Greetings;

RECEIVED

My name is Mr. Kevin J. Mercer and I am writing to the courts (to whom it may concern) that I am requesting to receive a "full Pardon" for my debt and contribution back to society. But before I speak on those topics; I would like to bring to the courts attention, that I am under extremely high levels of Healthcare illnesses and conditions problems. I need immediate relief because I don't know how long I've got to survive in life (because of my medical conditions and etc.) I am being deprived of a lot of things like "assists and help" and I am part of a advance technology machine device better known as A Emergency Medical Healthcare Assist device. However; If I am not receiving better Healthcare then that means that I am being treated less then a human.

What constitute "extraordinary circumstances under § 10 (e) of the national labor relation act as amended

(29) U.S.C.A. § 160 (e), so as to excuse failure to urge objection before NLRB. [B] Background - applicability of eighth amendment comment note: Length of sentence as violation of constitutional provisions prohibiting cruel and unusual punishment. Cumulative.

Supplement cases: The eighth amendment prohibits imposition of a sentence that is grossly disproportionate to the severity of the crime.

U.S.C.A. Const. amend. 8 State v. Berger 103 P.3d 298 (Ariz. Ct. App. Div. 1 2004)

While originally reserved for review of corporal punishments, the eighth amendment prohibition of cruel and unusual punishment is now applied to lengthy sentences of incarceration,

U.S. Const. Amend. VIII State v. Davis, 79 P.3d 64 (Ariz. 2003)

The cruel and unusual punishments clause of the eighth amendment to the United States Constitution prohibits the imposition of a penalty that is disproportionate to the defendant's personal responsibility and moral guilt.

A criminal sentence may be so long as to violate the proportionality principle implicit in the cruel and unusual punishment clause of the eighth amendment to the United States Constitution U.S. Const. amend VIII State v. David D.W., 588 S.E. 2d 156 (W.VA 2003)

Constitution of extraordinary circumstances under death penalty mental health murder granted pardon.

High Blood pressure, Neuropathy Nerve damage, spine pain, mental Health issues P.T.S.D. and etc. I am a former Death Row prisoner. I have been going through extreme painful conditions for the past 20 years now and matters have gotten worse. I have been trying to survive through this time, but my health has really been going downward and I need a pardon right now. I have reasons to be saved earlier than the time that has been put upon me. I am a book author "Letters to our Son's" by Dawn Simmons (Page 316 Death Row the black hole). I am currently involved with a major project for Emergency Healthcare Advance system device. By the way, I will need financial assistance by the court and we can talk about that subject when you respond back to this letter. I was apart of a group at Lee County Prison called Academy of Hop. As you can see I believe that I deserve a second chance at society. So I ask the higher courts to find it in your hearts to have mercy on a poor widow's child....

I now have my level 2 now and I have not went anywhere yet and I have been waiting for a while. As you can see I am in need of great help. I hope that I come across very clear with understanding. to you.

I leave with the belief that will find a redemption plan for me. I thank you for your time and hope to hear from you soon. I am Sincerely: Kenn L Mercon #360547/006021
