[REDACTED] objectives for the session. J.J.G. informed CSP that his interaction with his caregiver has been good since yesterday's session. J.J.G. informed CSP that functioning between J.J.G. the caregiver and his foster siblings has been satisfactory. J.J.G. acknowledged that he has been thinking about his poor decision made on Friday and its consequences. J.J.G. acknowledged that peer pressure "may be" a factor in the decision he made due to a peer being involved as well. J.J.G. did not present himself as a "follower." J.J.G. agreed to respect the caregiver's home and rules of the home and to follow the rules of the school. J.J.G. agreed to work more on being assertive in his communication with peers. J.J.G. also agreed to consider his peers and develop more positive peer association. J.J.G. expressed that he doesn't want to hang around "nerds." J.J.G. described nerds as people who "read books on the school bus" and "never do anything." J.J.G. informed CSP that he will continue to use positive self-talk and other calming strategies introduced to manage his emotions. J.J.G. informed CSP that his self-image has not changed and he feels accepted by his peers at school and in the community. J.J.G. continued to deny that his self-image impacts his behavior. J.J.G. expressed that he still feels good about himself. J.J.G. agreed to request the assistance from the caregiver when he has a problem or conflict with siblings in the home. At the community site, J.J.G. shared resources and space with other peers. J.J.G. agreed to gain an understanding the caregiver's expectations for J.J.G.'s behavior at school, home, and community in order to avoid conflict and consequences. J.J.G. expressed that he has a right to voice his opinions in a respectful way to the caregiver. J.J.G. expressed that he still needs to work on making good decisions. J.J.G. expressed continued optimism about his communication with the caregiver as of late. J.J.G. participated well in the positive reinforcement activity and accepted redirection when given by CSP. Response:

[REDACTED] was in a relatively good mood. [REDACTED] presented a stable mental state. J.J.G. informed CSP that he was involved in an incident where J.J.G. had a prohibited school item confiscated from him at school yesterday. J.J.G. informed CSP that he did not know the item was in his jacket. J.J.G. further explained that the item does not belong to him and was placed in his jacket by someone else in his neighborhood. J.J.G. informed CSP that by the time he realized the item was in his jacket, he was about to board the school bus. J.J.G. acknowledged that he used poor judgment in carrying the item to school without telling an adult that he had the item in his possession. J.J.G. participated in the discussion on being accountable for actions. J.J.G. expressed that he has participated in several negative actions in the community. J.J.G. acknowledged that last week when informing CSP, he misrepresented the number of times he engaged in the actions with peers. J.J.G. informed CSP that he understood the consequences as well as possible legal consequences for his actions. J.J.G. informed CSP that he also understands the potential legal consequences of having the prohibited item at school. J.J.G. acknowledged that he should have told authority figures the truth from the beginning regarding his possession of item. J.J.G. also expressed that he understands his actions in the community could potentially harm him physically as well as legally. J.J.G. also acknowledged that he was wrong for misrepresenting the number of times he engaged in the negative acts in the community. J.J.G. informed CSP that he feels it is important for people to have confidence in him and to trust him. J.J.G. interacted well with peers and authority figures at the community site. J.J.G. was respectful of the space of resources of others.

[REDACTED] J.J.G. verbalized an understanding of the importance of having positive peers. J.J.G. finally acknowledged his succumbing to peer pressure on some occasions. [REDACTED] J.J.G. expressed gratitude for CSP transporting him to the community site. J.J.G. requested CSP's assistance in his school issue with the confiscated item. [REDACTED] J.J.G. agreed to apologize to school officials for possessing the prohibited item. [REDACTED] J.J.G.'s responses to discussion and his actions also reflect that J.J.G. is still susceptible to peer pressure and struggles to manage his emotions.

