I
12 think this cause of action does not apply to the 13 cause that was tried before Your Honor. It's not 14 the appropriate remedy, but clearly while there was 15 repetitive testimony about problems with the 16 neighborhood, I submit to Your Honor that there was 17 not enough testimony to establish that this conduct
18 could be repeated or that it has been repeated
19 again, and that it has an adverse impact on the 20 public interest.
21 I know Mr. Hubbard has briefed that
22 point, Your Honor, and I would join in his comments
23 on behalf of the Foxes with that rationale. And as 24 I move on, Your Honor, I just think that it's 25 important that this cause of action requires

1 willful and malicious conduct, and the trial
2 testimony does not establish that the Foxes
3 willfully or maliciously acted to harm the Prices.
4 So I'll respectfully request that you grant a new 5 trial on that or vacate or modify your order to 6 reflect that.
7 Additionally, Your Honor, moving on,
8 Your Honor, I moved the Court to alter or amend
9 your final order, Your Honor, with respect to the 10 equitable indemnification asserted by the Foxes in 11 the pleadings. Your Honor, my memo or my motion
12 states that a right to indemnify may arise by 13 contract, implied contract even, or as a matter of 14 equity.
15 Your Honor, for the reasons that I just 16 elicited, that the conduct that apparently the 17 Court is holding that the Foxes are responsible to 18 the Prices for, occurred through actions of 19 Mr. Gilbert. And the trial testimony was that 20 there was no agreement between Mr. Gilbert and the 21 Foxes. That despite the Court's ruling, I assume 22 at this point that that agency law creates
23 liability for the Foxes for Mr. Gilbert's conduct.
24 I would respectfully request that you grant the 25 Foxes claim for equitable indemnification against

1 Mr. Gilbert.
2 On Page 454 of the trial transcript,
3 Your Honor, I called Mr. Gilbert to the stand and I
4 made an announcement to the Court that we were
5 proceeding forward on the equitable indemnification
6 cause of action against Mr. Gilbert, and Your Honor
7 allowed me to call him as an adverse witness in 8 that regard. And so, I respectfully request, Your 9 Honor, just to clarify whether the Court believes
10 that the Foxes would be entitled to indemnification
11 on that point.
12 THE COURT: So you're asking for a 13 ruling as to the equitable indemnification claim be 14 included in the order.
15 MR. FERRARA: Yes, sir.
16 THE COURT: At least
17 MR. FERRARA: Yes, sir.
18 THE COURT: Preferably favorable, of 19 course.
20 MR. FERRARA: Yes, sir. Additionally,
21 Your Honor, I'll move now to the negligent
22 misrepresentation cause of action. In short, Your 23 Honor, respectfully request Your Honor to alter or 24 amend the judgment to exclude the Foxes from this 25 cause of action as well, Your Honor. Respectfully,

1 because of the lack of false representation by
2 Belinda and Gerry Fox to the Prices.
3 I believe Mrs. Price, at trial,
4 testified that no representations were made to her.
5 I don't recall now and I don't want to misrepresent
6 to the Court about Mr. Price, but I do believe
7 this, that the uncontroverted testimony in trial
8 was that the representations that the Court has 9 deemed to be actionable came from Mr. Gilbert in 10 connection with the lot.
11 And so, importantly, Your Honor, again
12 the plaintiff is missing the fact that defendants
13 Gerry and Belinda Fox made false representations to 14 them. They are, of course, relying upon agency and 15 I'm going to get to that in a moment, but I would 16 respectfully request you exclude them from the 17 order because they actually didn't make a false
18 representation.
19 Secondarily, Your Honor, many of the 20 representations with respect to the ability of the 21 lot to be built upon, the ability of the lot to be 22 subdivided, the compliance, in general, with both 23 state and federal regulations at the time of 24 closing, I submit to Your Honor were not false for 25 the trial doesn't establish -- the testimony at

1 trial doesn't establish that those statements were
2 known to be false at the time that Mr. Gilbert made
3 them at the closing.
4 So I said, Your Honor, the closing
5 occurred in November of 2003 and plaintiffs
6 submitted a lot of these letters from DHEC that
7 occurred after. There is a letter in the trial
8 transcript that was from 2002, but that letter
9 doesn't establish that Mr. Gilbert knew that any of 10 that information contained in that letter was not 11 accurate at the time that the lots were sold to the 12 Prices.
13 These statements that the Court has 14 ruled upon, after the fact, the plaintiffs are 15 asking the Court to piece together and assume that 16 these statements must have been false. But when we 17 look at what was actually presented at trial, the 18 plaintiffs have failed to meet their burden to 19 establish that Mr. Gilbert actually knew of the 20 statements to be false at the time.
21 The reason I say that, Your Honor, is 22 to not be flippant or make light of that, but our 23 Court has clearly said that if you make a
24 representation of a -- the representation, Your
25 Honor, has to be known to be false at the time.

1 And specifically in my motion, Your Honor, Fields
2 versus Melrose Limited Partnership makes the point
3 that the representation must relate to a present or 4 preexisting fact and be false when made. And
5 respectfully, Your Honor, I think a lot of these 6 representations were to nonpresent or preexisting
7 facts. Meaning, they're equivalent to salesmanship
8 or puffery.
9 So this case, Your Honor, as I
10 understand it, stands for the proposition that if 11 promises are made for future acts that, in essence,
12 the Court has ruled that a litigant or a plaintiff
13 cannot rely upon things that may or may not happen
14 in the future because that is not justifiable.
15 That makes common sense. It's got to be a
16 statement that you know is false at the time.
17 Yes, Mr. Gilbert knew of the general
18 regulations as established in 2002 by DHEC, but 19 there was no testimony that at the time that 20 Mr. Gilbert assisted in selling the lot in 2003
21 that he was -- that he knew that everything wasn't
22 in place in order to get a permit for the Prices'
23 home.
24 In fact, the permit was given by DHEC
25 as established by plaintiff's 40 and then they

1 revoked it due to the encroachment permit, which
2 really has not anything to do with the development,
3 and I don't want to waste the Court's time on it,
4 and the Court hasn't awarded any delay damages for
5 the delay of their home. That did cause a delay,
6 presumably I think the Prices testified about three
7 months. That caused a delay in their case, but the 8 Court has ruled at this point that there weren't
9 any damages associated with that delay.
10 And so Mr. Gilbert surely did not know
11 and there has been no evidence that he knew that 12 something was lacking at the time of closing. And 13 I think Plaintiff's 40, Your Honor, establishes 14 that even DHEC thought that everything was in 15 compliance on February 12, 2004, which was a few
16 months after closing.
17 So it's important, Your Honor, that
18 even though a statement or a fact may not -- may 19 have turned out not to be accurate when made, if it
20 is a statement of a future fact, that that's not 21 actionable. Specifically, Your Honor, as well, the 22 homeowners' association covenants and restrictions,
23 I would submit to you, Your Honor, that to the 24 extent that the Court is making an award based upon 25 that, the covenants and restrictions, that those

1 covenants and restrictions are part of Mr. Carter's
2 opinion and we're going to get to that momentarily.
3 But I believe Mr. Gilbert testified that his 4 attorney Steve Smith prepared or assisted in the 5 covenants, and he was under the impression that the 6 covenants were valid.
7 And so, again, the covenants whether
8 they were valid or were not valid at the time is 9 not the point. The point is did Mr. Gilbert know
10 that the covenants were invalid at the time that he 11 assisted in the sale of the property with the 12 Prices and he couldn't have known. There has been 13 no testimony that he did and he couldn't have 14 known. And presumably Mr. Spell, who did the 15 closing, would have brought that up if there was 16 there was an obvious problem. So if the real
17 estate attorney that is doing the closing doesn't 18 know about it, how could Mr. Gilbert know about it?
19 Finally, Your Honor, let's see. A 20 moment, Your Honor. I lost my place. Finally,
21 Your Honor, the Rule 50, motion for a new trial, is 22 based in part additionally on Mr. Carter's 23 testimony, his trial exhibit, and the Court's 24 finding of fact. I don't take issue with the 25 Court's finding of fact. However, if I understand

1 Your Honor's ruling, that based upon the Army Corps
2 of Engineers exhibit and that approximately 2 acres
3 of wetlands existed on the Prices' lot that they
4 purchased, that based upon that, the Court found
5 that Mr. Carter's opinion of damage to the Prices
6 for the difference between what they purchased and 7 what they thought they purchased -- I'm
8 paraphrasing, Your Honor -- was 82,000 -- I believe
9 82,570.
10 MS. BAIG: 530.
11 MR. FERRARA: 530. Your Honor, I
12 submit to the Court that Mr. Carter's report is 13 based upon many assumptions, and one of those 14 assumptions being that there is over half to a
15 third of their total property being wetlands. I
16 did the math, Your Honor, 2.62 acres to 3.93 acres.
17 And I specifically asked Mr. Carter to try to weed
18 through his whole report and just help the Court
19 understand what is the value of the 2 acres of 20 wetlands that the Prices purchased. And he said, I
21 and I have got the trial document -- I can send 22 Your Honor the transcript, it's on page 169, but he
23 says he couldn't say what the 2 acres of wetlands
24 were valued at based upon this report and his 25 exhibit that was submitted at trial, Plaintiff's

1 38.
2 And so, I think the appropriate remedy,
3 Your Honor, is to have either additional testimony
4 or a trial on a limited purpose of -- to answer the 5 Court's question about what the value of the 6 plaintiffs' damages are at a minimum. As Your 7 Honor knows, the plaintiffs aren't allowed to have 8 just some amount of damages that they want, and 9 even if they have an appraiser just put a number
10 down on a piece of paper, that doesn't meet the 11 required elements of certainty as required by our 12 supreme court.
13 And so I tried to ask Mr. Carter
14 specifically what are the 2 acres worth of 15 wetlands. Because I understood the testimony at up
16 to trial and Mr. Carter couldn't answer at that 17 time. But I would respectfully request, Your 18 Honor, in order to be able to satisfy justice and 19 comport with the law of South Carolina to allow 20 additional testimony, allow a new trial for 21 additional testimony on that point. Because the 22 plaintiffs -- if the plaintiffs -- if the order
23 stands, Your Honor, respectfully, I believe it
24 would be speculative and it's clearly -- the record
25 is clear that Mr. Carter said he based his report

1 upon the assumptions.
2 And I could send Your Honor all of his
3 trial testimony if the Court would need that again.
4 I have got the transcript in its entirety and I'll
5 represent, as an officer of the Court, I
6 specifically went back and read his testimony to 7 make sure I didn't misunderstand it, but his 8 testimony at trial was that he couldn't tell us the 9 value. And I would think, Your Honor, that maybe 10 we could do a simple calculation to adjust the 11 Court's award or Mr. Carter's damage down by the 12 appropriate pro rata percentage, but Mr. Carter
13 said it wasn't that simple.
14 Additionally, Your Honor, I was trying
15 to ask him about the value of the property to help
16 understand the damage claimed by the plaintiff and 17 he again told me that it wasn't that simple because 18 there were several different factors. So I would 19 just respectfully request, Your Honor --
20 THE COURT: Didn't Mr. Carter --
21 Mr. Carter, he present a figure as to what it would 22 be worth based upon if the representations were 23 true versus as it existed? Wasn't that his 24 testimony as to value and the difference between 25 the two of them?

1 MR. FERRARA: Yes, Your Honor. Well,
2 what is even more -- yes, but his testimony was 3 that based upon the assumption that -- assuming the 4 truth of his report that in Paragraph B of his 5 letter, Your Honor, that one-third to one-half of 6 the 7.86 acres was wetlands, but Your Honor ruled
7 based upon the Army Corps of Engineers exhibit that
8 the plaintiff had 2 acres -- approximately 2 acres
9 of wetlands.
10 So at that time, Mr. Carter was not
11 aware of the amount of wetlands. He was just 12 assuming based upon Michael Moore's representation
13 that approximately one-half to one-third of the 14 property contained wetlands and was unusable. So
15 that was the issue.
16 THE COURT: Wasn't the 17 cross-examination relative to the specific of 18 amount of wetlands that was contained?
19 MR. FERRARA: There was and Mr. Carter
20 said that he could not give an evaluation about the 21 dollar amount.
22 THE COURT: Okay.
23 MR. FERRARA: And so --
24 THE COURT: But confronted with what
25 you see is a significant discrepancy, he didn't

1 change his opinion, did he?
2 MR. FERRARA: He did not.
3 THE COURT: Okay. I'm sorry to
4 interrupt you. Go ahead.
5 MR. FERRARA: No problem. Your Honor,
6 his opinion also says that there were no
7 enforceable restrictive covenants in the 8 neighborhood, but I don't know that there was 9 testimony that the restrictive covenants were not 10 valid as of today. I understand the plaintiffs'
11 position, but I don't know that that -- the 12 preponderance of the evidence was met on that 13 point. So that is another assumption, but.
14 THE COURT: You're talking about the 15 ones that were put in place after the ownership
16 changed hands though, right?
17 MR. FERRARA: Yes, Your Honor.
18 THE COURT: Okay.
19 MR. FERRARA: And so Mr. Carter's 20 valuation is on the date of closing, which 21 plaintiffs don't have a problem with that or at 22 least the Foxes don't have a problem with that.
23 But he just assumed that the covenants and 24 restrictions wouldn't be valid ever as to that 25 neighborhood or to the Prices, and so I think that

1 that is a faulty assumption. And the Court may not
2 have put any weight upon that when awarding
3 damages, but nonetheless -- let's see here.
4 Respectfully, Your Honor, there should
5 be a new trial on that point at a minimum. Again,
6 Your Honor, I think that in order to allow the 7 order in its current state to stand would not be 8 proper because the damages that were presented at 9 trial are -- that amount -- the damages by 10 Mr. Carter seemed to be inconsistent with the 11 Court's finding about the Army Corps of Engineers'
12 letter that references the 2 acres.
13 Specifically, Your Honor, I do want to 14 mention one other thing. That the Army Corps of 15 Engineers' letter, while it was admitted, just 16 having that document from the Army Corps of 17 Engineers admitted doesn't establish with certainty
18 the plaintiffs required proof to damages. The Army
19 Corps of Engineers' letter respectfully, Your 20 Honor, if you look at the carefully basically 21 elicits that based upon the representation by the 22 lot owner to the Army Corps of Engineers, we concur
23 that if you believe that wetlands exist on your 24 property, we will say that wetlands exist on your 25 property and that this is not a representation to

1 you. That only 2 acres of wetlands exist on your
2 property or that wetlands exist on your property at 3 all and that we can change our opinion at any time
4 and that you can't really rely upon it. That
5 document in and of itself, Your Honor, doesn't 6 establish that.
7 Now, I understand the Court may not
8 have relied upon that, but Mrs. Price's testimony
9 that approximately 2 acres of wetlands were on her
10 property, maybe the Court relied upon that. But 11 this type of, you know, hearsay and slippery slope,
12 allow that and then get from there to here, to 13 there, to there, is exactly what this case is, Your 14 Honor. The unfair trade practices action requires 15 some type of willful conduct and a steady flow of 16 proximate cause from that conduct to the damages to 17 the Prices. And respectfully, Your Honor, that is 18 lacking in this case.
19 Belinda nor Gerry Fox have not done
20 anything in their own individual capacity or even 21 authorized by their agency with Mr. Gilbert. There
22 has been no evidence that they directly or 23 indirectly allowed Mr. Gilbert to do these things
24 that were false and willful at the time that caused
25 the Prices damage.

1 Respectfully, Your Honor, I would like
2 the Court to allow the trial, a new trial, on the 3 testimony on the valuation of the property that --
4 and I think that the Court can do that quickly and
5 expeditiously if Your Honor would allow, and make 6 it very brief as to that point. And so for those 7 reasons respectfully, Your Honor, we request that
8 you grant the relief not only for the new trial,
9 the judgment notwithstanding the verdict or alter
10 or amend the judgment as Your Honor deems so fit.
11 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
12 Well, so I don't get too confused, instead of 13 hearing both and then having you respond in full,
14 let me have you -- hear from you.
15 MR. JACKSON: Certainly, Your Honor, I
16 will be glad to.
17 THE COURT: Mr. Jackson just as to his 18 arguments. I know there is obviously going to be 19 some crossover.
20 MR. JACKSON: Yes, Your Honor, and
21 that's fine, however the Court wants me to proceed.
22 Derrick Jackson on behalf of Ronald and Diana
23 Price. I'll address Mr. Ferrara's order. First,
24 Your Honor, on Wednesday of last week I filed a
25 copy and I sent the Court a copy of my brief. So I

1 want to make sure the Court was aware that was sent
2 in.
3 THE COURT: I have that.
4 MR. JACKSON: And I filed a full
5 return. As to the unfair trade practices, I think
6 Mr. Ferrara mischaracterized the law as saying that 7 you have to prove a willful or malicious act. That 8 can be a requirement for treble damages, but not 9 just for the unfair trade practice in itself. He 10 also implied that you somehow had to have an 11 authorization, that somehow that Foxes had to 12 authorize Gilbert in order to have that as 13 liability. But the case that he cited talked about 14 scope of agency, and scope of agency and 15 authorization are not necessarily the same thing.
16 Of course, someone can be proceeding in the 17 general, like in this case, Mr. Gilbert by selling
18 lots would be the scope of his agency, and it
19 doesn't matter whether or not they specifically 20 authorized them. Although, the evidence is 21 certainly they did.
22 I mean, recite in my brief that Mr. Fox
23 knew that he was going to do all -- Gilbert was 24 going to do all the work. Mrs. Fox knew he was,
25 you know, dealing with the salespeople, dealing

1 with selling of the lot. Both of them said that
2 they knew that he was marketing the lots and so
3 they put him in that position of authority, but 4 even so, it's not required that they ratify that.
5 And Your Honor, a side case in the 6 unfair trade practices part of my -- in my brief
7 the State versus McLeod and C & L Corp. cases, it's
8 very similar. They have it was a -- you know, it
9 says C & L authorized Cooper to sell lots, in turn,
10 authorized the salesmen to assist them. The 11 misrepresentations were made during the 12 negotiations for the sale of the lots and thus were 13 made while the salesmen were acting within the 14 scope of their authority.
15 And it goes on to say, but both C & L
16 and Wayne Cooper, these were the principals, were 17 liable regardless of their knowledge. So they can 18 by liable regardless of whether they 19 specifically -- again, I cite partnership as the 20 primary basis for liability similar to negligent
21 misrepresentation. I would point out for the Court
22 the Unfair Trade Practices Act defines a person to 23 include partnership specifically. So you have all
24 that going into the thing.
25 There is other citations I have in

1 there where they said they are liable regardless of 2 the ratification, and they go -- specifically they
3 say, "Principals liable for the fraud, deceits,
4 concealments, negligence, and other malfeasance."
5 THE COURT REPORTER: Slow down, please,
6 sir.
7 MR. JACKSON: I'm sorry. "And
8 omissions of duty as agent, acting within the scope
9 as agent. Although the principal did not 10 authorize, participate in, or know of such 11 misconduct." Then it cites two cases there, the 12 Williams case. So clearly your have all of that in 13 there.
14 Now he cites, he goes back and he
15 refers to the DHEC letters, but there was actually,
16 in fact, two DHEC letters that Gilbert had prior to 17 that sale that references that. The first letter
18 was all the way back to 2001 about the subdivision.
19 The second letter was February 7, 2002, and that 20 specifically mentioned that lot 20, you know, could 21 not support a septic tank, so you have that.
22 Now, he mentions equitable
23 indemnification. We certainly don't have any 24 specific objection if the Court wants to award
25 indemnification. We only say we would request two

1 conditions on that. One is that he is only
2 indemnified to the extent that he actually pays on
3 the damages. You can't just have a general
4 indemnification until he actually pays those 5 damages. Otherwise, there is nothing to be 6 indemnified against.
7 And the second condition would be that
8 to the extent it's unpaid, it's junior and 9 subordinate to any unpaid damages the Prices still 10 have. And so that those two I would request.
11 Other than that, we have no objection to the 12 equitable indemnification.
13 On the negligent misrepresentation,
14 again, I cite that in the brief. Again, I think 15 Mr. Ferrara misstates the law when he says that 16 they have to know the representation was false.
17 The very idea of negligent misrepresentation arose
18 from the person who had duty because they had a 19 pecuniary interest in the transaction, a duty of 20 care to representations to third parties. So if 21 he, you know, he had a duty to find out and make 22 sure the representations he made were accurate. So
23 it's not correct to say he had to know a falsity.
24 If he knew of the falsity, that would make it
25 graduate from negligent misrepresentation to fraud.

1 And so that is not a requirement.
2 Now, on each of those elements, and
3 I'll hit the high points in my brief because I
4 don't want to take up too much of the Court's time.
5 I do believe there was sufficient evidence that 6 they were false at the time they were made. The 7 septic tank, because of the February 7, 2000
8 letter, Gilbert specifically knew it didn't meet
9 the minimum standards for any type of surface
10 treatment and disposal system. That is 2002. That 11 is well before the Prices' closing, and that 12 specifically mentioned Lot 20 and therefore he knew
13 that that would have been false.
14 Subdivision, he knew because there was 15 no ability to have a septic tank, he would also 16 know that there was no ability to subdivide for 17 residential use. Now, they tried to make the 18 argument and they did present evidence that it
19 could be potentially subdivided for nonresidential
20 use, but the testimony was that Gilbert told the 21 Prices because of the size -- they didn't want to 22 buy that large of an acre -- he said, well, you can 23 subdivide these lots and sell them and help pay for 24 the construction cost. Well, who wants to buy a 25 nonbuildable lot in a subdivision? So that

1 argument doesn't hold any water.
2 The restrictive covenants, I think the
3 evidence is very clear that they're not valid and 4 enforceable. He testified that they did -- the 5 declarant Eagle Harbor, Inc. only owned two lots in 6 the subdivision and those were donated. I mean,
7 those were like borrow pits. And so certainly
8 those were not enforceable covenants.
9 The testing, he represented that there
10 had been testing that had been done and everything
11 was fine, yet we know that there was a problem with 12 the high water table that he hadn't had knowledge
13 of and we also know that he didn't do any of the 14 compliance with the Clean Water Act or any of the 15 other things or a wetland delineation. So you have 16 all of that.
17 Turning to Mr. Carter, a couple of 18 things about that, and I point these all out in the 19 brief. Number one, the letter that he is referring 20 to as Mr. Carter's letter was actually sent by the 21 attorney to a different appraiser, another
22 appraiser that was not even used in this case. One
23 week later, after that, that was dated November
24 1st. One week later, on November 7th, the Prices
25 received the wetland delineation that is at issue

1 in this case. And therefore, you know, it was
2 understandable that he was estimating a little bit
3 at that time, but now they had gotten the 4 specifics. To say that Mr. Carter was not aware or 5 made a faulty assumption is just not true. He 6 included the wetland delineation in the 2 acres in 7 his report. It was part of his report.
8 Not only that, when he is talking about 9 the property description in his appraisal, and he
10 talks about the site location, he specifically 11 mentions 2.0 acres of wetlands when he was defining 12 what the buildable site area is. So Mr. Carter was 13 fully aware of the 2.8 acres and used that in 14 coming up with his report. Now, so you have that.
15 Mr. Ferrara made bunch of arguments
16 about, well, he didn't talk about the -- he didn't
17 testify that the 2 acres of wetlands were worth a 18 certain amount of money. Well, his task was to 19 determine ultimately the difference in value as 20 represented versus the represented of what they
21 got. He also upon cross-examination by Mr. Ferrara
22 said you don't sell lots that way. You don't sell
23 lots as wetlands and highlands, you sell them at a 24 blended rate, and he testified to that.
25 Now, in terms of the Army Corps of

1 Engineers and representations that were made as to
2 that in the 2.8 acres as being, quote, approximate.
3 Yeah, they were approximate, but the law requires a
4 reasonable degree of certainty. I would point out
5 to the Court two things about how reasonable that 6 is. Number one, I asked Mr. Carter while he was on 7 the stand how accurate were these Army Corps of 8 Engineers' determinations. He said, in my
9 experience, they're very accurate.
10 Number two, in the determination itself
11 the Army Corps said this determination is good for 12 five years absent, you know, some reason to change
13 the delineation. So I would submit that was a 14 reasonable -- 2 acres was a reasonable thing to 15 rely on.
16 I believe I have covered Mr. Ferrara's
17 points that he argued about and any that he didn't 18 argue about I would say, Your Honor, they're fully 19 covered in my brief and I would stand on the brief
20 as to those arguments. Thank you.
21 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Jackson.
22 Mr. Hubbard?
23 MR. HUBBARD: Thank you, Your Honor
24 Carl Hubbard for Danny Gilbert, Heritage Classic
25 Homes, Inc., Eagle Harbor, Inc., and by default I

1 think Eagle Harbor Phase 2 Partnership as it might 2 appear.
3 Your Honor, I probably won't be as
4 eloquent or concise as these two lawyers, but as 5 devastating as the verdict was or the findings
6 were, on May 7th when you sent your initial e-mail
7 out asking Mr. Jackson to prepare a draft order, I
8 did breathe a certain sigh of relief as Eagle
9 Harbor, Inc. was not listed in your e-mail as being 10 liable. In fact, I think that you referred to 11 Danny Gilbert d/b/a Eagle Harbor to develop EH
12 including Lot 20, but Eagle Harbor, Inc. as a 13 distinct corporate defendant was not listed in your 14 e-mail.
15 So when the final order did arrive, I
16 was somewhat surprised to see that Eagle Harbor,
17 Inc. has been found liable for being part of the 18 partnership with the Foxes and Mr. Gilbert. It's 19 has been found for liable treble damages and 20 attorneys fees and these sorts of things. So I
21 wasn't clear as to how moving it from May 7th to 22 the final order Eagle Harbor, Inc. became liable,
23 but I'll go through -- I have filed a brief that -- 24 or I have submitted a brief. I have not been able 25 to file it. I have tried a couple of times to get

1 on the Berkeley County newly-established website
2 for e-filing and I'm getting a notice that
3 something -- and I have sent an e-mail asking them
4 to help me, but I'm not sure when that will happen.
5 THE COURT: Somehow they're down today
6 including the public index.
7 MR. HUBBARD: But I think everybody
8 probably has them, the memorandum that I have 9 submitted.
10 THE COURT: We have that, yes.
11 MR. HUBBARD: It's not a memorandum
12 that's full of case law. I have relied really a 13 lot on what happened here over the two days of the 14 trial. We heard from the Prices of course, and 15 Mr. Gilbert, and the Foxes, and Mr. Carter. But 16 from that testimony and from the transcripts and 17 the depositions I have reviewed, Eagle Harbor, Inc.
18 did not play a role in this partnership. They did
19 not play a role in the development of Phase 2.
20 And I think part of the confusion for 21 me, you know, I have been involved in this case
22 somewhat for several years now, but it went on for 23 almost ten years before I got involved in it. But 24 there are a myriad or three distinct areas within 25 this master plan that was set up. You have the

1 children's home that was within the center. You
2 have Phase 1 and you have Phase 2 of Eagle Harbor.
3 Collectively, they are all referred to as Eagle
4 Harbor.
5 Eagle Harbor, Inc., when this agreement
6 came about to develop Phase 2 which is where Lot 20
7 is located, Eagle Harbor, Inc. had no interest in 8 that property. It was agreed that the Foxes and 9 the Winns would buy the property. And again, I
10 think it's important to note as we'll get further
11 into other issues, the Foxes, the Winns,
12 Mr. Gilbert at this time 14, 15, 16 years ago were 13 not real estate developers per se.
14 The testimony that Mr. Gilbert gave was 15 that he spent four years in Alabama at a children's 16 home and he wanted to move back to South Carolina
17 and do this. And the way that he found to do this 18 was to find some property, and with the assistance
19 of the Winns and the Foxes, they were able to get 20 the property. But the boys' home is a separate and 21 distinct -- it bears a separate and distinct TMS
22 number within the greater Eagle Harbor.
23 I know the point has been made
24 regarding the Stantec lawsuit and the Stantec plat,
25 but if you look at the lawsuit itself from

1 Charleston County, which Mr. Jackson has referred
2 to, those three distinct TMS numbers are part of 3 that lawsuit. It has nothing to do with Phase 2 as 4 far as Eagle Harbor, Inc. is concerned. Eagle
5 Harbor, Inc., I believe the testimony is shown and 6 I believe the plat reveals, appears on the plat at 7 least. Because in order to get to Phase 2 of Eagle
8 Harbor, you must cross land from I think it's Haney
9 Branch Road to Saddlehorn, which is a private road,
10 to get to Phase 2. And Eagle Harbor owns that 11 property, but they allow those residents to come
12 and go on that. Of course, we have a whole other
13 issue going with roads and roads are a problem out
14 there. There is no doubt.
15 But Eagle Harbor, Inc. didn't
16 participate in the development of Phase 2. I
17 believe the evidence was clear on that. For those 18 reasons, I would ask that the Court adjust its 19 finding of facts and certainly the conclusions that 20 Eagle Harbor, Inc. as a separate and distinct 21 entity should not be part of this judgment or this 22 order.
23 THE COURT: Mr. Hubbard, as to the 24 instructions, those were outlined instructions and 25 I think they had --

