Appellate Case No. 2022-001316

Dear Deangelo:

Enclosed please find two letters from the Court of Appeals and other information regarding your appellate case.

The first letter from the Court of Appeals outlines that the Court has received your notice of intent to appeal filings and provided a case number which is referenced above and also updated the case caption. Both of those items are further explained in the Court's letter which is enclosed as Exhibit A.

The second letter from the Court of Appeals outlines that you will be required to provide a pro se statement to the court with in twenty (20) days from the date of my mailing you this letter regarding any arguable basis you have that there are issues preserved for appeal which the Court may consider pursuant to South Carolina Appellate Court Rule 203(d)(B)(iv). Please note that by my count twenty (20) days from the date of my sending of this letter (September 27, 2022) will run on October 17, 2022. The Court's letter regarding what is required from you is enclosed as Exhibit B.

For additional information regarding what you will need to submit to the Court, please reference my last letter to you regarding your appeal dated September 20, 2022. Among other things, that letter outlined that I had requested the Court of Appeals to grant you the leave to file your own pro se explanation which they have now granted. Although already provided to you an additional copy of my request and explanation to Court requesting it grant the opportunity to file your own statement is enclosed as Exhibit C.

Additionally enclosed with my September 20, 2022 letter to you was a copy of the applicable rule for your reference, a form on which you can provide your explanation, and a postage paid and pre-addressed envelope to ease you with providing the required explanation to the Court of Appeals.