Response:

J.J.G. responded positively to the introduction of treatment objectives for the session. J.J.G. informed CSP that his interaction with his caregiver has been good since last week's session. J.J.G. informed CSP that functioning between J.J.G. and the caregiver has been good. J.J.G. acknowledged that he has been thinking about his past poor decisions. J.J.G. informed CSP that J.J.G. notified negative peers that he would no longer engage in past negative behaviors. J.J.G. agreed to respect the caregiver's home and rules of the home and to follow the rules of the school. J.J.G. agreed to work more on being assertive in his communication with peers. J.J.G. also agreed to consider his peers and develop more positive peer association. J.J.G. expressed that he is concerned about his missed time in school that he has to make up. J.J.G. agreed to discuss his missed time with the attendance clerk in order to determine his schedule for making up his missed time. J.J.G. informed CSP that he will continue to use positive self-talk and other calming strategies introduced to manage his emotions. J.J.G. informed CSP that his self-image has not changed and he feels accepted by his peers at school and in the community. J.J.G. continued to deny that his self-image impacts his behavior. J.J.G. expressed that he still feels good about himself. J.J.G. agreed to request the assistance from the caregiver when he has a problem or conflict with siblings in the home. At the community site, J.J.G. shared resources and space with other peers. J.J.G. agreed to gain an understanding the caregiver's expectations for J.J.G.'s behavior at school, home, and community in order to avoid conflict and consequences. J.J.G. expressed that he still needs to work on making good decisions. J.J.G. expressed continued optimism about his communication with the caregiver as well as school authority figures. J.J.G. expressed that he is committed to using positive self-talk to steer him away from negative peers. J.J.G. participated well in the positive reinforcement activity. J.J.G. responded favorably to all treatment discussion and activities today. J.J.G. agreed to make better choices.

Progress:

J.J.G. made progress in his communication in today's session and acknowledgement of his self-image, progress in identifying emotions and errors made in the past.

Effectiveness of Intervention/Activity

... J.J.G. smiled and CSP and said "Hi" as they entered the classroom. ... J.J.G. asked CSP if he'd done something wrong to be pulled into the hall for a one on one. J.J.G. said he hasn't been doing anything wrong in any of his classes and he's been showing up for every class. J.J.G. started to get angry while discussing a grade decrease due to him not completing some assignments. J.J.G. told CSP that he isn't aware is any uncompleted assignments for any of his instructors. J.J.G. explained to CSP that nothing is wrong with him and he had no idea about what I was speaking about. J.J.G. agreed with CSP that skipping class isn't a coping method and it may lead to something worse that a bad grade. J.J.G. admitted to CSP that he'd miss a few days of class and that it wouldn't happen again. J.J.G. agreed to accepting responsibility for the parts that he play in any situation moving forward. J.J.G. agreed to take the missing assignments giving to CSP by instructor and get the completed.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response:

J.J.G. ... a good mood and was ... J.J.G. informed CSP that he was excited about going to the community site for treatment. J.J.G. informed CSP that he has been able to manage his emotions lately. J.J.G. expressed that he has not been upset at school or in the home. J.J.G. described a time where he had to use the restroom and his teacher made him wait. J.J.G. explained that he "didn't get mad" but "just waited until the bell rang." J.J.G. further explained that he did not feel it was a medical emergency. J.J.G. expressed that things have been going well in school but that his grades are "dropping a little." J.J.G. explained that one of his teachers has a heavy accent and that he has trouble following the information. J.J.G. informed CSP that he does ask the teacher for assistance, but the teacher keeps continuing to teach. J.J.G. stated that he would be open to staying after class or school for additional help. J.J.G. expressed that he feels comfortable asking the caregiver or school authority figures for assistance. J.J.G. added that even though he feels comfortable, he is not sure that authority figures are capable of helping him with his problems. J.J.G. explained that in the home, the caregiver will direct his foster siblings to leave him (J.J.G.) alone, but they continue to bother him anyway. J.J.G. pointed to his foster siblings as an example of how he has been able to manage his emotions. J.J.G. informed CSP that his foster siblings constantly try to bait him into fights and conflicts but that he does not feed into their behaviors. J.J.G. explained that he has requested assistance from the caregiver in those cases. J.J.G. J.J.G. expressed that he is confident the strategies won't work due to the immaturity of his foster siblings. J.J.G. stated that he will try nonetheless. J.J.G.