1 MR. HUBBARD: Certainly.
2 THE COURT: -- the standard language
3 about it's not an order until it's an order.
4 MR. HUBBARD: I certainly understand
5 that. But you --
6 THE COURT: Okay.
7 MR. HUBBARD: Coming from my
8 perspective, I hope you understand, I don't see one
9 of my client's names in there and then all of a
10 sudden they're everywhere.
11 THE COURT: I understand.
12 MR. HUBBARD: I may move back to Eagle
13 Harbor, but I'm going to move on to a couple of the 14 other -- well, I'll pick up where Mr. Ferrara left
15 off on the Unfair and Deceptive Trade Practices Act
16 which affects all of the defendants.
17 Again, I think you have, back when this 18 was going on when the lot was sold, you had 19 neophyte folks that were trying to do this. More
20 importantly, I think, there has been no evidence
21 that these folks have ever before then or after 22 been involved in any sort of real estate
23 development. The purpose, as the evidence showed,
24 to put this together was really to get the 25 children's home established. And they found a way

1 to sell lots.
2 And Mr. Gilbert testified that part of
3 the idea behind having the children's home out
4 there and having a residential area all around it
5 was so that those children would feel like they 6 were part of a community. That was part of the 7 development. That was part of the development that
8 these kids would ride the bus to school and come
9 back from school with the kids from the 10 neighborhood, those sorts of things.
11 I don't believe that the evidence has 12 been tendered that this has a possibility of being 13 repeated or as stated under the act or meted out in 14 case law, a potential or repetition. Even if one
15 gives the notion that these -- some of these acts
16 were hurtful or caused damages, these were many 17 years ago. Lots have been bought and sold in the 18 development. There have been no other claims
19 brought forth regarding the development of the 20 Eagle Harbor Phase 2.
21 And so, for those reasons, I would ask
22 the Court to please reconsider the finding of the 23 Unfair and Deceptive Trade Practices count in the 24 fact that no evidence has really been shown that --
25 not even hypothetical evidence -- that this has a

1 potential for repetition. These folks are all,
2 with the exception of this litigation I think, have
3 tried to move on in a way and have been doing
4 different things, but never have they been involved
5 in developing residential real estate.
6 A couple of things with Mr. Gilbert.
7 And I've seen Mr. Jackson's brief on this one
8 point, and I'll stand corrected if I need to be,
9 but it was my recollection from the testimony given
10 by Mr. Gilbert, and this is speaking specifically
11 to his work on Lot 20 for the plaintiffs, that he 12 got started, he had a foundation begun, and then 13 things fell apart. The Prices moved on. They had 14 somebody come in and look at the foundation. They 15 hired two more subcontractors after that or two 16 more contractors after that to finally get their 17 house completed, but it was my recollection from 18 the testimony and again, I apologize if I have got 19 this wrong, but that foundation that Mr. Gilbert
20 put in, part of it anyway, was used later by the 21 Prices for the building of a foundation for an
22 outbuilding and their actual residence was located
23 somewhere else on the property.
24 So his testimony was that he valued
25 that foundation that they used at $3,500. There

1 was no cross-examination regarding that to my 2 recollection, no objection to it. And so if the 3 Court's certainly going to find that Mr. Gilbert is 4 liable for certain damages or for that matter
5 Heritage Classic Homes, I would ask that that 6 portion of it be given a credit for that amount of 7 money that -- Mr. Jackson has indicated it's a
8 circular argument. But again, if I'm wrong about 9 where it is, then I stand corrected. But if I'm 10 not wrong, then they got the benefit of that 11 foundation in some capacity that they did not pay 12 for and it wouldn't be rolled back into the 13 construction of the house.
14 THE COURT: But you agree that it would 15 potentially be rolled back in if it was part of the 16 foundation of the house?
17 MR. HUBBARD: I would say, Your
18 Honor --
19 THE COURT: Only if it was a separate
20 outbuilding.
21 MR. HUBBARD: It's my recollection and
22 I believe that was his testimony, that it was not 23 part of the residence. It was -- it became --
24 additionally, it was begun as that, but then it
25 became an outbuilding that was built on that

1 portion of that foundation, not all of it.
2 I'm going to speak a little bit to the 3 -- my agreed last-minute motion for a violation of 4 the Right to Cure Act under South Carolina law.
5 I've cited a case in my memorandum and which I
6 think speaks to it. There's another case that I
7 believe the last I looked which was today in 8 Charleston County has been appealed. And it
9 certainly is a lower court decision and one that it
10 doesn't hold any precedence. However, the matter
11 was heard by a former chief justice of the Supreme 12 Court, so it might want to be given some sort of 13 look to for guidance for lack of anything else.
14 And in both of those cases, you have a
15 homeowner who becomes, for whatever reason, upset
16 with their builder and they get rid of the builder
17 or the builder leaves and they proceed to build or 18 fix what has been wrong, and then they subsequently 19 sue that builder. And in those cases, both courts
20 or certainly the supreme court, and this is the 21 Grazia case that I refer to, hold a strict 22 interpretation of that statute. That there are 23 certain things that a claimant, in this case that 24 would be the plaintiffs, should go through to 25 perfect, for lack of a better term, what they need

1 to do before they bring a lawsuit and provide
2 notice either by certified mail or personal
3 service.
4 I very specifically asked both of the 5 plaintiffs on the stand if they had done that, and 6 at the end of the day, I came away with the notion
7 that they did not do that specifically under the 8 statue. But then they filed the lawsuit before 9 doing that. And the Court's made the point in its 10 order that, you know, this was 14 years ago.
11 Again, I don't read the statute, and that is the 12 49-59-810-860 [sic] as explaining anything other 13 than the claimant must do these things before they 14 can bring the lawsuit.
15 The plaintiffs in this case finished
16 their home, filed a lawsuit, and therefore 17 foreclosing any way for the contractor in this case
18 Mr. Gilbert and Heritage Classic Homes to have that 19 opportunity. They foreclosed that themselves.
20 As the Court will consider that, I hope it will, I
21 have got copies of the order that was filed in the 22 Charleston County case, which I'm happy to share if 23 you would like to review later. It's certainly 24 available online. It's McIntire -- Andrew and 25 Kimberly McIntire versus Seaquest Development and

1 many others. It's a 2016 case, CP-10-1833. That
2 was -- the order was filed May 10, 2017. Not a
3 case that was known to me. The right to cure was 4 not known to me, I'll readily admit it. Just a day
5 or so before trial it came to my attention. But 6 there was nothing in that statute that indicates
7 that there is any type of waiver or that you lose a
8 certain right. The burden is on the plaintiffs or 9 the claimants, the homeowners, to follow proper
10 procedures in order to get this done.
11 THE COURT: What would the remedy be?
12 MR. HUBBARD: The remedy is they have
13 to give the notice and then the burden then comes 14 to the contractor to within a certain amount of 15 time respond and either say I'm not doing anything
16 or go and review the -- it doesn't take away any 17 rights later on. If they don't want to accept what 18 the contractor does, I believe that they can 19 proceed, but they must give that contractor the 20 opportunity, as I read the statute in the case law,
21 before they should file suit. And I think evidence
22 showed that that did not happen here.
23 THE COURT: Well, that's what I'm
24 asking. So if this was not done as indicated here,
25 it's not done at all and the suit is filed, what is

1 the appropriate response from the builder or the 2 contractor?
3 MR. HUBBARD: I think the response
4 would be what I attempted to do here at trial was 5 make a motion that the case should be dismissed.
6 If they can't -- if the statute can't be fulfilled,
7 and that is what -- that is what Justice Toll,
8 former Chief Justice Toll wrote in her order was 9 I'm bound by the statutory language. This is a 10 strict statute and she --
11 THE COURT: I appreciate you sharing
12 that case number and I certainly want to look at it
13 as well. Was that raised in a situation where it
14 was as an affirmative defense or as a defense?
15 MR. HUBBARD: It was raised only as a
16 motion, I believe. I have read the final order
17 that goes through some of the history of the case.
18 Again, I'll certainly stand corrected, but my -- 19 perhaps when the complaint was filed the motion was 20 filed shortly after that. And on hearing about a 21 motion they never got to a trial. The judge
22 dismissed the case.
23 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.
24 MR. HUBBARD: May I approach? I have 25 got copies.

1 THE COURT: If you have got copies,
2 great. I'll take them.
3 MR. HUBBARD: Thank you.
4 THE COURT: Thank you.
5 MR. HUBBARD: Thank you, Judge.
6 THE COURT: All right.
7 MR. JACKSON: May it please the Court?
8 THE COURT: Mr. Jackson, yes, sir.
9 MR. JACKSON: A couple of things.
10 First of all, on Eagle Harbor, Inc., in terms of 11 them being a partner, the test of being a partner
12 is, "Where their acts, conduct, or agreement showed 13 they intended to combine either the property,
14 labor, skill, experience or some of these elements
15 on one side and some on the other to carry on as 16 principals or co-owners of a common business,
17 trade, venture, or operation. It can be implied
18 without express intention and it exists by 19 implication from their conduct."
20 Here there is a lot of examples where 21 Eagle Harbor, Inc. directly impacted or was -- 22 acted as a partner in this case. First of all, the 23 subdivision plat for Phase 2, I'm emphasizing Phase
24 2, was signed by Eagle Harbor, Inc. Mr. Gilbert
25 himself who was the executive director of Eagle

1 Harbor, Inc. testified that the development was a
2 joint effort by several folks and described EHI as
3 an oversight developer. Those were Mr. Gilbert's
4 words, not mine, oversight developer.
5 Eagle Harbor, Inc. actually paid
6 expenses of development and there are exhibits or 7 records that were evidenced. There are exhibits in 8 evidence that showed that they paid expenses in the 9 development. And we referenced a lawsuit that 10 Mr. Hubbard is saying is limited to the -- like the 11 road situation.
12 But actually, Paragraph 7, it actually
13 states that they, meaning the Winns, the Foxes,
14 Danny Gilbert, and Eagle Harbor, Inc. entered into 15 an agreement with Stantec to provide certain 16 subdivision development services including the 17 development of a master plan. So that is more than 18 just, hey, I have a road so I guess I have to be to 19 be in this lawsuit. They contracted with Stantec
20 to be part of the subdivision development.
21 If you look at some of the records and 22 some of the letters received from the OCRM, which 23 is also into evidence, they address the letter for 24 the violations to Eagle Harbor, Inc. care of Danny
25 Gilbert. And the findings in that admissions

1 letter say Eagle Harbor, Inc. is the developer and
2 Eagle Harbor, Inc. herein as the developer is 3 responsible for the land disturbance activities at 4 the location.
5 One of the points that Mr. Hubbard
6 made, and I guess in his earlier motion, was that 7 there was no evidence that they received any
8 profits. But I would point out to the Court there
9 is evidence in the exhibits that Troy Winn --
10 Mr. Gilbert in a letter said your responsibility
11 was to donate these two lots to Eagle Harbor, Inc.
12 So they may not have got a direct dollar for dollar
13 profit share, but they did get some profits.
14 And again, it's not a requirement that 15 all of these elements are proven. Some of these 16 elements can be proven are still via partnership,
17 and I think that there is evidence of that in there
18 as well. There is also evidence that Danny Gilbert
19 blended his own personal role with Eagle Harbor,
20 Inc. I cite to the Court a specific letter after 21 the Prices had, you know, moved on because of 22 Gilbert's failure to, you know, breach of contract
23 and his unwillingness to work with them in saying 24 that he is done, they sent him a letter and they 25 were trying to resolve the situation with the

1 architectural review committee.
2 In that letter he specifically says,
3 you can't speak to the head of the homeowners
4 association. He goes on to say, "Ms. Evans has not
5 been given the authority by the developer
6 (declarant) Eagle Harbor, Inc. to handle such 7 matters." So this is Gilbert talking about Eagle
8 Harbor, Inc. as being the developer.
9 But in the same letter he says, "It's 10 because of my relationship with the architect and 11 because I am the developer the construction was 12 even started on your home." So he was blending the 13 two right there in the same letter. And also, of 14 course, Eagle Harbor, Inc. is listed as the 15 declarant in both of the covenants that were 16 recorded twice. So I think there is ample evidence
17 that Eagle Harbor, Inc. is entwined either in 18 property or the oversight developer or through 19 Gilbert. You know, of course, Eagle Harbor, Inc.
20 can only act through its agents and Gilbert is its 21 executive director. So I would say ample evidence
22 of all of that.
23 In terms of the impact on the public
24 interest, believe we have a little bit of the tail
25 wagging the dog there. I mean, the focus on --

1 it's not capable of repetition that this is a one
2 off. I mean, all of that capable of repetition is 3 designed -- is one way of showing an impact on the 4 public interest. So we can't lose sight that
5 that's ultimately what you have to prove, not
6 necessarily a potential for repetition.
7 I would submit to the Court, all the
8 Court needs to do to see the impact on the public
9 interest is look at the caption in this case and 10 they can see the impact of the public interest.
11 But beyond that, there was certainly testimony by 12 Merrill and Diane Cox who were different homeowners
13 as to how the representations affected them. I
14 mean, in fact, Ms. Cox was crying on the stand
15 because of how she was treated in that situation,
16 and that's actual repetition.
17 All of the homeowners were affected by 18 the fact that the covenants are not enforceable
19 because of the roads and other situations. So 20 there is ample evidence to satisfy the impact of 21 the public interest, and I cite to more
22 specifically in my brief. For example, Gilbert was 23 selling these lots even though he was not a real
24 estate broker or licensed broker, and he had sold
25 most of those lots before he had actual subdivision

1 approval. So there's a lot of examples on the
2 impact on public interest.
3 In terms of the $3,500, quite frankly,
4 to be honest, Your Honor, I believe it's an
5 accurate testimony that the Prices used some of the 6 foundation material. I'm not sure off the top of 7 my head whether it was in the house or in some 8 outbuilding. If it was not part of the contractual
9 obligation that Gilbert had with my clients, if it
10 was separate, I would agree that he was entitled to 11 a credit. If it was part of his contractual 12 obligation, that foundation, then I would say it's 13 the circular and he's not entitled. So that's our 14 position. I can establish that and I can follow up
15 with anybody for sure on that.
16 So just to clarify, if it was part of 17 his contractual obligation to my clients, that 18 $3,500, it would be a mitigation of their damages
19 to use that. If it was something else that was not 20 part of the contract and they used it, he is 21 entitled to a credit. That would be our position.
22 Moving on to the right to cure, I think
23 it's important to understand the sequence a little
24 bit about what has happened. You know, Gilbert up
25 to this time had contracted with them and he

1 delayed and delayed in getting the project going.
2 He misrepresented to the Prices that he actually
3 had a valid septic tank and a building permit, and 4 that was -- that actually became revoked. The 5 foundation was built, you know, Mr. Price's
6 testimony that it was blown over. So there was a
7 lot of problems that the Prices were having and 8 they sent him a letter. They said, we'll work with 9 you, we'll still work with you. And the response
10 by Mr. Gilbert was not, okay, let's roll up our 11 sleeves and reach common grounds. It was to say,
12 I'm done. You know, I'm done, and later to file a 13 mechanic's lien on their property. So to me, when 14 he filed the mechanic's lien and says, I'm done,
15 that waives any kind of right-to-cure situation.
16 So you have that and plus you have just 17 the shear delay. I mean, there is no evidence that 18 he offered that he tried to send them a letter
19 afterwards saying, let me fix this, I'll repair
20 that, let me do this, or whatever. He just filed a 21 mechanic's lien and then started playing these 22 little games about you can't have your property out
23 of the storage shed or whatever else in trying to 24 collect.
25 So I would say the right to cure

1 doesn't apply on that. And then again, the shear
2 delay, a motion could have been filed in any of 3 that timeframe and to file it actually during the 4 trial itself I would submit, the Court correctly
5 ruled it was just too late. And I believe I
6 addressed all of these points. And again, I have a
7 return that addresses the rest of it more fully,
8 Your Honor, and I would stand on that.
9 THE COURT: I have received that. All
10 right. Mr. Ferrara, any follow up?
11 MR. FERRARA: Very briefly, Your Honor,
12 and respectfully I -- Ms. Baig, my associate,
13 addressed this point with me and I apologize. I
14 just wanted to -- I made reference earlier, Your 15 Honor, in the motions and to use that as a basis
16 for today and like that to be incorporated, but one
17 of the points that I made in the motion that I
18 didn't talk about earlier, Your Honor, was the 19 Court's ruling on res judicata. Your Honor did
20 rule that res judicata didn't apply, and I
21 understand the Court's ruling, but respectfully,
22 Your Honor, I just would like I guess an order or 23 maybe in your order for today, Your Honor, just 24 address the previous element of res judicata and 25 then I outlined that in the motion. In essence,

1 Your Honor, the Foxes assert that the investor's
2 title was a privy or they were in privity with the 3 Foxes.
4 So on that point, just in follow up to 5 Mr. Jackson's argument, Your Honor, you know, when
6 I listen to Mr. Jackson, it establishes the point,
7 the overall point, that I'm here before you today
8 on, Your Honor, which is what were the 9 representations that these defendants made and when 10 did they know. Well, if you look carefully at what 11 Mr. Jackson is saying, he says that on Lot 20
12 Mr. Gilbert knew that there was a septic tank
13 problem because of the 2002 letter. There was 14 reference about the water table and the 15 requirements in that 2002 letter. And I apologize,
16 Your Honor, I don't know which Court's exhibit. It
17 is one of the first DHEC letters that's in
18 evidence.
19 But that establishes the point that I
20 have made to Your Honor respectfully in that 21 representations about something to happen in the 22 future or not happen in the future are not 23 actionable. It's not enough just to say, see, this
24 letter from 2002 says there was a problem and later
25 on we established there was a problem.

1 In reality, on that point, we know that
2 there was a septic tank and that the perc issue
3 that the 2002 letter referenced was cleared. And 4 that was cleared to DHEC's satisfaction and the 5 permit was issued. The permit was revoked due to 6 the DOT encroachment issue, which was not really a
7 septic issue.
8 Ultimately, we know today, Your Honor,
9 as we sit here now, a septic tank was allowed to be 10 put on the property and the property did perc. But 11 if you listen to Mr. Jackson and take the 2002
12 letter, it appears that Mr. Gilbert, you know, sold
13 them a piece of property that was worthless and 14 they could never build their house on. So that is 15 not accurate.
16 The second point, Your Honor, in 17 rebuttal, is partnership. The Court cannot just 18 simply say, ah, a partnership, a partnership is 19 established here because two or more people worked 20 together for common purpose. Now, you can do that 21 in an isolated situation, Your Honor, but in this
22 particular situation with all of the moving parts
23 and as complex as this litigation is, the 24 plaintiffs have the burden to establish what 25 partnership they're talking about, and when it was

1 established and what it was.
2 Mr. Jackson put in the Court's order
3 and Your Honor signed the order, but the first
4 sentence of the findings of fact say in 2001 the 5 Foxes, EHI, HCH, and Gilbert all formed a
6 partnership. There is no testimony as to that 7 basis. There is no reference in your order, Your 8 Honor, about how that's established. That is 9 something Mr. Jackson wanted Your Honor just to 10 summarily make a finding of because there is money
11 moving around and that must establish something.
12 That doesn't meet the requirements.
13 When I listened to Mr. Jackson just now
14 testify about Eagle Harbor was the developer, that 15 is true. There is evidence in the Court's file and 16 in the exhibits that Eagle Harbor was the 17 developer. I submit to to you, Your Honor, that 18 the developer of all of this property was Eagle
19 Harbor. Danny Gilbert was an agent of Eagle
20 Harbor. Belinda and Gerry Fox were not an agent of 21 Eagle Harbor, Incorporated and do not sit on their 22 board.
23 Troy and Sarah Winn were not sitting on 24 their boards either. They have been dismissed from 25 the lawsuit. And the reason that they were

1 appropriately dismissed was because they weren't
2 connected with any of this. Unfortunately, my
3 clients were involved with the sale of this 4 property.
5 However, importantly, the partnership
6 that the plaintiffs asked the Court to underpin all
7 of these findings on is what? It really is a
8 partnership between Belinda and Eagle Harbor, but 9 they haven't established that that happened. What
10 happened is, is that Belinda had her lot, purchased
11 a large tract of land, that was established.
12 Mr. Gilbert sold off the land. Heritage Classic
13 Homes received money on the settlement statement
14 for building the home, and that is really the 15 extent of Belinda Fox. Gerry Fox, other than 16 putting money with his wife to purchase the 17 property, is not connected either.
18 And so the plaintiffs have not
19 established the partnership. I understand that a
20 partnership existed, but as to the representations
21 and the actionable conduct that the plaintiffs are 22 being awarded damages on, the plaintiffs have 23 failed to establish that some partnership created 24 these damages.
25 They have established that Mr. Gilbert

1 made representations to them that they relied upon.
2 They're asking you, Your Honor, to assume that
3 those representations are falsely made and I
4 understand the Court's ruling, but those are 5 representations by Mr. Gilbert. Those were not 6 representations by Belinda or Gerry or even the 7 partnership. They have just not met that element
8 on that, Your Honor.
9 I don't understand, Your Honor, how the 10 plaintiffs can have their cake and eat it, too. On 11 one hand, Eagle Harbor is the declarant over here
12 against Mr. Hubbard and his client, but on the 13 other hand, they're not and it's a different
14 partnership. If we start at the beginning and go
15 through the cause of action for negligent
16 misrepresentation, respectfully, Your Honor, and 17 follow that through and find out who made the 18 representations, whether it was false, and whether 19 Your Honor believes it's actionable, I think you'll 20 get to the right results.
21 Finally, Your Honor, very briefly, on 22 Mr. Carter's exhibit, trial exhibit, it's in 23 evidence as Plaintiff's 38. On Page 42, of 24 Plaintiff's 38, Your Honor, there is a finding that 25 the retrospective value of a 2 acre lot in Eagle

1 Harbor on December 3, 2003, which was shortly after
2 closing, was $37,000.
3 I think that does help the Court answer
4 the question. That would be consistent with Your 5 Honor's findings that 2 acres of property were 6 impacted, and I would respectfully request Your 7 Honor to look at Mr. Carter's report to -- and if 8 Your Honor is so inclined to, I guess, relook at 9 those dollar amounts as it relates to the wetlands
10 acreage. I think that that does answer the 11 question. And he says that, in the trial, and I
12 can forward the trial transcript, I specifically
13 asked him again, Your Honor.
14 I'll represent to Your Honor I have
15 read the transcript and I recall in the trial I
16 specifically asked him about the value of a 2 acre
17 tract and he referred me to that page. There is 18 live testimony about the 2 acres being worth
19 $37,000. And I think that helps the Court make the 20 finding. Your Honor has already made a finding 21 that 2 acres of wetlands were impacted, that the 22 Prices suffered damages as a result of 2 acres of 23 wetlands that they didn't know that they were 24 purchasing. So I would submit to Your Honor that 25 there is adequate testimony, without going to the

1 necessity of a new trial, that the property was
2 $37,000 if it were not wetlands, and I think that's
3 actually in the trial transcript.
4 Finally, Your Honor, Mr. Jackson
5 mentions that willful and malicious conduct is not
6 required unless damages are trebled, but I don't --
7 as I understand Your Honor's order, you are
8 trebling the damages. And so for that reason,
9 that's why I mentioned that willful and malicious
10 conduct is required to be demonstrated by the 11 Prices.
12 I think I do agree with Mr. Jackson in 13 that the Unfair Trade Practice Cause of Action does 14 allow a remedy where there may not be one at law if 15 there is unlawful, deceptive, willful conduct by a
16 party, and that Your Honor could make that finding.
17 It's up to Your Honor whether you determine those 18 damages to be trebled or not, but I do agree that 19 because Your Honor has trebled the damages in this 20 case, that that is why I mention that willful and 21 malicious conduct be required.
22 Finally --
23 THE COURT: Your position regarding 24 willful and malicious conduct is as to everyone, as 25 to each member of the partnership? Only as to

1 Mr. Gilbert? Not as to your folks, that those --
2 that that willful and malicious, if I find that to
3 be against Mr. Gilbert, you're saying that doesn't
4 -- that is not imputed over to the Foxes if they're 5 acting in concert, if they're acting in 6 partnership?
7 MR. FERRARA: Yes, Your Honor, for two
8 reasons. One, the partnership that they had which 9 really wasn't established except by implication and 10 conjecture, that partnership, if the Court finds 11 that there was a partnership, there still needs to 12 be a scope. For willful and malicious conduct to 13 be part of the partnership, there has got to be 14 some proof by the plaintiff like an e-mail that 15 says, hey, Danny, this is from Belinda, I want you
16 to do whatever means necessary to sell the 17 property. I want you -- and he says, I'm making
18 representations that aren't exactly true. That's 19 fine. If they have that, if the plaintiffs 20 establish that, I wouldn't make this argument, but 21 the plaintiffs don't have that.
22 THE COURT: Of course you're not going
23 to have that. That would be too much fun to have 24 that.
25 MR. JACKSON: Could you produce that

1 for me, Paul?
2 THE COURT: I mean, here we have got
3 representations that are considering and I'm
4 probably considering to be willful
5 misrepresentations by Mr. Gilbert. I have got his 6 partners who sit in the scope of or acting as a
7 salesman for a developer. So you're saying that 8 the Unfair Trade Practices Act, because they're not
9 authorized or ratified, because they're false,
10 because he didn't give them permission or they
11 didn't give him permission to make false statements 12 there is no liability? It's not imputed back to 13 the partnership?
14 MR. FERRARA: Well, yeah, sure.
15 THE COURT: I'm still trying to wrap my 16 head around that.
17 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, because
18 unfair trade practices is not your plain, vanilla
19 common law cause of action that exists for everyone
20 involved in a transaction except and until such 21 willful and malicious conduct is established. I
22 would submit to Your Honor that there must be, to 23 meet that element, the first element, there must be 24 evidence of that conduct. If the testimony was 25 that Belinda made representations that the Court

1 deemed to be false, then she would be liable.
2 Likewise, Mr. Gilbert would not be
3 liable for representations Belinda made in 4 connection with the sale of her lot. This may or 5 may not be connected to the development. That's 6 what I was saying, Your Honor, when we consider all
7 of the moving parts in this case with Eagle Harbor
8 being the developer, with Danny Gilbert being
9 Heritage Classic Homes, and Danny Gilbert
10 developing as I presume Eagle, I haven't looked at 11 that, Your Honor, but I believe Mr. Jackson that 12 Mr. Gilbert was a -- was the authorized agent on 13 behalf of Eagle Harbor. He was wearing several 14 different hats and it's hard to tell what he is 15 doing what and when and for whom.
16 What is clear, Your Honor, and I don't 17 know, I think it's in the Court record, is that
18 when there were wetlands discovered in the Eagle
19 Harbor neighborhood, Belinda nor Gerry Fox paid any 20 fines for wetlands, it was Eagle Harbor. Eagle
21 Harbor, Incorporated, I believe, I think
22 Mr. Gilbert testified about fines as it relates to 23 the -- there was -- after the neighborhood was 24 developed, Your Honor, the Army Corps of Engineers
25 came through and identified that --

1 THE COURT: As to Phase 2.
2 MR. FERRARA: I believe as to this,
3 yes.
4 THE COURT: So that would be evidence
5 of the partnership of Eagle Harbor --
6 MR. FERRARA: Right.
7 THE COURT: -- being a partner --
8 MR. FERRARA: Eagle -- but the --
9 THE COURT: -- in the development of 10 Phase 2 to the detriment of Mr. Hubbard's argument,
11 right?
12 MR. FERRARA: I think so. I think that
13 Eagle Harbor -- I think there was some trial
14 testimony about Eagle Harbor and the wetland fine
15 for the neighborhood, but my point is, Your Honor,
16 is that if Eagle Harbor is the developer and 17 Belinda nor Gerry are on the board of Eagle Harbor,
18 then what is being done on behalf of the 19 development can't be imputed to them.
20 THE COURT: Well, what was their role?
21 They put money into it. They had to have some 22 role. They were in partnership in some fashion,
23 and they said to Gilbert and/or the developer,
24 whoever that may be, go sell my lots. You're 25 saying that they didn't authorize him to say

1 anything false, but if they stood back and --
2 you're saying that they're not going to have any
3 liability for false or misleading statements or 4 misrepresentations on behalf of the salesman that 5 they hired? Isn't that just agency law that
6 requires them to be responsible?
7 MR. FERRARA: It does, but it's not --
8 whenever you have a willful con -- the line of 9 demarcation, respectfully, Your Honor, is the 10 willful conduct. That's why I didn't make the 11 argument with respect to negligent
12 misrepresentation. I think that representations
13 that Mr. Gilbert may or may not have made
14 associated with the negligent misrepresentation
15 cause of action, Your Honor, I think are the agency
16 law allows what Mr. Jackson talked about earlier, a
17 general conduct, a course of just general conduct
18 of selling the lots.
19 When it comes to willful or malicious
20 conduct that requires a heightened level of intent
21 and representation, that's where the line is drawn
22 right there, Your Honor, respectfully, and that's 23 what I'm submitting to the Court. That's where the 24 plaintiffs have to establish that the Foxes crossed
25 that line in order to be liable and subject

1 themselves to treble damages.
2 I mean, Your Honor, that cause of
3 action is just not available just because two 4 parties interact. There's strict standards of 5 proof, and while I understand Mr. Gilbert's conduct
6 may be -- may cause liability for the Foxes under 7 negligent misrepresentation, what I am saying is 8 that absent their willful or malicious conduct,
9 there is the liability and vis-a-vie agency and 10 partnership just doesn't automatically flow. So
11 thank you, Your Honor.
12 THE COURT: Mr. Jackson, in response to 13 that argument?
14 MR. JACKSON: A couple of things,
15 briefly. I think it was misstated that the lot
16 perced and that a septic tank was capable on the 17 lot. What actually happened was they had to get a
18 drain field across the road from Haney Branch Road
19 and pump the sewage across to the drain field.
20 That is what the Prices ended up with rather than 21 the septic tank on their lot, which is why they 22 couldn't subdivide in the first place.
23 The second point was, you know, he
24 makes it sounds as if the Foxes just kind of bought
25 the land and let the thing spring into existence.

