Effectiveness of Intervention/Activity

Support Team: [REDACTED] to mom to [REDACTED] ng. Mom stated that she is happy to say she has no issues from the child at home. That she has spoken with the children letting them know that they are not to take anything and they are not to ask for anything, for the school is just waiting for them to slip up so that they can call DSS. Mom stated that one of the children got in trouble at school again for asking for a pack of crackers and got a referral.

Mom stated that she informed the school to do what needed to be done for she has spoken with him time after time about not asking and not taking things. Mom feels that the school is so petite when it comes down to things like this. Mom stated that she refuses to go to the school and she is not taking any phone calls from them either. [REDACTED] told mom that she needed to hear what he school has to say and then if [REDACTED] is not in agreement, she can then voice her opinion. [REDACTED] told her that she needed to call the school official [REDACTED] himself and let him know how she felt. [REDACTED] state

P. [REDACTED] CM called the dentist office to inform [REDACTED] the referral made by CM for the family to get an appointment for an assessment. [REDACTED] of the call, [REDACTED] was closed; but CM did not find [REDACTED].

Effectiveness of Intervention/Activity

Support Team: The mother, minor child who is also a part of his support team spoke with CM today. The purpose of this intervention is to help the child feel better about his behavior. Mom while talking with CM informed her that J.J.G. is still having some issues in the home for at times he does not want to listen. Mom stated that she is can ask him to complete a task and he is start mouthing off towards her. Mom stated that she is not sure what is causing him to have these issues and that she has shared this with his doctor to see if she can have him tested.

Mom stated he gets along well with his siblings until they does something that he does not like. Mom was encouraged by CM to talk with him and bring him in to express his feeling out in a positive way. Mom was able to state that she may want to have him see a counselor this week so he will be able to talk or so role play in order to get something feeling. Mom was told by CM if it was okay for her to speak with him and encourage him to do so.

Follow up: CM will follow up with school to see how he is doing the following week. CM will also follow up with the mother to see how he is doing in his behavior and if he is still having issues.

Support Team: The mother of the minor child spoke with CM today. Mom informed CM that his week would not be a good week for a visit with the children. Mom shared that the children has appointments and she has her grandchildren with her at the home and that she is not sure that this time is good of her, but that she asked CM to call later in the week to set a time for the following week for a visit.

Response: J.J.G. presented with serious facial expression and said it was embarrassing to be pulled out of class, making full assertive statement to stay in class and only see MHP every two weeks. He said that he didn't know what assertive communication meant when praised for making it to MHP. [REDACTED] paying attention to discussion, starting to connect with [REDACTED] along with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] statements. [REDACTED] He reported being nervous as emotion felt during speaking to others. He wanted to focus on happy emotion and not on anger/nervous and reported a belief that he was confident and didn't need mom to support him as much. [REDACTED] [REDACTED] He at first wanted two weeks and then stated a December date then returned back to weekly wanting session. He reported using a so so hand gesture when asked how behavior modification staff was working out but declined in saying if she helped him to raise hand and speak up more. He insisted that he wanted to do good and do his classwork. When explained that it requires work to improve speaking up and being heard, he shook head in agreement that he wanted to change nervousness. He said, "I know how" to request from mom to attend tonights award assembly where he will be recognized for honor roll, hoping to win bike. He reported "nothing" when asked his thoughts during play demonstration and eventually could identify and write some thoughts and distinguishing between feelings and actions in written and verbal forms.

Response: Lewis presented in quiet but responsive manner, responding to prompts but didn't perform reciprocal conversation. He was able to talk about breathing as a coping skill, but said that didn't know what coping meant. He requested "a break in services" and came to agreement on having therapy once or twice a month to address sibling relationships. He requested a specific MHS by name. In classroom, showed some disorganization by leaning back on floor and on table and teacher had specified certain requirements. He became frustrated as less games were available and it was not clear if he understood the meeting settings. He described what received for Christmas but only in response. He reported not digging in trash for food anymore, studies over and over, success in Christmas play, and home chore completion, and not needing mother by side.

Response: [REDACTED] He was able to express to his siblings reasons for his decision, but didn't get consensus. At times, he expressed his desires and was able to stop eating food when prompted about sugar and amount. He was able to say no to siblings when they requested his items, and he expressed emotion towards siblings in a positive way. He gave in to decision when brother encouraged him to change his mind about the item to buy but seemed happy with decision. He reported not following up on his actions to create a Response: [REDACTED]. He reported wanting only 5 minutes during lunch where he would want MHP to sit at different table and he come over. He exhibited unusually shy attitude saying he was not sure of having therapy sessions. At one point, he said, "I don't know what you are talking about which was out of context to conversation". When inquiring of [REDACTED] he said, "good" and didn't offer [REDACTED]. He reported getting along with siblings. Teacher reported no problems with J.J.G. J.J.G. [REDACTED]. Guidance counselor reported that sibling R.D.M. told on J.J.G. about taking food. Mom was called on phone and seemed to understand intervention to counter food urges because she described giving R.D.M. hug and telling that she loved him even though he had stolen food from peer backpack saying "he wanted it". Mom agreed to attend with J.J.G. and siblings a visit to juvenile detention as education of consequences of stealing.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: [REDACTED]. Client informed MHS that he did not take his meds today. MHS informed client that he can still have a great day because he has control over his body. [REDACTED] J.J.G. indicated that he was upset when he felt that he was not treated fairly at breakfast. Client was upset because he felt his brother had more oatmeal than he did. MHS explained to client that [REDACTED] had one pack. After that [REDACTED] began to pick with the other campers and made fun of them at times. After MHS prompted client he changed his attitude and did not have any other problems out of the camp.