[REDACTED] J.J.G. informed CSP that everything went well in school today. J.J.G. when asked a second time by CSP, informed CSP that he was cited for hitting a peer in class. J.J.G. quickly informed CSP that he was not written up for the incident. J.J.G. explained that the student hit his arm and he hit the student's arm back. J.J.G. acknowledged that he should have told the teacher when the student hit him the first time. J.J.G. acknowledged that he could ask the teacher to switch his seat if the problem persists.

[REDACTED] J.J.G. did acknowledge those behaviors and the need to correct those behaviors. [REDACTED]

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response:

[REDACTED] expressed that he would rather play football or basketball. [REDACTED] J.J.G. informed CSP the did not go to school today due to a doctor's appointment. J.J.G. informed CSP that he reflected on treatment discussion from yesterday. J.J.G. informed CSP that he doesn't like some of the academic requirements of the school he is attending. J.J.G. expressed that that may be a reason for some of his misbehavior. J.J.G. acknowledged that his boredom or disagreement with some of the school's programs should not cause him to misbehave or present other negative behaviors. J.J.G. informed CSP that he wants to get off of his medicine for ADHD and that he expressed the same to his doctor today. [REDACTED] J.J.G. also expressed concerns about the medicine "stunting his growth." J.J.G. expressed that he understands the fact that he can't and shouldn't take himself off of the medication. [REDACTED] J.J.G.'s responses included talking too much and physical contact with other students. J.J.G. acknowledged that he understands just listing the negative behaviors does not constitute accountability. [REDACTED] J.J.G. expressed that he didn't have any money either. J.J.G. acknowledged that he did have enough to eat today while he was with the caregiver. [REDACTED]

1) J.J.G. will identify his feelings and practice expressing them in healthy ways.
J.J.G. will identify his feelings and practice expressing them in healthy ways as evidenced by his mother, natural supports, school staff, in order to increase functioning and will practice engaging in communication (assertiveness, etc) that will increase closeness in relationships with others (to include siblings, natural supports, classmates, etc) on a daily basis.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

MHS informed mother about J.J.G. behavior. Also gave a schedule of the Spring break camp. MHS touched bases on clients progress in sessions. Noticed that client is becoming more social daily. Worked on social skills by completing different social skill board games which works on how he feels emotionally about different things in his life daily. The game covers his morals, managing his emotions, and friendships so far.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: Mrs. Mitchell indicated that she would have to talk with her husband to make sure it is okay for J.J.G. to attend the camp. She also said that client is always so well mannered and smart. Client gets along with his siblings most of the time. The only thing she said J.J.G. does not like being seperated from her. She was happy that he is starting to be more social with MHS.
Progress: Client progress displays minor change in goal.
Plan: MHS plans to continue to be social and encouraging to client with his separation anxiety.

1) J.J.G. and his parents will be educated on symptoms weekly and assisted in developing positive coping skills to deal with diagnosis , symptoms and triggers (Neglect, Separation Anxiety Disorder, and ADHD) , to include the use of behavior modification ; J.J.G. will also be evaluated by a Psychiatrist to ensure his needs are being met.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)
MHP met with J.J.G. and his mother and discussed what behaviors and symptoms he was experiencing at home. MHP discussed school and his reported progress by teachers and how they felt he was doing well. MHP had J.J.G. report his triggers for stress and encouraged him to use coping skills to help him deal with stressful situations. MHP reinforced that the mother encourage him to do the same.

Effectiveness of Intervention/Activity
J.J.G. responded well to the session as did his mother. They were both able to actively participate and engage in the session. They both responded well to each other and both were respectful. His mother did express concern that the school was looking the other way sometimes and not reporting everything going on. J.J.G. reported he feels he is doing better and isn't really having issues other than not listening to his father. The plan for the next session will be for J.J.G. to discuss triggers and change behaviors that are a problem from stress and his symptoms from his diagnosis.

