Re: HSBC Mortgage v. Dennis, James
Appellate Case No. 2012-209386

Dear Counsel:

According to our records, the supplemental record on appeal was served on July 3, 2013. As of the date of this letter we have not received the respondent's final brief. The appellants have also failed to adequately cure the deficiencies to their filings, as noted in the Court's letter of December 12, 2012.

Therefore, in the interest of moving this matter along, the respondent is requested to serve and file the respondent's final brief within ten days of the date of this letter. The appellants are requested to serve and file an amended record on appeal, amended appellants' final brief, and amended appellants' final reply brief within ten days of the date of this letter. All final briefs and the record on appeal must be appropriately bound in the appropriate color cover with the correct caption and the appropriate number of copies and must be in compliance with Rule 267, SCACR.

appropriate number of copies and must be in compliance with Rule 267, SCACR. Failure to comply with the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules when filing the record on appeal and final briefs may result in dismissal of the appeal.

Very truly yours,

V. Claire Allen, Deputy
