RE: Apology for Proof of Service Issue on 3rd Motion for Extension

January 29, 2024

To the Judge and/or Clerk affected:

I'm so very sorry that I filed a Proof of Service with past tense language prior to serving the materials. I hadn't realized it was even a lie until after it happened. I don't have much guile. I've also realized that I inadvertently lied by using past tense in discussing income proofs that were being sent to the lower court when I just could have shared the fact that they still had to be significantly redacted. I have no idea why I said that, but I think it might have been to make you happy, but then ended up doing the opposite.

Once I had sent you a Motion to Redact exhibit 1, I looked through the rest of the documents. My heart sank. The "Betrayal Trauma" graphic that I included to indicate that several people my budding ministry had helped had wronged me had ended up, as I was traveling, appearing as though it were an accusation against the lower court in this action. It did illuminate a mistake, but it came off differently in thinking about it being in certain hands. I felt treasonous sending it. I felt that might be worse than lying. I felt terrible for the lady that was mentioned with the Proofs of Service from a completely different case. I imagined her being targeted and my being at-fault.

I completely lost it over my mistake to the point of making it 100 times worse and making the service be even later. I'm so sorry.

I was very upset that you were upset with me. I was in hysterics at one point, unable to calm down about what had happened. I was inconsolable.

I made a determination that it didn't matter how anyone besides you felt about it, so I did it, but I feel horrible about it.

I also determined that the reason for these mishaps is that I just wasn't able to be preemptive enough, with little resources and a lot of challenges.

The primary reason why I was stuck in that situation in the first place was the criminal matters with the Defendant were unresolved for him to be a concern. I'm not trying to get him into trouble because he's my civil opponent. God told me to make FBI reports again and make sure I'm thorough, since his international travel has significantly increased.

I'm sorry I allowed this to happen. I didn't realize how disrespectful it was to you. That breaks my heart. I will never allow it to happen again.

If you could please not jail me, I've already basically been in jail for years because of Chayban. I don't get to have a life at all. I'm wondering if you would please consider what I'm already going through as being my punishment.

I have made offices out of multiple storage units and slept in my truck and almost been raped and dealt with a lot of stuff over the years just to oppose Chayban like God told me to. I've been threatened and robbed and defamed without cause. I've starved to the point of pain on a usual basis for long periods of time. I've been homeless repeatedly because of fighting Chayban. Parts of the journey have been positively third-world.

The last thing I need is somebody who lies 1,000 times daily that God wanted me to do something about being able to attack me over mistakes I feel very guilty about already.

Not that it matters relative to the unacceptable level of disrespect toward you that this mistake indicates, but the Defendant never served me a single document in the lower court action, despite the pages and pages of hand-written defamation filed. The most I ever received was a screenshot of the outside of one of the envelopes via text message with additional threats and lies contained in the body of the message.

I understand if you think I need another punishment for these actual offenses.

I really appreciate your being so kind and gracious with me. I will make sure I'm conscientious about listening to you and always obeying immediately in the future.

You know best. I'll not forget that.

Will you please consider forgiving me?

I'm again so sorry.

Respectfully,

Mary A. Griffith