Purpose of Contact 1) J.J.G. will decrease intensity, duration, and frequency of emotional outbursts and clingy /defiant behaviors.	1) J.J.G. will decrease intensity, duration, and frequency of emotional outbursts and clingy /defiant behaviors (associated with Neglect, Separation Anxiety Disorder, and ADHD) and will replace them with self-fulfilling behavior(assertiveness, sharing feelings, engaging in independent behaviors) to be observed by parents, WDFS staff and MC Riley Staff on a daily basis.
Intervention/Activity (What you did)	MHS spoke with J.J.G. from 8-9am on feelings and different emotions. MHS asked J.J.G. about a time when he was most embarrassed. MHS also spoke on things that he felt he did when he was young that he can remember that was a bad decision. MHS pulled J.J.G. from his special today. MHS had J.J.G. interacting with students he did not know on the playground. MHS gave client different prompts so that he could better understand the questions so he would not feel embarrassed. MHS stated that she sometimes feel tired on the weekend and asked client one thing that he feels tired about. MHS encouraged J.J.G. to not feel nervous because MHS does not judge him. MHS reminded client that he does not have to answer questions that he does not feel comfortable talking about.
Assessment of Progress Towards Goal	Response: J.J.G. said that he was most embarrassed that he was held back when he first moved to SC. He also indicated that he gets tired of cleaning up everyday and sometimes just wants to relax by watching more tv. A bad decision that J.J.G. stated he made was younger he remembers pinching someone in his class on the backside. MHS and J.J.G. shared a laugh after he spoke about the issue. J.J.G. repeated that sometimes when MHS is not around some children still pushes him and his siblings around and he does not do anything because he does not want to get into any trouble. Progress: Client is making progress daily with social skills. Plan: MHS will continue to work with client.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

MHS met with J.J.G. before his morning class work started at 8am-9am. MHS asked J.J.G. how have he been handling the children pushing him and his siblings around at breakfast. MHS encouraged J.J.G. that it is okay to tell them to leave him alone or to tell a trusted adult if his MHS is not present. MHS also explained to J.J.G. that he was doing an excellent job expressing his emotions. From 9:30am-10:00am MHS played a game that worked on his social skills called What would you do? MHS asked what would he do if his friend stole something. Then, MHS asked what would he do if he saw someone at lunch sitting alone.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: J.J.G. informed the MHS that he tries to stay away from the people pushing his and his siblings around. He said that when he see them he sits at another table far away from them. J.J.G. indicated that he have stood up to the people bullying him and his siblings but they still bother him from time to time. When MHS started playing the game with J.J.G. he complete all the questions asked. When asked what would he do if his friend stole something out a store? He diplayed a confused action. Then, he turned around and said he would tell a cop or store clerk. MHS also asked what would he do if he saw someone sitting alone at lunch? J.J.G. stated that he would acknowledge them to see if they were ok and sit with them so that they are not alone.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

MHS met with J.J.G. one on one at 11am-12pm. MHS asked J.J.G. to be more social to other peers at camp he did not know. MHS noticed that J.J.G. was very social and a lot more talkative today. MHS assisted J.J.G. with different games of his choice to play with another people he did not know. MHS spoke to J.J.G. about the different emotions that he could display by participating with the social skills provided at camp at 12pm-1pm. MHS allowed J.J.G. to participate by helping to complete the tasks at hand. The game was to express emotions. When campers played this social skills game they had to express their emotions they rowed the die and then ask the person behind them to the same question they answered. This allowed them to be friendly and to get a chance to know the people around them. From 1pm-2pm it was time for choice activity which allowed campers to choice their activity. MHS also allowed J.J.G. to write three emotions on easter eggs with one being him mood at that moment. MHS asked J.J.G. to express a time when he felt sorry. MHS encouraged J.J.G. of the positive social skills he displayed all day.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: J.J.G. was very social today with his peers. He was only told once that he needed to be social with someone he did not know that well when he played different games. He helped others when they needed help completing task. When giving the opportunity to express an emotion J.J.G. rowed the die on what makes him feel sorry. J.J.G. express he feels sorry when he fuss and fight with his siblings. J.J.G. also indicated that he feels excited at the moment because he really likes being at spring break camp. MHS acknowledge the positive social skills that J.J.G. displayed today at camp. J.J.G. also stated that he needed help for the MHS. MHS prompted him to ask another camper to assist him. J.J.G. was shy at first but became more relaxed after being helped to complete the task at hand.