1 You saw all the evidence in the exhibits where
2 Gilbert carefully figured out and divided by two
3 and they shared the expenses, Mr. Fox himself
4 testified that $40,000 on the Prices' closing that
5 was paid to Gilbert was his share of the profits.
6 So I mean, there is abundance of that that they
7 were truly partners.
8 In terms of the unfair trade practice
9 argument, the State versus McLeod case which I cite
10 in there in the brief, Your Honor, specifically 11 says why should it be more difficult to prove an 12 unfair trade practice, you know, to the elements of 13 unfair trade practice rather than just a mere 14 principal and agent they specifically say that.
15 They say, we're not here to put obstacles up and 16 make unfair trade practices be more difficult in 17 regular principal and agent law. I mean, that's 18 right there in the case in the State versus McLeod.
19 So I believe that was some of the main points I was 20 going to address of his arguments.
21 THE COURT: All right. Thank you, sir.
22 Mr. Hubbard?
23 MR. HUBBARD: Thank you, Judge. I have
24 to be careful. I feel like the bus is coming down 25 the road. Now Mr. Ferrara has turned on me. The

1 Court notes in his final order that, and this is
2 Paragraph 72, of Page 14, I think. And this is
3 getting back to the restrictive covenants. Again,
4 Mr. Gilbert was relying on, and his testimony
5 showed you that. His deposition testimony was 6 showing that he relied on instruction and help he
7 was getting from an attorney to get restrictive
8 covenants put in the neighborhood because 9 restrictive covenants would benefit the 10 neighborhood, as I think we can all agree for many 11 reasons.
12 But you cannot put restrictive
13 covenants on property you don't own, and the order
14 states that they didn't own the property. That 15 neither Gilbert nor EHI owns the property. Yet
16 here they're told -- here Gilbert is told go and 17 file it, I think as a stopgap measure to try and 18 get something down.
19 Again, I come back to the notion of an 20 unsophisticated person who is trying to get these 21 things done, to get the subdivision in place so
22 everybody is happy. I mean, as you know, it's gone
23 on for quite some time and there have been 24 contentious meetings among the homeowners and there
25 are still pending -- certain members of the

1 subdivision are still suing folks for the roads in
2 the subdivision.
3 So I just think it's pretty -- to lay
4 that all at Mr. Gilbert or certainly EHI or Eagle
5 Harbor, Inc. following the instructions of counsel
6 to try and get these things done.
7 THE COURT: He held himself out as the 8 developer and he --
9 MR. HUBBARD: Mr. Gilbert did have 10 himself out. Mr. Jackson just made reference to 11 the line out there. Here is what you're going to 12 get, here is what you're going to get, here is what 13 you're going to get. EHI is not on that. Eagle
14 Harbor, Inc. is not on that. Yes, Mr. Gilbert is 15 the executive director of Eagle Harbor, Inc., but 16 to bring all of these claims against Eagle Harbor,
17 Inc., when it just seems or appears that the 18 evidence is not there to show the involvement of 19 Eagle Harbor, Inc. in this. I'm done. Thank you.
20 Thank you, Mr. Gilbert sayeth.
21 THE COURT: All right. Gentlemen, do
22 you have more for me, Mr. Ferrara?
23 MR. FERRARA: I do. I just wanted to 24 ask the Court's direction on something.
25 Mr. Jackson and his clients submitted affidavits of

1 attorneys fees and I had, and I guess I can file a
2 memo or whatever Your Honor would like me to do,
3 but I had some comments on those.
4 THE COURT: As to the attorneys fees?
5 MR. FERRARA: Yes, sir.
6 THE COURT: I think that is probably
7 premature. I'm going to take care of this order
8 first. I know y'all would probably like to take 9 care of that today to the extent that you can, but 10 my thinking was I wanted to get this done first,
11 but I will be happy to hear more on that.
12 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, there are two 13 points, and this will proceed to this one. It will 14 cut and dovetail into what Paul was saying. Number
15 one, is I think Carl may not have gotten a copy.
16 MR. HUBBARD: I was going to say, I
17 haven't seen any attorney fees.
18 MR. JACKSON: For some reason, Carl, in 19 your favorite e-filing world, you're not getting 20 the electronic notifications.
21 MR. HUBBARD: Well, that was going to 22 be a question. I'm sorry. That was going to be a
23 question I had, too. Do I need to actually -- I
24 guess I do need to sign up and then I'll get 25 e-filings?

1 MR. JACKSON: You have to file a notice
2 of appearance.
3 THE COURT: Notice of appearance.
4 MR. HUBBARD: I planned to do that when
5 I filed this memo and then I tried and it and 6 couldn't get it -- I'll work on it.
7 MR. JACKSON: I didn't realize that
8 until today. When I was looking through the 9 electronic notification, I did not see your name
10 listed. So that's number one. Number two, I think 11 what was intended was if you had objections we 12 could talk about them. If we couldn't resolve
13 them, then we bring them to the Court's attention.
14 THE COURT: Yes. I certainly want
15 everybody to have an opportunity --
16 MR. JACKSON: That would be idea first
17 --
18 THE COURT: -- before we start
19 discussing it, even though I know y'all would like 20 to keep it moving. All right. Well, my 21 inclination is to deny the relief. I think there
22 is enough as to the agency regarding 23 misrepresentations, the capacity for 24 representation, the capacity for the effect on the 25 public interest, I think it's been satisfied.

1 I understand your request for the 2 ruling on the equitable indemnity so that that can
3 be something that can be out there in the order. I
4 don't think under the circumstances if there is any
5 entitlement to equitable indemnity at this point
6 because there hadn't been any payment on it. So
7 that is something for another day. So I have not
8 addressed that. However, I think that, again, I
9 think it's tied to what's been actually paid, but 10 nothing has been paid so that may need to be 11 addressed later.
12 As to the representations, the
13 falsehood of representations, there was the letters
14 out there about the inability for it to pass the 15 apparent tests and so forth well in advance of the 16 closing itself. There was the 2 acres that were 17 mentioned, but that information was all out there.
18 My understanding of it was it's a before and it is,
19 what is the value as represented, not as 20 represented, but although part of that was the 21 portion which would be attributable to wetlands,
22 that that was adequately disclosed. And if it
23 didn't change as to the value, therefore it's one 24 of those things that goes really to the weight of 25 it.

1 Res judicata, I think there is no
2 privies element. I don't think they were privy to 3 that. I think they failed as to that argument and 4 should probably be included in the order if it
5 wasn't already so that you have that clear in the 6 order, and that it was ruled on. As to Eagle
7 Harbor, Inc., they may have been novices at it, but
8 he, Mr. Gilbert, was acting on behalf of Eagle
9 Harbor. There was a series of things that were 10 done that would make, I think, any person in the 11 public believe that Eagle Harbor, Inc. was involved
12 in the development of the Phase 1 and Phase 2, that
13 they were the developer and there was this blending
14 of Mr. Gilbert into these various roles on there.
15 As to the right to cure, I mean, my
16 initial ruling is to go with the ruling that I made
17 originally that there was the waiver, mention, and 18 timing. I'm going to review the order that you
19 provided, and I appreciate that. Because although 20 not precedential, it certainly provides some 21 clarification as to the way the law has been looked 22 at. But I'm just not sure and I will have to look 23 at the statute as well. I'm not sure what the 24 remedy is on that. I don't want to be in a
25 position where there would be a party who cannot

1 raise it on a responsive pleading or by motion and
2 then wait until trial use it as an offensive tool
3 at that point.
4 Regarding the $3,500, I don't have a
5 copy of the transcript. If y'all want to talk
6 about that and decide whether to include it or not 7 include it, that's fine. If there is a dispute and 8 then y'all provide me with the testimony that 9 you-all think is appropriate as to $3,500, and then 10 I can modify it so there is no duplication on the 11 recovery on that. Certainly, if it was something
12 separate for an outbuilding or something like that 13 and used separately, then that would be potentially 14 considered duplication. If it was developed into 15 the foundation of the main building, then I think 16 it would be a situation where it's part of or it's 17 actually a mitigation of the damages. And so I
18 will look to hear from y'all. Y'all square away
19 the $3,500 --
20 MR. JACKSON: Yes, sir.
21 THE COURT: -- first on that. Share
22 the information regarding the attorneys' fees and 23 then y'all can decide whether I need to step into 24 that. Mr. Jackson, I'll ask you to draw the order
25 and provide a copy to these gentlemen before you

1 send it to me and address any discrepancies in
2 there or variations in there and send it to me.
3 Send it to me by e-mail not by way of the proposed
4 order filing that's capable through the electronic 5 filing.
6 MR. JACKSON: Yes, sir.
7 THE COURT: That way I can have it and
8 make changes and so forth as necessary.
9 MR. JACKSON: Yes, sir.
10 THE COURT: Okay. So does that address
11 everything we have got today, gentlemen?
12 MR. JACKSON: I think so, Your Honor.
13 MR. FERRARA: Yes, Your Honor.
14 MR. HUBBARD: Yes, Your Honor.
15 THE COURT: I know we don't have
16 anybody else here regarding the road portion of it.
17 Any suggestions as or hints as to what y'all have 18 in store for me so we can get the road portion
19 moving?
20 MR. HUBBARD: Mr. Jackson made it clear
21 that he is not part of that, right?
22 MR. JACKSON: Well --
23 MR. HUBBARD: Here we go.
24 MR. JACKSON: That may be an issue
25 going forward for me at least on that, on that

1 portion for me, but I will touch base with my
2 clients. We can discuss that. You know, again, it
3 might be a good thing again for Richard and the 4 concerned citizens to all get together on that.
5 THE COURT: Well, what I probably want
6 to do is my understanding was we need to address
7 and quite thankfully y'all decided, thought it
8 would be a good thing to bifurcate it.
9 MR. JACKSON: Yes, sir.
10 THE COURT: So not to tie the whole
11 thing up together and maybe there would be some 12 element of being able to work it out after this 13 part is concluded. But as we get a little closer
14 to resolving this part of it, I'm going to put out 15 there that we need to --
16 MR. JACKSON: Yes, sir.
17 THE COURT: -- have some sort of a
18 pretrial.
19 MR. JACKSON: Yes, sir.
20 THE COURT: To deal with that. And I'm
21 trying to do that sooner rather than later.
22 MR. JACKSON: Sure.
23 THE COURT: So that it doesn't continue
24 to get away. That adds other additional steps
25 makes the service and publication need to be done

1 as well to make sure those involved in that should
2 be. Okay?
3 MR. JACKSON: Okay.
4 THE COURT: Thank you, gentlemen. I
5 appreciate it.
6 MR. FERRARA: Thank you.

2 P R O C E E D I N G S

3 (Begin 9:35 a.m.)

4 THE COURT: All right, everyone. Are we all
5 set to go?
6 MR. JACKSON: Plaintiff's ready to proceed,
7 Your Honor.
8 MR. HUBBARD: Yes, Your Honor.
9 MR. FERRARA: Yes, Your Honor. Good morning.
10 We're ready to proceed as well. And I did have, I
11 guess, a preliminary matter of a witness I had 12 under subpoena, but I wanted the Court's help with 13 her, just an agreement from everybody to 14 accommodate his schedule if you're ready to hear
15 that.
16 THE COURT: Yes. Let's hear that.
17 MR. FERRARA: Okay.
18 THE COURT: And then we'll make sure we got 19 all the preliminary stuff out of the way. The 20 first was to make sure we have everybody
21 identified for the record, and we got who's 22 representing who, so I can make sure and keep 23 track of everybody, okay.
24 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, I'd be glad to 25 proceed. I'm Derrick Jackson. I represent Ronald

1 and Diana Price, the plaintiffs.
2 MR. FERRARA: Good morning, Your Honor. Paul
3 Ferrara. I'm representing Belinda Fox and Gerry
4 Fox and -- individually.
5 THE COURT: Individually?
6 MR. FERRARA: Yes, sir.
7 THE COURT: All right.
8 MR. HUBBARD: Your Honor, Carl Hubbard for 9 Heritage Classic Homes, Inc., Danny Gilbert, Eagle
10 Harbor, Inc.
11 MR. FERRARA: Additionally, Your Honor, just 12 for clarity to the extent the plaintiffs have 13 claimed that Belinda and Gerry Fox were agents on 14 behalf of Eagle Harbor Development Partnership,
15 and I'm representing my clients to that end as 16 well.
17 THE COURT: All right. And what 18 limitations -- you're qualifying the 19 representation as to Ms. Fox. What qualifications
20 or limitations or tell me about that.
21 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, as it's set out in 22 this case, my clients were disputing that agency
23 connection, and I'm not sure how the plaintiff was 24 going to proceed. So that's why I was just 25 mentioning that. But to the extent that that's

1 brought up today, I just wanted it to be clear
2 that I am representing Belinda Fox and Gerry Fox
3 as it relates to their involvement with Eagle
4 Harbor Development Partnership.
5 THE COURT: You're representing them in full?
6 MR. FERRARA: Yes.
7 THE COURT: Maybe I'm reading too much into
8 it. I just want to make sure that there is no
9 qualification or limitation, that you're limiting 10 your representations.
11 MR. FERRARA: Just to be clear, Your Honor,
12 I'm just representing my clients to the extent of 13 their agency connection with the development, with 14 the partnership. And so . . .
15 THE COURT: Again, I'm not sure what that 16 means. Are you saying that you're not 17 representing them in full today? Is there some 18 category, some portion of the case that we're 19 going to be approaching today where you're not 20 representing them?
21 MR. FERRARA: No. No, I'm not.
22 THE COURT: Okay. It's the wording. I just 23 want to make sure I was clear.
24 MR. FERRARA: Yeah.
25 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Hubbard, you were

1 standing up. You had something --
2 MR. HUBBARD: Your Honor, the named
3 partnership, this was just something that came 4 about as this case progressed. This entity, which 5 really is not a formal entity, just became named
6 as a named defendant. But all of the people that
7 are here allegedly are involved in that claim, I
8 guess, by the plaintiffs. But there's a
9 partnership, but it's not, for lack of a better
10 term, it's not a formal partnership.
11 THE COURT: Okay. That was my understanding
12 as well.
13 MR. HUBBARD: Okay.
14 THE COURT: Okay. All right. And the other 15 folks that are involved in other portions of the 16 case are not here because we are proceeding in a
17 bifurcated fashion to address the construction
18 litigation claims and the partnership development
19 claims not the road issues. Is that correct?
20 MR. JACKSON: That's correct, Your Honor.
21 There was a bifurcation for that. And largely 22 that would involve the Concerned Citizens of Eagle
23 Harbor, Inc., and the Winns and the Foxes. But 24 the road -- yeah, the road claims are bifurcated.
25 And I would also note for the Court, we did have

1 originally slated a mechanics lien case issue with
2 Knights Redi-Mix. And as I indicated in the 3 e-mail to the Court, that was resolved. So not
4 needing to be tried. And we agreed to do mutual
5 leases on that part of the case.
6 THE COURT: Is there anything in that
7 regard -- thank you. That was my next question.
8 Is there anything in that regard that needs to be
9 put on the record?
10 MR. JACKSON: I don't think so, Your Honor.
11 I think we'll paper it up after we get through 12 this and get -- because Steve Smith who represents 13 Knights Redi-Mix is not here, and I'll paper it up
14 with him on the mutual lease because I don't think 15 anything has to be put on the record beyond that.
16 THE COURT: Okay. Plaintiff is ready to go?
17 MR. JACKSON: Go ahead.
18 MR. FERRARA: Yes, I'm sorry. I didn't mean
19 to interrupt. Yes, Your Honor. I didn't want to 20 interrupt Derrick in his case. Just as a 21 preliminary matter, Your Honor, Ty Adley with 22 Berkeley County Zoning is under subpoena. And I
23 spoke with Mr. Jackson about it, and he's 24 anticipating his case in chief to go throughout
25 the day and possibly maybe have an opportunity

1 late this afternoon for the defendants to start
2 their case. So with the Court's permission, I
3 wanted to just release Mr. Adley back to his
4 office. And then I'll be back in touch with him
5 later on today and advise him to come back if
6 that's permissible with the Court.
7 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Adley. Where's
8 Mr. Adley? Mr. Adley, you're subpoenaed for 9 today. I'm going to release you for now, but 10 we'll call you when we need you. Could possibly 11 be later today, it doesn't sound likely, but more
12 likely tomorrow.
13 Okay. And you got contact information for 14 him, Mr. Ferrara? Is that right?
15 MR. FERRARA: Yes, I do.
16 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Thank you,
17 sir.
18 MR. FERRARA: Thank you.
19 THE COURT: Any other preliminary matters?
20 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, as a preliminary 21 matter I recently filed a motion to dismiss for 22 res judicata and I didn't forward a copy to your 23 office. And I'm not sure if the Court's aware of 24 that. I didn't know if Your Honor would want to 25 entertain that motion before we started, or if you

1 would want to reserve that for a later time.
2 THE COURT: Since I haven't seen it, wasn't
3 aware of it, I'll reserve that. Give me a copy of 4 it today so I can take a look at it.
5 MR. FERRARA: Okay.
6 THE COURT: And consider that while we're
7 looking at the whole thing, okay.
8 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, Your Honor.
9 THE COURT: All right. Anything else that we
10 need to take care of, gentlemen?
11 MR. JACKSON: I don't think so.
12 MR. FERRARA: No, Your Honor.
13 THE COURT: Okay.
14 MR. JACKSON: Yeah. I would note that the 15 exhibits have been stipulated to. I think all of 16 the exhibits that I'm going to offer this morning
17 I think has, so . . .
18 THE COURT: All right. And is that correct,
19 Mr. Ferrara and Mr. Hubbard?
20 MR. FERRARA: Yes. I think that -- that is 21 correct. The only exception, Derrick, was the --
22 and I think we can maybe just bring it up with the 23 Court at the time -- is -- I apologize, what the 24 number is. There's an Army Corps of Engineers
25 letter, Your Honor, that is the only exhibit that

1 I had a concern with. And it may be resolved by
2 the time we get to that part of the testimony.
3 THE COURT: What number is that one?
4 MR. JACKSON: I'd have to go to the marked
5 number -- find out which one it is.
6 THE COURT: Essentially, y'all are agreeing
7 to the admissibility --
8 MR. JACKSON: Yes, Your Honor.
9 THE COURT: -- of everything except for that 10 one. And that one is --
11 MR. JACKSON: Yeah, to aid time.
12 THE COURT: -- not necessarily objectionable
13 but maybe. It is that right?
14 MR. FERRARA: Correct, Your Honor.
15 THE COURT: Okay.
16 MR. JACKSON: Twenty-six and 27 are the ones
17 that we may have an issue with, Your Honor.
18 THE COURT: And that was the total number?
19 MR. JACKSON: Twenty-six and 27 are exhibits;
20 Plaintiffs' 26 and 27. They're letters from the 21 Army Corps of Engineers addressed --
22 THE COURT: What's the total number of the 23 exhibits that you've got there?
24 MR. JACKSON: Oh, in the stack I think we 25 have, like, 31 total.

1 THE COURT: Okay. So we're going to say 1
2 through 31 with the exception of 26 and 27 will be
3 admitted by agreement. And we'll address 26 and 4 27 as it comes up. Okay.
6 (Whereupon, Plaintiffs' Exhibit Nos.
7 1-25 and 28-31 were premarked and were 8 received into evidence.)
10 THE COURT: Anything else preliminary that we 11 need to address?
12 MR. JACKSON: I don't think so, Your Honor.
13 THE COURT: Okay. I'll be happy to hear from 14 you, Mr. Jackson.
15 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, I would call Ronald 16 Price to the stand.
17 THE COURT: Mr. Price, come on up.
18 (Whereupon, the witness, RONALD E.
19 PRICE, was duly sworn.)
20
21 THE COURT: Put your hand down, sit right
22 there, give your name and spell your last name for 23 the court reporter, please.
24 THE WITNESS: Ronald E. Price, P-R-I-C-E.
25 THE COURT: Mr. Jackson.

1 MR. JACKSON: Thank you, Your Honor.

3 DIRECT EXAMINATION
4 BY MR. JACKSON:
5 Q Mr. Price, where do you live?
6 A 1104 Saddlehorn Road in Summerville.
7 Q And how long have you lived at that address?
8 A Since November of '04.
9 Q Okay. And where did you live before that?
10 A I had a lot of temporary residences in that prior 11 year to that. But an apartment complex and then 12 some temporary lodging places.
13 Q Okay. And are you married?
14 A I am.
15 Q And who are you married to?
16 A Diana Price.
17 Q And how long have you been married to Ms. Price?
18 A Since '02.
19 Q Okay. Can you tell me about your educational
20 background?
21 A High school graduate. Got a college degree while 22 I was in the service.
23 Q Okay. You said the service. What military 24 service do you have?
25 A United States Air Force, 30 years.

1 Q And what's your current rank?
2 A Chief master sergeant, retired.
3 Q Okay. And where are you employed?
4 A Where am I employed?
5 Q Yes.
6 A I'm presently retired.
7 Q Okay. Why did you come to South Carolina?
8 A I came down here for an employment opportunity. I
9 was working on a project, Scott Air Force Base.
10 That project used some of the SPAWAR folks. And 11 eventually that project transferred to SPAWAR so I
12 transferred with it.
13 Q So what were your plans for housing when you came 14 to South Carolina?
15 A We were going to buy some sort of permanent 16 residence. A place to live, not rent. It was 17 either going to be a home that was already 18 together or built.
19 Q Okay. And about when did this occur? When did
20 you come to South Carolina?
21 A We were coming down here periodically. I came 22 down here on temporary duty as part of that 23 project from probably 1998. And then we saw that
24 it was going to be a more permanent employment
25 down here in late '02 and then starting in '03.

1 So around May '03 we started looking for a home.
2 Q Okay. Describe that process to me.
3 A We just started going around to different areas
4 that we ran across while we were here on weekends
5 and evenings. From Mount Pleasant to Hanahan,
6 Moncks Corner, and eventually out to Eagle Harbor.
7 Q Okay. So what were some of the places you looked 8 at?
9 A They were all single-family dwellings. And we
10 were hoping to get a little acreage with them.
11 Q Okay. How did you learn about Eagle Harbor?
12 A We were in Hanahan looking around and saw a real
13 estate sign in a yard. And people were out front
14 mowing the grass. So we stopped and talked to 15 them a little bit. And it turned out to be the 16 daughter of Doug Cotton's. And Doug Cotton's
17 daughter actually built a home in Eagle Harbor.
18 And Doug talked to us a little bit about what was 19 going on out here.
20 Q What did he tell you?
21 A Well, he said it was a subdivision that was going
22 up. And part of that was in support of a boys
23 home.
24 Q Okay. Was it called Eagle Harbor back then?
25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. Did you ever meet with anybody at Eagle
2 Harbor to further your looking for a home?
3 A We did. We contacted Danny at his structure at
4 Eagle Harbor.
5 Q And where did you meet with him?
6 A He had a building at Heritage Classic Homes. It's 7 right inside of Eagle Harbor.
8 Q Do you know how many times that you met with him?
9 A At least two, but I think it was more than that,
10 especially as we progressed and had a contract
11 with him to build our home.
12 Q Okay. What time frame was this?
13 A We had a ten-day house hunting trip in September.
14 We spent more time with him then.
15 Q Okay. What, if anything, did he tell you about 16 Eagle Harbor at that time?
17 A Well, he said they were putting up a boys home and 18 that construction had started. And this facility
19 was going to be a gated facility. And there would 20 be hiking trails and they were going to try to 21 build a gymnasium, and they had a lake there. And 22 that the boys home would use that and so would the 23 people in the neighborhood be able to use that as 24 well.
25 Q Okay. Let me show you what has been previously

1 marked as Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 1.
3 MR. JACKSON: And, Your Honor, did I give you
4 a set of those already?
5 THE COURT: If not, I will -- if you have a
6 set, I'll take them.
7 MR. JACKSON: Yes, sir. I do have a complete
8 set, which I put up there to give to you. These 9 are the ones we're talking about now in order.
10 May I approach?
11 THE COURT: Thank you.
12 MR. JACKSON: Thank you.
13
14 Q Show you what's been marked as Plaintiffs' Exhibit
15 No. 1 and ask can you recognize that?
16 A Yes.
17 Q Was that presented to you at one of your meetings?
18 A It was actually in Danny's office. He showed us
19 the master plan.
20 Q And did he talk to you about that plan or anything
21 that's gonna be going on?
22 A Oh, yeah. Just like -- you can see the lake. He 23 discussed the homes that he anticipated going in.
24 And then he showed the properties that were still
25 available and not sold.

1 Q Okay. Did you ask him anything about the soil
2 conditions or the conditions of the property?
3 A The only thing I asked him is -- when we were
4 doing the contract, there's a comment in there
5 about soil conditions. And I asked him what is 6 that? And he said that's already done, taken care
7 of.
8 Q Okay. Let me go ahead and show you what's been 9 marked as Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 2. Is this a
10 copy of that contract?
11 A Yes, it is.
12 Q And can you publish what -- what time you had a 13 question about that that prompted that question.
14 A (No response.)
15 Q Well, let's go back to --
16 A Actually, it's this -- go ahead while I look.
17 Q Okay. Sure. So what did he tell you about the 18 soil condition when you had that question?
19 A He said that the test had been done and it was 20 okay. I didn't know what the testing was about.
21 Q Did he tell you it would perk?
22 A He did tell us it would perk when we were out
23 there at the property. And I had no idea what 24 that meant at the time. I never heard that term.
25 Q Did you ask him what that meant?

1 A Yeah. He said that means you can put a septic
2 tank on there.
3 Q Okay. Now, did you intend to buy 7.86 acres, that
4 large amount of acres?
5 A Actually, we were looking at something maybe a
6 little bit smaller. And then as we discussed
7 that, he indicated well maybe we could sell --
8 subdivide and sell a lot to help pay for that.
9 Q Okay. And did that become part of one of the 10 conditions you wanted to place in the contract?
11 A It did.
12 Q And what were you told and what did you put in the 13 contract about subdivisions?
14 A It says that we could subdivide into two pieces.
15 And with the approval of the homeowners, we could 16 probably subdivide into a third as well.
17 Q Okay. When was that contract executed?
18 A This was executed on the 13th of September, '03.
19 Q Okay. And who was the seller?
20 A To me, Danny was the seller.
21 Q Okay.
22 A But actually at the top of the contract it says
23 Belinda Fox.
24 Q Did you ask about who Belinda Fox was?
25 A He said that she was part of -- he was doing that

1 on her behalf.
2 Q Okay. Did he refer to her as a partner?
3 A He referred to himself as a representative for 4 her.
5 Q Okay. What was the purchase price?
6 A The purchase price of the lot was 90,400.
7 Q Okay. And how did y'all plan on paying for that?
8 A Well, we were going to finance the lot and the 9 house.
10 Q Okay. So you were going to build on the lot?
11 A Yes. To me it was all a part of the same thing.
12 Q Okay. And where did you find a financing company
13 or how did you find a financing company?
14 A Danny knew Patty Zerbst, I believe her name was,
15 from a finance company here locally and pointed us
16 to them.
17 Q Okay. So how many acres did you end up buying?
18 A 7.8.
19 Q And what was the lot number?
20 A Twenty.
21 Q Now, I see it has listed on there in a preprinted
22 form Jeff Spell as the closing attorney. Did you
23 know Jeff Spell?
24 A Did not know Jeff Spell.
25 Q Did you ask about Jeff Spell?

1 A I think Diana is the one that actually asked him
2 who Jeff Spell was, and he said it was the
3 attorney that handles the closings.
4 Q Okay. Now, did you understand that this was
5 supposed to be a restricted, gated community?
6 A Yes. In fact, the brick structure to hold the 7 gates were going up while we were there.
8 Q Did you understand there was supposed to be
9 restrictive covenants?
10 11 MR. FERRARA: Objection, Your Honor. He's
12 leading the witness.
13 THE COURT: Refrain from leading, please.
14
15 Q Were there supposed to be restrictive covenants?
16 A Yes.
17 Q Okay. Now, when did the closing take place?
18 A The closing took place the 25th of November.
19 Q Okay. Where did it take place?
20 A At Jeff Spell's office.
21 Q Did you receive any prior notice of this closing?
22 A I received notice of the closing because I went 23 there. Did I get a piece of paper about that?
24 I'm not sure.
25 Q How much notice did you get for the closing?

