Good afternoon.

My replacement pleading for the attached appeal is going to come to you after 5:00 p.m. because I'm still checking it and making sure I've properly labeled the evidence. I also want to attach audio recording(s) of private security detail outlined in the lien because it proves that the action's pleadings contained intentional lies about me on the part of the Defendant, and so that the cause of fraud specifically by my opposition may also be considered in my appeal.

I will attach the indigency pleading and other documentation asking you to please hear everything relative to combined events as the evening progresses.

I apologize for the delays.

Good morning, again.

I see also that the "Respondent" in my notice and appeal needs to be listed as the judge -- and not the Defendant.

Sorry I made so many mistakes. I've never had to do this particular task before.

I believe the fact that I didn't receive notice of the dismissal until on/about the 13th when I seemingly first viewed it online (I also had a 2-day error reflecting the 15th in describing that event in the attached draft, as I've been moving) may give me until today to file the appeal anyway. I will have it corrected and to you ASAP today.

I'm doing my best and trying to avoid having to file a new lawsuit while seeking counsel to help.

Thank you.

Good evening,

My apologies that the Exhibit markings/attachments are incomplete. Please see extenuating circumstances in pleading. I wanted to get something to you by midnight tonight if possible, following up with the remainder of necessities.

Thanks in advance,
Mary A. Griffith