Plan: MHS plans to continue to encourage J.J.G. to display use of social skills more independently.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

MHS met with J.J.G. from 10am-10:45am after he completed his morning work. MHS worked on J.J.G. expressing his emotions about his weekend. Consumer was a little less talkative today to MHS when pulled him out of class. MHS completed a social skill activity called How and Why that allowed client to express his emotions about his favorite things to do. Client also met with MHS from 1pm-2pm. MHS discussed events that teacher expressed J.J.G. was displaying today. MHS assisted J.J.G. of better ways he could have made a better decision. MHS also gave examples and prompt his when he became silent.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: J.J.G. was a little quiet when MHS pulled him out of class. He told the MHS that he was having a bad morning but did not discuss why he was not having a great morning. J.J.G. was not as talkative today as he normally is. He just explained that he was really tired and that he did not want to go back to class. MHS tried to make the client more comfortable but he still did not want to share. MHS met with J.J.G. teacher and she explained the negative behavior J.J.G. was displaying in class. J.J.G. teacher said that he had a drink in class that spilled and squirted all over his morning work. Teacher also stated that he began to try to sneak one off her desk and another student when she was not looking. She informed him to put it back and he became sad. J.J.G. was nervous of what his behavior agenda would say when he got home. MHS asked J.J.G. why didn't he just ask for another math sheet. He said he did but MHS did not want to give him one since could not find his sheet. Teacher said that she just wanted him to tell the truth.

Plan: MHS plans to remind J.J.G. of better decisions that he can make in the school setting.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

MHS met with J.J.G. from 9:05am-9:30am to discuss how his morning was going. MHS noticed that J.J.G. was not expressing his emotions at that time. MHS asked J.J.G. was there anything that happened in class. MHS allowed J.J.G. to express his feelings about himself at that moment. MHS later met with J.J.G. from 12:05pm-1pm during his special. MHS was stopped by J.J.G. teacher who explained how he was trying to use a calculator on his math test. Client was also asked how and why he tried to use the calculator in class. MHS was going to complete a fun social activity with the client but after speaking with he teacher MHS did not pull client until the end of class. MHS prompted J.J.G. and allowed his to be more social in his dance class. MHS notice that J.J.G. is not real social in his dance special. MHS explained to J.J.G. that he should participate more and try to be more social in class. MHS also explained the consequences of cheating in class. MHS also explained how he could have received a zero on his test.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: J.J.G. expressed to the MHS that he was feeling okay today. He explained that his feelings at that moment about himself was also okay. He explained to MHS that he was not really excited because he just had to take a test. MHS asked cleitn did he know the material. Client said that he knew the material but he does not think he did a good job. MHS encouraged client it should be okay as long as he did his best. When MHS spoke with teacher she was informed that he tried to use the calculator. MHS later asked J.J.G. why didn't he state that he was trying to use a calculator in class when he was not suppose to. Client stated that it was hard and that he did not want to write the problem out because it was to much work to do. MHS explain the consequences of cheating and that he could get a zero if it happens again and the teacher may inform his mother about him trying to cheat on the test. MHS also informed client he will not get to do any fun activites for trying to cheat on the test. He would have to participate in dance class and show MHS that he knows how to follow the rules that are meant to be inforce in his class.

Plan: MHS plans to continue to motivate and support J.J.G. to express his emotions.

1) J.J.G. will decrease intensity, duration, and frequency of emotional outbursts and clingy /defiant behaviors.

