APPEAL FROM THE ADMINISTRATIVE LAW COURT
The Honorable Deborah Brooks Durden, Administrative Law Judge

Case No. 21-ALJ-17-0331-CC
APPELLATE CASE NO. 2202-001085

Ag-Pro, LLC, ... Appellant,

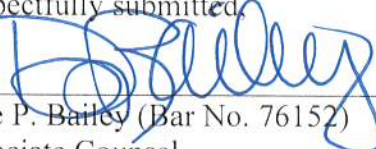

v.

South Carolina Department of Revenue, ... Respondent.

MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT'S MOTION TO DISMISS APPEAL

On August 19, 2022, the South Carolina Department of Revenue (Department) filed a Motion to Dismiss with this Court and served it upon Ag-Pro LLC's (Ag-Pro) counsel of record. The Department respectfully requests this Court dismiss Ag-Pro's appeal of the Administrative Law Court's (ALC) July 11, 2022 Order Granting Respondent's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment and Denying Petitioner's Motions for Partial Summary Judgment (ALC Order). The ALC Order is interlocutory and, according to section 1-23-610(A)(1), not immediately appealable.

RELEVANT FACTS

The Department audited Ag-Pro's sales and use tax returns from October 1, 2015, to September 30, 2018 (Audit Period). The returns indicated the majority of Ag-Pro's retail sales of tangible personal property were tax-exempt. Ag-Pro maintained for each tax-exempt transaction, its customers provided a Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate claiming the farm machinery sales tax exemption.¹ During the audit, Ag-Pro provided limited documentation substantiating the transactions were tax-exempt. Ultimately, the Department found Ag-Pro owed $1,173,227.74 in unremitted sales tax, $446,274.70 in penalties, and interest. (DD p. 2, Exh. 1 p. AP4174) The Department Determination made the following findings:

1. Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of sales Ag-Pro cannot provide documentation² to substantiate the sale was tax-exempt;
2. Ag-Pro is liable for sales tax arising out of sales in which Ag-Pro solicited³ its customers to unlawfully claim the farm machinery sales tax exemption;
3. Ag-Pro is liable for substantial understatement penalties;
4. Ag-Pro is liable for negligence penalties during the Audit Period; and
5. Ag-Pro is liable for interest on the amount due.

Id.

Ag-Pro timely requested a contested case hearing with the ALC to challenge the Department Determination. On May 20, 2022, the Department filed a motion for partial summary judgment, seeking judgment as a matter of law that Ag Pro improperly failed to remit sales tax on 2,732 of the 3,821 transactions at issue in the case because Ag-Pro did not comply with the documentation requirements section 12-36-2510 of the South Carolina Code of Laws. Therefore, Ag-Pro could not substantiate the tax-exemptions claimed. The Department did not raise the solicitation of customers, substantial understatement penalties, or negligence penalties issues in the motion for partial summary judgment.

² Section 12-36-2510 of the South Carolina Code of Laws sets forth the documentation requirements for retailers to make tax-free sales to customers who provide an exemption certificate. If the retailer does not comply with section 12-36-2510, the retailer remains liable for the sales tax associated with the transaction.

After considering all of the arguments and evidence presented during the hearing on the Department's motion for partial summary judgment, the ALC found:

1. Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of the gross proceeds of the retail sales of tangible personal property during the Audit Period for which Ag-Pro has not produced any evidence substantiating its claim that the sales are tax-exempt. (Order p. 6)
2. Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of the gross proceeds of retail sales of tangible personal property during the Audit Period for which Ag-Pro has produced a Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate on which the purchaser did not request an exemption. (Order p. 6-7)
3. Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of the gross proceeds of retail sales of tangible personal property during the Audit Period for which Ag-Pro sold tangible personal property not eligible for the exemption claimed by its customers on the Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate. (Order p. 7-8)

Ultimately, the ALC found Ag-Pro wrongfully claimed a sales tax exemption for 2,732 of the 3,821 transactions at issue in the case. (Order p. 6-8) The ALC did not address whether Ag-Pro was liable for substantial understatement or negligence penalties on account of the unpaid sales tax associated with the 2,732 transactions.

The ALC Order noted the Department conceded 383⁴ transactions identified in Ag-Pro's motions for partial summary judgment were tax-exempt and that Ag-Pro withdrew its motions for partial summary judgment with respect to an additional 96 transactions identified in its motions. (Order p. 8). The ALC Order found a genuine issue of material fact existed for the remaining 225 transactions subject to Ag-Pro's motions for partial summary judgment. (Order p. 9)

The ALC did not address whether Ag-Pro is liable for sales tax arising out of 484 of the at-issue transactions. Furthermore, the Department did not ask the ALC to address the issues that are not ripe for summary judgment – including whether Ag-Pro solicited its customers to unlawfully claim an exemption and whether Ag-Pro is liable for penalties. Lastly, Ag-Pro did not request and the ALC did not certify this order as a final judgment according to Rule 54(b), SCRCPP.

