SC Court of Appeals

To Whom It May Concern,

I'm writing you on behalf of Mr. Jamie Goss case #2021-00127. My name is Tyron Wilson, Community Advocate and Founder/Executive Director of The Tyron Wilson Let Us Mentor (TWLUM) Teens Project. I live in the community in which Mr. Goss lived before his incarceration. Mr. Goss comes from a single parent home in which his mother tried her best to create a good and stable living environment for him and his siblings. Not having a father figure and guidance that he needed as a young adult, has caused Mr. Goss to make some bad decisions; many of which he has paid his debt to society.

Mr. Goss has had to watch his 4 kids grow up the same way he did; without a father figure and being raised by his mom. His mother's health is failing now, she uses an oxygen machine and can't care for herself without assistance. Mr. Goss has been incarcerated for many years and understand his punishment for his crime. Over these years, Jamie has had time to grow mentally and spiritually. He now realizes how important his freedom means to him and his family. Through faith and a great support system, which I will provide, I strongly feel that Mr. Goss will become a productive citizen if given the opportunity.

I work closely with other organizations in Georgetown and Horry counties to better improve the well-being of our community. I will also help Jamie get the right resources to find a job. The Father's Place will definitely be a resource, which help fathers who were incarcerated become better father, upon his release. I truly believe Jamie is ready to become a law-biding citizen, and with myself as a mentor I will do my part in guide him to greatness.

I pray you take everything into consideration to grant Jamie parole/pardon for his 4 kids and his elderly mom whose health is failing. Every conversation I've had with him engaged in spirituality and God, he shows an impeccable love for his family and continues to be a guiding light despite his situation. His Faith is at its peak and the rehabilitation designed by the South Carolina Dept. of Corrections has been pivotal in the creation of who Mr. Jamie Goss is today.