J.J.G. will decrease intensity, duration, and frequency of emotional outbursts and clingy /defiant behaviors (associated with Neglect, Separation Anxiety Disorder, and ADHD) and will replace them with self-fulfilling behavior(assertiveness, sharing feelings, engaging in independent behaviors) to be observed by parents, WDFS staff and MC Riley Staff on a daily basis.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

MHS met with J.J.G. from 12:05pm-1:15pm at his music special. Prompted client to be more social in the group setting with his peers. Assisted client with stragies to feel more comfortable with people that he really dont interact with. Pulled client to express personal feelings. MHS also met with J.J.G. from 1:15pm-2pm encouraged client to be more social. MHS engaged client in social skill task which allowed him to communicate more fluently. Reinforced client using independent behavior and being clingy to MHS.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: J.J.G. engaged with his classmates when MHS prompted him to participate more in music special. Client displayed more confidence and lacked any shyness after MHS prompting. J.J.G. expressed that he gets shy when he has to communicate or interact when people he do not really talk to in class. Client indicated that he did not communicate in class that often because he only has one friend in class. When he tries to talk to his peers they ignore him or move from next to him. Expressed positive social skills. Displayed friendly relationships with peers and used great sportsmanship after being prompted. Normally client looks to MHS to help him win basketball games or wants to sit on sideline when things do not go his way. Client enjoyed himself and displayed independent behaviors.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

MHS spoke with J.J.G. mother Mrs.Mitchell from 4pm-4:30pm to discuss the behaviors that J.J.G. has been displaying. Informed Mrs.Mitchell of J.J.G. not being honest to his teacher and trying to take papers that didnt belong to him for off other peers desk. Encouraged mother that maybe sometimes MHS can meet with client after school or on a Saturday to assist with behavior practices in a more social setting. Assisted mother with how his behavior was better at the end of the week. MHS also reminded Mrs. Mitchell of the Health Fair that was coming up on Saturday at the school.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: Mrs.Mitchell indicated that she has not noticed any change in J.J.G. behavior at home. Also indicated that she will observe him more and get back to MHS if she needs assistance with anything. She also informed MHS that client teacher did send home a note but she did not understand what the teacher was actually indicating. Acknowledged that she remembers about the Health Fair but was still unsure if her children will be attending. Mother also stated that she will have to see if there grades are up to standards before she makes any decision.

Progress: Client is displaying minor progress.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

Co. met with J.J.G. and Mrs. Mitchell to aid in formulating a behavior chart and identifying feasible rewards and consequences. Co. explained proper use of chart and the importance of it being used daily and consistently. Co. commended Javair and Mrs. Mitchell's participation and ability to identify needed changes. Co. attempted to explain to J.J.G. that we call need 'alone time' to care for ourselves and mom does not say she needs to time away to hurt his feelings. Co. asked J.J.G. if mom could say that she needs time to herself in a nice way, and asked him to share this with Co. and mom.Next session: monitor progress regarding behavior and completion of behavior chart

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

J.J.G. and Mrs. Mitchell identified needed changes as follows" have a good attitude, listen to daddy, do the right thing (good choice) , go to recess, and give mom 5 (minutes) ". J.J.G. identified rewards as " a basketball, playing the IPAD for 15 minutes, getting a chicken sandich, helping cook dinner for 15 minutes, etc." and verbalized understanding of chart system. He also shared these are things he can do and is willing to do and appeared excited about the behavior chart and ability to earn prizes. J.J.G. appeared oriented x 4 and actively participated in session. J.J.G. became fearful during session as he shared that it hurts his feelings when mom tells him she needs time for herself. He shared if she would say " i need 5" that would be helpful and mom agreed to do this.