ARGUMENTS IN SUPPORT OF DISMISSAL

As a threshold matter, Ag-Pro inappropriately relies on section 1-23-380 of the South Carolina Code of Laws (Supp. 2020) as authority for this appeal.⁵ But, even if Ag-Pro properly relied on section 1-23-380, this Court's eventual review of the ALC's final decision on the merits provides an adequate remedy. Finally, Ag-Pro's appeal should be dismissed because the ALC Order is interlocutory and not immediately appealable pursuant to section 1-23-610.

During the motions hearing, Ag-Pro conceded summary judgment was not appropriate for 96 of the 321 contested transactions. (Order p. 8) Therefore, the ALC considered whether Ag-Pro was entitled to summary judgment on 225 of the 741 transactions.

Also during the motions hearing, the Department identified an additional 185 tax-exempt transactions not addressed in either parties' motions. Accordingly, 484 transactions remain unresolved for trial, 163 of which were not identified in either parties' motions for partial summary judgment.

⁵ Ag-Pro also cites Ballenger v. Bowen, 313 S.C. 476, 443 S.E.2d 379 (1994), Bone v. U.S. Food Service, 404 S.C. 67, 744 S.E.2d 552 (2013), and South Carolina Baptist Hospital v. South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control, 291 S.C. 267, 353 S.E.2d 277 (1987), as authority supporting its argument that the ALC's Order in this case is immediately appealable. However, all three of these cases are distinguishable from the case at hand because none relate to tax disputes governed by the RPA. Further, none involve the lower court granting a motion for summary judgment. Ballenger discussed the denial of a motion for summary judgment. Bone and Baptist Hospital addressed whether a decision remanding the matter to an agency for additional proceeding was a final decision.

Disputes with the Department are governed by the Revenue Procedures Act (RPA), found in Chapter 60 of Title 12. S.C. Code Ann. § 12-60-20 (2014). The RPA explains that in order for an individual to exhaust their administrative remedy in a tax dispute, they must first exhaust their prehearing remedy and have a hearing on the merits before the Administrative Law Court (ALC). S.C. Code Ann. § 12-60-30(14) (Supp. 2020). “Upon exhaustion of his prehearing remedy, a taxpayer may seek relief from the department’s determination by requesting a contested case hearing before the Administrative Law Court.” S.C. Code Ann. § 12-60-460 (2014); see also S.C. Code Ann. § 12-60-510(A) (2014) (“Before a taxpayer may seek a contested case hearing before the Administrative Law Court, he shall exhaust the prehearing remedy.”).

Article 13 of Chapter 60 of Title 12 of the South Carolina Code of Laws explains the procedures for tax cases at the ALC. Section 12-60-3380 establishes the procedure for appealing the ALC’s decision to the Court of Appeals: “Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a party may appeal a decision of the Administrative Law Court to the court of appeals. Appeal of a decision of the Administrative Law Court must be made in accordance with Section 1-23-610(B).” S.C. Code Ann. § 12-60-3380. Section 1-23-610 of the South Carolina Code of Laws provides:

(A)(1) For judicial review of a final decision of an administrative law judge, a notice of appeal by an aggrieved party must be served and filed with the court of appeals as provided in the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules in civil cases and served on the opposing party and the Administrative Law Court not more than thirty days after the party receives the final decision and order of the administrative law judge. Appeal in these matter is by right. . . .

(B) The review of the administrative law judge’s order must be confined to the record. The court may not substitute its judgment for the judgment of the administrative law judge as to the weight of the evidence on questions of fact. The court of appeals may affirm the decision or remand the case for further proceedings; or, it may reverse or modify the decision if the substantive rights of the petitioner have been prejudiced because the finding, conclusion, or decision is:

- (a) in violation of constitutional or statutory provisions;
- (b) in excess of the statutory authority of the agency;

- (c) made upon unlawful procedure;
- (d) affected by other error of law;
- (e) clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence on the whole record; or
- (f) arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion or clearly unwarranted exercise of discretion.

(Supp. 2020) (emphasis added).

Thus, according to the RPA, the statute governing appeals of ALC orders to the Court of Appeals is section 1-23-610 instead of the more general section 1-23-380 of the South Carolina Code of Laws (Supp. 2020), which states:

A party who has exhausted all administrative remedies available within the agency and who is aggrieved by a final decision in a contested case is entitled to judicial review pursuant to this article and Article 1. This section does not limit utilization of or the scope of judicial review available under other means of review, redress, relief, or trial de novo provided by law. A preliminary, procedural, or intermediate agency action or ruling is immediately appealable if review of the final agency decision would not provide an adequate remedy. Except as otherwise provided by law, an appeal is to the court of appeals.