Response: J.J.G. presented in happy mode, speaking with baby voice and reporting that he felt excited even medication taken today. [REDACTED] He described his body feeling the color blue and swirling sensations in stomach when addressing an adult. He could list a few areas that he feels courage and requested help with adult interactions when he loses energy. [REDACTED] is needed knowing that he can't get his words out even though he knows what to say. J.J.G. came up on his own coping tool of visualizing water running into his veins giving him energy to speak. He practiced breathing and agreed to visualize his image, which was triggered from his drawing (drawn with previous therapist) as a relaxing place with mountains and water "running up".

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: Mrs. Mitchell thanked the MHS for the mental help supporting her children. Mother indicated that she has her hands full at times and just had surgery but she is always on the go. Mrs. Mitchell stated that she is available in the mornings but not on the weekends unless its before 10am. Mother established with MHS that J.J.G. is a great child he is just to clingy at times to her. She needs help on showing him that it is okay to not be up under her all the time. Mrs. Mitchell stated that he tells her about everything he does each day when she comes home.

Response: Client indicated that he would tell an adult if there was an issue with his peers because he would not want to get into trouble. Client acknowledged that he had an okay weekend went to a birthday party but left because it was inside someones house. J.J.G. mentioned that he got into an argument with his sister and his brother R.D.M. stated that he wanted to go back to Ohio and leave J.J.G. in SC so he can get beat up. J.J.G. acknowledged that his mother was in the room and that R.D.M. later apologized for saying that but A.M.L. did not apologize for fussing with J.J.G. J.J.G. did not state why the argument stated but he said it made him feel sad that R.D.M. wanted to go back to Ohio.

[REDACTED] Mom shared she has rewarding the kids with fake money as originally planned and that J.J.G. was up to $9. She shared he would have had more $ but he was "refusing to get in the car one morning" because he "didn't get to wear what he wanted (shorts vs. pants) despite it being cold that morning". Mom explained calmly to J.J.G. that he must dress appropriate to the weather and must abide by the rules re: dress schedule. Mom shared J.J.G. will get a time out when he is "doing something wrong-not telling hte truth or hurting someone else" and otherwise he will have money he has earned
"taken away" and if he runs out of money he will also have a time-out during play time. J.J.G.
verbalized an understanding of this and became tearful when mom explained that he must follow the rules and he couldn't "get his way" when it came to rules.

Intervention/Activity
(What you did)

Co. met with Mrs. Mitchell who shared that her mother had passed away this morning.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Mrs. Mitchell shared her mother had passed away this morning and she "knew it was coming" because she was in the hospital, came out, then went back in. She shared she is upset and unsure what to do next , just taking things "day by day". Mrs. Mitchell expressed comfort in knowing that her mother was no longer in pain and shared overall she is doing the best she can and hanging in there. She reported J.J.G. seems to be handling things "ok". She shared her concentration has been on her mother and not so much behavior monitoring but in time she was going to get "back on track". She shared her surgery is still planned for the end of the month.

Effectiveness of Intervention/Activity

Mrs. Mitchell did admit since her mother passed away she wants the kids in the room w/ her and her husband told her that wasn't a good idea. She shared she just didn't want to "be alone" despite her husband being in the room w/ her. Mrs. Mitchell also shared J.J.G. has been told several times he needs to "leave the other kids alone and let her be the mom". She said he struggled with wanting to tell them "what to do". She said now their code word is "put up five" vs. "give me five" that all she has to do is hold up her hand (like a high-five) and that signals J.J.G. that he needs to take 5 minutes to himself. J.J.G. shared this is working out great for him and verbalized an understanding that he cannot "boss" others and that he needs to get a grown up if something is wrong. J.J.G. shared he did not want to help other kids with their homework while mom had her surgery because he "had his own work to do" and Co. reminded him that responsibility has to be shared and often that means dividing up the work as a family and working together. He verbalized an understanding of this.

Effectiveness of Intervention/Activity

Support Staff: The mother of the minor child who is his support team spoke with CM today. The purpose of the conversation was to inform CM that the reason that she has not been returning CM calls was that she has an addition to the family. Mom stated that she has adopted a sister to four of the five children she already has. Mom stated that she has been making trips to Ohio so that the children can visit, but now that the new addition is in the home which she arrived on Thursday. Mom stated that she is still interested in the services for she is happy with what CM has already done for her and the children and taking the time to really sit down and talk with her keeping her in the loop about what is going on. Mom also share that she wanted to find out about the RBHS services for the children when the new school term starts. Mom told CM that she could come and see the children on 7/13 for the weekly visit and then continue on a weekly basis as before.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

Monitoring/Assessment: CM [REDACTED] mom and CM had a conversation on the night before that CM could visit at 10:00 am. Upon arrival there was no one at the home and CM kept trying to call mom to see where she was but got no answer. [REDACTED]

Effectiveness of Intervention/Activity

Support Team: The mother of the minor child finally got in touched with CM after much calling and texting to let her know that CM was here for the visit. Mom informed CM that she forgot about the visit and needed to reschedule. Mom was informed that the only time that CM has available is on Friday at 10:00 am. Mom stated that this is fine and that she will make sure that she is available for the visit.
