Ms. Clark:

My apologies to all. I was getting really sick all day yesterday. I am home on antibiotics today. I see where I sent the COS with the extension request, but apparently neglected to add Meghan to the email stream. Sorry I did not catch that.

I am sending this email to filings to acknowledge the error and advising that I am forwarding the request from yesterday to Ms. Jameson. My thanks to her for consenting to this request. Please advise me if there is anything more I need to do to correct this deficiency. Thank you.

Tara,

From my diligent search of my emails, I was never served with your extension, despite your proof of service indicating I was served by email. Can you please check your records and confirm that you did indeed serve me by email, and if so, forward me that email for our file? Your email to the court does not copy me, and I have check my email numerous times.

Ms. Shurling,

I did not receive any emails from you yesterday, but your certificate of service indicates I was served by email yesterday with this extension request. I do not have any objection to your extension request, but ask that you please forward me the service email you sent yesterday for our records.

Sincerely,

Ms. Clark,

The State has not received a third extension request. Was one filed?
