I filed my PCR Application after my one year deadline was up and got a response back saying that it was going to be dismissed as untimely. I explained to my respondent as to why it shouldn't be dismissed as untimely in a timely manner (before my 20 days deadline was up) and got another response saying that it was going to be dismissed as untimely and that I had 20 days to respond as to why it shouldn't be dismissed as untimely if I didn't want it summarily dismissed and I responded again and then I got a third response to file this appeal. In both responses I explained that my Attorney agreed to help me ~~and~~ and when I came to prison I wasn't hearing anything from him and I tried to get my mother to contact him and she couldn't get a response. I went to get help from a inmate because I didn't know the steps to filing a appeal and he explained to me that I must file a PCR motion first and that he could help me I gave him the information that he asked for and he assured me that he would have it ready for me in a week or so. I ended up getting moved before he could get finished and while I was out of the facility that inmate now my cousin reached out and told me that the guy was finished with my motion and what I wanted him to do with it. I told him to mail it to my mother and she said she never received it. My mother finally heard from my Attorney and she told me he said that he wasn't filing a PCR for me. one of the inmates here told me I could get a PCR form from the Supreme Court that's when I wrote the Court and got one and went through the process.