1 A It was pretty quick.
2 Q Okay. And who was present at the closing?
3 A Danny was there, I was there, the staff for Jeff
4 Spell was there.
5 Q Okay. Was Jeff Spell there?
6 A No.
7 Q Okay. Let me go ahead and show you what's been
8 marked as Exhibit No. 3 and ask do you recognize 9 this?
10 A Yes. That's the . . .
11 Q What's that?
12 A That's a statement from the closing.
13 Q Okay. And what was the date?
14 A The date of that was -- 25th of November is when 15 we closed. When we -- and it is on here.
16 Q Okay. Was there a disbursement to Heritage
17 Classic Homes from the closing?
18 A There was.
19 Q How much was that disbursement?
20 A It was 41,000.
21 Q Okay. Let me show you what's been marked as 22 Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 4. Is this a copy of the 23 deed to your property?
24 A Yes, it is.
25 Q Let me back up. Was Belinda Fox at the closing?

1 A No, she was not.
2 Q And who signed for Belinda?
3 A They kept everything and said she would sign it
4 later.
5 Q Okay. Was Danny Gilbert present?
6 A He was.
7 Q Okay. Now, at the time that you signed the 8 agreement to buy and sell, did you sign any other
9 contracts with Mr. Gilbert?
10 A Well, we signed a contract to build the house.
11 Q Okay. And how you find out that Danny was the 12 builder?
13 A Well, when we went out to see Eagle Harbor at his 14 office, he was kind of the umbrella. I mean, he 15 was the guy that was developing. He was the guy
16 that was selling. He's the guy that was building.
17 And so it was all put together with Danny in his 18 office.
19 Q Okay. Let me show you what's been marked as 20 Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 5 and ask do you recognize 21 this document?
22 A Yes.
23 Q What is Exhibit No. 5?
24 A It's a standard form of agreement between the 25 owner and contractor.

1 Q So is it a construction contract?
2 A It is.
3 Q What kind of construction contract is it?
4 A It's a stipulated contract.
5 Q So what was your understanding of that contract in 6 the terms of the stipulated sum?
7 A That it was a fixed priced.
8 Q How much was the fixed price?
9 A It was originally for $160,000 and we increased it
10 to 185.
11 Q Why did you increase the price?
12 A To take care of any possible increase in a parsed
13 cost.
14 Q Okay.
15 A And to handle some of the things that we were 16 going to provide.
17 Q Okay. Who suggested the increase?
18 A Actually, it was the mortgage company that 19 actually suggested the increase.
20 Q Okay. Now, how did y'all decide on that
21 particular price, the original price?
22 A Danny worked it up in his computer. He had a CAD
23 system to do the drawings. And he had a format
24 that he went through for everything in building
25 the house and delineated out what each of those

1 things would cost that came out to a total.
2 Q Okay. And when was construction supposed to 3 commence?
4 A It was -- we were supposedly going to close on the 5 30th of October. And construction would commence
6 immediately. And the house was supposed to be 7 done in 90 days. And . . .
8 Q Did you extend the completion date?
9 A We had to extend the completion date because we 10 didn't close until the 25th of November. So we 11 extended the completion date to the 25th of 12 February to take care of that delay in the 13 closing.
14 Q So what was your understanding as to when the 15 house was to be complete?
16 A Twenty-fifth of February, substantially completed.
17 Q Was time of the essence for you?
18 A Well, it was for us because we -- Diana was living
19 in Ohio at my grandmother's home. And I was 20 living in pretty substandard housing here in 21 temporary quarters waiting for this all to take
22 place. And we had household goods to be delivered
23 that had to be shipped, that had been shipped and 24 were put into storage. So time was critical. The 25 end of February would fit all that for us to move

1 her down here, get me out of the temporary
2 structure that I was in, and to close out the
3 storage materials.
4 Q Okay.
5 A Household goods.
6 Q So were you paying rent during this time?
7 A I was.
8 Q Did you end up paying storage fees?
9 A We did. We paid storage fees through the 10 government for the government storage and we also 11 paid storage fees for other things that we had.
12 Q Okay. Now, how was Gilbert to be paid on this
13 contract?
14 A He was going to get the draws for each. And each
15 draw has a series of things that had to be 16 accomplished before he got paid for that draw.
17 Q What were some of those things?
18 A Well, there is a list here somewhere that gives 19 exactly what had to be done for each one of those 20 draws.
21 Q Is it attached to the contract?
22 A Is it here? Actually, that's the document that 23 you're talking -- that I was talking about that 24 Danny made, is right here in the back of this for 25 the price of the house.

1 Q Okay.
2 A And there's a draw schedule in here too for the 3 first draw.
4 Q Okay. And it contains requirements to get the 5 draw?
6 A It does.
7 Q Okay.
8 A Building permit, septic permit, soil treatment,
9 request for a disbursement form, a foundation
10 survey, inspection of property, and a title
11 update.
12 Q Okay. Now, what other attachments are there
13 besides the draw schedule and the cost estimate?
14 A There are drawings in here.
15 Q Where did those drawings come from?
16 A Danny had a CAD system on this computer and he 17 drew up the drawings and then eventually converted
18 those to blueprints.
19 Q Okay. Now, does the contract refer to other
20 documents that make up the contract? What other
21 documents does it reference? You can publish
22 that.
23 A There's a -- publish which?
24 Q I was gonna say you can publish 9.1.2.
25 A Yeah. The general conditions are the general

1 conditions of the contract for construction AIA
2 document A201, 1987 division.
3 Q Okay. I'll show you that document. Is that the 4 general conditions?
5 A That is the one, yeah.
6 Q What did you understand those to be as part of 7 this contract?
8 A That this is the way that the work would be
9 carried out.
10 Q Okay. And was there also a description of 11 materials referenced in the contract?
12 A In the contract here, description of materials.
13 If that description is this spreadsheet that 14 you're talking about in the back.
15 Q In terms of 9.1.2.
16 A Right. It comes over here --
17 Q Was there also supposed to be a description of 18 materials? I'll go ahead and show you that 19 exhibit.
20 A Okay.
21 Q Who came up with the description of materials?
22 A Well, Danny provided these to us. We didn't come
23 up with the description of the materials.
24 Q Okay. All right. And when did Danny start work?
25 A Well, he had a guy start clearing a lot almost

1 immediately after we signed the contract.
2 Q Did he have a building permit at that time?
3 A I can't answer that.
4 Q Okay.
5 A I don't know.
6 Q All right. So what else did he do?
7 A Well, he just started clearing the lot, had a guy
8 clearing the lot.
9 Q Okay. Let me show you what's been marked as 10 Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 8 and ask if you recognize 11 that e-mail?
12 A I do.
13 Q What prompted that e-mail?
14 A Well, Danny was dragging his feet a little bit in 15 the construction in getting it going. And in this 16 letter, we're telling him, now that the closing is 17 taking place, we're ready to construct the house
18 and we wanted that to happen. And he wasn't
19 building the house at that time.
20 Q Okay. Let me show you what has been marked as 21 Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 9. And did -- first of 22 all, publish the date of the previous exhibit.
23 A The date of the letter was 1 December.
24 Q Okay. And now this e-mail, did Mr. Gilbert
25 respond?

1 A This is 30 December.
2 Q Okay. But Mr. Gilbert's part below that, did he
3 respond?
4 A He did on the 29th of December.
5 Q What did he say?
6 A The following is an update on the project and 7 answers to your questions. Verification of 8 windows from Boozer is being done today.
9 Important that we did that right because they are 10 special order items. He's receiving the framing
11 plan -- he received the framing plans last week.
12 He's reviewed them and delivered your approvals
13 back to Boozer. The new price came in on the fax,
14 $55,732, which is quite an increase in price over
15 that Boozer package.
16 Q What was the cost estimate originally?
17 A Originally it was -- we have that on another
18 document for it by itself. But it . . .
19 Q If you don't remember, that's fine. We can --
20 A Yeah. I don't remember the exact number.
21 Q Okay.
22 A But I thought it was in the 20s.
23 Q Okay. All right. Now, what did Mr. Gilbert say
24 about the septic tank in that e-mail?
25 A The septic tank will be put in by a different

1 company. I have given many opportunities to the 2 first company and was continually stood up.
3 Currently, we're waiting for the design of your
4 septic tank to be completed by DHEC.
5 Q Okay. And what did he say about the building
6 permit?
7 A The building permit has been approved but not 8 picked up yet. I will do that before I call for 9 my first inspection.
10 Q Okay. So up at this point, what work had been 11 done on your home?
12 A At this point, we just had the lot cleared.
13 Q Okay. Let me show you another e-mail and ask that
14 you . . .
15 A Actually, that's -- yeah. Go ahead.
16 Q I'll show you another e-mail and ask that you look
17 at that. Do you recognize it and what prompted
18 you to send that?
19 A Well, this is about we need to know where you
20 stand in preparation for the first draw. Is the 21 weather changing your expectations? We're using 22 the contract cost estimate with the attached draw
23 procedures information you gave us from National 24 City Mortgage and the draw schedule as basis for 25 our expectations. We are expecting copies of the

1 following: document and receipts for permits,
2 invoices, receipts for work done, lot prep,
3 porta-john, dumpster, temporary utilities, power
4 pole, footings, foundation, garage slab. And that 5 is all the same things that are outlined in the 6 other document for a draw.
7 Q Was Danny pushing to be paid?
8 A He was. He was starting -- he was pushing to be 9 paid. He wanted to get paid. And at this point,
10 yeah, he was asking to be paid.
11 Q Okay. Why didn't you pay him?
12 A Things weren't done. He needed to provide these 13 things, which he did not do. And the second thing
14 is the structure was questionable.
15 Q Okay.
16 A The -- yeah, go ahead.
17 Q It's okay. I'm just going to show you this last 18 exhibit and we'll talk about a few other things.
19 Do you recognize this as Plaintiffs' Exhibit
20 No. 11? Oh, can you publish the date of the 21 previous exhibit. When did you send an e-mail
22 about the draw?
23 A January 9th.
24 Q Okay. And how about the next?
25 A This is January 13.

1 Q Okay.
2 A And this is to Patty Zerbst.
3 Q And who is Patty Zerbst?
4 A She's the National City Mortgage representative.
5 Q And what's the substance of that e-mail?
6 A The first draw and plan to completion. And would 7 you like me to publish one and two?
8 Q Sure.
9 A (As read): "We understand Danny will be ready
10 with all applicable documents submitted to you in 11 the first phase of construction completed by 12 16 January. We further understand the critical
13 aspect, information draw procedures, construction
14 loans, the draw schedule, and contractor's rules
15 defined in our contract with Danny. On January 16 20th after receiving and reviewing copies of 17 building and septic permits, termite treatments,
18 builders' risk general liability insurance,
19 receipts and invoices for work, and a copy of the 20 frame-up contract, and the request for 21 authorization from Danny, we will sign it. We 22 understand it will not ensure all actions and 23 documents are in order. We take the chance of 24 failed inspection resulting in delay of 25 disbursement."

1 What we're saying here is we want all these
2 things provided --
3 Q Okay.
4 A To us as outlined originally.
5 Q And that was your expectation of the schedule that 6 he had?
7 A It is our -- the schedule was running late.
8 Q Okay. Now --
9 A And what we're also saying here, we say that on 10 January 26th, as per our contract with Danny and 11 outlined in the disbursement instructions, a check
12 will be cut.
13 Q Okay. So you were prepared to pay him if he met
14 the conditions?
15 A Exactly.
16 Q Okay. Now, was a foundation ever poured or set up
17 on your lot?
18 A One of the conversations Danny and I had when he 19 was pushing for payment, the pad had not yet been 20 poured. And that was one of the things that had 21 to be done yet. And then he did pour that pad and 22 they did do some work.
23 Q Okay. What kind of work?
24 A They were putting up the walls, the concrete
25 walls, which is part of that, and the concrete

1 pad, and the supporting concrete block structures.
2 And I went out to that property and we had a
3 little wind storm. And one of the concrete
4 columns had actually blown over.
5 Q Okay. All right. Did you subsequently terminate
6 Mr. Gilbert's --
7 A We did.
8 Q Okay. Now, did you hire another contractor to 9 finish the job?
10 A We did.
11 Q And who was that?
12 A That was Johnny Kahler.
13 Q Okay. And what happened with that contract?
14 A John started work and he was doing a good job. He 15 was arguing with me about everything. But he 16 was -- his subs were working and they were putting 17 the structure together. And he continued to argue
18 with me and wanted a special meeting with me in a 19 cul-de-sac by myself. And we had a big issue that 20 happened between him and the framer. And he told
21 the framer to stop working. And so we ended up
22 firing him, John Kahler.
23 Q Okay. Did you hire a contractor after that?
24 A We did.
25 Q Who was that?

1 A Todd Seibel.
2 Q Jump out of order here.
3 A It would've been great if we hired him to start
4 with.
5 Q Show you -- and I'm jumping ahead -- to 6 Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 31 and ask do you
7 recognize that document?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Is that your contract with Mr. Seibel?
10 A It is.
11 Q And what was the contract price for that?
12 A The contract price is $20,000.
13
14 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor?
15 THE COURT: What number is this?
16 MR. JACKSON: This is 31.
17 THE COURT: Thank you.
18
19 Q And why was it different than the contract price
20 you had with Mr. Gilbert?
21 A Mr. Gilbert's contract price for him was around
22 15.
23 Q Okay.
24 A And the construction of the house contract, is
25 that --

1 Q Yeah. What's the construction price?
2 A 20950.
3 Q Why is that higher than the 185?
4 A Because some things had changed. I mean, the cost
5 of the Boozer package was substantially different.
6 Q Okay. All right.
7 A And we continued on with the original drawings in
8 that package that Danny had put together.
9 Q Okay. So is that contract or the scope of work
10 any different than the Gilbert contract?
11 A The scope of work is the same.
12 Q Okay.
13
14 MR. JACKSON: That's all I have of this 15 witness, Your Honor.
16 THE COURT: Mr. Ferrara?
17 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, Your Honor. May it
18 please the Court?

20 CROSS-EXAMINATION
21 BY MR. FERRARA:
22 Q Mr. Price, as you know, I'm representing Mr. and 23 Mrs. Fox in this action. And what I'd like to do
24 is go back to your testimony earlier about your 25 conversations with Mr. Gilbert.

1 A Okay.
2 Q And let's take a look at -- let's see. You may
3 have it before you, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 2,
4 which is the contract. And those first initial
5 meetings with Danny, you testified that
6 Mr. Gilbert showed you Lot 20, and you and your 7 wife ultimately decided to enter into this
8 contract, correct?
9 A That is correct.
10 Q Okay. Now, I've heard your testimony. And you
11 understand -- I've heard your testimony on the 12 stand this morning, and you understand the 13 importance of these written contracts, correct?
14 A Yes.
15 Q Okay. And you understand that the words in these 16 contracts have meaning and explain the rights and 17 obligations of all the parties that are party to 18 the contract?
19 A Yes.
20 Q Okay. So let's look at Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 2.
21 And 8.A, is it not true that you and your wife
22 purchased Lot 20 as is?
23 A We did.
24 Q Okay.
25 A With the as is meaning that it would be a

1 buildable lot in a subdivision and all the laws of 2 a subdivision would apply to that.
3 Q Sure. And we're going to get to that. But,
4 additionally, your testimony was that Mr. Gilbert
5 told you that the property would perk, meaning a
6 septic system would be approved on Lot 20,
7 correct?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Okay. Now, when we look at the contract, is it
10 not true -- we flip to page 2, sir, under 11 paragraph 21 -- you and your wife also have here
12 that this contract is contingent upon drain field
13 site (soil test)?
14 A And that's what I was looking for with Derrick's
15 question.
16 Q Sure.
17 A And that's when I asked him what about the soil
18 test?
19 Q Right.
20 A And he said that's been done.
21 Q Okay.
22 A It's been taken care of.
23 Q Well, if you just relied upon Mr. Gilbert's
24 representation at the time of signing the contract
25 with the soil test as a nonissue, why would you

1 put it in the contract?
2 A I didn't write the contract.
3 Q Okay.
4 A He wrote it.
5 Q Well, now --
6 A I didn't ask that that be put in there.
7 Q Sure.
8 A That was just part of it.
9 Q And you and your wife did carefully review this
10 two-page contract before signing it, correct?
11 A When you say carefully review, it sounds like 12 that's a loaded question. And we reviewed it and 13 with the knowledge we had at the time, we signed
14 that contract, yeah. We thought we understood it.
15 Q Sure. Sure. I mean, I know that you wouldn't 16 have signed this contract if you didn't understand
17 the terms in it, correct?
18 A We thought we did.
19 Q Sure. Now, if we look at paragraph 10, doesn't 20 the contract require, despite being as is, require 21 you and your wife to have the responsibility of 22 inspecting environmental concerns and performing a
23 wetland study? If we look at the first two lines
24 of paragraph 10.
25 A Yeah, I see that.

1 Q I know you see it. But I'm saying if you look at 2 the contract, you would agree with me that you and
3 your wife, pursuant to this contract, had the 4 responsibility to inspect and perform a wetland
5 study on this property before you purchased it,
6 correct?
7 A Yes.
8 Q Okay.
9 A But, may I add something to that?
10 Q Sure. Sure.
11 A It's our understanding that those things were 12 taken care of in the subdivision.
13 Q Sure. Well, and that's my question. Is if you --
14 A I'm not -- go ahead.
15 Q If you and your wife were understanding that these 16 things that are in the contract were already done,
17 why wouldn't you just line through those and say,
18 well, that doesn't apply because we think those
19 are already completed?
20 A I normally don't go lining through contracts to 21 start with.
22 Q Well, let's be clear to the Court. In this
23 particular two-page contract, you and your wife
24 carefully reviewed every paragraph before you
25 signed it, right?

1 A We read every paragraph before signed it.
2 Q And it's true that you and your wife also added in
3 language to this contract, did you not?
4 A The language about the subdivision?
5 Q Yes -- no. The language about the subdivision,
6 did you add that in? Paragraph 8, 8.I.
7 A We asked about -- yes.
8 Q Okay.
9 A We had -- we did add that. We didn't add it to 10 here. He already put it on there. We had a 11 discussion. And in that discussion when we were 12 talking to Danny, said he could divide it. He put 13 that in the contract.
14 Q And, additionally, you and your wife agreed
15 that -- and I understand your testimony that 16 Mr. Gilbert had agreed, and it's in the contract,
17 8.I, to allow the subdivision of the lots. And 18 that was part of your understanding. But you made
19 sure it was in the contract and that was my point.
20 Now, sir, if you look at paragraph 10, do you
21 agree that you and your wife, considering this
22 property being purchased as is, that if you failed
23 to notify the seller or the listing agent -- and 24 this is the last sentence of paragraph 10, sir --
25 of any results of any inspections or studies that

1 you or your wife would've done or could've done,
2 that you deem to waive those privileges of any
3 inspections if you proceed forward to closing?
4 A That's what it says.
5 Q Right. And that's what you understand, correct?
6 A I understood that we didn't really need to do
7 that.
8 Q Okay. And so, the exhibit, which I believe -- the 9 settlement statement exhibit, you and your wife, I
10 believe you testified, proceeded forward to 11 closing despite paragraph 10. And, finally, sir,
12 if you could turn to page 2, did you also 13 understand that any changes to this contract must 14 be in writing?
15 A Does it say that?
16 Q I believe it does. But I was also asking your 17 understanding. You understood -- you and your 18 wife understood when you signed this agreement
19 that any changes to the contract would be required
20 to be in writing. Was that your understanding?
21 A Normally, that's what we did.
22 Q Okay. And so, the agreement that you and your 23 wife had with Mr. Gilbert on behalf of Belinda
24 Fox, the complete agreement is contained in 25 Exhibit 2, is it not?

1 A The complete agreement meaning that we have a
2 buildable lot in phase two of Eagle Harbor. That
3 we could put a house up there, and Danny will put
4 that up there with this other contract.
5 Q Sure. And let's go through that. You do have a
6 buildable lot, do you not? Lot 20 is buildable.
7 You house is on there today, correct?
8 A My house is on there today.
9 Q Okay. And if we look at paragraph 8.I, it says
10 that the developer, and you understood that to be
11 Danny at the time as I understand your testimony,
12 agreed to allow subdividing that property, meaning
13 Lot 20, into two separate lots with the 14 possibility of three lots upon approval of 15 homeowners' association?
16 A Right.
17 Q Okay. And I understand your testimony, you and 18 your wife relied upon Danny and you relied upon 19 the fact that the lot could be subdivided when 20 deciding to move forward with the contract.
21 A Yeah. And buildable lots.
22 Q Okay. Well, sir, can you tell me in paragraph 8
23 or anywhere in the contract where Mrs. Fox or 24 Mr. Gilbert represented to you in writing that the 25 lot, the additional lots, meaning the additional

1 subdivided lots, would be buildable?
2 A That's all we understood about lots in a
3 subdivision is that they would be buildable lots.
4 You wouldn't have a lot if it wasn't buildable in
5 a subdivision.
6 Q But let's be clear with the Court, though. You
7 and your wife understood that if the lots would be
8 subdivided, you assumed they would be buildable
9 lots. But when you look at the contract, it
10 doesn't say that the additional subdivided lots
11 would be buildable, correct?
12 A Correct. And then it does -- those words are not 13 there, but it's implied. It's in a subdivision.
14 It's a lot you're separating in a subdivision.
15 Q Well, and I apologize. Earlier I didn't reference
16 you -- paragraph 11, which is right below
17 paragraph 10, does it not say, Mr. Price, that the 18 complete agreement is set forth in these two pages
19 and that -- and I'm paraphrasing -- that only a 20 subsequent written signed, you know, document by 21 both parties could change that agreement?
22 A Yes, it says that.
23 Q And it further says that the buyer and seller,
24 meaning you and your wife being the buyers,
25 Mrs. Fox being the seller, acknowledge that they

1 have not received or relied upon any statements
2 which are not expressly stated herein.
3 A That's what it says.
4 Q Right. So everything --
5 A But your term of what you're arguing about right
6 now is a separate lot. And our interpretation of 7 a separate lot is a buildable lot.
8 Q Sure. Right. I'm not trying to argue with you,
9 sir. I'm just asking you that to see if you would
10 agree that this last sentence of paragraph 11 says
11 that you and your wife agreed that you have not 12 relied upon or received any statements which are 13 not contained in these two pages before you signed
14 that agreement. Do you see that today?
15 A I see that today.
16 Q Okay. Now, let's talk a little bit about Jeffrey
17 Spell. Your attorney just presented some 18 testimony and you testified about Jeffrey Spell
19 being Mr. Gilbert's attorney, I believe. And 20 he --
21 A I testified that he was the closing attorney.
22 Q He was the closing attorney. Okay. Now, did you
23 or your wife contact Mr. Spell about reviewing 24 this contract before you signed it?
25 A No.

1 Q Okay. You would agree that you're sophisticated
2 and experienced in general?
3 A No.
4 Q You would not. I think you're quite articulate.
5 Would you agree you're at least articulate?
6 A I can sometimes express myself.
7 Q Sure. Sure. I mean, when we look at exhibits
8 that you've already introduced in this case, in 9 this lawsuit, it's pretty clear that you and your 10 wife understand the importance of contracts, the 11 importance of holding Mr. Gilbert, you know, to 12 his AIA contract that you testified. You agree to 13 that?
14 A We learned all that. That was not the knowledge
15 that we had when we signed this contract for sure.
16 Q Okay. Sir, Exhibit No. 2 that you have in your 17 hand, 8D -- or 8C -- C rather says you're going --
18 that buyer is to receive a copy of the covenants
19 from closing attorney at closing?
20 A That did not happen.
21 Q That didn't happen because you nor your wife asked
22 Mr. Spell to give you a copy of those documents?
23 A He wasn't there.
24 Q Okay. Will you agree that you paid -- if we look
25 at Exhibit No. 3 -- you actually appeared on

1 behalf of your wife as power of attorney in
2 closing, and you agreed to the settlement
3 statement and paid Lowcountry Title Services for
4 closing?
5 A Yeah, we paid them.
6 Q On Exhibit No. 3, sir, there is a signature that 7 says Jeffrey T. Spell by Brian W. Badger. Was 8 Mr. Badger, another attorney, at Mr. Spell's
9 office handling --
10 A Badger was there, yes.
11 Q Okay. And so he was filling in for Mr. Spell?
12 A He signed for him, yes.
13 Q And he's an attorney?
14 A I don't know whether he's an attorney or not. He 15 may be, he may not be. I don't know. He was at 16 that office.
17 Q Okay. But you agree he was an agent on behalf of 18 Mr. Spell that was representing you and your wife
19 in this transaction?
20 A I agree he signed this, yes.
21 Q Well, you know, up until you signed the settlement
22 statement, you or your wife could have told 23 Mr. Gilbert, hey, we don't have the covenants, we 24 haven't performed any studies, and we don't want
25 to move forward with this closing. Correct?

1 A Of course that's correct. But also we were under
2 a lot of pressure to do something to move here and
3 to get the building going.
4 Q Sure.
5 A And this had already been delayed. We were trying 6 to have a place to live.
7 Q Sure. I understand. Now --
8 A And -- go ahead.
9 Q Looking back at the settlement statement, sir,
10 which I think is Exhibit No. 3, you and your wife
11 or you paid -- you paid for title insurance on Lot
12 20, correct?
13 A Yes.
14 Q And is it not true that you and your wife filed a 15 title claim claiming the exact same damages that 16 you're claiming in this suit --
17
18 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, I object to any 19 testimony about insurance in this matter. It's 20 clearly independent, wholly independent, under 21 collateral source rule. That's not relevant to 22 this trial. What they did with their insurance
23 company based on the premiums they paid, what they 24 did with that is not relevant to this trial. And 25 I would object to the introduction of any evidence

1 about their insurance and their title insurance
2 claims.
3 THE COURT: So who is the -- Mr. Ferrara, how
4 is insurance, if it is separate, be relevant
5 today?
6 MR. FERRARA: It's relevant, Your Honor, to 7 the damages. The claim to damages by the prices
8 in this action are the identical damages that they 9 sought in the other lawsuit. And I would proffer,
10 Your Honor, that the testimony will establish that 11 the other lawsuit, the damages that were paid, are 12 the same damages. And the collateral source rule
13 doesn't apply when the fact that the damages have 14 already been paid in a separate action are the 15 purpose of the admission of the information, not 16 that a third party paid information. And it's a 17 bench trial, Your Honor. So the word insurance is 18 not prejudicial, I don't believe. But the damages
19 that they are claiming are the same damages.
20 Damages in this lawsuit are the same damages that
21 they've been paid for in that lawsuit.
22 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, if I may address
23 that quickly.
24 THE COURT: Sure.
25 MR. JACKSON: The collateral source rule --

1 and I've got a copy of the case here I'll be glad
2 to hand Your Honor -- provides that compensation
3 received by an injured party from a source wholly 4 independent of the wrongdoer will not reduce the 5 amount of damage owed by that wrongdoer. That's
6 the purpose of it. And he's trying to elicit
7 testimony about what damages as some kind of 8 set-off or something. It's simply not allowed
9 because my client has paid for title insurance.
10 They paid for an owner's policy. They paid the 11 premiums. It's wholly independent of what Mr. Fox
12 or Mr. Gilbert or any of these other defendants
13 did. And so there's no relevancy to this 14 proceeding to go into what the title insurance
15 damages is.
16 MR. FERRARA: If, Your Honor, I could just
17 briefly. I have one more thing. The title policy
18 included in the title policy and that's already 19 admitted in the other action has the rights and 20 the obligations of the parties, and it has that 21 there are subrogation interests. The title
22 insurance company pursuant to that contract stands
23 in the shoes of the seller, which was Belinda Fox,
24 on this Lot 20. And they have a power of 25 subrogation that's implicit in that. To be candid

1 with the Court, in the title insurance settlement,
2 there was a carve-out or a waiver of subrogation
3 rights. But that still doesn't negate the fact
4 that the damages that are being sought in this 5 action are damages for which the prices have 6 already been paid for.
7 THE COURT: All right. What we'll do,
8 gentlemen, is I'll go ahead and hear the testimony
9 subject to the objection and clarification that I
10 may need to flesh that legal issue. I want all 11 the information in front of me because some of 12 that information may be important to determine --
13 MR. JACKSON: Well, Your Honor, the other
14 point I'd like to raise. There is a confidential
15 settlement that is involved with that case. That 16 was one of the terms that my clients executed with 17 the title company. And his point about the 18 subrogation rights still applying, that might be 19 applicable if title -- Investors Title were suing
20 his clients, but they're not. And as he 21 mentioned, there's an expressed carve-out and 22 waiver of subrogation rights to my clients and a
23 waiver -- and, you know, an expressed non-release
24 of these defendants.
25 THE COURT: I think that's why I need all

1 that information to be able to understand the
2 argument. Because if his argument is such that
3 it's not independent because of the subrogation
4 rights, and your position is that it's carved out
5 and, therefore, that doesn't apply, then I need
6 all that information to make that.
7 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, I can furnish you
8 an in-camera copy of that settlement agreement so
9 you can see that it's carved out for yourself
10 before you take his testimony.
11 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Ferrara, your 12 position on that?
13 MR. FERRARA: My position, Your Honor, I
14 would request Your Honor to do what your initial 15 ruling was, was to hear the testimony. Because my 16 client's position is that even though the 17 subrogation issue might've been carved out, it
18 still does not resolve the issue about the 19 damages. And that if the damages that the Prices
20 are seeking in this action have already been paid
21 in another action, then the testimony is relevant
22 at least on that point, Your Honor. It's not --
23 I'm not trying to get around the collateral source
24 rule, Your Honor. But the testimony is offered
25 for an additional purpose which is to the damages

1 that the Prices are seeking in this case.
2 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, again, the
3 collateral source clearly applies. There's no
4 relevancy to the damage. I don't see how damage
5 could even be claimed as a set-off unless his 6 client somehow had a way that they paid to this
7 policy. And I have excerpts I'd be glad to show
8 the Court that would show the carve-outs that I've 9 already furnished to Mr. Ferrara.
10 THE COURT: All right. Let me take a look at 11 the documents regarding the carve-out.
12 MR. JACKSON: This is not a full document.
13 This is the part that shows the carve-out, Your 14 Honor. And would direct the Court's attention to 15 subparagraph C and to the release provisions. And 16 here's the confidentiality provision.
17 MR. FERRARA: And, Your Honor, if I might
18 approach, I also have the title policy that I
19 could pass up to Your Honor and reference the 20 section I was referring to.
21 THE COURT: And where's the carve-out?
22 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, if I may show the 23 Court subsection C, the waiver of the subrogation
24 rights.
25 THE COURT: Okay. I see it now.

