SC Court of Appeals

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA
IN THE COURT OF APPEALS

APPEAL FROM DORCHESTER COUNTY COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
EDGAR W DICKSON, CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE

Appellate Case No. 2022-001070

Rosen Hagood, LLC, .....Respondent/Appellant, v.

Albert T. Henson, Jr., .....Appellant/Respondent,

APPELLANT/RESPONDENT’S MOTION TO FILE BRIEF OUT OF TIME and RESTURN TO MOTION TO STRIKE

I. Motion To File Out of Time

Pursuant to Rule 240, Appellant/Respondent files this motion for leave to have his previously filed brief in this matter accepted despite having been filed out of time for the reasons set forth as follows:

1. The undersigned counsel was retained as counsel for Appellant-Respondent Henson (hereinafter “Henson” for clarity) in the above-captioned matter on December 27, 2022.
2. Prior to that date, Henson had been pro se, and had sought an extension of time in which to file his own appellant’s brief. The order extending the deadline for that brief was issued on November 28, 2022, and set a deadline of January 3, 2023. See attached Exhibit A.

3. Upon initial calendaring of deadlines by the undersigned, however, our office mixed up two dates.
4. We set the deadline for Henson's initial appellant's brief as falling on December 28, 2022. That error is reflected in the motion seeking an extension of the same deadline, which was submitted on December 28, 2022 and incorrectly asserts the understanding that the deadline to file was the same date. Exhibit B.
5. That motion was granted, and the deadline was extended for a second time (hence the referenced to good cause being necessary for any future extensions). Exhibit C. In doing so, however, the extension was calculated as 30 days from that date, rather than from the true prior-established deadline of January 3, 2023.
6. The other calendaring mix-up was setting the date of January 3, 2023 as the deadline date for filing of Henson's return brief following Respondent-Appellant's initial brief that had been filed in November, rather than its actual and proper due date of December 28, 2022.
7. While operating on the mistaken belief that such return was due January 3, 2023, Henson filed his brief in response on January 3, 2023.
8. On Wednesday, January 11, 2023, opposing counsel notified the undersigned as to the late filing of Henson's return brief. The undersigned set about to investigate the issue raised, and thereby pieced together the referenced mix-up of filing deadlines explained above. Prior to the opportunity to acknowledge that error and file a motion for acceptance of his brief out of time, Respondent-Appellant filed a motion seeking to strike the brief (and seek other relief as is discussed further below).
9. As is clear from the information above, Henson acknowledges the responsive brief was late, but was the product of confusion on the part of the undersigned upon retention on the eve of relevant deadlines. The undersigned filed a motion for continuance the day of the relevant deadline, but failed to appreciate the scope of the continuances needed, otherwise the request would have been dual-faceted.

10. Regardless of reason, however, Respondent-Appellant has not been prejudiced in any way by such a brief delay of five days, which had included the actual New Year's Day and the state observation thereof the following day. The brief was filed on January 3, the first business day after the new year.
11. Because the deadline for filing of a responsive brief is not jurisdictional in nature, and thus is within the power of this Court to extend, Appellant-Respondent Henson respectfully requests that the filing of his responsive brief submitted January 3, 2023 be accepted and treated as timely filed.

II. Response to Motion to Strike

1. As discussed above, Henson's initial brief and designation of matter were filed on January 3, 2023.
2. In his initial brief, Henson requested that the Court take judicial notice of several documents pursuant to Rule 201, SCRE. These documents were also set forth in Henson's designation of matter.
3. Rule 201(d), SCRE provides that it is mandatory for a court to take judicial notice if requested by a party and supplied with the necessary information. Further, judicial notice may be taken at any stage of the proceeding. Rule 201(f), SCRE. These rules are made applicable to the Court of Appeals by Rule 1101, SCRE and Rule 101, SCRE.

4. These documents of which Henson requested the Court to take judicial notice are also contained in public records maintained by the Judicial Branch.
5. While these documents and records originate from separate litigation, these materials are relevant because it is necessary for the Court to examine the underlying litigation preceding this appeal considering that the disputes underlying the current dispute arose from the underlying litigation.
6. By taking judicial notice of these materials, the Court will be able to understand the full context of the issues that were not disclosed to the circuit court when granting summary judgment to Respondent-Appellant.
7. For the reasons set forth above, Appellant-Respondent Henson respectfully requests that the Court deny Respondent-Appellant's Motion to Strike.

Respectfully submitted,

Re: Rosen Hagood, LLC v. Albert T. Henson, Jr.
Appellate Case No.: 2022-001070

Dear Ms. Kitchings:

Please allow this correspondence to advise that our firm has been retained to represent Albert T. Henson, Jr. in the above-referenced matter. Based upon information we have received, Mr. Henson's Initial Brief of Appellant/Respondent and Designation of Matter in the above-referenced matter are due to be served and filed today, December 28, 2022. Unfortunately, we need to request a 30-day extension to file this brief. If this request for a 30-day extension is granted, the new deadline would be Friday, January 27, 2023. We have contacted Counsel for Respondent/Appellant to obtain consent for this request, but as of the time of this filing, we have not heard back with a response.

Pursuant to paragraph (c) of the Supreme Court's administrative order dated August 25, 2021 ("Methods of Electronic Filing and Service Under Rule 262 of the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules") a check for the filing fee is being forwarded separately via US mail. If a more formal motion filing is required, please let us know and one will be submitted immediately.

Thank you in advance for your consideration of this request. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact my office. With warm personal regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

s/Desa Ballard