(emphasis added). Section 1-23-380 specifically states it does not supersede other means of reviewing a final agency decision – including a trial de novo – provided by law. Id. In other words, section 1-23-380 applies to agency decisions when other avenues of review are not specifically provided or provide an inadequate remedy. S.C. Code Ann. § 12-60-3380 (2014); S.C. Code Ann. § 1-23-610 (Supp. 2020). As stated above, the RPA sets forth the administrative procedures for seeking review of the Department’s final agency decision as well as the ALC’s final decision following a contested case hearing.

Hence, Ag-Pro’s reliance on section 1-23-380 as authority for its appeal is misplaced. Specifically, section 12-60-460 of the RPA explains how a taxpayer may seek relief from the Department’s Determination – by requesting a contested case hearing before the ALC. See S.C. Code Ann. § 12-60-460 (2014). Further, the RPA directs taxpayers to section 1-23-610 to seek relief from the ALC's final decision – by appealing the ALC final decision to this Court. S.C. Code Ann. § 12-60-3380 (2014).

Importantly, section 1-23-610 only allows appellate review of a final decision by the ALC. S.C. Code Ann. § 1-23-610 (Supp. 2020); see Spalt v. S.C. Dep't of Motor Vehicles, 423 S.C. 576, 583, 816 S.E.2d 579, 583 (2018) (stating appellate review is available “only from ‘a final decision of the ALC.’”) (emphasis in original) (citing Charlotte-Mecklenburg Hosp. Auth. V. S.C. Dep't of Health & Envtl. Control, 387 S.C. 265, 266, 692 S.E.2d 894, 894). Section 1-23-610 permits appellate review of the ALC's final decision. (emphasis added). Our Supreme Court explained:

If there is some further act which must be done by the court prior to a determination of the rights of the parties, the order is interlocutory. A judgment which determines the applicable law, but leaves open questions of fact, is not a final judgment. A final judgment disposes of the whole subject matter of the action or terminates the particular proceeding or action, leaving nothing to be done but to enforce by execution what has been determined.

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Hosp. Auth. V. S.C. Dep't of Health & Envtl. Control, 387 S.C. 265, 267, 692 S.E.2d 894, 894 (2021) (internal citations omitted).

Ag-Pro argues the ALC's Order is a final decision with respect to the 2,732 transactions because it finds Ag-Pro liable for the sales tax arising out of those transactions and Ag-Pro cannot challenge the ALC's conclusions in a later proceeding. Ag-Pro's argument is flawed for two reasons. First, it incorrectly characterizes the ALC's decision as to those select transactions as final even though the decision does not take into account the associated penalties and interest. Second, even if the ALC's decision was final as to those transactions, it does not resolve “all of the claims” at issue in this tax controversy. See Rule 54(b), SCRPC (a judgment that deals with “one or more but few than all of the claims or parties” is not final unless there is an “express determination” by the trial court).

Indeed, the ALCs Order is interlocutory because it does not dispose of the entire tax controversy. See Charlotte-Mecklenburg Hosp. Auth. V. S.C. Dep't of Health & Envtl. Control, 387 S.C. 265, 267, 692 S.E.2d 894, 894 (2021). The complete question before the ALC is whether the Department correctly found Ag-Pro liable for $1,173,227.74 in sales tax, $446,274.70 in penalties, and applicable interest – over the span of 36 tax periods. Without addressing all of the 3,821 at-issue transactions, the ALC has not finally determined Ag-Pro's sales tax liability for each of the 36 tax periods. Further, the ALC has not made any legal or factual conclusions related to whether Ag-Pro is liable for penalties based on unremitted taxes for any of the 36 tax periods.

The ALC Order narrowed the issues to be presented at the merits hearing, but it is not a final decision as to all of the issues raised in the Department's Determination. A final decision issued after the merits hearing will necessarily address the penalties arising out of the sales tax liability associated with the 2,732 transactions addressed in this interlocutory Order. The Department also expects to present evidence proving Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of a portion of the remaining transactions based on the legal issues decided in the ALC Order.

Thus, even though the ALC Order decided some legal issues impacting Ag-Pro's liability, questions of fact related to the transactions addressed in the ALC Order remain. Further, the ALC Order did not address all of the issues raised in the Department Determination – the ALC must still determine factual issues related to the legal conclusions articulated in the ALC Order, consider the legal and factual issues which were not ripe for summary judgment, and determine whether penalties apply to each of the 36 audited tax periods.