1 MR. JACKSON: And there's also a part in the 2 release that says it doesn't release those
3 specific parties. If it's not on that page, I
4 have it on another page. I have a full copy of 5 the agreement.
6 On page 3, I would show the Court this as
7 well. Second paragraph, Your Honor.
8
9 (Brief pause.)
10
11 THE COURT: All right, gentlemen. What I'm
12 going to do is I should -- I believe they call
13 these exhibits on there -- I think I want to go
14 ahead and hear from Paul's testimony. You know,
15 I'll of course hear the argument. I'm not ruling
16 at this time as to the effect of all that. I'm 17 going to listen to all the testimony and then I'll 18 listen to -- after having had a chance to look at 19 it more closely, because I wasn't aware this was 20 coming down the road.
21 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, because of the 22 confidentiality provision, can we have an 23 in-camera, just Mr. Ferrara and Mr. Hubbard, on 24 the testimony because of the confidential
25 provision?

1 THE COURT: All right. That sounds
2 reasonable. Any objection to that, Mr. Ferrara?
3 MR. FERRARA: No, Your Honor.
4 THE COURT: Okay.
5 MR. FERRARA: Just, let's see, Your Honor, I
6 guess -- would Your Honor wanting us to mark
7 the -- mark these exhibits, the settlement
8 agreement and the title policy, maybe Court's
9 exhibit?
10 THE COURT: Court's exhibits, yes, please.
11 MR. JACKSON: Yes.
12 THE COURT: That's a good idea.
13 MR. JACKSON: Yes.
14 THE COURT: We'll get those marked and we'll
15 proceed the in-camera hearing, and we'll excuse
16 everybody else while we take care of that. All
17 right.
18
19 (Whereupon, Court's Exhibit No. 1,
20 Settlement Agreement, was marked for 21 identification.)
22
23 (Whereupon, Court's Exhibit No. 2,
24 Insurance Title Policy, was marked for 25 identification.)

2 THE COURT: All right. We can proceed.
3 We're proceeding in-camera regarding the issue
4 regarding the confidentiality and the testimony
5 related to that. Go ahead, Mr. Ferrara.
6 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, Your Honor. May it
7 please the Court?
8
9 BY MR. FERRARA (In-Camera):
10 Q Mr. Price, I was asking you -- we've talked about 11 it, but I'll ask you now. It's true that you and 12 your wife filed a title claim for damages that you
13 and your wife claimed that you suffered as a
14 result of the Lot 20 deficiencies, correct?
15 A Yes. There was a title insurance claim.
16 Q Okay. And --
17
18 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, I'm permitted to be 19 able to ask him the amount?
20 THE COURT: Yes.
21 MR. FERRARA: Okay.
22
23 Q Mr. Price, how much was -- what was the amount of 24 the settlement that you and your wife had with 25 Investors Title?

1 A I don't know.
2 Q Okay. I believe that we have the Court's
3 document, the Court's exhibit, to maybe refresh
4 your recollection. I'll hand that --
5
6 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, may I hand this to 7 the witness?
8 THE COURT: Which court exhibit --
9 MR. FERRARA: Court's Exhibit No. 1.
10 THE COURT: Exhibit No. 1. Okay.
11
12 Q Sir, I'm handing you Court's Exhibit No. 1. And 13 if you'd flip to page 2, you and your wife
14 received a $125,000 settlement for your title
15 insurance claim for Lot 20 deficiencies, correct?
16 A That's what it says. This is the first time I've 17 seen this document.
18 Q Well, if you go to page -- the signature page of 19 that document, is that your signature on the 20 document?
21 A It is. My wife asked me to sign and I signed it.
22 Q So you didn't read it?
23 A I did not.
24 Q Okay. All right. But you do agree that you and 25 your wife received the $125,000 for damages

1 associated with Lot 20, correct?
2 A That's what it says.
3 Q Well, now I'm asking you -- you said you couldn't
4 remember. But I'm asking if you could tell the 5 Court from your memory, did you and your wife
6 receive money for damages from Lot 20
7 deficiencies?
8 A We got a check, right. I don't know. I didn't
9 see the check.
10 Q You don't know. Okay. Now, that $125,000 that's 11 referenced on page 2, you and your wife had 12 instituted a lawsuit pro se at some point,
13 correct? Meaning without an attorney.
14 A Against -- yes.
15 Q Okay. And as I understand in that action, you and 16 your wife initially reached a settlement
17 agreement. And then that settlement agreement was 18 set aside and you went back and negotiated a new 19 settlement agreement that resulted in this 20 $125,000 settlement, correct?
21 A I would assume so.
22 Q Okay. Now, the $125,000 that Investors Title paid
23 to you and your wife, that was for the wetland
24 issue on the two acres of Lot 20, correct?
25 A I can't tell you that. I don't know.

1 Q Okay. Do you recall writing Investors Title and 2 explaining to them what damages you were seeking
3 under that title insurance policy?
4 A No.
5 Q You don't. Okay. Do you recall -- would your 6 wife have handled that, that communication with 7 Investors Title?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Okay. Did you speak with your wife about her
10 letter to Investors Title in 2004 about the title
11 claim?
12 A I'm sure I spoke to her.
13 Q Okay.
14
15 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, may I suggest
16 something? Just I'm trying to move this along.
17 Obviously, Ms. Price was the primary one who dealt 18 with this claim. This is an in-camera hearing. I
19 don't have an objection if you want to put her on 20 the stand and let him ask these questions to the 21 more knowledgeable person so we can move this 22 along.
23 THE COURT: All right. Do you want to do
24 that, Mr. Ferrara?
25 MR. FERRARA: Yes, Your Honor.

1 MR. JACKSON: Ms. Price.
2 THE COURT: We're going to let you step down,
3 Mr. Price. You're still under oath and you're
4 still a witness. We're just going to substitute
5 in your wife, okay.
6
7 (Mr. Ronald Price exits the witness
8 stand at 10:46 a.m.)
9 (Whereupon, the witness, DIANA RAE
10 PRICE, was duly sworn.)
11
12 THE COURT: Thank you, ma'am. Sit down, give 13 your name, spell your last name for the court
14 reporter.
15 THE WITNESS: Diana Rae Price, P-R-I-C-E.

17 DIRECT EXAMINATION
18 BY MR. FERRARA (In-Camera):
19 Q Mrs. Price, I'm just going to limit my questions
20 at this time to the title claim. Did you handle,
21 primarily handle, the title claim with Investors
22 Title regarding Lot 20?
23 A I did.
24 Q Okay. And did you write a letter to Investors
25 Title detailing the problems you and your husband

1 had with --

3 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, I object to this on 4 relevancy grounds. We have a copy of the 5 complaint that was filed by an attorney on behalf
6 of the Prices in the case detailing their claims.
7 So what my client wrote a letter about is just
8 simply not relevant.
9 THE COURT: I'll go ahead and hear from him.
10 Go ahead, Mr. Ferrara.
11 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, Your Honor. Your 12 Honor, I guess at this time what I'll do is maybe 13 mark this as Court's Exhibit No. 3 for 14 identification at this moment.
15 THE COURT: What was Court's Exhibit No. 2?
16 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, Court's Exhibit
17 No. 2 was the five-page Investor Title -- excuse
18 me -- six-pages -- Investors Title insurance
19 policy.
20 THE COURT: So 3 will be the letter?
21 MR. FERRARA: Yes, sir.
22 THE COURT: Okay.
23
24 (Whereupon, Court's Exhibit No. 3,
25 Letter, was marked for identification.)

1 MR. FERRARA: May I approach the witness,
2 Your Honor?
3 THE COURT: Yes.
4
5 BY MR. FERRARA (Continuing):
6 Q Mrs. Price, I'm handing you this two-page document
7 that's identified as Court's Exhibit No. 3. It's 8 a copy of a letter -- is that a letter written by 9 you to Investors Title?
10 A It is.
11 Q Okay. And is it not true that in 2004, March of 12 2004, you advised Investors Title that you and 13 your husband were defrauded -- and I'm 14 paraphrasing -- defrauded and misinformed about 15 the status of Lot 20, and that you believe that 16 the covenants and the plat in this action, in that 17 action, were not validly recorded, the title was 18 unmarketable, that the restrictive covenants as to 19 Eagle Harbor don't apply to your lot, and that the 20 soil tests were not made aware to you and your 21 husband?
22 A I don't see all that in this letter.
23 Q Okay. And I'm just referring to -- I apologize,
24 if I could look over your shoulder. Okay. I
25 apologize. I have the wrong letter there. The

1 letter that you have is March 14, 2004, correct?
2 A It looks like it.
3 Q Okay. And that's a letter -- that's a letter that
4 you wrote to Investors Title?
5 A I did.
6 Q Okay.
7
8 MR. FERRARA: And at this time, Your Honor, I
9 would move to just admit Court's Exhibit No. 3 as 10 a letter, two-page letter, written by Diana Price
11 dated, I believe, it's March 14, 2004.
12 MR. JACKSON: As a Court exhibit, my
13 objection on relevance and grounds.
14 THE COURT: Agreed. That is a court's 15 exhibit subject to the objections of the 16 plaintiff.
17
18 A May I say something?
19 Q Sure.
20 A This page 2 is --
21 Q One second.
22
23 MR. JACKSON: Y'all can't be in here. I'm 24 sorry.
25 THE COURT: Yeah. Not yet, folks.

2 A This page 2 is a different page 2 to a different
3 letter.
4 Q Okay. I apologize.
5 A These are not -- these do not go together.
6 Q Let me take a look real quick.
8 THE COURT: Gentlemen, we got the -- we have
9 the letter and then we'll have the complaint.
10 That basically outlines what you contend,
11 Mr. Ferrara, would be the claim for damages under 12 that policy. Is that right?
13 MR. FERRARA: Additionally, Your Honor, there
14 is a second letter, just the one page.
15 THE COURT: We got all the letters in there.
16 And I think I understand the argument. I don't 17 want to cut you short if you want to ask more
18 questions. I'll certainly let you. I just want 19 to make sure that I know where we're at and to 20 make a suggestion that it's my understanding that 21 that's the basis -- that will give me the 22 information that I think I need to be able to make 23 a determination on that. And it will allow us to 24 basically take that portion under advisement and 25 then proceed with the rest of the testimony as to

1 Mr. Price to keep it moving along.
2 MR. FERRARA: Okay.
3 THE COURT: Any problem with that?
4 MR. JACKSON: No, your Honor. I'd like to 5 ask her one or two redirect questions to clarify
6 the issue on collateral source rule. And I do
7 have a copy of the complaint that was filed by the 8 attorney that I can add as a court exhibit.
9 THE WITNESS: May I say something? I still 10 have not got the --
11 THE COURT: Hang on.
12 MR. JACKSON: So this will be a court
13 exhibit, whatever number we're up to know. This 14 is a copy of the complaint filed February 22,
15 2007, by Mr. Joseph Ginn on behalf of the Prices
16 against Investors Title. I would note for the 17 Court that Investors Title was the sole defendant
18 in that action.
19
20 (Whereupon, Court's Exhibit No. 4,
21 Complaint, was marked for 22 identification.)
23
24 MR. FERRARA: And, Your Honor, for clarity
25 and to expedite the matter, if the parties would

1 agree to this stipulation, I think I'll be done --
2 I won't have any more questions at this time from 3 Mrs. Price in that the -- let's see.
4 In the Court's file downstairs, Your Honor,
5 in the other case, in the Court's file -- and has 6 already in court documents that two letters that
7 I -- we're seeking to advise the Court on. And --
8 let's see here. I just want to be clear. Yeah.
9 Your Honor, in 2007-CP-08-458 there is -- in the 10 Court's file downstairs, there's a binder in 11 response to summary judgment with affidavits. And 12 it contains the two letters that I would like the 13 Court -- draw the Court's attention to -- in order
14 to be able to make a ruling about that specific 15 issue in the case. And that way there won't be 16 any question about which page, page 1 or page 2,
17 is right. But there are two letters and I've got 18 the dates in the Court's file downstairs if the 19 parties would agree that we could just --
20 MR. JACKSON: If that's part of the file,
21 sure.
22 MR. FERRARA: Yeah. If we could just have 23 Your Honor look at that.
24 THE COURT: You're suggesting that those are 25 clear as to which page belongs to which?

1 MR. FERRARA: Yes.
2 THE COURT: I understand. Any objection?
3 MR. JACKSON: No objection, Your Honor.
4 THE COURT: Okay. All right. You said you
5 wanted to follow up with some --
6 MR. JACKSON: Just real quick.

8 CROSS-EXAMINATION
9 BY MR. JACKSON (In-Camera):
10 Q Mrs. Price, did you have an owner's policy for 11 this property?
12 A We did.
13 Q And who paid the premiums for that owner's policy?
14 A We did.
15 Q Did anybody else provide any funds or source of 16 funds for that owner's policy?
17 A We -- no.
18 Q And the suit that you hired a lawyer to do in your
19 complaint, that was on that policy, correct?
20 A Correct.
21 Q For the contract and bad faith refusal to adjust
22 your claim?
23 A Correct.
24 MR. JACKSON: That's it, Your Honor. And,
25 Your Honor, I have a case I'd like to present to

1 the Court on the collateral source rule.
2 THE COURT: Thank you.
3 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, if I may? Very
4 tiny redirect in that --

6 REDIRECT EXAMINATION
7 BY MR. FERRARA (In-Camera):
8 Q Mrs. Price, you and your husband also brought 9 causes of action for negligent misrepresentation
10 fraud in connection with Lot 20 and sought to 11 include an unfair trade practices action in the 12 2007 08-458 too, correct?
13 A I do not remember that.
14 Q Well --
15
16 MR. JACKSON: Can you clarify? Was that the 17 pro se version or was that the one drafted by the 18 lawyer?
19 MR. FERRARA: I don't want to misrepresent
20 anything to the Court. Maybe I'll just ask this.
21
22 Q Ma'am, would you agree that whatever actions you
23 took in the Investors Title case that are in the 24 Court's file downstairs were taken by either you
25 or your attorney in that action?

1 A In the Court's file?
2 Q Yes.
3 A Yes.
4 Q Okay.
5
6 MR. FERRARA: That's all I have.
7 MR. JACKSON: Nothing further on this, Your
8 Honor.
9 THE COURT: Mr. Hubbard, do you have 10 anything?
11 MR. HUBBARD: I don't.
12 THE COURT: Didn't mean to ignore you.
13 MR. HUBBARD: No, I'm okay. I don't have any
14 questions. Thank you.
15 THE COURT: If I try and ignore you, please
16 speak right up, okay. You can step down,
17 Mrs. Price.
18 Discontinue, I guess, the in-camera portion
19 of that. I have enough information now to make a 20 ruling on that once I get a chance to study up on 21 it.
22 MR. JACKSON: Okay.
23 THE COURT: Mr. Price, come on back up. Make 24 sure we got those properly marked, gentlemen,
25 because I'm trying to keep track, but I hope y'all

1 are.
2 MR. JACKSON: Yes, sir.
4 (Mr. Price resumes the witness stand at 5 10:58 a.m.)
6 - - - - -
7 CROSS-EXAMINATION
8 BY MR. FERRARA (Continuing):
9 Q Mr. Price, we were talking about the closing. And 10 I think I'd asked you that -- let's see. I asked
11 you about the wetland study or maybe I did not.
12 Did you or your wife have a wetland study done on 13 Lot 20 before you purchased it?
14 A No.
15 Q Okay. And did you and your wife have any type of 16 boring samples completed or a soils test completed
17 before closing?
18 A No.
19 Q Did you or your wife contact a septic company or 20 anyone to determine the location, the appropriate
21 location, of a septic permit on Lot 20?
22 A No.
23
24 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, I don't believe
25 there's an objection and I would seek to move into

1 evidence Defendant Fox's Exhibit No. 1 which is a
2 plat dated, or recorded rather, Your Honor,
3 9/26/2002 in the Plat Cabinet P at page 281-A.
4 THE COURT: Any objection?
5 MR. JACKSON: No objection, Your Honor.
6 THE COURT: Admitted without objection.
7 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, if I may approach,
8 I have a small copy for the Court's reference
9 during the testimony. I apologize. I should have 10 brought a larger copy.
11 Your Honor, may I approach the witness?
12 THE COURT: Yes.
13
14 (Whereupon, Defendant Fox's Exhibit No.
15 1, Plat, was received into evidence.)
16
17 BY MR. FERRARA (Continuing):
18 Q Mr. Price, taking a look at this plat that's in 19 evidence, Lot 20 on Saddlehorn at the end of the 20 cul-de-sac, that's the lot that you and your wife
21 purchased, correct?
22 A It is.
23 Q Okay. Did you or your wife refer to the plat
24 prior to closing?
25 A I don't think so.

1 Q If you take a look at it, would that help refresh
2 your recollection about whether you've looked at 3 it before?
4 A I've looked at it, but I don't think we looked at 5 it before closing.
6 Q Okay.
7 A We looked at it a lot since.
8 Q A lot since. Okay. And you agree that on the 9 right-hand side of that plat that's recorded in 10 Berkeley County that the engineer noted that no
11 wetland study had been completed?
12 A No wetland delineation or environmental studies
13 have been done.
14 Q And do you know if Mr. Spell, your attorney for 15 closing, in connection with the title search
16 would've reviewed that plat on your behalf?
17 A I have no idea. I never talked to Mr. Spell.
18 Q What about the attorney that you did speak with at 19 closing, Mr. Brian Badger?
20 A He did not discuss this with me.
21 Q Okay.
22 A If he saw it. I don't know whether he did or not.
23 Q Okay. Now, when we look, sir, to the deed that's 24 already in evidence -- which I believe is 25 Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 4, and I'll hand that to

1 you. Looking at the legal description, does it
2 not reference the plat that is Defendant Fox's
3 Exhibit No. 1?
4 A I'm sure it does. The description sounds right.
5 Q Okay. And, sir, what I was referring to was 6 just -- I'll help you here -- was just page 1
7 about halfway down where it says Exhibit A?
8 A Okay.
9 Q Exhibit A has a legal description. I know that --
10 A It does.
11 Q -- Mr. Spell to handle that. But it references a 12 plat. It says it's the final plat of Eagle
13 Harbor.
14 A In Plat Book P at page 281-A?
15 Q Right.
16 A Yes.
17 Q And Defendant's Exhibit No. 1 that's before you,
18 that is a full-size copy of that plat, correct?
19 A I assume that it is. I mean, I can't -- I don't 20 see a number on here that corresponds to this.
21 Q Oh, sure. The P 281?
22 A Page 143 of 2382.
23 Q Yeah, it's really tiny.
24 A Page 281, okay?
25 Q Yeah. Yeah. And so that's what was recorded at

1 Berkeley County of the time you and your wife
2 closed on Lot 20 in November 2003, correct?
3 A Yes. That's what this says.
4 Q Sure. Now, we talked about the no wetland
5 delineation done. And also, if you look 6 carefully, sir, at the plat, it states that the 7 roads -- that there's a private ingress/egress
8 easement on the roads. Now, I can help you there
9 and ask if you agree with that?
10 A Yeah. It says private 50-foot ingress/egress.
11 Q Right. And so if you look -- if you and your wife
12 or your attorney looked at that plat, you would 13 see that the roads in Eagle Harbor at the time of 14 your closing were private, correct?
15 A I see that description.
16 Q Are you and your wife seeking damages against my
17 client Belinda or Gerry Fox or Eagle Harbor
18 Partnership for the roads in Eagle Harbor being 19 private or are you not?
20 A In the separate road issue not . . .
21 Q Right. And I apologize. Just for clarity, I
22 think, Your Honor, I wasn't trying to get to the 23 general road claims. I'm talking about on this
24 action here today, sir. It's just about Lot 20
25 and any claims you and your wife might have. And

1 my question is that in this action today, are you
2 and your wife seeking any damages for the roads of 3 Eagle Harbor, meaning the road attaching to Lot 20
4 being public or private?
5 A In this here today?
6 Q Yes, sir.
7 A I don't know exactly what you're trying --
8 Q You don't?
9 A No.
10 Q Okay. Well, today, do you know if you and your 11 wife are seeking damages against my client for the 12 Eagle Harbor roads going to Lot 20 being private 13 or not? I know that was an allegation in the 14 case.
15 A Are we complaining that they're private? Is that 16 what you're trying to say?
17 Q Yes.
18 A I think the real complaint was that they were not 19 private.
20 Q Right. Are you and your wife today in this action
21 seeking damages for that point --
22 A I can't clarify that for you. I don't know.
23 Q Okay.
24 A You're confusing me a little bit with all this.
25 Q Now, I know you testified about suffering some

1 damages that are already into evidence for delay.
2 Do you have any knowledge about your delay damages
3 with respect to Lot 20?
4 A Yes.
5 Q Okay. And what is your knowledge?
6 A The knowledge is that it was delayed. It was 7 supposed to have been completed the 25th of 8 February. It was not able to be completed until 9 the 25th or sometime in November of '04. And the 10 reason for the delay was no septic permit caused
11 the stop of construction.
12 Q Okay.
13 A And when the construction stopped and they had to 14 do a -- had to get a permit for an easement to 15 cross the road and to get the septic permit
16 issued, all that caused us some delay. On top of 17 the fact that when that happened, simultaneously
18 we found out that the construction that Danny did 19 do was unusable and we had to tear it down. That 20 caused delay because we couldn't continue
21 building. We had to start building over.
22 Q And just for the Court's clarifications,
23 Mr. Hubbard -- or for your clarification, Mr.
24 Hubbard, I'm going to let him ask you questions
25 about you and your wife's claims against

1 Mr. Gilbert and the building delays. I was just
2 going to focus your attention just on Belinda
3 Fox's claim to damage by you and your wife. I
4 understand your testimony to be that you're
5 claiming damages against Belinda Fox for the delay
6 on the construction of your house because she sold
7 you the lot?
8 A Because the permit was unavailable.
9 Q The septic permit?
10 A That's correct.
11 Q Okay. And --
12 A The work had not been done to allow that to 13 happen.
14 Q Okay. Now, I understand that in one of the 15 Court's exhibits, you and your wife applied for a 16 permit on January 21, 2004, correct? Does that 17 sound about right?
18 A We did.
19 Q Okay. And prior to the application -- or at the 20 time of application, you were under the 21 understanding that it would be granted quickly.
22 Is that correct?
23 A We thought it would be.
24 Q And --
25 A In fact, it was. They gave it to her. And then

1 they rescinded it.
2 Q Right. So Berkeley County or DHEC did give you
3 and your wife a permit, but then it later got
4 rescinded?
5 A The next day. Was it the next day?
6 Q A couple of days later, right. And so how much of 7 it -- so when -- when, if you recall, were you and 8 your wife able to obtain the permit from DHEC?
9 A That was May. Later than that, wasn't it? When 10 was it?
11 Q I believe in one of these court documents here, I
12 believe you got an approval on May 18, 2004. Does 13 that sound correct?
14 A Yes.
15 Q Okay. So what damage are you and your wife
16 claiming against Mrs. Fox from two -- from 1/22 of 17 '04 to 5/18 of '04?
18 A We would have interest on the loan that increased 19 because of the delay in construction. We have the 20 delay in storage.
21 Q Okay.
22 A And the delay in my rent.
23 Q Now, even though the contract, which is 24 Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 2 says the property was 25 sold to you as is, and you and your wife had the

1 ability to get -- to check out all of the permit
2 statuses. Are you and your wife still claiming 3 that Belinda Fox would owe you any money for the 4 four months of damage that you testified about?
5 A Yes.
6 Q Okay. Do you think that you and your wife bear
7 any of that responsibility or should share in any 8 of the damages of interest or delay in rent that 9 you testified about?
10 A I'd say no, but we share anyway. I mean, we still 11 had to pay all that.
12 Q Right. Now, the interest that you're claiming,
13 you guys have attached a bunch of spreadsheets.
14 Did you compile the spreadsheets or did your wife?
15 A My wife did.
16 Q Okay. Do you have any firsthand knowledge of the 17 line items in the spreadsheet or should I ask her?
18 A Some of them, but not all of them.
19 Q Okay.
20 A She's more expert on it.
21 Q We talked about it earlier, sir, but part of this
22 lawsuit, you and your wife are claiming damages
23 for an alleged two acres of wetlands that you
24 later determined are on Lot 20 after closing,
25 correct?

1 A Right.
2 Q Okay. And what is your understanding about the 3 value that you and your wife are claiming about
4 the two acres of wetlands that you later
5 discovered?
6 A That you can't do anything with it. It's 7 unusable.
8 Q And do you know what dollar amount you're claiming
9 for the two acres of loss of use?
10 A Approximately $80,000.
11 Q Okay. I think we're gonna have Mr. Carter come in 12 and testify later today. But is that -- is your 13 basis of the $80,000 from Mr. Carter's appraisal?
14 A It is.
15 Q Okay. Are there any other damages that you or 16 your wife are claiming against Belinda Fox other
17 than what you've testified about just now?
18 A Just what's in the lawsuit.
19 Q Well, and I'm trying to be clear that other than 20 what you've testified to on the witness stand,
21 correct?
22 A Yes.
23 Q Okay.
24 A All of those things are in that spreadsheet that 25 you want to talk about.

1 Q Now, you would agree, sir, that there were some
2 delay damages between January and May of '04 due
3 to weather? Because I think one of your e-mails
4 references that.
5 A Yeah. Yeah, that's correct. In January.
6 Q All right. And --
7 A Like the 5th or 6th.
8 Q And the December one, e-mail, that's in evidence,
9 which is Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 8 -- I apologize.
10 Strike that. I believe in one of the e-mails
11 that's in evidence might be in exhibit -- let's
12 see -- 9, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 9. I apologize.
13 Maybe you'll agree to this. In your e-mail to -- 14 or Diana's -- I guess it's your e-mail to Danny
15 that you testified about earlier, Exhibit No. 9, 16 you did acknowledge that there was some delay with 17 the footing and rain and there were some 18 construction delays as well. But my question is 19 is that you're not seeking damages for those 20 delays against Belinda Fox, are you?
21 A For the rain?
22 Q Yeah.
23 A No.
24 Q Okay. And in Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 11, see if 25 could, Mr. Price, if you recall this. You noted

1 to prime lending that you were hoping after
2 considering the delays at that point that you and
3 your wife would be moved in by March 31st of 2004.
4 Does that sound right?
5 A Yeah. That was our desire, yeah.
6 Q Okay. And so it appears that neither you nor your 7 wife went back and amended the building contract,
8 which is Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 5, to change the 9 completion date from February 25th to March 31st.
10 Is there a reason?
11 A What is the date of the letter that you're talking
12 about?
13 Q Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 11 is January 13, 2004.
14 A None of these are numbered.
15 Q They've got a red stamp on them.
16 A And your question is we note that we expect to be 17 moved in March 31st, and we did not go back and 18 change the contract. That's what your question
19 is?
20 Q Yes.
21 A That's true. We didn't do that.
22 Q Did you or your wife have a conversation with 23 Danny about the March 31st deadline?
24 A I don't know whether we had a conversation with 25 him about that or not.

