Dear Counsel,

The motion to be relieved as counsel can be made with the Court of Appeals. All timelines will automatically be held in abeyance pending the Court's decision. Once a decision has been made the Court will provide an order to all parties. Any future questions must be submitted to ctappfilings@sccourts.org.

Respectfully,

Khee'Asia Evans-Pryor

Thanks for the response and I'll make that motion. Which court do I get the order from and how am I supposed to get relieved without my client meeting the deadline to file.

I have no involvement in this whatsoever yet I feel that I am going to be on the hook for her filings?

Dear Counsel,

Pursuant to Rule 264, SCACR, the attorney in the court below shall remain counsel of record until withdrawal is approved. If you have already been relieved as counsel for the appellant, you will need to provide a copy of that order to the Court within ten days of the date of this letter. Otherwise, you will remain counsel of record until you file a motion to be relieved as counsel, and all future filings must be submitted by you.

Thank you for your email. I am not counsel for this appeal so please contact Ms. Aryeh directly. Do I need to file anything to clarify this? Ms. Aryeh can also verify.

Thanks

Wesley
