Motion to Proceed without cause

I Charlene Mainer was served with paperwork at 9:30pm on November 17,2022 when I returned home a letter was taped on the front door of the residence. I received a bond to stay hearing in which I was told that I was required to pay my rent on time and I would only have five days to do so. I paid my rent on the first as instructed but my Landlord is asking me to pay my portion as well as section8 portion. This is why I am on the section8 program I am a single parent receiving assistance from the government with paying my rent I can't afford to pay the 1,000 dollars rent as requested from my Landlord. Section8 pay a portion and I am required to pay a portion. Secion8 pays 786 and I pay 214 But my Landlord wants me to pay both He is not understanding the section8 process and He told the court that I did not pay my rent for November and I was given an eviction notice for 24 hours I would like to appeal this decision because I am not in control of the government agency on how and when he is paid this is not in my control that is his contract with section8. I can not make them move any faster He should understand the process because He has been dealing with this program for years. I can not afford the filing fees for this appeal and I am asking for this to be taken into consideration that I moved here from out of state for the protection of me and my Children fleeing domestic violence.
