Good morning. I have been home sick since my filing last week regarding this case. I apologize for not seeing this order sooner, but I can understand how I missed it because I was very ill. Thankfully, I was able to rest all weekend and an additional medication has helped me feel much better this morning. I was able to complete this appendix last week with the help of my paralegal and it is being printed today. My petition will be finished today although I expect it will be tomorrow before I can add page references to the petition. I apologize for this delay.. Until this morning I have just been too sick. I will get this petition and appendix submitted tomorrow and will most sincerely appreciate the Court accepting it for filing at that time.
