Emergency Bail for Extraordinary Reason, A call for Urgent Action The Current State of our prison system is nothing short of a Crisis. With a severe shortage of staff in every department and overcrowded prison. It has become increasingly difficult to provide even the most basic services to inmates. This article aims to shed light on the dire circumstances faced by prisoners and the urgent need for emergency bail or bond for Extraordinary reason.

Shortage Of Staff and Overcrow Prison, One of the most pressing issues plaguing our prison system is the shortage of staff. With limited personnel available to handle the vast number of inmates, it is nearly impossible to ensure their-being and proper care. This shortage has far reach consequences, affecting everything from Security to healthcare and legal assistance. More over the overcrowding of prison exacerbates these problem with a staggering number of inmates crammed into limited space, It becomes increasingly challenging to maintain order and provide adequate facilities and resources. This overcrowding also puts immense strain on the already burdened staff, leading to further inefficiencies and increased risk for both inmates and personnel.

Lack of Training and Resources

Another critical issue that plagues our prison system is the lack of training for both inmates and staff. Inmates lack legal matters, making it extremely difficult for them to navigate the complex legal system. The absence of a well-equipped law library with only two computers available for the over a thousand inmates compounds this issue further. Additionally, the limited access to the law library which is closed extended periods due to hospital duties, severely hampers inmate's ability to meet court deadlines or seek legal assistance. Further, the tablet provided for in-cell use as an alternative app has extremely poor Wi-Fi connections rendering it virtually useless.

Inadequate Hygiene and Healthcare

The deplorable conditions within the prison system extend to basic hygiene and healthcare. Inmates are unable to wash as they should on a daily basis, leading to severe bacterial