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

Co. met with Mrs. Mitchell to discuss J.J.G.'s progress in behavior, behavior chart, rewards and consequences, etc. Co. encouraged consistently reviewing chart at same time every night. Co. also suggested using a money increase for good behavior to have an immediate reward system vs. J.J.G. having to wait to cash in his money or points on the weekend. Co. also encouraged the use of a reward bucket also for more immediate rewards. Co. encouraged Mom to never say " don't cry" or put " no crying" on the chart because we all feel and he should be taught to feel and share his emotions vs. NOT FEEL (an unrealistic expectation). Co. commended mom on asking J.J.G. what upset him and for providing a realistic consequence for his negative behavior. Co. commended mom on her hard work with chart and encouraged her to continue.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Mom shared J.J.G. is still struggling with "giving mom 5". She said he had to be redirected several times and reminded of this. She shared he had a negative attitude- his siblings will want to talk to him and he doesn't want anything to do with them. She verbalized J.J.G. has been listening to his father's instructions more. She shared one incident where J.J.G. had to wear a long sleeve shirt due to the weather being colder and how he became so upset over not being able to wear the shirt he wanted. Mom shared consequence was he had to wear the long sleeve anyway and due to his negative attitude he was not allowed to take in the tote bag that he usually was able to carry. Mom shared she inquired why he was upset and he said " nothing" and wouldn't share and later she asked if it was about the shirt and he concurred. She said " since you have so much on your mind, someone else should carry the tote bag today". Mom shared new prizes have been awarded to include : connect 4 laungchers, dollar store times , and she has playing Wii- tennis with javair and other siblings"

Intervention/Activity (What you did)

Co. met with J.J.G. and Mrs. Mitchell to assess progress of decreasing negative behaviors, charting, and discuss concerns. Co. aided in creating a reward time schedule and consequence system. Co. reminded the importance of follow-through and daily use of the chart. Co. provided insight and feedback as needed and explained the reward chart and consequence with J.J.G. Next session: prepare J.J.G. for mom's surgery and discuss concerns and expectations as a family

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Mrs. Mitchell shared JJ is still struggling with giving her space that she needs. She said it has improved, however. She shared she will tell him "you know what i need" and he will look at her and respond, "i know". JJ shared he feels happy when mom says " you know what i need" because it gives him time to draw on his own. He shared his feelings were not hurt by this. Mom and Co. created a daily rewarded free time chart for J.J.G. as follows : each daily activity will be 15 minutes: Mon-IPAD, Tues- Drawing/games, Wed-play-do/paint, Thurs- coloring/puzles , Friday- free choice. The idea is for the consequence of not earning smile's on her chart would be the following day not being able to engage in fun time, time-out for 15 mins while others play, etc. Sat and Sun were left for family days and a time-out would still be used as a consequence or loss of electronic or tv privileges. A shedcule was also created for daily chores that will be rotated by each sibling. Consequence to be time-out or loss of electronic privileges for this also. JJ was explained the new reward system and consequences and appeared excited about this free time privelege, not the consequence. Mom shared she will be having surgery on 1/24/13 on her knees and plans to prepare the kids for this. She wanted to talk this over with her husband and the plant to begin preparation for JJ and her siblings will be next week. This is also when the chore chart and reward fun time will begin.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Mom reported not getting a paycheck until August and being classified by doctor as disabled and not returning to work. Mom reported not sure of when they would go out of town during June, which would prevent kids from going to camp.

[REDACTED] Mom [REDACTED] clarified that financial reasons prevented J.J.L. from attending field trip and not punishment.

[REDACTED] mom reported that he didn't want to discuss that he was having to find a second job. [REDACTED], saying she would pray/think about it. Mom reported "trying to let go" of fear of J.J.L. doing activities.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Response: Mom confirmed that she told older S.T.S. (sibling) on Thursday evening that Saturday, March 22 9-11am family support could occur but was "originally unaware of husband's plans for a weekend trip", which will have them possibly returning on Monday, March 24 (a previously planned school holiday that was cancelled). Mom agreed to meeting on Thursday, March 27 at 10 to review coping strategies being used but will need to confirm time next week due to unknown therapy schedule. Mom stated that her cell phone was stolen but will be getting a new one with the same number and to continue calling on home number and leaving messages. Mom reported receiving a referral from her teacher for [REDACTED] to receive special needs because the 2nd grade class is not working for her.

