CASE NO: 23-ALJ-22-0379-AP

Bridgette M. Chabot, Appellant,

VS

South Carolina Department of Employment and Workforce & Wells Fargo, Respondents.

NOTICE OF APPEAL

---

HONORABLE CLERK OF COURT:

Notice is hereby given that Bridgette Chabot, Appellant, does hereby appeal the Administrative Law Court's and the Administrative Law Judge's *[Amended] Final Order, dated February 13, 2024 and received on February 15, 2024, a copy of which, Amended Final Order, attached.

\ Judge Lenski*

General Statement for the Grounds of Appeal are as follows:

The Administrative Law Court erred in recognizing the biased narrative driven by the Hearing Officer during trial and that the trial was found in favor of the Employer in a trial that only contained one hearsay employer's witness and her contradictory testimony and testimony on surveillance footage that was NOT entered in to evidence. Without a proper witness or substantial evidence, the Court erred in affirming the Appellant's denial of unemployment benefits. The Appellant, in fact, was without a fair trial under Section 1-23-380(5) where the court may reverse or modify the decision if substantial rights of the appellant have been prejudiced because the administrative findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are: (e) clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence on the whole record; or (f) arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion or clearly unwarranted exercise of discretion.

There were no factual findings or substantial evidence to support a misconduct claim against the Appellant. The Appellant realizes that the “burden” to prove otherwise is on her shoulders and so, instead of requesting a reversal of the denial of unemployment benefits as the Appellant previously requested in Appeals, the Appellant now moves to request a Trial De Novo under SC Section 18-7-160: “Either party may move for a new trial in the appellate court.”

Respectfully Submitted,