Finally, Ag-Pro's right to appeal the ALC's final decision, which will include the summary judgment order as well as a decision on the remaining claims is appealable to this Court pursuant to section 1-23-610. This Court's review of the ALC's final decision will provide Ag-Pro with an adequate remedy to review the ALC's pre-hearing rulings. Accordingly, Ag-Pro's appeal of the ALC's interlocutory Order should be dismissed.

CONCLUSION

The ALC Order is not a final order and is not appealable pursuant to section 1-23-610(A)(1) of the South Carolina Code of Laws (Supp. 2022). The Department respectfully requests this Court dismiss this appeal and find the ALC Order is interlocutory, not a final decision, and not immediately appealable under section 1-23-610(A)(1).

Matter in Dispute:

Did Ag-Pro negligently fail to collect, report, and remit sales tax arising from customers' purchases of tangible personal property during the audited period?

Determination:

Ag-Pro fraudulently failed to collect, report, and remit sales tax arising from customers' purchases of tangible personal property during the audited period.

Relevant Facts:

1. Ag-Pro is a John Deere machinery and parts retailer located in Williamston, South Carolina.
2. On September 20, 2018, the South Carolina Department of Revenue (Department) notified Ag-Pro of an audit of its sales and use tax returns from October 1, 2015 to September 30, 2018.
3. After conducting the audit, the Department issued a proposed assessment on June 30, 2020, finding Ag-Pro failed to report and pay $1,173,227.74 in sales and use taxes and assessed Ag-Pro penalties for negligence pursuant to section 12-54-43(F).
4. Ag-Pro protested the proposed assessment on September 4, 2020, arguing Ag-Pro has an exemption certificate for every purchase of tangible personal property that Ag-Pro did not collect and remit sales tax during the audited period.
5. Ag-Pro provided the Department with information about Ag-Pro's customers who allegedly provided Ag-Pro with the exemption certificate and claimed the farm machines exemption from sales tax during the audited period.
6. A review of the Department's records indicated none of Ag-Pro's customers who claimed the farm machines exemption were eligible to claim the exemption.

 SCDOR

7. After the issues could not be resolved, the matter was transferred to the Department's Office of General Counsel for review and consideration.
8. On May 6, 2021, the Department's Counsel contacted Ag-Pro's Counsel to request the exemption certificates for the audited period. Ag-Pro's Counsel agreed to provide all exemption certificates for the audited period by mid-July 2021.
9. As of the date of this Department Determination, none of the requested exemption certificates have been provided.

Analysis:

Ag-Pro fraudulently failed to collect and remit sales tax arising from customers' purchases of tangible personal property during the audited period.

South Carolina law requires retailers of tangible personal property to collect and remit sales taxes. S.C. Code Ann. § 12-36-910. When a South Carolina retailer is presented an exemption certificate allowing the purchaser to buy the tangible personal property tax-free, the retailer is absolved from that liability. S.C. Code Ann. § 12-36-2510. However, if the retailer "fraudulently [failed] to collect or remit the tax, or both, or [solicited] a purchaser to participate in an unlawful claim of an exemption," the liability for the sales tax remains with the retailer. Id. Further, if a taxpayer fails to report and remit taxes due on a return due to negligence or disregard of the regulations, a penalty of 5% of the underpayment and 50% of the interest is added to the tax liability.

In this case, Ag-Pro provided its customers with an exemption form to complete in order to claim the farm machines sales tax exemption found in section 12-36-2120. This particular exemption applies to commercial farmers, and not every person purchasing farm equipment for recreational or personal use. Id. Therefore, Ag-Pro's solicitation of its customers' participation in the unlawful claiming of the farm machines sales tax exemption establishes Ag-Pro's liability for the sales and use taxes arising from the purchases during the audited period.

Additionally, Ag-Pro failed to provide the Department with the requested substantiating documentation to confirm Ag-Pro's customers provided Ag-Pro with exemption certificates at the time of purchase. Therefore, Ag-Pro has failed to comply with the documentation requirements in section 12-36-2510.

Finally, Ag-Pro's failure to report and remit the sales taxes arising from its customers' purchases of tangible personal property during the audited period in this case constitutes negligence or a disregard of the laws governing sales tax exemptions in this case.

Conclusion:

The Department properly found Ag-Pro liable for the unreported and unremitted sales tax arising from its customers' purchases of tangible personal property in this case and the associated negligence penalties and applicable interest.

