Ms. Clark:

I apologize for the delayed response. After looking into this matter further, my office manager has not been able to find where we received notice from the Dorchester Clerk of Court or any other party that the final order in this case was filed so we were still waiting on the final order before submitting a notice of appeal on behalf of our client. However, we did provide a copy of the proposed order that Mr. Hall submitted to Judge McFaddin to let him know that once the order was signed we would have to appeal the order within thirty days. It appears that our client misunderstood our intent and, fortunately, filed a handwritten appeal himself. Accordingly, I filed the attached amended notice of appeal and proof of service this morning.

If you have any questions or need any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact my office. Thank you and have a wonderful day!
