Notice of Appeal

SC Court of Appeals

I WAS on Probation due to a misunderstanding that got blew out of Proportion. The victim, who is my current fiancé was threatened by Police telling her our kids ~~would get taken if she did not~~ sign the papers. We have been together for 13 years and have 3 children together. We have disagreements but our children are never involved nor affected. My fiancé had to take our children to be interviewed at The Care House over the situation and a phycologist said the children were not affected and knew nothing about anything. I served 51 days in Effingham Jail. I started probation in Williamsburg Cty. and attended all classes, paid fees, and it was almost over until I changed to my fiancé's County. I was told I had to pay all fees and attend all classes over again I asked my Probation off to go in front of Judge & find out why. but it never happened. I did not understand I would go to prison instead. I was never given a chance to speak to Judge and explain my Learning disabilities. Made it hard for me to understand if I wasn't under supervision Any more I would serve years in Prison. My children & fiancé need me at home. I would never sacrifice my freedom to mine miss my children growing up. My Grandparents are very ill and my Aunt has stage 4 cancer. I need to be home with my family. I am willing to go back on probation, house arrest anything to be home with my family. I feel I was wrongfully convicted and my family shouldn't have to suffer the consequences. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

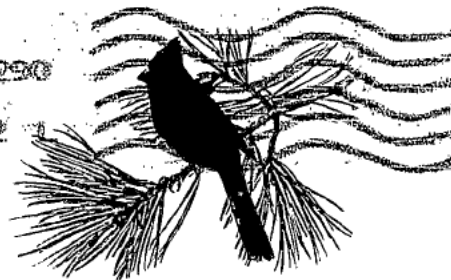

Jonathan Paul Pastor