If you disagree with this Department Determination, you may request a contested case hearing before the ALC. If you choose to request a contested case hearing, you must do so within 30 days from the date below. PARTIAL SUMMARY JUDGMENT

This case is before the Administrative Law Court (ALC or Court) pursuant to a Request for Contested Case Hearing filed on August 25, 2021 by counsel for Ag-Pro, LLC (Petitioner or Ag-Pro). Petitioner contests a determination by the South Carolina Department of Revenue (Respondent, DOR or Department) finding it liable for sales and use tax arising out of its sales of tangible personal property from October 1, 2015 to September 30, 2018 (the Audit Period). On May 19, 2022 Ag-Pro filed two Motions for Partial Summary Judgment raising ten issues related to 741 of the 3,821 transactions at issue in this matter. On May 20, 2022 DOR filed a Motion for Partial Summary Judgment raising three issues related to 2,732 of the transactions. Responses and Replies were filed with respect to each of the motions, and oral argument was held on June 27 and 28, 2022.

Under ALC Rule 68, this Court may apply the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure in contested case proceedings where no ALC rule applies and when practicable. Therefore, Rule 56, SCRPC, applies in determining whether summary judgment is proper in this case. Summary judgment is proper when there is no issue as to any material fact and the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. Quality Towing, Inc. v. City of Myrtle Beach, 340 S.C. 29, 33, 530 S.E.2d 369, 371 (2000); Rule 56, SCRPC. Summary judgment should not be granted even when there is no dispute as to evidentiary facts, if there is disagreement concerning the conclusions or inferences to be drawn from those facts. Moriarty v. Garden Sanctuary Church of God, 341 S.C. 320, 327, 534 S.E.2d 672, 675 (2000). When determining whether any triable issue of fact exists, "the evidence and all inferences which can reasonably be drawn therefrom must be viewed in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party." Quail Hill, LLC v. Cnty. of Richland, 387 S.C. 223, 235, 692 S.E.2d 499, 505 (2010) (citation omitted). However, when plain, palpable, and indisputable facts exist on which reasonable minds cannot differ, summary judgment should be granted. Trico Surveying, Inc. v. Godley Auction Co., 314 S.C. 542, 544, 431 S.E.2d 565, 566 (1993).

“The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder.” George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001). “A court considering summary judgment neither makes factual determinations nor considers the merits of competing testimony; however, summary judgment is completely appropriate when a properly supported motion sets forth facts that remain undisputed or are contested in a deficient manner.” David v. McLeod Reg'l Med. Ctr., 367 S.C. 242, 250, 626 S.E.2d 1, 5 (2006). A party may not rest upon the mere allegations or denials of his pleadings. Rule 56(e), SCRCP. A party opposing summary judgment must come forward with affidavits or other supporting documents demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for trial. Doe v. Batson, 345 S.C. 316, 320, 548 S.E.2d 854, 856 (2001). One may not create a genuine issue of material fact and, thus, avoid summary judgment by asserting that the trier of fact may disbelieve uncontradicted evidence. Hoard ex rel. Hoard v. Roper Hosp., Inc., 387 S.C. 539, 549, 694 S.E.2d 1, 6 (2010).

In this case, there is no genuine issue of material fact relevant to many of the transactions. Therefore, it is appropriate to resolve the issues related to those transactions by partial summary judgment and thereby narrow the issues to be decided at the upcoming hearing on the merits in this contested case.

DOR'S MOTION

~~The Department moves for summary judgment finding Ag-Pro liable for sales tax on 2,732 of the transactions at issue for sales in which Ag-Pro has failed to substantiate that the transaction was tax exempt. Those transactions fall into three categories:~~

1. Transactions without documented exemption elections: Transactions without a contemporaneous exemption election documented on a Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate or equivalent document. (2,407 transactions; $7,442,617.71 in gross proceeds)
2. Transactions with no exemption claimed: Transactions with an exemption certificate or equivalent document indicating the individual was not claiming an exemption. (182 transactions; $1,398,403.04 in gross proceeds)
3. Transactions involving ineligible property: Transactions with an exemption elected but the property purchased was not eligible for the claimed exemption. (143 transactions; $1,043,004.35 in gross proceeds)

In response, Ag-Pro raises two foundational arguments. First, Petitioner argues that the only proper issue raised in the Department's Proposed Assessment is unlawful solicitation of exemption certificates. Petitioner would have this Court find that unless the unlawful solicitation of exemption is proved, no tax liability attaches to any of the transactions. The Department agrees that a determination of unlawful solicitation is a question of fact for the hearing requiring examination of circumstances of each sale and thus would not be appropriate for summary judgment. However, Petitioner's position with respect to the scope of the August 2021 Department Determination is factually flawed. Petitioner quotes only the first of three paragraphs explaining the basis of the decision and then claims that is the only issue raised. This position ignores the second and third paragraphs of the Department's Determination which state:

Additionally, Ag-Pro failed to provide the Department with the requested substantiating documentation to confirm Ag-Pro's customers provided Ag-Pro with exemption certificates at the time of purchase. Therefore, Ag-Pro has failed to comply with the documentation requirements in section 12-36-2510.

