S.C. SUPREME COURT

Felicia Holloway/Jonathan Mathis
117 Dove Ridge Rd
Columbia, SC 29223
January 13, 2023

To Whom It May Concern:

The above addressees are requesting this court to grant a writ of certiorari. Attorney Yani G. Mouratey of 1812 Lincoln St, Columbia, SC 29202 and his client, C&M Properties LLC have fraudulently appeared in court in our absence. This counselor and his client purposely mailed court date notifications and had such notifications served at the wrong address. These papers were served at 114 Dove Ridge Rd, Columbia, SC 29223. We have never resided at the previously listed address. As this case pertains to the property located at our current physical address, it is completely unreasonable to believe that these parties would incorrectly address these summonses. Due to this error made by counselor Mouratey, we were not able to defend ourselves against the claims made by C&M Properties LLC. We have reason to believe this matter was deliberate and premeditated to prevent us from prevailing in court again as we had in October of 2021 for the same matter. C&M Properties LLC is attempting to remove us from our home based on statement that we are renter's, but we have never rented this home and proof of purchase can be provided as well as proof of mortgage on this property. On these grounds if I had been a renter all these years, why have I lived without heat or a/c in my home that was present at time of purchase from C&M Properties LLC, when it would be their responsibility to ensure these amenities were repaired. These persons are attempting to remove me from my home unlawfully. We are pleading with this court to review this matter and give us our day in court. The ODC has been notified of this matter as well.

Respectively Submitted,
