Dear Court of appeals,

I have been receiving email notifications from the court of appeals. Recently a deficiency was mailed to my home but no email notification as usual Which drastically decreases the time you get the notice. I was told my first case manager has left the job and it seems my email notifications may not have been set up again. Prior to the last deficiency notice, I have been receiving notices emailed.

I did not receive the notice by mail that was sent on April 13, 2022, until Tuesday April 18, 2023. I live in Rock Hill SC and the mail takes a long time from Columbia. I lost so many days in the mail and no email. I would like to be restored to receiving emails as I lost so many days. Prior to now I received communication from the court of appeals by email on the date of the order and later the mail would also come containing the hard copy. I didn't think I needed to submit a motion for this since it was already set up. Please let me know if I can get the email notices again. I am behind due to loosing so many days and don't want my case dismissed as according to the mailing I have to have this complete by 4/21/23..

Thank You,

Joe Adams