Finally, Ag-Pro's failure to report and remit the sales taxes arising from its customers' purchases of tangible personal property during the audited period in this case constitutes negligence or a disregard of the laws governing sales tax exemptions in this case.

This language clearly states that a basis for the Department Determination was the failure to provide documentation substantiating the claimed exemptions—the very issue raised in the Department's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment. Therefore, I find that the issue of whether Ag-Pro can substantiate its claims for the farm machinery exemptions is a proper issue before this Court in this contested case and appropriate to be examined in this summary judgment motion.

Ag-Pro also argues that some transactions are tax-exempt or subject to less tax for other reasons. These are the same issues raised in Ag-Pro's motions for partial summary judgment, and deal with different transactions than those raised in the Department's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment. Those issues will be addressed below in connection with Ag-Pro's motions, but I find they are irrelevant to the transactions at issue in DOR's motion.

Transactions without documented exemption elections:

The Department argues it is entitled to summary judgment on the transactions in which Ag-Pro has failed to produce any evidence that the transaction is tax-exempt by way of a contemporaneous exemption election documented on an exemption certificate or similar document. Without an exemption election documented at, or prior to, the time of the transaction indicating Ag-Pro's customer was claiming an exemption for that transaction, no evidence exists to substantiate Ag-Pro's claim that its customer was purchasing the tangible personal property for an exempt use.

Ag-Pro argues that while the burden of proving the exemption stays with the seller, failure to obtain necessary information at the time of purchase does not preclude a transaction from qualifying for exemption. Petitioner also claims that, where the certificates are defective or missing, the sales invoices suffice with all the information needed to claim the exemption. Alternatively, Petitioner argues its witnesses can testify to prove the necessary facts. This response misapprehends both the statutory requirements and Petitioner's burden required to overcome a motion for summary judgment.

In order to be eligible for an exemption, the purchaser must be buying tangible personal property eligible for the claimed exemption for an exempt purpose. S.C. Code Ann. §§ 12-36-2120(16), 12-36-2510. The purchaser must indicate at the time of the sale that the purchaser is buying the property for an exempt purpose. Otherwise, the sale is taxable. The language of the statute at issue is clear:

(B) [T]he following provisions must be followed when a purchaser claims an exemption by use of an exemption certificate:

- (1) The seller shall obtain at the time of the purchase any information determined necessary by the department, including the reason the purchaser is claiming a tax exemption or exclusion;....
- (3) the seller shall maintain proper records of exempt or excluded transactions and provide them to the department when requested and in the form requested by the department.

(C) A seller that complies with the provisions of this section is relieved from any tax otherwise applicable if it is determined that the purchaser improperly claimed an exemption or exclusion by use of a certificate, provided the seller did not fraudulently fail to collect or remit the tax, or both, or solicit a purchaser to participate in an unlawful claim of an exemption. The liability for tax shifts to the purchaser who improperly claimed the exemption or exclusion by use of the certificate.

S.C. Code Ann. § 12-36-2510 (B) & (C) (2014) (emphasis added).

Thus, Ag-Pro bears the burden of establishing the transactions it claims are tax-exempt on its tax returns are in fact tax-exempt. If Ag-Pro cannot substantiate the information on its tax returns by providing the required records, Ag-Pro is liable for the tax. Ultimately, the issue before the Court in this case is whether Ag-Pro can prove the transactions Ag-Pro claimed were tax-exempt on its tax returns were actually tax-exempt.

Ag-Pro's response to the summary judgment motion does not offer any testimony or evidence contradicting the Department's position that sections 12-36-2510 and 12-36-2540 require Ag-Pro to obtain all information the Department deems necessary to determine the tax liability for each transaction. Ag-Pro concedes in its brief that it was required to maintain records containing the following information to substantiate any particular sales transaction is tax-exempt:

- Identification of the purchaser (name and address);
- Description of the tangible personal property being purchased;
- Gross proceeds arising out of the sale;
- Date of the sales transaction;
- Identification of the exemption the purchaser is claiming; and
- Reason the purchaser is claiming the exemption (exempt purpose).

Ag-Pro acknowledges in its response that, "As long as [Ag-Pro] has a signed document (or some other document) indicating the purchaser is claiming an exemption, and a corresponding invoice for the transaction exists, [Ag-Pro] has complied with Section 12-36-2510(B)." Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of the gross proceeds of retail sales of tangible personal property during the Audit Period for which Ag-Pro has not produced any evidence substantiating its claim that the transactions are tax-exempt.

