Ms. Kitchings,

My client has refused to communicate with me in almost two years. If the Court could possibly hold a hearing on my request to withdraw before this hearing it may alleviate the need for the oral arguments. I think the Court realizes the situation I am in where with a client who is incommunicado I cannot agree to anything. Please note that Mr. Borden is a 100% honest attorney and I believe every word he says, but I am honestly just stuck and I would prefer to simply be relieved and Mr. Leary can handle the case on his own or dismiss it himself.

Honestly, you cannot make this stuff up. I did not ever see in law school where the client pays the judgment without involving his attorney and then does not communicate with his counsel. 😊