1 Q The reason I say that is because that date --
2 A I'm sure we must have. We wouldn't have pulled 3 that out of the air.
4 Q Right. Right. And so there were some
5 delays but -- I'm just trying to understand the 6 agreement between you and your wife and Heritage
7 Classic Homes and Danny in that. So is it fair to 8 say if Danny would've completed the house by 9 March 31, 2004, that you and your wife would've
10 been satisfied?
11 A I'm sure we wouldn't be sitting in here today.
12
13 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, at this time I
14 would move into evidence Defendant's Exhibit
15 No. 2, I believe, Fox.
16 THE COURT: Any objection?
17 MR. JACKSON: No objection, Your Honor.
18 THE COURT: All right. Without objection.
19 And what is that again? Defendant's 2?
20 MR. FERRARA: Yes, sir. These are covenants,
21 restrictive covenants, for Eagle Harbor dated
22 February 2, 2003.
23 THE COURT: All right.
24
25 (Whereupon, Defendant Fox's Exhibit No.

1 2, Covenants, was received into
2 evidence.)
3
4 Q Mr. Price, I'm handing you Defendant Fox's Exhibit
5 No. 2, which are recorded covenants. Prior to 6 closing, did either you or your wife take a look
7 at those restrictive covenants?
8 A No. We didn't have them.
9 Q Okay.
10 A Danny gave me some later.
11 Q Did Danny give you any restrictive covenants
12 before closing?
13 A No.
14 Q No. Okay.
15
16 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, sir. That's all the
17 questions I have.
18 THE COURT: Mr. Hubbard?
19 MR. HUBBARD: Thank you, Your Honor.
20 - - - - -
21 CROSS-EXAMINATION
22 BY MR. HUBBARD:
23 Q Mr. Price, I'm going to go back to the agreement
24 to buy and sell. And I apologize, I don't know if 25 that's -- that's Defendant Fox's Exhibit No. 2

1 or -- it is. You mentioned earlier in your
2 testimony that you've read this. You and your
3 wife both had an opportunity to read this
4 contract?
5 A We did read it.
6 Q Okay. I'm going to direct your attention to the 7 very bottom of page 2. Is that language that you
8 and your wife added to this contract?
9 A Fifteen, closing cost?
10 Q No. It's below the signatures, actually. The 11 very bottom of page 2.
12 A Oh. On the back?
13 Q Yeah.
14 A Did we add this?
15 Q Yes.
16 A Not that I know of.
17 Q Okay.
18 A We asked about VA financing, yes.
19 Q But you didn't ask that upon execution of this 20 document, buyer will be consulting an attorney as 21 well as Jeff Spell concerning correctness and 22 duplication of items listed above?
23 A The next sentence I remember we did.
24 Q Okay. All right.
25 A We asked for that VA.

1 Q But you did read the contract?
2 A We read it.
3 Q Okay. I want to get a little bit of background on 4 your time in the service. I see -- I understand
5 you retired as a master sergeant?
6 A Chief master sergeant.
7 Q Okay. I'm sorry. Chief master sergeant. And how
8 long were you in the service?
9 A Thirty years.
10 Q And what was one of your last jobs with the Air
11 Force?
12 A One of my last jobs?
13 Q Yes, sir.
14 A Preparing a wing initial communications package
15 for deployment overseas.
16 Q Was that Cannon Air Force Base?
17 A It was.
18 Q New Mexico?
19 A It was.
20 Q Okay. And what was your responsibilities with 21 that job?
22 A My responsibilities include the maintenance of all
23 the radios, nav sites, radar, communications on 24 the base.
25 Q Did it involve reading contracts at all?

1 A I did read contracts.
2 Q Okay. So you were familiar with contracts?
3 A In terms of seeing if a contractor had provided
4 the service to us.
5 Q Okay. I'm gonna go back now to the contract,
6 Exhibit No. 2. Would you agree that this is --
7 I'll say this. And a lot of folks, like, from 8 buying a house or building a house or buying
9 property, it's a big deal. Wouldn't you agree?
10 A It is a big deal.
11 Q For a lot of folks it's one of the biggest deals
12 they'll ever face, probably, financially. Would 13 you agree with that?
14 A I would agree with that.
15 Q Okay. So wouldn't it be prudent to really take 16 your time and go through a contract to buy and 17 sell and pay attention to everything that's in it?
18 Would you agree with that?
19 A I would today.
20 Q Well, you wouldn't have agreed then?
21 A There's a lot of trust involved in this particular 22 thing. And where I've bought homes before, seems 23 like I'm always pressed for time when it's 24 happening. But when I bought homes before, I put 25 a lot of faith in the people that put that

1 contract together and said we're gonna build you a
2 house over here on this lot and you're gonna pay
3 this amount of money for it. Yeah, go do that.
4 I'm not a lawyer. And I normally don't contact
5 lawyers in the purchase of something, anything.
6 Buying a car is pretty expensive today. You don't
7 contact a lawyer about that. But it's -- Danny
8 presented himself -- he's a very personable guy.
9 He's a smart guy. And when we talked to Danny and 10 he has faith involved in this business, that was 11 good for us. That's what we thought. And he 12 presented himself as the guy for Eagle Harbor: the 13 developer, the builder, the designer. And he was 14 putting this together for us and we trusted him.
15 Q Okay.
16 A I trusted him that he was on our side to get this 17 done.
18 Q All right. When did you lose that trust?
19 A I lost that trust when he started pushing for that 20 first draw and poured the concrete and things
21 started falling apart. That's when I lost trust
22 with him.
23 Q And when was that? Do you recall?
24 A That was in -- we had so many things and I'm 25 getting old here.

1 Q This thing has been going on for quite a while.
2 So I understand. There are a lot of documents
3 floating around. Well, I'll --
4 A Anyway, it was right at -- I lost faith in him
5 when we were in this draw of business and also 6 when we were trying to get him to start the 7 construction. There seemed to be a little bit of 8 a delay there.
9 Q Okay. But you mentioned earlier in your testimony
10 that he did get started right away. Got the land
11 cleared --
12 A He did start immediately with the clearing. And I
13 thought, wow, this is going to be done. And when 14 he said -- talked to us and told us in the 15 contract he could build that house in 90 days, I
16 asked him about that. I thought that was pretty 17 quick. He said you got this pre-built framing and 18 things from the Boozer package that can go up
19 really quick.
20 Q Right.
21 A I believed that.
22 Q Okay. So we're back to September 13th of 2003.
23 That's when you --
24 A That's when we signed this.
25 Q Sign off on this. And then you closed on

1 November 28th of '03?
2 A Twenty-fifth.
3 Q Twenty-fifth. Okay. And on January 30th, I
4 believe, you terminated --
5 A Yes.
6 Q -- Heritage Classic Homes, correct?
7 A Yes.
8 Q Okay. And then you hired John Kahler.
9 A That's correct.
10 Q Okay. And that was February 9th of '04?
11 A That's probably about right.
12 Q So nine days later, you had a new contractor on 13 the site and up and moved. When did you first 14 contact Mr. Kahler?
15 A After Danny was terminated.
16 Q So you had no contact, didn't know who he was?
17 A I knew about him because he was building Mike
18 Cable's (ph) house.
19 Q And where is that?
20 A That's in the phase one subdivision.
21 Q Okay. So there are other builders in Eagle
22 Harbor. Danny Gilbert or Heritage Classic Homes
23 does not have an exclusive to build in that
24 subdivision?
25 A He does not.

1 Q Okay.
2 A When I first talked to him I thought that he was
3 the guy that did everything. But he was not.
4 Q You talked to other people about him?
5 A Not before.
6 Q Okay. So you guys came in for a ten-day visit and 7 came out to the site and liked what you saw and 8 liked Danny and liked Heritage Classic Homes and 9 rode around and said this is us?
10 A That's it.
11 Q Okay. For $185,175?
12 A That's right.
13 Q All right. What happened with Mr. Kahler? And 14 what was his price?
15 A His price was -- I don't recall exactly what his 16 price was.
17 Q Okay. Anything that would help you remember what 18 his price was?
19 A I think we have a document somewhere.
20 Q Would it be a contract to --
21 A Yeah, we had a contract.
22 Q What part of your --
23 A We had a contract with him.
24
25 MR. HUBBARD: I didn't see it. Derrick, is

1 that part of your --
2 THE WITNESS: It's part of his --
3 MR. JACKSON: No. We don't have that
4 contract into evidence. It's the same price as in 5 the -- contract which is in evidence.
6
7 Q Two hundred and --
8 A 209.
9 Q Fifty?
10 A Yeah.
11
12 MR. HUBBARD: May I approach, Your Honor?
13 THE COURT: Yes.
14
15 Q This is just for purposes of identification,
16 Mr. Price. If you would take a look at that and 17 see if you're familiar with that contract?
18 A Okay.
19 Q And you can go to the next to the last page. It's 20 dated February 9, 2004?
21 A Okay.
22 Q Was that your signature on there?
23 A It is.
24 Q Okay.
25 A Well, actually, that's my wife's signature for me,

1 but yeah.
2 Q Okay. Would she recognize that? Was there some 3 negotiation that took place to come to this
4 document? I mean, did y'all --
5 A Yes. There was -- yeah.
6 Q Okay.
7 A There was some talk.
8 Q All right. Tell me about that.
9 A Well --
10 Q Well, you got nine days is what I'm trying to get 11 at. You're moving, you know, as you said earlier,
12 you don't like -- seems like you're getting rushed
13 all the time.
14 A Yeah. And I'm not sure where I was exactly when 15 this happened.
16 Q Did you meet with Mr. Kahler?
17 A I did meet with him. But I don't know whether I
18 had to go somewhere or something after that. But 19 I met with him, and we talked with him. And Diana
20 and he put the contract together. Not that I
21 wasn't familiar with what was going on, but I
22 didn't -- I was not there for all of that.
23 Q Okay. And that's -- and I think you did a
24 revision with him. You changed that contract
25 sometime in May. Does that sound right?

1 A Yes, that happened.
2 Q Okay. What were the reasons for the revisions?
3 A He wanted the revisions.
4 Q Okay. And then on July 15th, I believe, is it
5 true that you terminated his employment with you?
6 A That's correct.
7 Q Okay. And how did you do that?
8 A How did I do that?
9 Q Sure. Sent him a letter? I mean, you sent -- you
10 sent Mr. Gilbert for Heritage Classic Homes --
11 A Yeah. There was a letter that went to John Kahler
12 telling him he wasn't -- but I told him
13 face-to-face wasn't -- he was fired.
14 Q Okay. And then August 6th you hired Mr. Siegel?
15 A We found Mr. Seibel, yeah.
16 Q Seibel. Sorry. I apologize. All right. I think
17 your initial lawsuit to get this whole thing
18 started was filed in August, August 23rd of 2004.
19 Does that sound about right to you?
20 A Could be. Yeah.
21 Q Okay. Do you recall ever sending to Heritage
22 Classic Homes --
23 A Actually -- let me stop.
24 Q Sure.
25 A I think -- we were sued first. And then we

1 started the lawsuit.
2 Q Okay. You think that was August? Does that sound
3 about right? August -- ballpark?
4 A It could be.
5 Q When you terminated, did you give Heritage Classic
6 Homes a formal opportunity to fix what you
7 perceived to be defects in the construction? And 8 by that I mean did you send to Heritage Classic
9 Homes or Mr. Gilbert for them a letter? Either
10 give it to him or certified mail that laid out
11 exactly -- basically, a right to cure letter that 12 you want him to fix what you perceive to be wrong?
13 Do you recall ever doing that and asking him to 14 come and fix what you thought he did wrong?
15 A We had a conversation with him.
16 Q But you never sent him a letter or --
17 A And in that conversation, he says, I'm done.
18 Q This is important. I'm just asking you did you
19 give him a letter or -- you can look at me,
20 please, sir. I'm going to ask Ms. Price the same
21 question. But I'm asking you right now --
22 A I don't know if we gave him a letter or not.
23 Q Okay. All right.
24 A I know we gave him a termination letter.
25 Q Okay. So you fired him?

1 A Yes.
2 Q Okay.
4 MR. HUBBARD: I don't have any further
5 questions for you.
6 THE COURT: Any follow-up?
7 MR. JACKSON: Briefly, on redirect, Your
8 Honor.
9 - - - - -
10 REDIRECT EXAMINATION
11 BY MR. JACKSON:
12 Q Now, I believe Mr. Ferrara asked you about, you
13 know, you're not claiming delay due to weather.
14 What was the time frame in which you -- well, let 15 me back up. Is it your understanding that to get 16 a building permit you have to have a septic tank
17 permit?
18 A It is now, yes.
19 Q Okay. And when did you first get your septic tank
20 permit?
21 A The first one was when Diana filed for it.
22 Q The one that was not invalidated or rescinded or 23 all that?
24 A That one was invalidated. When did we get the 25 real one? I don't know the date. We have it here

1 somewhere in these documents.
2 Q Okay. Would that have -- show you this. It's 3 been marked as Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 22. Does
4 that refresh your recollection as to when you were
5 finally approved for a septic tank permit?
6 A Yes. That was dated 18 May.
7 Q Okay. So from the time you originally started
8 until May the 14th, you legally didn't have a
9 septic tank permit. Is that correct?
10 A That's correct. We didn't have one.
11 Q So whether it rained or not, you couldn't build
12 without a building permit?
13 A That's true. Not legally.
14 Q Now, the agreement that all these questions were 15 asked of you about, the Agreement No. 2, did you
16 draft that agreement? The agreement to buy and 17 sell, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 2.
18 A No. We didn't draft that.
19 Q And who gave that to you?
20 A Danny.
21 Q Okay. Now, did you have trust and faith in 22 Mr. Gilbert in the representations that he made?
23 A We did.
24
25 MR. JACKSON: No further questions.

1 THE COURT: Mr. Ferrara?
2 MR. FERRARA: Very briefly, Your Honor.
3 - - - - -
4 RECROSS-EXAMINATION
5 BY MR. FERRARA:
6 Q Mr. Price, just to be clear -- we're throwing a
7 lot of dates around. To be clear to the Court,
8 you and your wife were under the impression and 9 actually had received communication from 10 Mr. Gilbert that he did have an approval from DHEC
11 initially, correct?
12 A He said he did.
13 Q And, in fact, to be clear with the Court, he did,
14 correct? He did initially and then they later
15 revoked it?
16 A No. I don't know that.
17 Q Okay. Well, I understood your testimony earlier
18 that the permit that you and your wife --
19 A That's what his letter said to us that he had the 20 building permit. And he was waiting on DHEC to 21 design the septic. That's what he said.
22 Q Right.
23 A He didn't have the permit, though. He didn't have 24 the building permit in his hand either. I
25 testified to that as well --

1 Q But you do know that he did have the building
2 permit in order to get the foundation inspected
3 the first time?
4 A I agree with that, yeah.
5 Q Sure.
6 A He had a building permit.
7 Q So let's be clear to the Court. When was that?
8 When did the first foundation inspection occur?
9 A That would've been January, December.
10 Q Right. So Mr. Gilbert did have a building permit
11 in January at the time he put the foundation in?
12 A Yeah. He had a building permit.
13 Q Well, let's be clear with the Court. I mean,
14 Mr. Gilbert did have a building permit and 15 Mr. Gilbert did have assurances from DHEC that the 16 septic for Lot 20 was preliminarily approved and 17 then they later revoked it. Is that fair?
18 A He said that they had that.
19 Q Well, and I'm not trying to parse words. I just 20 want you to be honest with the Court.
21 A Well, you do with me during this whole testimony
22 here. You're parsing words.
23 Q I understood your testimony --
24 A And he did have a building permit. I saw the 25 building permit.

1 Q And he had a DHEC permit as well that was later
2 rescinded. Did he not?
3 A I did not see the DHEC permit.
4 Q Well, let's just be clear with the Court. You
5 didn't see it, but you testified earlier that 6 DHEC, and I think Mr. Bozardt, wrote you and your 7 wife a letter that said the septic permit or 8 approval was rescinded. Did I misunderstand your 9 testimony earlier?
10 A What you misunderstood was I don't know that he
11 ever had a septic permit. He said he had talked 12 to them in his letter to us, and he said he had a 13 building permit and had the number. I actually 14 saw the building permit later when it was posted
15 on the property.
16 Right here it is, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 9.
17
18 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, may I approach the 19 witness?
20 THE COURT: If you wish.
21
22 A There's the building permit.
23 Q Oh, yes, sir. Yes, sir.
24 A On here, he says he's talked to them. He does not 25 have a septic permit number.

1 Q Right. I understand that, sir, about your e-mail.
2 But -- and tell me if I'm --
3 A That's his e-mail to us.
4 Q Sure. I understand that testimony. But is it not
5 true that DHEC communicated with you or your wife
6 and advised you that while a septic permit had 7 been provisionally issued, it was going to be
8 rescinded?
9 A That is the one that we got. It's not the one
10 that Danny got because he didn't have one.
11 Q Right. And I apologize. So just the one that you
12 and your wife got that you applied for --
13 A When we found out --
14 Q -- in January 2nd of 2004.
15 A Yes. When we found out there was no septic permit
16 and we applied for one, she did, she got it. The 17 next day they revoked it.
18 Q Right. The reason she got it, though, was because 19 Danny had already communicated with DHEC and had 20 gotten a preliminary approval for Lot 20?
21 A That's what you're saying. I don't know that.
22
23 MR. JACKSON: I object to -- 24
25 A That's hearsay.

1 Q You don't know that? Okay. That's what I was
2 trying to find out if you did. So you don't know?
3 A I don't know what he talked to DHEC about.
4 Q Okay. But you do know that DHEC did issue a
5 permit to you and your wife on January 22, 2004,
6 for the septic?
7 A They did and revoked it immediately.
8 Q Okay.
9
10 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, sir.
11 THE COURT: Mr. Hubbard?
12 MR. HUBBARD: Just one housekeeping, Your 13 Honor. I move the John Kahler contract be 14 admitted into evidence.
15 THE COURT: Any objection?
16 MR. JACKSON: No objection, Your Honor.
17 MR. FERRARA: No objection, Your Honor.
18 COURT REPORTER: Will you show me which one
19 that is so I can mark it? I don't see it.
20 MR. HUBBARD: Sure.
21 COURT REPORTER: Is that the correct one?
22 MR. HUBBARD: That's it.
23 COURT REPORTER: Thank you.
24
25 (Whereupon, Defendant Heritage's Exhibit

1 No. 1, Contract, was received into
2 evidence.)
4 THE COURT: Mr. Price, you can step down.
5 THE WITNESS: Thank you, sir.
6 THE COURT: All right. We've been at it for 7 a little while. It's an appropriate time for a
8 break. How log do y'all need before we resume?
9 Y'all tell me.
10 MR. JACKSON: Short break is fine with me,
11 Your Honor. It's whatever y'all -- I'm open. I
12 do have witnesses scheduled to come at 13 one o'clock. And I can call to try to push them
14 back or reschedule or do whatever I can do with 15 them. But I'm open to the Court. Whatever the 16 Court would suggest.
17 MR. FERRARA: Whatever the Court would like 18 to do, Your Honor. I'll just defer to
19 Mr. Jackson.
20 MR. JACKSON: I say 15 minutes and then we 21 can resume.
22 THE COURT: Do y'all want to take a break for 23 lunch now and just come back at 1:00? Do it that 24 way?
25 MR. JACKSON: We can do that.

1 MR. HUBBARD: I would prefer that, Judge.
2 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Let's do that.
3 It's a quarter to twelve now. We'll resume at 4 one o'clock with the rest of the plaintiffs' case.
5 MR. JACKSON: Okay.
6 THE COURT: Okay.
8 (Lunch recess was taken from 11:44 a.m.
9 to 1:02 p.m.)
10 - - - - -
11 THE COURT: Is everyone ready to proceed?
12 MR. JACKSON: I'm ready to proceed, Your
13 Honor.
14 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Mr. Jackson?
15 MR. JACKSON: I would call Hank Jackson to 16 the stand.
17 THE COURT: Mr. Jackson, come on up.
18
19 (Whereupon, the witness, HANK JACKSON, 20 was duly sworn.)
21
22 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. Go ahead and
23 have a seat. Give your name, spell your last name
24 for the court reporter, please.
25 THE WITNESS: My name is Hank Jackson,

1 J-A-C-K-S-O-N.
2 THE COURT: Thank you.

4 DIRECT EXAMINATION
5 BY MR. JACKSON:
6 Q Mr. Jackson, what is your current profession?
7 A Currently, the building official for Berkeley
8 County since July 1, 2010.
9 Q Okay. And what did you do before that?
10 A Eight years prior to that, I was a building
11 inspector working for the past building official.
12 Q Okay. And in that capacity as a building
13 inspector, did you have the occasion to inspect
14 Lot 20 of Eagle Harbor?
15 A I did. I actually did a deposition quite a while 16 back in regards to that, but yes.
17 Q Okay. And what, if anything, did you find upon
18 your inspection of -- first of all, what were you
19 inspecting on Lot 20?
20 A Foundation. I think it was pre-slab inspection,
21 that type of inspection, looking for reinforcement
22 in the slab.
23 Q Okay. And what did you find, if anything, in 24 regard to your inspection?
25 A According to my records, I had an inspection that

1 had failed due to vapor barrier not being in 2 place.
3 Q Okay. Did you find anything else?
4 A I think that was pretty much it.
5 Q Okay.
6 A It's been quite a while.
7 Q Okay. And did you -- and so, it did not pass
8 inspection?
9 A It did not.
10 MR. JACKSON: Okay. That's all the questions
11 I have of this witness.
12 THE COURT: Mr. Ferrara?
13 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, at this time, I
14 don't have any questions.
15 THE COURT: Yes, sir. Mr. Hubbard?
16 MR. HUBBARD: Thank you, Judge.

18 CROSS-EXAMINATION
19 BY MR. HUBBARD:
20 Q Mr. Jackson, Carl Hubbard. When you went out to 21 the Lot 20, what did you see actually? Your 22 affidavit that you gave indicated that the land
23 had not -- or the earth had not been compacted.
24 How did you make that determination?
25 A Usually, during that type of inspection, we would

1 walk across it, see if it's a -- what kind of soil
2 it is, if it's spongy. Being able to -- just see
3 if it meets any kind of compaction. If not, a
4 question would arise and we about would ask a
5 geotechnical expert to come in and verify the 6 2,000-pound soil compaction required.
7 Q Okay. So was that done?
8 A It was not that I know of.
9 Q Okay. I want to understand. The slab was 10 actually poured when you were out there?
11 A No. It was before it was poured.
12 Q Okay. All right.
13
14 MR. HUBBARD: I don't have any further
15 questions. Thank you.
16 THE COURT: All right. Anything further?
17 MR. JACKSON: That's it, Your Honor.
18 Unfortunately, my next witness is not scheduled to 19 be here until 1:30. I didn't anticipate this to 20 be quite so quick.
21 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Jackson, you can
22 step down. Is Mr. Jackson under subpoena?
23 MR. JACKSON: He was. I would ask him to be 24 released.
25 THE COURT: All right. You are released from

1 your subpoena. Thank you, sir.
2 THE WITNESS: Thank you.
3 THE COURT: So we do not -- you don't have
4 your next person ready to go?
5 MR. JACKSON: I could call -- the person I
6 would call would be -- I know what I could do,
7 Your Honor. I would call Danny Gilbert to the 8 stand.
9 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Gilbert.
10
11 (Whereupon, the witness, DANNY GILBERT, 12 was duly sworn.)
13
14 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. Have a seat.
15 State your name and spell your last name for the 16 court reporter, please.
17 THE WITNESS: Danny Gilbert, G-I-L-B-E-R-T.

19 DIRECT EXAMINATION
20 BY MR. JACKSON:
21 Q All right. Mr. Gilbert, I'm going to show you a
22 couple of documents here that were produced to me
23 by document production.
24 MR. JACKSON: Carl, I'll show these to you.
25 I got copies from you. I'll give those to you.

1 (Brief pause.) May I approach, Your Honor, for 2 your copies?
3 THE COURT: Thank you.
4 MR. JACKSON: Go ahead and mark these for 5 identification. You'll do these at whatever is 6 next. I guess we're at 32?
7 COURT REPORTER: Uh-huh, 32.
8 MR. JACKSON: 32, 33, and 34.
9 Q Mr. Gilbert, I'm going to show what has been 10 marked as Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 32. If you take 11 a second and look through those.
12 A Sure.
13 Q Do you recognize those documents?
14 A Sure do.
15 Q And what are those documents?
16 A These are just some expenses for -- looks like for 17 part of the development.
18 Q Okay. Whose handwriting is that? Is that your 19 handwriting?
20 A That is my handwriting.
21 Q So you prepared those documents?
22 A Yeah.
23 Q Okay.
24
25 MR. JACKSON: I would offer Plaintiffs'

1 Exhibit No. 32 into evidence.
2 THE COURT: Any objection?
3 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, just for
4 clarification, is that -- Derrick, is that
5 everything that you've handed me?
6 MR. JACKSON: No. I've to -- well, let me
7 show you how I separated them.
8
9 (Brief pause.)
10
11 MR. FERRARA: No objection, Your Honor, to 12 Exhibit No. 32.
13
14 (Whereupon, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 32,
15 Cost and Expenses Document, was received 16 into evidence.)
17
18 Q Can you explain to me why these calculations and 19 what they mean?
20 A Yeah. These are exclusive costs for Gerry Fox.
21 This is what Gerry paid for their part of phase
22 two, I guess, up to this point.
23 Q Okay.
24 A So exclusive was costs just for Gerry where there
25 was also costs for Troy, but those are the costs.

1 These are the figures down here. Because my
2 agreement with Gerry and Belinda was after all
3 the -- after the lots -- when the lots start being
4 sold, as he pays himself back, once he breaks
5 even, and then my agreement with Gerry was we were 6 splitting the money to help me do the children's 7 home.
8 Q 50/50?
9 A After all the expenses were paid.
10 Q Okay. Now what about the second page to Exhibit
11 No. 32?
12 A That's just lot sales, I guess.
13 Q Okay. And that was -- okay. And what was the 14 total of the income from lot sales that you
15 projected?
16 A Well, it says 730,954.
17 Q Okay.
18 A That's probably gross, no doubt.
19 Q And the next document appears to show expenses and 20 construction costs. Is that for phase two?
21 A Yeah.
22 Q Who all was involved in paying construction
23 expenses on phase two?
24 A The Foxes and the Winns.
25 Q Okay. Were you responsible for paying any

1 expenses?
2 A No.
3 Q So what was your part of the deal?
4 A To organize and facilitate things, you know,
5 things happening and the development getting done.
6 Q Okay. All right. Let me show you this summary
7 here. Are you familiar with that? That's part
8 of . . .
9 A Looks like lots listed, original owner, who they 10 were sold to, and the purchase price.
11 Q Would it be fair to say that most of the lots had 12 been sold in phase two by the time the Prices
13 bought their lot?
14 A Yeah. I would say so. I think so, yeah.
15 Q Okay. Let me ask you about this. Projection of 16 net income?
17 A Okay.
18 Q Did you prepare that?
19 A I did.
20 Q And how much net profit did you project there to 21 be?
22 A Well, on this it's projected at 324,153.
23 Q Okay. And who was the -- divide part of that 24 property with?
25 A The Foxes and myself.

1 Q Okay. And then does it say your wife, Elizabeth
2 Gilbert, as well?
3 A It does have her name on there, yeah.
4 Q Okay. And let me ask you about the last document
5 here where it says road construction costs.
6 A Yes, sir.
7 Q The second item at the very bottom there, it says
8 change order. Explain that to me. First of all,
9 publish it to the Court?
10 A Change order one says road construction to 11 increase by 50,000 due to excessive dirt removal.
12 Q What was the excessive dirt removal?
13 A Well, I think when they got engineer drawings, it
14 required the road construction company to remove 15 more dirt than originally anticipated.
16 Q Okay. All right. That explains that. Let me
17 show you what has been marked as Plaintiffs'
18 Exhibit No. 33. Do you recognize that?
19
20 THE COURT: Which one is 33?
21 MR. JACKSON: It's the one, Your Honor, that 22 has the dates to Stantec by the various parties.
23
24 A It's not my handwriting. So I don't necessarily 25 recognize it.

1 Q Okay. Well let me ask you about the facts that
2 are on there.
3 A Sure.
4 Q Okay. It says -- this appears to be -- dates in 5 one column, correct?
6 A Yeah.
7 Q And it appears to be amounts of money in another
8 column?
9 A I see that.
10 Q Okay. And this appears to be who's paying. Is 11 that accurate?
12 A Yeah. It says, you know, 5,000 to Stantec from 13 Winn; 2500 to Stantec from EH; 10,000 to Stantec
14 from Fox. Yeah.
15 Q That would be consistent with your understanding
16 of the various parties involved in this deal
17 paying?
18 A Sure.
19 Q So EH, does that stand for Eagle Harbor?
20 A It does.
21 Q So they contributed as well?
22 A Well, probably to the Eagle Harbor part, which is 23 the front part. We still own that property.
24 Q Okay. Let me show you this other document and see
25 if you recognize it.