We turn then to the question of whether Ag-Pro has met its burden of showing that a genuine issue of material fact exists for trial that it can present those records to support the tax exemptions for the 2,407 transactions reflected in Exhibit 1. Ag-Pro argues that it is not required to produce evidence at the summary judgment stage because the Department has produced no evidence, only spread sheets authored by counsel which are not admissible evidence. This argument misapprehends the burden of proof and the nature of this motion. The spreadsheets developed by DOR's attorney do an admirable job of making the voluminous documentary evidence in this case more manageable, but they do not purport to be evidence. They are simply a catalog of the transactions, organized by category. The taxpayer bears the burden of proving its entitlement to the tax exemption. By pointing out the particular transactions for which Ag-Pro has failed to produce evidence in discovery of such entitlement, DOR has articulated a summary judgment issue for which Petitioner bears the burden of proof. A party opposing summary judgment must come forward with affidavits or other supporting documents demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for trial. Doe v. Batson, 345 S.C. at 321, 548 S.E.2d at 856.

In its response to this motion¹ Ag-Pro has failed to identify any evidence to refute the Department's assertion that no evidence exists substantiating that Ag-Pro's customers claimed an exemption for the transactions identified in Exhibit 1. Therefore, the Department is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law for these 2,407 transactions with gross proceeds of $7,442,617.71 and tax liability of $520,983.24.

Transactions with no exemption claimed

As discussed above, Section 12-36-2510(B)(1) requires Ag-Pro to obtain the reason the purchaser claims the exemption at the time of purchase in order to establish the sales transaction is tax-exempt. Section 12-36-2510(A)(2)(b) states if an exemption is not applicable to the purchase, the retailer is liable for sales tax. Therefore, as a matter of law, Ag-Pro is liable for sales tax on purchases in which no exemption applied. After reviewing the available evidence in this case, the Department has identified 183 transactions in which Ag-Pro has provided Form ST-8F Exemption Certificates indicating its customers were not claiming an exemption. These transactions are listed in Exhibit 2.

Accordingly, pursuant to statute, Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of the transactions in which Ag-Pro has provided a Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate indicating its customers were not claiming an exemption. Ag-Pro has not raised an argument or pointed out ~~any genuine issue of material fact that exists with respect to Ag-Pro's liability for sales tax on~~ these transactions. No issue of material fact exists with respect to Ag-Pro's customers indicating they were not eligible to claim an exemption by not "checking the box" on the Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate provided to Ag-Pro at the time of the transaction. Therefore, the Department is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of the gross proceeds of retail sales of tangible personal property during the Audit Period for which a Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate exists indicating Ag-Pro's customer did not elect an exemption and was not purchasing the tangible personal property for an exempt use. Exhibit 2 details the 182 transactions with gross proceeds of $1,398,403.04 and tax liability of $97,888.21.

Transactions involving ineligible property

The Department argues it is entitled to summary judgment on the transactions in which Ag-Pro sold its customer tangible personal property not eligible for the exemption the customer claimed on the Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate. For these transactions, detailed in Exhibit 3, DOR argues that the evidence Ag-Pro has produced establishes that the tangible personal property purchased by its customer was not eligible for the exemption the customer claimed on the Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate. Petitioner concedes² this issue with respect to some of the transactions, but argues that a genuine issue of material fact exists with respect to the 30 transactions in which the customer claimed the farm machinery exemption for the purchase of a mower.

Petitioner argues DOR's interpretation of "used in planting, cultivating or harvesting farm crops" does not comport with the language of its own regulation, which includes "animal and motor drawn or operated implements such as plows, harrows, hay rakes, mowers, cultivators, and planters" in the list of machines that qualify for the farm machinery exemption. S.C. Code Ann. Regs. 117-301.5(f) (emphasis added). Ag-Pro asserts there is a genuine issue of material fact as to whether the mowers sold by Ag-Pro are capable of an exempted use. The Department counters that, while some mowers qualify for the farm machinery exemption, the undisputed evidence in this case is that the mowers sold by Ag-Pro do not. DOR points to the testimony of Walter Williams, who testified as Ag-Pro's 30(B)(6) witness by deposition that the mowers sold by Ag-Pro are not used in the planting, harvesting or cultivating of crops. Petitioner has failed to point to any evidence or testimony to contradict that statement in Williams' deposition testimony conceding that these mowers cannot be used in a manner to qualify for the exemption. One may not create a genuine issue of material fact and, thus, avoid summary judgment by asserting that the trier of fact may disbelieve uncontradicted evidence. Hoard, 387 S.C. at 549, 694 S.E.2d at 6. Ag-Pro has not refuted the Department's assertion that evidence exists conclusively indicating Ag-Pro's customer was purchasing property not eligible for the exemption selected by Ag-Pro's customer on the Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate for the transactions identified by the ² Petitioner concedes the remaining transactions by failing to raise any argument in its brief related to those transactions. A party opposing summary judgment must come forward with affidavits or other supporting documents demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for trial. Doe v. Batson, 345 S.C. at 321.

