Re: Raglins Creek Farms, LLC v. Nancy Dunn Martin
Case No.: 2017-001795

Dear Ms. Kitchings:

As of today, the Respondent has delivered its enlarged reproductions of Plaintiff's Exhibits 2,6,8,41,42,43,44,45,46,47,49,51,52,53,54, and 55, to Appellant's Counsel for review, and those reproductions are in the possession of Appellant's Counsel. Appellant's Counsel has kindly agreed to deliver to the Court of Appeals the reproductions from that group to which Appellant does not object. The enlarged reproduction of Exhibit 49 is unnecessary if the Richland County Clerk of Court produces the original exhibit. Respondent does not have reproductions of Plaintiff's Exhibits 10, 18, 22, 23, and 35, and does not anticipate that it can produce those. The Richland County Clerk of Court states that it has Plaintiff's Exhibit 19 which is a very old copy of the 1884 plat that we cannot reproduce.

The Appellant has sent to Respondent reproductions of Defendants Exhibits 1 and 9, and Respondent consents to the substitution of those reproductions for the original exhibits. Respondent consents to an extension of time for Appellant to produce additional reproductions from the list of exhibits in the November 3, 2022, Order, past November 23, 2022, to the extent that the Court grants such an extension. Appellant has agreed to provide Respondent with a list of the additional reproductions it wishes to submit and copies of those exhibits by email.

Thank you for working with us to replace the lost exhibits in this case.

Very truly yours,

BAXLEY, WELLS & BENSON, P.A.