1 A It's my handwriting.
2 Q Okay. And what were those calculations?
3 A Just the same thing. Just a preliminary rundown
4 of the numbers.
5
6 MR. JACKSON: So, Your Honor, I believe I
7 would like to offer -- 32 has already been 8 admitted. And I'd offer Exhibit No. 34. He 9 didn't recognize 33, so I won't offer 33.
10 THE COURT: Showing me 34?
11 MR. JACKSON: I'm sorry. This is -- Exhibit
12 No. 34 is the one-page handwritten division.
13 THE COURT: I got it. Any objection to 14 Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 34?
15 MR. FERRARA: No objection from the Foxes,
16 Your Honor.
17 MR. HUBBARD: Your Honor, may I look at it
18 real quick? Because I got -- is this 34, Derrick?
19 MR. JACKSON: No. That's the one he didn't
20 recognize. Exhibit No. 34 is the one-page
21 handwritten document.
22 MR. HUBBARD: Okay. No objection.
23 THE COURT: Thirty-four is in with no
24 objection.
25

1 (Whereupon, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 33,
2 Payment Information, was marked for
3 identification.)
4
5 (Whereupon, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 34,
6 Total Expenses, was received into
7 evidence.)
8
9 MR. JACKSON: Okay. Let's go ahead and mark
10 this. I'm gonna show you . . . (Brief pause.)
11 Give a copy to the Court. Mark that for 12 identification.
13
14 Q Let me show you and see if you recognize this
15 document.
16 A Definitely my handwriting. And -- yeah.
17 Q What is that document?
18 A It says it's an application for a subdivision
19 approval.
20 Q Okay. With who? What bureau?
21 A DHEC.
22 Q Okay. Would that be a septic tank application?
23 A No.
24 Q Okay. Is it approval for the plat? The plans?
25 A It's an application for approval for the various

1 septic systems for each lot out there at that
2 phase.
3 Q Okay.
4
5 MR. JACKSON: I'd offer Plaintiffs' Exhibit
6 No. 35 into evidence.
7 THE COURT: Any objection to 35?
8 MR. HUBBARD: No.
9 MR. FERRARA: No objection, Your Honor.
10 THE COURT: Thirty-five without objection.
11
12 (Whereupon, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 35,
13 DHEC Application, was received into 14 evidence.)
15
16 Q And could you describe to the Court what you
17 understood your arrangement to be with the Foxes
18 and the Winns and Eagle Harbor relating to phase
19 two?
20 A Yeah. Gerry had helped with phase one, Gerry Fox.
21 And it went real well. Sold several lots by word
22 of mouth. And Gerry was able to give me the 23 residual property that wasn't in lots for the boys
24 home to help the boys home kick off. Then, I
25 don't know who noticed it, one of us noticed that

1 there was another parcel that was available that
2 was adjacent to the Eagle Harbor property. And
3 then we found out at the same time another piece
4 was available. So there's two additional pieces.
5 They were all adjacent. And Troy Winn bought one
6 and the Foxes bought one. And then we were going
7 to do the same thing that we did on the first
8 phase, just subdivide it and sell it for Troy.
9 Troy was to give two lots, which are across the 10 street from the Prices. It was a big empty pit.
11 And it wasn't worth any money, but Troy was going
12 to give that to the boys home. And we were going 13 to fill that pit up with dirt that was dug from 14 the lake. And then in addition to those two lots
15 and -- you know, we reclaimed those two lots with 16 dirt from the lake. There was an additional lot.
17 Lot 11 was to given to the boys home for a
18 director's house. That was the deal with Troy.
19 The deal with Gerry and Belinda was, hey, you
20 know, this went real quick to the allotment. You
21 know, phase one went real well. We want to help
22 the boys home. So, you know, I'll pay the 23 expenses. When they're all paid then we'll split
24 the money. You can do with the money, basically,
25 what you want. You know, 50/50.

1 Q Okay.
2
3 MR. JACKSON: That's all the questions I have
4 of this witness at this time.
5 THE COURT: Mr. Ferrara?
6 MR. FERRARA: Very briefly.
7 - - - - -
8 CROSS-EXAMINATION
9 BY MR. FERRARA:
10 Q Danny, you know I represent the Foxes. And 11 looking at Exhibit No. 35 -- I'll hand that to 12 you, sir, for reference.
13 A Yes, sir.
14 Q You testified that this was more than just a 15 septic permit. This is actually the start of the 16 development process of the Eagle Harbor that you
17 started with DHEC to apply for what ultimately was 18 a plat, a final plat, for subdivision, correct?
19 A Yeah. We filled this out. We hired the sales 20 consultant. He and myself walked every piece of 21 property on the whole -- you know, these two
22 parcels together. It says right here the TMS
23 numbers, 194-00-02-30 and 31. We walked those.
24 There was an existing path down the middle, so
25 that felt to be a good division point. But we --

1 our job or our goal was to find, you know, 20 or
2 30 septic systems.
3 Q Let's go back because you mentioned it earlier,
4 but the judge may or may not be aware. But what
5 was the grand plan, in general, with Eagle Harbor
6 as it -- you mentioned the boys home. But what's 7 the overall master plan if there is one for Eagle
8 Harbor Subdivision?
9 A Well, it's a unique thing. We were nominated for 10 a social entrepreneurship award because we took 11 raw land, developed raw land, made money, and 12 created a nonprofit. So that was a goal to -- and 13 something that could be duplicated. So people
14 could go into, you know, into the country to buy
15 land, subdivide it, sell it, and take the profits
16 or the proceeds and start a charity, which is what 17 we did. We had nothing. We had -- we had 18 nothing.
19 Q And the Eagle Harbor Boys Home, if you could tell
20 the Court what that is, in general.
21 A Can I do a little history first? Is it okay?
22 Q Sure.
23 A So, you know, like Ron, I was, you know, I was a
24 SPAWAR contractor. So did that for 13 or 14
25 years. And I was involved with, you know, my

1 church and missions and things like that. So I
2 helped somebody move to Gaston, Alabama. It was
3 to a children's home. And I saw the children so
4 I'm gonna call my wife on the phone and say this
5 is what we're supposed to be doing. This is it.
6 This is what I know for certain this is what we 7 were made for. We sold everything we owned. Had
8 a nice house in Crowfield and sold that and sold
9 our cars and sold everything. Moved to Alabama
10 for four years. I got paid, you know, 5,000 bucks
11 a year. My wife got paid five. And they gave us
12 a thousand-dollar education. But that's what we 13 had. Had three boys under five years old. I
14 mean, that's what I had. And we did that for four 15 years. We couldn't afford to do it any longer.
16 You know, my kids were growing old. I couldn't 17 afford a baseball bat because I was making $11,000
18 a year. So we just felt like we couldn't do less
19 so we were gonna come back to Charleston and start
20 a children's home here. I spoke at a church.
21 They gave me a thousand dollars to come home on.
22 And I took that thousand bucks and we moved home.
23 Moved in with my in-laws. I took a job at an 24 architectural firm. And we lived with my in-laws
25 and then we began the process of starting a

1 nonprofit. So we got our nonprofit approved
2 June 1999. And then Troy Winn told me, well,
3 you're looking for --
4
5 MR. JACKSON: Objection about what a third
6 party said. Hearsay.
8 Q Yeah, and without --
9 A Troy showed me some property in the country that 10 him and his wife had looked at, but it really
11 wasn't fitting for them. And it was -- basically,
12 it was ideal for us. It was, you know, in an area
13 that was kind of bad so we could get it at a good
14 price, you know. So didn't know how to get it.
15 And through church, I met Gerry and Belinda. And,
16 you know, we hit it off. I shared my vision. I
17 shared our hope, what we wanted to do. And 18 somehow we created a plan.
19 Q And you started -- you mentioned Eagle Harbor,
20 501(c)(3) nonprofit.
21 A Yes, sir.
22 Q With the secretary of state, 1999?
23 A Yes, sir.
24 Q And then when did you become a licensed builder in 25 South Carolina?

1 A Well, we -- the first price we got to build the
2 first boys home -- you know, boys homes are about
3 7,000 square feet. So we got a price that was
4 over $700,000 to build it. And my background
5 being architectural, I have always done building.
6 I decided to get my own license and build the 7 house. We built it for 330,000.
8 Q Right.
9 A With a Boozer package.
10 Q And the Boozer package that's been testified
11 today, that's an engineered prefabricated wall
12 system?
13 A Yeah. So they just take any drawing and they 14 create the panels and deliver them on a flatbed.
15 Q I thought it was quite aggressive that you'd agree
16 to build the Prices' house in 90 days. I've gone
17 through that, so -- gone through that process many 18 times. But with that Boozer-type package, you can 19 achieve those type of quick results?
20 A Sure. You can throw it up real quick.
21 Q Yeah. Anyway, back to this here, Exhibit No. 35.
22 So in 2001 you have Eagle Harbor the 501(c)(3)
23 nonprofit as your entity. But you have named the 24 neighborhood Eagle Harbor of that plan. So you've 25 applied with DHEC, and this is the first time,

1 Exhibit No. 35, when you've given the State of
2 South Carolina DHEC --
3 A Right.
4 Q -- Department of Health and Environmental 5 Control --
6 A Do you want to know why we named it?
7 Q No, no. Well, I'm just asking real quick. This 8 application is the start of the subdivision for 9 Eagle Harbor? And that's my question.
10 A Yeah. Absolutely.
11 Q Yeah. And so, why did you call it Eagle Harbor?
12 A Because with kids that are in foster care, there's 13 a stigma on where they live or what they drive in,
14 what they ride in. When we lived in Alabama, you
15 know, there was a big ol' ranch on the side of the 16 bus, and we didn't want that. So now we got a
17 subdivision that there's people -- you know, 18 there's 300,000 to 1.4 million-dollar homes in the 19 neighborhood. And where do they live at? They 20 live at Eagle Harbor. They live in the same place
21 that a kid that lives in a children's home lives
22 at. There's no stigma whatsoever. And it, you
23 know, it tears that wall down.
24 Q And that Eagle Harbor, it's still a going concern
25 and it's still an ongoing business and nonprofit

1 today, correct?
2 A We've had 300 kids call Eagle Harbor home.
3 Q Okay. Now, you talked about phase one. And we're
4 here on Lot 20, specifically, today, phase two.
5 After you apply with DHEC for the subdivision of 6 Eagle Harbor, phase two, which is Exhibit No. 35,
7 you let the State know that you planned on using a
8 well and a septic system as far as the water and 9 sewer in this document. And, ultimately, was it
10 your understanding that DHEC did give you an 11 approval to subdivide the lots?
12 A Yeah. I think that was something that was 13 required by the County Planning and Zoning as 14 well. They had that letter.
15 Q Right. And Planning and Zoning, you apply with 16 Berkeley County and got an approval to subdivide
17 Eagle Harbor into the various lots, correct?
18 A Yes, sir.
19 Q And Lot 20 was in phase two. And then you and 20 your company hired Stantec, I believe, which 21 became Trico Engineering here in North Charleston
22 to handle the engineering for the neighborhood,
23 correct?
24 A Yes.
25 Q And it's your understanding that Stantec, being

1 professional engineers, would assist you and Eagle
2 Harbor with all of the engineering and
3 governmental approvals necessary to get the 4 neighborhood developed?
5 A Absolutely.
6 Q From a legal standard, meaning where you could
7 take what phase two was, 62 acres, and a one-chunk
8 TMS and divide that up into how many ever lots so
9 that you could sell them?
10 A Sure.
11 Q And I'll ask you since you're on the stand,
12 Mr. Price testified earlier today, and maybe you
13 can clarify this. Did you at the time that the 14 Prices purchased Lot 20, had you had
15 communications with DHEC about the septic system
16 for Lot 20 having a preliminary approval?
17 A Yes.
18 Q And that was your understanding at the time that
19 you spoke with the Prices?
20 A Yeah. Plus, I knew that -- I had walked their lot 21 with Mike Parker, the soils consultant. And we 22 couldn't find a drain field. And that's why the 23 lot was so big. Because it would be more
24 advantageous to the investors if they were all
25 small lots and they would make a lot more money.

1 But this lot had to be ten acres because we
2 couldn't find a drain field. And there was only
3 so many off-site drain fields to go around. And 4 for that ten acres, you know, it had one drain
5 field.
6 Q There's some exhibits in evidence, Danny, that,
7 you know, the Prices put into evidence that DHEC
8 has written Eagle Harbor and said we're putting 9 you on notice that there are soil concerns prior
10 to, you know, 2003 when that closing occurred.
11 You're familiar with those in general?
12 A Yeah. The first was we had the original -- it was 13 the preliminary lot layout. And then they came 14 back and said those aren't going to work because 15 the soils, you know, not suitable for drain
16 fields. So we had to change property lines. So I
17 think one -- the first one will show that there
18 was more lots than there was in the second one, or 19 vice versa; one of the two.
20 Q Sure.
21 A But we had to change the lot lines, move things
22 around just to facilitate the limited amount of 23 drain fields that we had. And Gerry, obviously,
24 had -- his side of the road had the best soil so
25 we had given the lot to Troy to get his lots

1 sellable.
2 Q Is it not true, Danny, that ultimately Eagle
3 Harbor, as the developer, you were able to obtain
4 permission from DHEC to get this plat which is 5 Exhibit No. 1 approved with the idea or with the 6 approval of DHEC even implicitly that the drain
7 field would be off-site for Lot 20 over to Lot 21?
8 A Yeah. Yeah, I think so. Lot 21 is being the one
9 on Leisure?
10 Q Yes.
11 A Yeah. Absolutely. And there was three other
12 additional drain fields over there. And there
13 were multiple that were crossing the road going to 14 different lots and stuff. But, yeah, that's true.
15 Q And, Mr. Gilbert, taking a look, because I'm not a
16 developer, at the plat which is Defendants'
17 Exhibit No. 1, and we look at these little dotted 18 lines on Lot 20 that show easements. Are those 19 dotted lines on Lot 20 the easements for the 20 septic system for Lot 20?
21 A Yeah. There's two sets of dotted lines on Lot 20.
22 One is for Lot 19 and the other one is for 20.
23 Those easements are like 11-feet wide specifically
24 for the width of a backhoe so that they can dig
25 and repair or put in the septic system pipe going

1 to the drain field that is Lot 21.
2 Q Mr. Price testified earlier about the septic
3 permit for Lot 20 being revoked. Do you have any 4 knowledge about that?
5 A I might've received something in the -- I don't 6 know. I can't confirm that. I might've had some 7 mail come in.
8 Q Okay. Do you recall that after closing the septic
9 system there being a delay with the septic system
10 for Lot 20 as Mr. Price testified about earlier?
11 A Well, I think they experienced a delay after maybe 12 because I had everything kind of moving. The 13 delay that -- you know, the delay -- part of the 14 delay is that they spoke about, you know, when you
15 close then you got to apply for permit. When you
16 apply for a permit, it takes numerous weeks. In 17 addition to that, if you see the e-mail that they 18 used for evidence, it had multiple changes to the 19 drawing. You can't change a drawing structurally
20 and -- you know, it's going to cause a delay. All
21 that stuff causes delay.
22 Q Right. So the closing happened on November 26th,
23 I believe. Must've been around Thanksgiving. And 24 to the best of your recollection or can you
25 estimate when you applied or the Prices were ready

1 to construct?
2 A I'm sure they're ready right away. I think that
3 we did what we could without a permit to the point
4 where we got a permit then we could start. So
5 that's what we did.
6 Q Okay.
7 A Clearing the lot. We had a backhoe over there. I
8 think I even lent the backhoe out to Ron, you
9 know, to let him use it to mess with his lot.
10 Q Okay. The gentleman that just came in and 11 testified from Berkeley County about inspecting 12 the footing and --
13 A Mr. Jackson.
14 Q Mr. Jackson, yeah. That gentleman did an 15 inspection for work that your company did,
16 Heritage Classic Homes?
17 A Sure. Pre-inspection to pouring the slab.
18 Q Right. And that doesn't involve Gerry or Belinda
19 Fox, correct?
20 A No. I don't think so.
21 Q Okay. And isn't it common whenever you're getting 22 an inspection for a slab, for a footing, footing
23 inspection, that an inspector may have a comment
24 that the ground is too soft or that rock needs to 25 be added or something needs to be done before an

1 inspection will be approved?
2 A Yeah, absolutely. In this case -- Oh, I'm sorry.
3 Q And in this case -- that's what I was gonna get
4 to. In this case, you actually --
5 A He said there was no plastic. There's receipts.
6 And I guess it will be entered later, but there
7 were 6 mil plastic bought. So if you fail
8 inspection, they just give you a list and then you
9 go back and you do the list.
10 Q Right. And that's what I needed --
11 A And then you get it reinspected.
12 Q That's what I needed your help with --
13 A Absolutely.
14 Q -- to explain to the Court. So Mr. Jackson just 15 came in and testified that initially there were 16 some concerns with the footing. But, obviously,
17 your company handled his initial concerns and were 18 able to pour a concrete slab out there?
19 A Sure. Purchased 6 mil plastic. Put it -- or 20 first we pretreated the soil. There's a receipt
21 for that. We rented a wacker packer and compacted
22 the soil. And then put the plastic down.
23 Q But, clearly, you were able to meet the County's
24 concerns at the time of inspection otherwise you
25 would not have released the concrete from Knight's

1 Redi-Mix to be poured into the slab and to the 2 footing, correct?
3 A Yeah. We would've had a reinspection.
4 Absolutely, yeah.
5 Q Right. So, obviously, Mr. Jackson came and 6 testified. But do you recall satisfying his 7 objections at the time so that you could pour the 8 concrete slab?
9 A I don't recall it, but we would've done that. I
10 mean, it was 14 years ago.
11 Q You wouldn't have poured the concrete slab without 12 having approval --
13 A No, sir.
14 Q -- from Berkeley County?
15 A No, sir. No, sir. We would've went to -- bought
16 the plastic.
17 Q Okay. The Prices -- or Mr. Price testified
18 earlier today about sending some certified mail to 19 you. You're not aware of any certified letters
20 you might've received that were directed to Gerry 21 or Belinda Fox in connection with Lot 20?
22 A No. No, sir.
23 Q Yeah. If you would have received something from 24 the Prices regarding the Foxes and Lot 20, you
25 would've forwarded that on to Belinda or Gerry?

1 A Absolutely.
2 Q Okay.
4 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, sir. That's all the
5 questions I have.
6 THE COURT: Mr. Hubbard?
7 MR. HUBBARD: Your Honor, I don't have any
8 questions at this time. Mr. Ferrara has done a
9 great job of introducing the Court to Mr. Gilbert.
10 And I would wait until we put up our -- after the 11 plaintiffs are through and we'll have him back.
12 THE COURT: Okay. Plaintiffs have anything
13 further?
14 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, I'll reserve
15 redirect for when they put him on the stand.
16 We'll reserve cross when you put him back on the 17 stand.
18 THE COURT: All right. You can step down.
19 Thank you.
20 MR. JACKSON: I believe we have our next
21 witness here, Your Honor.
22 THE COURT: All right. Who is that?
23 MR. JACKSON: Mr. Schweikhardt.
24 Schweikhardt, I hope I didn't butcher your name.
25 THE WITNESS: No, Schweickhardt.

1 MR. JACKSON: Schweickhardt, okay. Thank
2 you.
3 THE COURT: Come on up here.
5 (Whereupon, the witness, ALAN JOHN
6 SCHWEICKHARDT, was duly sworn.)
7
8 THE COURT: Have a seat there. Give your 9 name, spell your last name for the court reporter,
10 please.
11 THE WITNESS: Alan, A-L-A-N, John, J-O-H-N,
12 Schweickhardt, S-C-H-W-E-I-C-K-H-A-R-D-T.
13 THE COURT: Mr. Jackson.

15 DIRECT EXAMINATION
16 BY MR. JACKSON:
17 Q What's you occupation, Mr. Schweickhardt?
18 A I'm a licensed professional engineer, licensed
19 structural engineer.
20 Q Okay. And how long have you done that?
21 A Became a licensed professional engineer in 1994
22 when I was working for Davis and Floyd.
23 Q Okay.
24 A So that's 20 -- 24 years.
25 Q Okay. And what's your educational background?

1 A I've got a bachelor's of science in ocean
2 engineering, which is a wet civil engineering from
3 United States Naval Academy, 1986, and a master's
4 in structural engineering from Clemson in 1994.
5 Q Okay. And what is your professional
6 qualifications?
7 A I became a professional engineer in 1994, and a
8 structure -- licensed structural engineer just in 9 2017.
10 Q Okay. Are you familiar with building code
11 standards?
12 A Yes, sir.
13 Q And masonry construction?
14 A Yes, sir.
15 Q And I think CMU, does that stand for concrete
16 masonry unit?
17 A That's correct.
18 Q Okay. And walls and piers and things of that 19 nature?
20 A Yes, sir.
21
22 MR. JACKSON: I would move to qualify
23 Mr. Schweickhardt as an expert in the field of 24 structural engineering.
25 THE COURT: Any objection?

1 MR. FERRARA: Your Honor, if I might just be
2 able to do a very brief question about the
3 structural engineering designation. That's kind
4 of a broad designation.
5 THE COURT: Any requests to qualify him as an
6 expert in structural engineering? Is that
7 correct?
8 MR. JACKSON: Yeah. Yes. And masonry
9 construction, building code standards.
10 THE COURT: And masonry construction and 11 building code standards.
12 MR. JACKSON: Yes.
13 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Ferrara, if you
14 wish.
15 MR. FERRARA: Okay. Very briefly, Your
16 Honor.

18 VOIR DIRE EXAMINATION
19 BY MR. FERRARA:
20 Q Let's see. I was looking over your document. I
21 apologize, sir, is it okay if I call you Alan?
22 A Sure. Al.
23 Q Al? Okay, Al. Al, you can call me Paul.
24 A All right.
25 Q I apologize, and you might have testified to this

1 and I apologize. I did hear you say that you're a
2 professional, licensed professional engineer in
3 the state of South Carolina, correct?
4 A Right. I became licensed as a professional
5 engineer by taking the structural engineering
6 professional engineer exam. And that's what's
7 required in the state of South Carolina.
8 Q And how long have you been doing that, sir?
9 A Twenty-four years.
10 Q Okay. And with respect to the building code, the 11 portion of your anticipated testimony, are you
12 familiar with the building code that was in effect
13 at the time that this property was constructed?
14 A I understand it is a 1995 CABO code, so yes.
15 Q Okay. Okay.
16
17 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, Your Honor. That's 18 all the questions I have. I don't have any 19 objection to him being qualified as an expert in 20 structural engineering.
21 THE COURT: Thank you. Mr. Hubbard?
22 MR. HUBBARD: No, Your Honor.
23 THE COURT: We'll qualify him as an expert in 24 structural engineering and masonry concrete
25 building and building code standards.

2 DIRECT EXAMINATION

3 BY MR. JACKSON (Continuing):

4 Q Mr. Schweickhardt, can I call you Al, too? That
5 would be sort of simple.
6 A That would be fine. Sure.
7 Q Thank you. Were you employed by the Prices to 8 inspect their foundation?
9 A In 2004, yes.
10 Q Okay.
11 A But the foundation walls, yes. And the concrete
12 slab on grade as stated in the report.
13 Q Okay. And let me show you a copy of that report
14 and ask if you can identify that as being the 15 report and your signature and your seal?
16 A Yes, that is it.
17 Q Okay.
18
19 MR. JACKSON: I'd offer this as plaintiff's
20 next exhibit.
21 THE COURT: 36.
22 MR. JACKSON: 36.
23 THE COURT: Any objection to 36?
24 MR. FERRARA: No objection, Your Honor.
25 THE COURT: Admitted without objection.

2 (Whereupon, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 36,
3 Engineer's Report, was received into
4 evidence.)
5
6 Q When did you inspect -- I just handed you a copy
7 of the report. When did you inspect the Prices'
8 foundation concrete slab?
9 A April 19, 2004.
10 Q And what, if anything, did you observe during that
11 inspection?
12 A I observed the concrete slab on grade. I observed
13 the concrete masonry until walls and piers and the 14 rebar that was visible, that I could detect with,
15 like, a tape measure and such.
16 Q Okay. And did you discover any problems with that 17 work?
18 A Yes.
19 Q And can you tell the Court what those problems
20 were?
21 A To the best of my recollection, with the concrete
22 slab on grade, there were some slopes to the 23 center of the garage floor surface that were not 24 in accordance with what's called the Residential
25 Construction Standards.

1 Q Okay.
2 A That would cause, possibly, water to accumulate.
3 Other items with the CMU walls and piers, there
4 was some vertical rebar that exceeded the 4-foot
5 spacing. There was evidence of lacking vertical
6 rebar at some of the corners, the major wall
7 corners, I think in the report. I list the 8 northwest and southwest corners, and the second
9 opening from the right side on the front
10 elevation, that's page 3. These locations, rebar
11 was not observed at spacings of 4 foot or less.
12 Q Why is rebar required? Was does it do?
13 A The rebar is required for when the building is 14 subjected to wind loads, earthquake loads. When 15 it shakes back and forth, that rebar will help
16 keep the CMU walls and piers upright.
17 Then you've got also some evidence of some 18 poor workmanship there at the bottom of page 3.
19 At one location of the northeast corner where the 20 water was not properly struck off from the inside
21 surfaces, CMU wall, and some mortar protrusions
22 greater than one-half inch were observed in the 23 cells where there was vertical rebar dowels.
24 Again, from the best of my recollection, the CMU
25 wall piers were constructed out of 8-inch block

1 and exceeded the CABO code section 604.54 for the 2 9-foot, 4-inch desired height of piers needed to 3 be constructed of 12-inch CMU block.
4 Q And how does that affect the structure?
5 A Again, that's for lateral loads, shaking back and
6 forth under wind and seismic.
7 Q Okay.
8 A I think I've already talked about the horizontal
9 rebar required at the bottom and the top of wall
10 openings extending at least 24 inches past the 11 openings. And that the existing condition of the 12 CMU walls and piers will prevent construction in 13 accordance with section 607.4.1 of the CABO code.
14 Specifically Item 3 of this section requires that 15 the vertical rebar be held in position at the top
16 and the bottom at a vertical -- and at vertical 17 intervals not exceeding the 8 foot, 4 inches. So 18 the piers being taller than that, the vertical 19 rebar, if it was gonna be installed in place,
20 couldn't be held in position at a vertical height
21 that wouldn't exceed that distance.
22 And then, of course, there was at least one
23 pier at the northwest corner that had already 24 fallen over at some point most likely due to wind.
25 That the piers during construction, walls and

1 piers, hadn't been braced. Other piers and walls
2 I could push by hand. And the bond at the bottom
3 of the mortar bed could be broken. So although it
4 was still under construction, the walls and piers
5 where in -- at least one pier had fallen and the 6 other walls and piers were in danger of falling.
7 And I did not verify it. There's random cracking
8 in the concrete slab on grade. Random cracking
9 will occur in slabs on grade. And I don't know if 10 somebody came in after me to determine if there
11 was welded wire mesh or fiber mesh in the slab. I
12 couldn't detect that. But I just pointed out in 13 my report that, at the time, Berkeley County
14 required that in the slab.
15 Q Okay. Now, did you take photographs of your 16 observations?
17 A Yes.
18 Q And is that a copy of the photographs that you've 19 taken?
20 A Right.
21 Q While Mr. Hubbard is looking at those, so it is 22 fair to say then that you discovered multiple 23 violations of the building code in your 24 observations?
25 A Yes.

1 Q Is it fair to say you observed examples of poor
2 workmanship and construction?
3 A Yes.
5 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, I'd offer this as
6 the next exhibit, the photographs.
7 THE COURT: And that's as a group, No. 37.
8 Is that right?
9 COURT REPORTER: 37.
10 THE COURT: Any objection to photographs,
11 gentlemen?
12 MR. FERRARA: No objection, Your Honor.
13 MR. HUBBARD: None, Your Honor.
14 THE COURT: Without objection.
15
16 (Whereupon, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 37,
17 Photographs, was received into
18 evidence.)
19
20 Q So, ultimately, what did you recommend to the 21 Prices about the foundation? Was it salvageable
22 or should it be torn down?
23 A Well, I didn't have evidence that -- of course,
24 remove the concrete slab on grade or footings.
25 But I recommended removal and replacement of the

1 existing CMU walls and piers.
2 Q Okay.
4 MR. JACKSON: Please answer any questions
5 counsel may have.
6 THE WITNESS: Yes.
7 - - - - -
8 CROSS-EXAMINATION
9 BY MR. HUBBARD:
10 Q Mr. Schweickhardt, I'm Carl Hubbard. I represent
11 Heritage Classic Homes and Danny Gilbert. You
12 were there, I think you said, on April 19, 2004?
13 A Yes, to the best of my recollection.
14 Q Was there anyone else there? Was there a
15 contractor on-site or anybody with you?
16 A Mr. Price was present and a contractor, Mr. John 17 Kahler.
18 Q Okay. All right. The items you went through, you
19 indicated it looked like poor workmanship, but you
20 did agree -- did agree it was under construction
21 at the time?
22 A Yes.
23 Q And the things you mentioned regarding the rebar
24 and blocks could have been fixed. Is that a
25 proper assessment?

