SC Court of Appeals

To Whomever this may concern in the South Court Carolina Judicial Branch Administrative Tribunal and the Appellate Court Clerk,

If the South Carolina Judicial Branch's administrative tribunal is unable to deliver a transcript in the allotted time, it should request an extension from the appellate court in writing. The request must comply with Rule 240, SCACR. If the appellant does not receive the transcript within the allotted time, or if they do not receive notification of an extension within 10 days (about 1 and a half weeks), they should notify the appellate court's clerk and the administrative tribunal in writing.

To the Honorable Chief Justice, HERECOMES, the Appellant Shaneeka Stroman. I have not received the transcript within the designated amount of time to submit it to the courts nor an extension. This is beyond my control and HERENOW informing the courts.
