Re: Mirlene Witherspoon v. Gwendolyn Jones Dennis
Appellate Case No. 2024-000664

Dear Ms. Harrison:

Thank you for informing me of the proper protocol for filing an appeal and providing me with instructions to resubmit the appeal properly.

After contacting Shanita Brangman, clerk at the Clarendon Court House, on several occasions in an attempt to obtain a copy of the order, I have not been successful. Knowing that providing the order is the first for requesting an appeal is understood but, to my understanding, the order has not been signed by the judge and which has raised another red flag about this entire process of changing the deed. At this point I'm afraid that the property will still be taken (stolen) away from me and other family members here in Baltimore who are listed on the original deed. Therefore, please find the amended notice of appeal as requested.

Respectfully,

Gwendolyn Jones Dennis

P.S. We do not have the financial ability to obtain legal representation. Ms. Mirlene Witherspoon took everything that my grandfather, Thomas Jefferson Witherspoon, had after his untimely and suspicious death after only a year of marriage.
