After my conversation with Shelby Spencer in your office I was informed that the initial record on appeal was the hands of the court and all we needed to do was file the supplement cover page and the supplemental index with the corrected page numbers to go with the original initial record on appeal as opposing counsel had prepared her final brief prior to the court issuing any orders on the motion to amend.

As you all can see from the email chain below, that the attached supplemental cover page and supplemental index page were filed with the court on May 6th at 9:13 a.m.

Therefore, this case should not be dismissed and the appellant should have time to file and serve its final brief as set out by the court as of this date.

Thank you.

Pursuant to my conversation with Shely in your office, please find attached the Supplemental Record on Appeal cover page and Supplemental Index for the Record on Appeal filed on March 11, 2024.

Please replace these supplementals with the originals.

Thank you.
