Re: State v. Joe Ross Worley (Appellate Case No. 2012-210646)

Dear Ms. Kitchings:

This is the second 30-day update pursuant to the Order filed by the Court on March 28, 2013. The attorneys for Mr. Worley have indicated that they want to have a hearing. We conducted a telephone conference call and the attorneys agreed to have a hearing on Friday, May 17, 2013, in McCormick. Despite the agreement, problems developed on both sides. First, the State wanted to move the hearing, but eventually agreed to leave it as set. Then, one of the attorneys for Mr. Worley got called to a hearing that was under an order from the Supreme Court of South Carolina to have completed by May 17.

I have given the attorneys a proposed date of June 14 for rescheduling. Ms. Ballard's office is attempting to get all the attorneys to agree on that date. I have been without a law clerk since early May. The new clerk starts today. He will be given the task of setting up the hearing.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

William P. Keesley