1 A It would take an extensive rebuilding of the CMU
2 piers and walls to properly reinforce them, yes.
3 Q Do you do have any idea what that would cost or 4 are you qualified to do that?
5 A I haven't had time to prepare for that. I have 6 performed estimates. But I have not and I haven't
7 asked.
8 Q All right. No problem. Do you know if the Prices
9 notified the former contractor on the job, who was 10 there when this was done, whether they gave him an 11 opportunity or sent him a letter or asked him to 12 come back and cure these problems?
13 A I don't know the answer to that. I don't have my 14 notes anymore and I don't recall that.
15 Q Okay.
16
17 MR. HUBBARD: Thank you. I don't have any
18 more questions. Thank you.
19 THE COURT: Any follow-up, Mr. Jackson?
20 MR. JACKSON: No follow-up, Your Honor. And 21 I ask the witness be excused.
22 THE COURT: All right. Yes, sir. Thank you
23 very much. You are excused.
24 THE WITNESS: Thank you, Your Honor.
25 MR. JACKSON: I scheduled my next witness to 1 be here by 2:15. It's not quite that time yet.

2 We can take a brief recess.
3 THE COURT: That is fine. We'll take a break
4 and recess until 2:15. If the person shows up
5 earlier and y'all are ready to go before that --
6 MR. JACKSON: Yeah, we'll come straight back
7 in.
8 THE COURT: Otherwise, we'll stand at ease
9 until 2:15.
10 MR. JACKSON: Thank you, Your Honor.
11 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.
12
13 (A brief recess was taken from 1:52 p.m.
14 until 1:55 p.m.)
15
16 THE COURT: All right. Y'all go ahead and 17 have a seat. Thank you. Do we have the next
18 witness ready to go? Is that right?
19 MR. JACKSON: That's correct, Your Honor.
20 Walked outside, he was standing right there.
21 THE COURT: Excellent. Okay. If you would 22 like to call him, you can.
23 MR. JACKSON: The plaintiff calls Ed Carter
24 to the stand.
25 THE COURT: Mr. Carter, come on up.

2 (Whereupon, the witness, EDWARD B.
3 CARTER, was duly sworn.)
4
5 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. Have a seat
6 right there. Give your name, spell your last name
7 for the court reporter, please.
8 THE WITNESS: My name is Edward B. Carter,
9 Ed, last name, C-A-R-T-E-R.

11 DIRECT EXAMINATION
12 BY MR. JACKSON:
13 Q Mr. Carter, what's your current occupation?
14 A Appraisal Services of South Carolina.
15 Q And how long have you been with them?
16 A It is our business and we have had it for 20
17 years.
18 Q Okay. And what's your educational experience?
19 A Graduated from the Citadel in 1966. And I have a 20 master's degree in aeronautical science from 21 Embry-Riddle.
22 Q Okay. And what is your professional
23 qualifications and experience as an appraiser?
24 A Had to go through all the educational courses for 25 an appraiser, then you had to apprentice for two

1 years. You have to bill so many experience
2 points, pass so many tests to be licensed by the 3 state.
4 Q Okay. Now, I see a bunch of fancy initials after 5 your name: MSA, MFLA, MRA. Can you explain --
6 A Those are professional designations.
7 Q Okay. And are you familiar with appraising lots
8 in residential subdivisions?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Okay.
11
12 MR. JACKSON: I would move that Mr. Carter be 13 qualified as an expert in appraisals, residential 14 appraisals.
15 THE COURT: Any objection, gentlemen?
16 MR. FERRARA: No objection, Your Honor.
17 MR. HUBBARD: No, Your Honor.
18 THE COURT: Admitted without -- identified as 19 an expert, qualified as an expert, without 20 objection.
21
22 Q Now, were you retained by a Warren Parker to do an 23 appraisal or answer certain questions for the 24 Prices' attorney?
25 A GW Parker, yes. He retained me to do some

1 consulting work on behalf of Eagle Harbor.
2 Q Okay. I'm going to show you a copy of a document
3 and see if you can identify it. You may have a
4 copy in your hand.
5 A I do.
6 Q All right. Okay. We'll just mark this one as the 7 next exhibit, 38.
8
9 THE COURT: That's the appraisal?
10 MR. JACKSON: Yes, sir.
11 THE COURT: Any objection to 38?
12 MR. FERRARA: No objection, Your Honor, to 13 the appraisal. There's some attachments to it.
14 And I would just like to admit just the appraisal
15 and have Mr. Carter testify about, I guess, the 16 attachments he relied upon that were outside of 17 his appraisal.
18 MR. JACKSON: I have no objection to -- well,
19 first, let's identify what attachments you're 20 talking about. Because the appraisal, I believe,
21 is 50 -- 62 pages.
22 THE COURT: It looks like all those are part
23 of, included in the appraisal.
24 MR. FERRARA: Okay. No objection, Your
25 Honor. I'll just ask Mr. Carter about those.

1 THE COURT: Okay. Any other objections,
2 Mr. Hubbard?
3 MR. HUBBARD: No, Your Honor. No objections.
4 THE COURT: Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 38
5 without objection.
6
7 (Whereupon, Plaintiffs' Exhibit No. 38,
8 Appraisal Report, was received into
9 evidence.)
10
11 Q Mr. Carter, what was the scope of your engagement
12 with Mr. Parker?
13 A This scope of work was to analyze the previous 14 sales in Eagle Harbor. Look at those by year and 15 then answer certain hypothetical questions, which 16 he posed in a letter, which is attached to the 17 appraisal.
18 Q And is that on page 61 and 62 of your appraisal?
19 A Yes. That is correct.
20 Q Okay. How did you go about answering -- well,
21 first of all, can we publish each of those
22 questions? Those six questions.
23 A The first series of questions was number one:
24 "Using the comparable sales approach, what would 25 the value of the entire 7.86-acre track as of

1 December 3, 2003, if in fact this property had
2 been properly subdividable by the prices into
3 three separate residential lots with each
4 estimated two-acre tract being fully capable of 5 use as a single-family residence." That was 6 number one.
7 Q Okay.
8 A Number two: "Using the comparable sales approach,
9 what could the Prices expect to realize and gross
10 proceeds from the sale of an otherwise unimproved,
11 residential two-acre lot in the Eagle Harbor
12 subdivision on the following dates, to wit."
13 Q You don't have to hame the dates.
14 A Okay. Then number three: "Using the comparable
15 sales approach, could you determine the average
16 yearly percentage increase and the price per acre
17 of a typical residential lot in the Eagle Harbor
18 subdivision from December 3, 2003, through to the 19 present." Number four: "Using any acceptable
20 valuation means at your disposal, could you please 21 determine the approximate appraised value of the 22 residential tract actually purchased by the Prices
23 as of the dates indicated above assuming the truth
24 of the following facts: A, the land is situated
25 such that county water and sewer service is not

1 available and land is otherwise incapable of 2 supporting a septic system for more than one
3 single-family residence; B, approximately 4 one-third to one-half the 7.86-acre tract is
5 located in an area designated as protected
6 wetlands and is thus incapable of being subdivided
7 or further improved for residential and/or 8 agricultural purposes; C, the property is located
9 in a subdivision that is not gated and the roads
10 contained in that subdivision are private and 11 likely not to be accepted by the County in the 12 foreseeable future for public maintenance; D, no
13 valid homeowner's association exists so as to aid
14 in the preservation and maintenance of the private 15 roads and common areas located in the subdivision;
16 E, no enforceable restrictive covenants are in 17 place that would otherwise contain those usual
18 restrictions deemed necessary and proper to 19 preserve and protect the value and continued
20 integrity of the properties comprising the 21 subdivision."
22 Q Okay. How did you go about trying to answer those
23 questions?
24 A Pulled all the sales from Eagle Harbor subdivision
25 going back, I believe, to 2001 up to, at the time,

1 the present which is the date of the report. All
2 the ones up to there. Analyzed each one of them,
3 wetlands versus highlands, size, what they sold
4 for, what they sold for per acre. Then once we
5 had all the previous sales identified, we could
6 then look at answering those hypothetical
7 questions in the letter defining the scope of 8 work.
9 Q Okay. And what were your conclusions on each of 10 those questions?
11 A Well, the answer to each one of those, or answer
12 within the appraisal, we came up with, based on 13 the period of time, what the average straight-line
14 increase, the value, was over the years. We came 15 up with what we thought were the value per acre on 16 each given year.
17 Q Okay.
18 A And answered the questions accordingly to the best
19 of our ability.
20 Q Okay. Let's turn to page 42 of your appraisal.
21 And can you tell me how you -- what your value
22 conclusions were in answering those questions?
23 A Okay. Value conclusion. That was based on the 24 data analyses developed in this appraisal. We 25 have reconciled to the following retrospective

1 values as requested in the attached scope of work.
2 One, what is the value of the entire 7.86-acre
3 tract as of December 3, 2003, if in fact this
4 property had been properly subdividable into three
5 separate residential lots with each estimated
6 two-acre tract being fully capable of use as a
7 single-family residence? Okay, in order to 8 address this question -- and you got to know this
9 12 years ago. This is 12 years old. I have a
10 hard time remembering what I did last week much
11 less 12 years ago. In order to address this 12 question, we need to find a sale of approximately 13 two acres of highland. A comparable sale would 14 be, going back to the different sales we 15 identified, Comps 1, 2, 4, 13, 18, 24, and 25, all 16 of which are highlands only. And they're 17 generally the same acreage, approximately, as the 18 subject.
19 Q Okay. And so what was the total value you
20 concluded and answered in question one?
21 A Well, Comp 1 gave us 18,670. Each comp gave a
22 slightly different, so we came up with Comps 18,
23 25 were outside the statistical mean, and an acre
24 value of 18,500 would be considered reasonable.
25 Multiplying that by the acreage comes up with

1 $145,410.
2 Q Okay.
3 A For that question.
4 Q Okay. How about for question two? The two-acre
5 lot, how much would the two-acre lot be?
6 A Now, that was on different dates; hypothetically,
7 on different dates.
8 Q Okay.
9 A And you have to understand when you look at a
10 value increase over a period of time, it's 11 straight lined.
12 Q Okay.
13 A You're not going to do it separately by month.
14 It's going to be an average over that period of 15 time. So what is the retrospective value of a 16 two-acre lot in Eagle Harbor on the following
17 dates: December 3, 2003 was 37,000; July 1, 2004,
18 41,662; 12/31/2004, 46, 161; July 1, 2005, 51,146;
19 November 1, 2005, 54, 829; April 19, 2006, 59,764.
20 And again, noted this as a straight-line
21 appreciation using a regression analysis chart.
22 Q Okay. And so you determined the average yearly
23 increase was what?
24 A If I remember right, it's 1.8 percent per month.
25 Q Okay. And I think that's on your value -- on page

1 43, I think you list the straight-line increase?
2 A That would be correct. The average yearly
3 percentage increase and the price per acre of a
4 typical lot in the Eagle Harbor subdivision from 5 December of '03 to present -- present being that
6 time -- 21.6 percent straight line, 1.8 percent
7 per month.
8 Q Okay. What about for question four? How did you
9 go about determining the answer to that question?
10 A Again, the approach is the same as it was on the 11 other. You've got your hypothetical questions.
12 You have to address each one differently based on 13 the comps, previously identified sales, that best
14 fit that situation.
15 Q And just the value for December 3, 2003, what did
16 you determine based on your analysis?
17 A December 9th?
18 Q I'm sorry. December 3rd on page 44.
19 A Oh, okay. The retrospective value of the 20 7.86-acre tract in Eagle Harbor on the following
21 dates: December 3, 2003, 62,880.
22 Q Okay. So if I understand these value conclusions
23 correctly, value one said -- assumed that it was 24 probably subdividable, three separate residential
25 lots, with estimated two-acre tract being fully

1 capable of using a single family -- that was 145?
2 A That was a hypothetical that it had no wetlands,
3 it was subdividable, and you could have three
4 fully developable two-acre lots.
5 Q Okay. And the last hypothetical assumed all those
6 conditions, those three or four conditions. No
7 restrictive covenants and the other things that
8 we've talked about before?
9 A That were in --
10 Q Right. That was in the question on the scope.
11 A As a hypothetical.
12 Q Right. And you determined that the value there
13 was 62,880?
14 A That's correct.
15 Q Okay.
16
17 MR. JACKSON: Please answer any questions
18 counsel has.
19 THE COURT: Mr. Ferrara?
20 MR. FERRARA: Yes, Your Honor. May it please
21 the Court?

23 CROSS-EXAMINATION
24 BY MR. FERRARA:
25 Q Mr. Carter, my name is Paul Ferrara. We haven't

1 met. But I'm representing Belinda and Gerry Fox
2 in this action that the Prices are litigating
3 against them. Are you familiar with any of the 4 background information about this case?
5 A Absolutely not.
6 Q No? Okay. You mentioned earlier that Mr. Parker
7 of Chellis and Frampton initially contacted you
8 and hired you to perform this appraisal?
9 A To answer hypotheticals based on previous sales in 10 Eagle Harbor.
11 Q Okay. And --
12 A It was more of a consulting job than it was an
13 appraisal.
14 Q Okay. And you testified about the assumptions
15 that Mr. Parker asked you to make when performing 16 these calculations, correct?
17 A He asked for a value given that set of 18 circumstances that are hypotheticals.
19 Q Right. Now, I'll ask you this: Wouldn't your 20 opinion and your report change if your 21 hypothetical or the basics -- your basic
22 understanding and the hypothetical were to change?
23 Meaning if Lot 20 in this case were capable of 24 subdivision, would your opinion be different than 25 what you testified to?

1 A I can't answer that without -- I'd have to sit
2 down and analyze it and go through it --
3 Q Sure.
4 A -- to come up with a value.
5 Q Did anyone at your office contact Berkeley County
6 to determine whether Lot 20 was subdividable at 7 the time you did this report? Into three separate 8 lots.
9 A At the time we did the report, based on the 10 wetlands and where they're located on it, and per 11 calling the County, which they had basically no
12 knowledge of subdividable nor would they render an 13 opinion on whether it was subdividable or not, we 14 dealt with it strictly the way the hypotheticals
15 are.
16 Q So -- is it okay if I call you Ed?
17 A Yes.
18 Q Ed, it's easier for me to remember that. You can 19 call me Paul. So, Ed, as I understand your 20 testimony that your professional opinion that 21 Berkeley County would not render an opinion about 22 whether Lot 20 would be subdividable considering
23 wetlands?
24 A Called planning and zoning and asked them. And 25 they said we don't know.

1 Q They said we don't know?
2 A Sure.
3 Q Do you remember who you spoke with at Zoning and 4 Planning?
5 A I do not.
6 Q Okay. But I guess my question is, Ed, would your 7 opinion that you've offered today, would it change
8 if in fact Zoning and Planning did say in 2018 the 9 lot would be subdividable? Is that a fair
10 statement?
11 A Back in 2006 you mean? When it was done.
12 Q Right. I'm saying today as we're sitting here and 13 testifying in court, if Zoning and Planning said
14 that the lot is subdividable today, your opinion
15 would change, correct?
16 A I don't understand because this was done 12 years
17 ago. Why would I be looking at it currently?
18 Q Sure. If they testified that 12 years ago it
19 could be subdividable, would your opinion change
20 about the values?
21 A I would have to sit down with them and see where 22 they're coming from, how they say it's dividable,
23 then -- quite honestly, the letter from the Corps
24 of Engineers defines the wetlands in it. All of 25 that would have to be relooked at.

1 Q Right. That's what I wanted to ask you about.
2 Your report, you're making a lot of different
3 assumptions, but let's see if I understand. And 4 if you could turn to page 42 of your report.
5 You've mentioned just now about the two-acre
6 wetland concern, correct?
7 A Yeah. The Corps of Engineers have a letter
8 estimating two acres worthy.
9 Q Right.
10 A Wetlands.
11 Q Now, you just took the letter at face value. You
12 didn't contact the Army Corps of Engineers to see 13 if an actual jurisdiction determination had been
14 completed, did you?
15 A Well, to my knowledge, the wetlands delineation
16 had not been accomplished.
17 Q Okay.
18 A In fact, the Corps in their letter suggested if 19 you want to get it exactly to commission a
20 wetlands delineation.
21 Q Right. And so, Ed, in your expert review, you 22 just assumed question two, which is what is the 23 respected value of the two-acre lot, you assumed
24 the fact of the presence of a wetland to be true
25 when determining that, correct?

1 A Yes.
2 Q Okay.
3 A You have to make assumptions.
4 Q Sure. Sure. And I haven't seen it. Because
5 you're qualified as an expert, I'm asking you
6 these questions, Ed. Are you aware in this case
7 if a jurisdiction determination, a final
8 jurisdictional determination, by the Army Corps of 9 Engineers was ever done for Lot 20?
10 A I do not.
11 Q Okay. You testified -- thank you -- earlier about 12 you understood the Army Corps' letter to direct 13 the Prices to actually accomplish that if they 14 wanted to figure out the location and the 15 preciseness of wetlands?
16 A Well, my understanding is what they did was an 17 estimate based on FEMA maps, and whatnot, and 18 their knowledge. And they said if you need to 19 know exactly what it is, then you need a wetlands
20 delineation.
21 Q Right. Ed, have you ever assisted clients or 22 generally aware of that process?
23 A Wetlands delineation?
24 Q Yes, sir.
25 A I know several surveyors and engineers that do

1 them, and I've commissioned them to do them on
2 other cases. But myself, no, I'm not qualified.
3 Q Sure. But in general, what you've testified to 4 about just now is the process in that a homeowner
5 actually makes an application to the Army Corps of 6 Engineers for a preliminary determination. The 7 Corps comes out and makes the determination. And 8 then a follow-up final jurisdictional evaluation
9 is done where everything is confirmed.
10 A If they so choose to do.
11 Q Okay. So back to your question two on page 42,
12 you say that the two-acre lot in Eagle Harbor
13 would be worth $37,000. Per total or per acre?
14 A Where are you looking? You looking down at two?
15 Q Yes, sir. And I apologize.
16 A December 3, 2003.
17 Q Yes, sir. If I'm understanding your report, your 18 testimony is that on December 3, 2003, a two-acre
19 lot in Eagle Harbor would be worth --
20 A Value 37,000, correct.
21 Q And, Ed, that's the total amount for the two
22 acres? Meaning 18,500 an acre?
23 A Correct.
24 Q Okay. And so wouldn't it -- and I'll ask you
25 since you're qualified as an expert. If in fact

1 the Prices had two acres of wetlands, assume that
2 to be a fact, that they still owned on Lot 20,
3 would it be your opinion that the loss that they
4 would incur would be the value of a two-acre tract
5 of land in the neighborhood, meaning $37,000?
6 A Let me see if I got this right. You're saying
7 that two-acre -- the two acres of wetland would be
8 valued the same as two acres of highland?
9 Q Well, I'm asking you. Is it?
10 A No.
11 Q It's not? Okay. You did a determination about 12 wetland versus upland in your report. Do you
13 remember that?
14 A Yes. We discussed that.
15 Q So if you could help the Court understand, and 16 I'll ask you this question: Can you just give us
17 the answer on what two acres of wetland would be 18 worth in 2003? In December of 2003.
19 A I don't know. That wasn't one of questions.
20 Q So two acres of non-wetlands are worth 37,000?
21 A Correct.
22 Q You've already testified about that. Now, in your 23 report, you did make a note about the value of a 24 wetland acre versus an upland acre. Do you
25 remember that?

1 A No, I don't.
2 Q Okay. One second.
3 A What page are you on?
4 Q One second. Let me look through it. (Brief
5 pause.) Sorry, Ed, one second. I've got my notes
6 here. (Brief pause.)
7 Okay, Ed, I found it. On page -- and I think
8 you did a good job going through -- thorough job
9 going through all the lots in Eagle Harbor and 10 identifying the upland or high ground and the 11 lowland. But page 36, sir, I was just referring 12 in general to Comp 52, which is about two thirds
13 of the way down on page 36.
14 A Got it.
15 Q And you mentioned here at the last sentence, and 16 maybe I'm reading it wrong, you say that 17 approximately half -- this is a one-acre parcel
18 nearby.
19 A And it's not in Eagle Harbor. It's the ones
20 nearby.
21 Q Nearby, yes, sir. One-acre parcel had a sale
22 price of $5,000. And it was half an acre highland
23 and half an acre lowland. I guess you didn't 24 break down the exact split there. But does that 25 reflect your recollection on looking at the

1 highland price and the lowland price?
2 A What split are you talking about?
3 Q Well, you've got here that on a one-acre parcel
4 nearby --
5 A It's half and half.
6 Q Half and half. And the sale price was 5,000.
7 A So are you trying to say that the value of 8 highland and the value of wetlands would be what?
9 Q Well, you're the expert. I know that -- I'm 10 assuming that the value of the wetlands is less
11 than the value of the highlands.
12 A It is. And when property is sold, property
13 doesn't sell wetlands, highlands.
14 Q Right.
15 A It's a blended rate. You know, if you sell
16 50 acres and ten acres of it is lowland, you don't 17 do a listing with MLS saying lowlands valued at 18 this, highlands valued at that. You're selling
19 the entire tract for X amount, and that is what is 20 known as a blended rate. It reflects highlands
21 and lowlands. And if you chart, like a scatter
22 analysis based on the amount of lowlands at 23 different sales, it will clearly break out for you
24 the fact that the more wetlands you have the less
25 per acre price sold.

1 Q Sure. So if we look at Comp 54, which is on page
2 36 and 37 of your report.
3 A Correct.
4 Q That was nearby off of Leisure Lane and it was
5 pretty close -- it's 7.95 acres. And this subject
6 property is pretty close to that. I think it's 7 7.86 acres.
8 A 7.68.
9 Q 7.68. I apologize. Yeah. And that had a blended
10 rate, did it not, Ed, of 13,836 an acre?
11 A Per acre sale price of 13,836.
12 Q Right. And that had a blended rate. And that 13 property did, according to you, had a 1.2 acre
14 lowland and 6.67 highland?
15 A Yes. Estimated.
16 Q So that appears to be a rough approximation on the 17 blended acreage rate.
18 A Maybe not because that is in a different
19 subdivision. There are different things to 20 consider, the differences between them: gated,
21 non-gated, covenants, non-covenants. There are 22 different things that impact. In Eagle Harbor,
23 everything is going to be the same there.
24 Q Right. But you're assuming for this purpose that 25 everything is not the same, that it's not a valid

1 restricted covenant community. There's no valid
2 covenants, there's no valid restrictions, correct?
3 That was what you were asked to assume, or did I
4 misread that?
5 A These are the comps going through. Then there's 6 the assumptions in the letter, and which 7 assumption would you be referring to?
8 Q All of the assumptions on Mr. Moore's letter in 9 paragraph 4, which is starting on 61 and on page
10 62 of your report. Basically, A through E, Ed,
11 there.
12 A So you're saying on page 62, B?
13 Q A, yeah. A -- and I was asking you specifically 14 about B. But A through E, I understood your 15 testimony just a minute ago, Ed, to be that you,
16 when calculating this report, were asked to assume 17 A through E and do this report. Maybe I'll 18 clarify, Ed. Specifically, let's look at question
19 four on page 61.
20 A Yep.
21 Q That's what -- I understood that to be the scope
22 of your report. That you were assuming that what 23 is the approximate appraised value of a
24 residential tract purchased by the Prices assuming 25 A through E.

1 A Again, if you look at C, it says the property is
2 located in a subdivision that is not gated. So
3 we're dealing with different assumptions here.
4 Eagle Harbor is gated.
5 Q Well, I think at the time -- it might be gated
6 now. But at the time, I don't think there was a
7 gate yet.
8 A No, it was gated.
9 Q It was?
10 A Yeah. But it was open during the day.
11 Q Okay. Maybe I'm confused on that. But your 12 assumptions, Ed, ask you to assume that even 13 though it's in a subdivision that's not gated, the 14 roads are private, and there's no valid covenants
15 or restrictions?
16 A That's what the assumptions are.
17 Q Right. And so that -- assuming those facts and 18 then considering Comp 54 that it's nearby on 19 Leisure Lane with a blended acreage price of 20 13,836 per acre.
21 A Go ahead.
22 Q It would appear that somewhere between that number
23 and the 18,500 number you talked about earlier 24 would be a reasonable value for the two acres of 25 wetlands in this case?

1 A No.
2 Q No? Well, you've already testified that on page
3 40 -- 42 that your opinion is that a two-acre lot
4 in Eagle Harbor was worth $37,000, correct?
5 A That's highland.
6 Q Highland.
7 A That was no wetlands, subdividable, that each one
8 could perk or have sewer available to it. Totally 9 different scenario.
10 Q If we take the Leisure Lane blended rate of 11 $13,800 an acre, that yields about 27,600 bucks?
12 A Let's go back and look at Comp Leisure Lane. And 13 take it over -- okay, it's Comp 54. If we go over 14 to 42 -- if we look at Comp 54 on page 43 where 15 we're talking about A through E. On Comp 54 we 16 say it's 7.95 acres and sold June 14, 2005, for 17 18,836 per acre. It is on a publicly maintained
18 paved road which makes it superior to Eagle Harbor
19 which are private roads.
20 Q Okay. Okay. So --
21 A It was like the subject and all their 22 characteristics. The lot is comprised of 23 43 percent lowlands.
24 Q So the Eagle Harbor lot, in your professional
25 opinion, would be less valuable per acre than Comp

1 54, the 13,836?
2 A What I'm saying is you got to make an adjustment
3 where roads are publicly maintained and where 4 they're not.
5 Q Sure. Sure. And so what is your best estimate of 6 the adjustment on what the two acres of wetlands
7 on Lot 20 would be worth considering that it's not
8 on a private road?
9 A I have absolutely no idea without sitting down and 10 doing an analysis of that. Because now you're 11 doing different assumptions.
12 Q Well, help me understand this, Ed. I
13 understand -- is it not true that whenever you do
14 appraisals there's a range of value. People speak
15 in absolutes, but in truth, an appraisal is an 16 estimated range of an acceptable value based 17 upon --
18 A That is correct.
19 Q -- all of your accounting and professional 20 standards that you adhere to. And so, just if we 21 could help the Court, would it be your opinion the 22 two acres of wetlands on Lot 20, the value of 23 those two acres is less than the 18,500 per acre
24 that you've testified that the highlands in the 25 same neighborhood would be worth?

1 A Ask that again.
2 Q Two acres of wetlands in Eagle Harbor.
3 A Lot 20.
4 Q Yeah. Would be less than the 18,500 per acre that
5 you testified that a regular, typical two-acre
6 highland lot in Eagle Harbor would be worth?
7 A Of highlands?
8 Q Yes, sir.
9 A Yes. The lowlands, obviously, are worth less than 10 that.
11 Q So if the price per acre was less -- it's hard to 12 figure to an exact science. It's not 50 percent
13 less, is it?
14 A No. Again, like I said, when you sell, they're 15 always sold as a lump. You don't sell lowlands
16 and highlands separate at a different price.
17 They're always sold at a blended rate. What are 18 the lowlands worth? I don't know. There's a lot
19 of different opinions on that. You know, lowlands
20 don't have a lot of use other than maybe a
21 detention pond or for green space or those sorts
22 of things. But the value of wetlands versus 23 highlands is all over the place.
24 Q But we do know that the value of wetlands --
25 A Is less than highlands.

1 Q -- would be less than the 18,500 based upon your
2 expert review of the neighborhood in 2003?
3 A Yes.
4 Q Okay.
5
6 MR. FERRARA: Thank you, Ed. That's all the
7 questions I have.
8 THE COURT: Mr. Hubbard?
9 MR. HUBBARD: Your Honor, I don't have any
10 questions.
11 THE COURT: All right. Any follow-up,
12 Mr. Jackson?
13 MR. JACKSON: Just one -- one or two things.
14 - - - - -
15 REDIRECT-EXAMINATION
16 BY MR. JACKSON:
17 Q Mr. Ferrara asked you about the final
18 determination of wetlands having surveys and 19 stuff. And you said you didn't do that. Is it
20 going to vary a whole bunch from what their 21 initial determination is when they -- that you
22 have attached in your report that they drawed
23 out -- that they drew out for the Prices?
24 A I can't say definitively. But in my backgrounded
25 and experience dealing with the Corps of

1 Engineers, when they do those, their estimate is
2 normally pretty right on.
3 Q Okay. And you mentioned the private roads, public
4 roads. If the entrance to Eagle Harbor was not up
5 to DOT standards, would that affect the value of 6 the lots in Eagle Harbor?
7 A We've run into this in several subdivisions where 8 the roads were tested -- to take them in for 9 public maintenance, they have to meet the DOT
10 standards. And when they didn't, normally what 11 happens is they get them up to standard so that 12 they can get them publicly maintained.
13 Q Right. But if they're not -- if the fact is that 14 the entrance is not up to DOT standards, would it
15 affect value of the lots in Eagle Harbor
16 negatively?
17 A You would think yes. But I can't definitively
18 prove that from the sales.
19 Q Okay.
20
21 MR. JACKSON: That's all I had, Your Honor.
22 THE COURT: All right. Thank you, sir. You
23 can step down.
24 MR. JACKSON: Your Honor, my next witness is 25 not scheduled to be here until 3:15. However, I