Department as involving ineligible property. Therefore, Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of the gross proceeds of retail sales of tangible personal property sold during the Audit Period for which the customer purchased property not eligible for the exemption elected on the customer's Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate. The Department is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law for the 143 transactions listed in Exhibit 3 with gross proceeds of $1,043,004.35 and a tax liability of $73,010.30.

AG-PRO'S MOTIONS

Ag-Pro filed two motions for partial summary judgment raising ten issues. In its response to the motions DOR has conceded 383 of the transactions involved in favor of Ag-Pro. At oral argument counsel for Ag-Pro agreed to withdraw its motion with respect to the 48 transactions for which Ag-Pro claims the maximum tax for motor vehicles applies to the sale of certain Gators. The parties will seek to work out a stipulation to await a decision by the appellate courts in the Jack's Custom Cycles case currently pending before the South Carolina Court of Appeals. A decision in that case will be dispositive of the legal issue presented with respect to those transactions. The only issue remaining contested for a decision from Ag-Pro's motions for summary judgment are the group of 225 transactions in which Petitioner claims the items sold were shipped for delivery out of state and thus not subject to sales tax pursuant to S.C. Code Ann. Section 12-36-2120(36).

Ag-Pro points to the "ship to" field of the invoices for these transactions as proof that the goods were delivered to an out-of-state address. In addition, Petitioner has submitted an affidavit ~~executed on June 9, 2022 by Walter Williams stating that ten of those 225 transactions were~~ related to charges made for freight reimbursement. The Department argues that there is an issue of fact to be determined at the hearing as to whether the "ship to" field of the invoices was used by Ag-Pro to indicate that the goods were shipped. The Department points to the following evidence that undercuts Ag-Pro's assertion that the "ship to" field of the invoice indicates that the merchandise was delivered to the address shown there:

- All of the invoices produced by Ag-Pro in this case contain an address in the "ship to" field;
- If the "ship to" field indicates delivery to the address shown Ag-Pro would have had no in-person transactions whatsoever during the three-year audit period;

- Walter Williams, Ag-Pro's Controller testified in his deposition describing an in-person transaction;
- Invoices for labor-only include an address in the "ship-to" field, but no charges are reflected for service calls;
- No shipping charges are reflected on the invoices at issue;
- One invoice shows the "ship to" address as the address of the financing company in Minnesota for a customer located in Georgia.

When determining whether any triable issue of fact exists, "the evidence and all inferences which can reasonably be drawn therefrom must be viewed in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party." Quail Hill, 387 S.C. at 235, 692 S.E.2d at 505. I find that DOR has demonstrated that there is a genuine issue of material fact to be determined at a hearing as to whether the 225 transactions Ag-Pro claims were out-of-state deliveries represent circumstances where the items were delivered to the customer outside South Carolina. Therefore, Petitioner's motion for partial summary judgment must be denied as to claims of out-of-state deliveries.

Conclusions

In summary, with the exception of the stipulations and concessions made by the parties during briefing and oral argument of these motions, as discussed above and reflected in the exhibits to this order, Respondent's motion for partial summary judgment is GRANTED and Petitioner's motions for partial summary judgment are DENIED.

The Department is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law and Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of the gross proceeds of retail sales of tangible personal property during the Audit Period for which no evidence has been produced substantiating Ag-Pro's claim that the 2,407 transactions listed on Exhibit 1 are tax exempt. Those transactions have gross proceeds of $7,442,617.71 and tax liability of $520,983.24.

The Department is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law and Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of the gross proceeds of retail sales of tangible personal property during the Audit Period for which a Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate exists indicating Ag-Pro's customer did not elect an exemption and was not purchasing the tangible personal property for an exempt use. Exhibit 2 details those 182 transactions with gross proceeds of $1,398,403.04 and tax liability of $97,888.21.

The Department is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law and Ag-Pro is liable for the sales tax arising out of sales of tangible personal property sold during the Audit Period for which the customer purchased property not eligible for the exemption elected on the Form ST-8F Exemption Certificate. Exhibit 3 details those 143 transactions with gross proceeds of $1,043,004.35 and a tax liability of $73,010.30.

A genuine issue of material fact exists as to the 225 transactions identified by Ag-Pro as exempt from sales tax because they were delivered to customers out-of-state. Therefore, Petitioner's motion for summary judgment as to those transactions is denied. Because all other issues raised in Petitioner's motions for partial summary judgment have been conceded by the Department or withdrawn by Petitioner, Ag-Pro's motions for partial summary judgment are DENIED.
