Dear Counsel,

Thank you once again for your help in scheduling. This case will be orally argued on May 7, 2024. We will not send out our May oral argument notices until the beginning of April, so we'll send another letter with the time and location.

Warmly,

Jenny

Ms. Kitchings:

I am wide open on May 7, 2024. On May 6th, I have an expert's deposition scheduled, but I can get that re-scheduled if needed. May 14th does not work – I am scheduled to be in the middle of a trial in Federal Court before Judge David Norton.

Thanks.

Andrew

Dear Counsel,

Thank you for your responses to my inquiry. Could you please let me know if there are any conflicts for May 6, 7, and 14?

Warmly,

Jenny

Ms. Kitchings:

I currently have a conflict on April 9, 2024. I am scheduled for a Circuit Court appeal hearing before Judge Patrick Fant in Greenville at 10:30 a.m. on April 9, 2024. That is an appeal from the Planning Commission to the Circuit Court. This is actually the same hearing that was moved last week from March 5th so that the oral argument in the Pratt case could be re-scheduled to tomorrow in the Court of Appeals.

If the Court wants to bump that hearing for a second time, I can certainly be available on April 9, 2024. I am sure the Petitioners' counsel and his clients in that Greenville County appeal will be less than pleased, but I leave that to the Court. Obviously, the Court of Appeals gets priority, and I am fine either way.

Just let me know how you want to proceed.

Thanks.

Andrew

Dear Counsel,

Upon receipt of the oral argument notification we mailed out last week, counsel for respondent/appellant reached out to say he is not available on April 2. We can move this case to noon on April 9, 2024, if that date works for all counsel. Please reply to this email to let us know your availability for argument.

Warmly,

Jenny