[REDACTED] Co. expressed concern over [REDACTED] distraction at school and encouraged mom to consult with PCP to see if her medication is working effectively. Co. agreed to attend meeting with mom and [REDACTED] to assist in her needs being met. [REDACTED]

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Mrs. Mitchell shared school is concerned regarding Jazlena not doing her work. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] MOM also shared concern that her 10mg medication is not enough. Mom created a daily rewarded free time chart for [REDACTED] as follows : each daily activity will be 15 minutes: Mon-IPAD, Tues- Drawing/games, Wed-play-do/paint, Thurs- coloring/puzles , Friday- free choice. The idea is for the consequence of not earning smile's on her chart would be the following day not being able to engage in fun time, time-out for 15 mins while others play, etc. Sat and Sun were left for family days and a time-out would still be used as a consequence or loss of electronic or tv privileges. A shecdule was also created for daily chores that were rotated by each sibling. Consequence to be time-out or loss of electronic privileges for this also. Mom shared she willbe having surgery on 1/24/13 on her knees and plans to prepare the kids for this. She wanted to talk this over with her husband and the plant to begin preparation for [REDACTED] and her siblings will be next week. [REDACTED]

Mrs. Mitchell shared her mother had passed away this morning and she "knew it was coming" because she was in the hospital, came out, then went back in. She shared she is upset and unsure what to do next, just taking things "day by day". Mrs. Mitchell expressed comfort in knowing that her mother was no longer in pain and shared overall she is doing the best she can and hanging in there. She reported [REDACTED] seems to be handling things "ok". She shared her concentration has been on her mother and not so much behavior monitoring but in time she was going to get "back on track". She shared her surgery is still planned for the end of the month.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Mrs. Mitchell shared that the IEP meeting isn't until Jan 21st, however, that in the beginning they were giving her modified homework and she was doing well with it but after about 1 week they went back to the normal homework. She shared she will bring this up in the IEP meeting and ask what the best solution is for [REDACTED] to get her needs met. She did state that her brother has been helping her out with her homework and she has been using a visual model to aid in math and that seems to be working because [REDACTED] has a hard time computing math mentally. Overall, she shared that [REDACTED] is still quiet and that concerns her, however, she is happy to see no more stealing incidents have occurred and to her knowledge her sister seems to have left alone for a little while. Mrs. Mitchell shared she feels "awful" because she lost track of their behavior with the loss of her mother and dealing with the arranges and her grief. She shared she is doing the "best she can" and overall they have been offering to help out as much as they can because they realize she "hasn't been herself".

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Mrs. Mitchell shared that at the IEP meeting the school tried to claim they has been sending the modified homework home with [REDACTED] but mrs. mitchell shared she never received it. When [REDACTED] was asked, she said she didn't reply about not having homework, etc. Mrs. Mitchell shared an agreement has been made between she and the school and if [REDACTED] doesn't bring homework home she is to contact the teacher to let her know. She shared she now leaves from the resource class and that is helpful because she gets her modified homework in that class. She shared overall [REDACTED] is doing well in school and at home she has noticed she hasn't been messing with her hair and her siblings havent been giving her as much of a hard time as she can tell. Mrs. Mitchell did admit since her mother passed away she wants the kids in the room w/ her and her husband told her that wasn't a good idea. She shared she just didn't want to "be alone" despite her husband being in the room w/ her.

Assessment of Progress Towards Goal

Mrs. Mitchell [REDACTED] stating she was able to relocate from room to room which is progress. overall, [REDACTED] She continued to share that last thursday [REDACTED] took cookies from school and was caught by the lunch lady and when confronted she said "i didn't do it", and then she took them again the following day. [REDACTED] at first denied taking them to counselor and then she admitted she did take them "cookies and cheez-its". She said she took them because she "wanted them". [REDACTED] She shared no problems since then and [REDACTED] had to sit in time-out while other children did activities on both days. Mrs. Mitchell shared her husband has been helping out with discipline and that is going really well.
