RE: Terence L. Rush v. Michael B. Stribble
Appellate Case No. 2021-000817

Dear Ms. Allen:

I am at a severe disadvantage being incarcerated in another state without the resources as a citizen who is free to go to a supply store and get color paper or visit a packaging business that can bind my documents that the appellate court needs from me.

I do not know how I can facilitate this last request in your September 13, 2022 correspondence, because this institution that I am at do not provide inmates with those services at this law library. They do have a stapler, but not one that can staple thru the record on Appeal. I would have to make several small bundles if you tell me that it would be okay for the court. Other than that I do not know of another way to facilitate completing sending the bound copy to the court as it already have my original copies.

I look forward to your response.

With warm regards I am,

Terence L. Rush.
