 Subject: RE: CSSG-Elevate Workforce -Mississippi Phosphate MS 4583 - DECLINED

Hi Amanda,

MS Phosphate has a lot of problems:

1. Bankruptcy
2. Under indictment by the Department of Justice for polluting water
3. Under an order from the EPA to clean up
4. Significant number of OSHA violations

We cannot approve sending any employees to this location. The nature of the business is one that exposes workers and the environment to hazardous materials and clearly this company doesn't have the financial or moral wherewithal to properly handle the risk.

Mississippi Phosphates in Pascagoula files for Chapter 11 bankruptcy

Mississippi Phosphates Corp. in Pascagoula (File)

PASCAGOULA, Mississippi -- Mississippi Phosphates Corp., a 200-employee diammonium phosphate fertilizer manufacturer in east Jackson County, has filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection.

The fertilizer manufacturer curtailed production of DAP late last week due to a shortage in raw materials, representatives said in a news release.

It did, however, continue most of its operations -- sulfuric acid operations, ammonia terminal operations, dock and port operations and all environmental systems, controls and monitoring -- without interruption.

To date, leaders said, there have been no layoffs or employee furloughs.

"We expect that through this filing, we can gain needed relief, secure an updated credit and funding facility and return to production operations in an expedited manner," CEO Stephen Russo said.

"In addition to resuming operations, our plans call for the company to continue maintenance and all environmental and safety programs during this reorganization," he said.

The company, which moved its corporate headquarters from Madison to Pascagoula this summer, has suffered multiple environmental and safety issues over the past several years.

In the voluntary petition filed today in Gulfport's U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Mississippi Phosphates estimates it has $100 million to $500 million in assets and liabilities and more than 200 creditors.

Chapter 11 would allow the company to reorganize its business affairs and assets.

Mississippi Phosphates has asked the court to authorize it to continue conducting normal business operations while management develops and implements its Chapter 11 plan, company leaders said.

Leaders indicated that the Chapter 11 filing was necessary "to obtain sufficient additional funding for its ongoing operations."

The proposed new credit facility is intended to permit Mississippi Phosphates to satisfy its ongoing post-filing operational obligations.

The bankruptcy filings claim the DAP producer has nearly $20 million in unsecured claims from its top 20 creditors.

The largest claim is with a Moroccan company for $4.7 million.

Local claims include International Welding and Fabrication, in Moss Point, for $1.1 million; Mississippi Power Co., in Gulfport, for nearly $509,000; Jackson County Port Authority, in Pascagoula, for nearly $387,000; and RPW Inc., in Pascagoula, for more than $284,300.

The company's 40-acre site on Bayou Casotte includes two sulfuric acid plants, a phosphoric acid plant, a DAP granulation plant and ammonia terminaling operations.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Wednesday, August 19, 2015

Mississippi Phosphates Corp. Pleads Guilty to Clean Water Act Violation and Agrees to Transfer 320 Acres to Grand Bay National Estuary

Mississippi Phosphates Corp. (MPC), a Mississippi corporation which owned and operated a fertilizer manufacturing facility located on Bayou Casotte in Pascagoula, Mississippi, pleaded guilty today to a felony information charging the company with a criminal violation of the Clean Water Act, announced Principal Deputy Assistant Attorney General Sam Hirsch of the Justice Department's Environment and Natural Resources Division and U.S. Attorney Gregory K. Davis for the Southern District of Mississippi.

As part of the guilty plea, MPC admitted discharging more than 38 million gallons of acidic wastewater in August 2013. The discharge contained pollutants in amounts greatly exceeding MPC's permit limits, resulting in the death of more than 47,000 fish and the closing of Bayou Casotte. MPC also admitted that, in February 2014, MPC discharged oily wastewater from an open gate on a storm water culvert into Bayou Casotte, creating an oily sheen that extended approximately one mile down the bayou from MPC.

MPC entered its guilty plea before Chief Judge Louis Guirola Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi. Because MPC is in bankruptcy and is obligated to assist in funding the estimated $120 million cleanup of its site, the court accepted the parties' agreement for MPC to transfer 320 acres of property near to its Pascagoula plant to become a part of the Grand Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve, which is managed by the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources as part of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's National Estuarine Research Reserve System.

"With this plea, Mississippi Phosphates has accepted responsibility for having discharged millions of gallons of industrial pollutants that killed tens of thousands of fish, damaged marine habitats and polluted recreational waterways," said Principal Deputy Assistant Attorney General Hirsch. "Mississippi Phosphates has acknowledged its misconduct and has been sentenced to transfer property it owns that is adjacent to the Grand Bay National Estuary, thus protecting and potentially rehabilitating a vital marine resource that this company's pollutant discharges had severely damaged."

As the felony information describes, when it was in full production, MPC manufactured diammonium phosphate fertilizers from phosphate rock which it received by ship and rail and from sulphur which was piped to its facility from a neighboring oil refinery. In its production of fertilizer, MPC generated a variety of pollutants and hazardous wastes. MPC has been regulated under a number of environmental statutes that govern the production, storage and release of a variety of air and water pollutants as well as hazardous wastes. In the manufacturing process, strong acids and ammonia were produced. If improperly discharged, acids and ammonia can be highly toxic to fish and to other forms of marine life. MPC was obligated to comply with permits issued by the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) under the authority of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) as prescribed by the Clean Water Act.

These permits regulated the storage and discharge of MPC's stormwater and wastewater, prescribing the circumstances under which they could be discharged into Bayou Casotte and limiting the concentration and quantity of the pollutants they could contain.

As detailed in the felony information, since January 2000, MPC has been cited by MDEQ in numerous notices for hundreds of violations of its Clean Water Act permit for discharging wastewater exceeding its pollutant limits. MPC was also cited for its failure to maintain adequate wastewater storage capacity, its discharge of untreated wastewater from its sulfuric acid plant directly through MPC's main outfall, its combined release of untreated and undertreated stormwater and process wastewater from other outfalls, and its failure to implement required remedial measures to prevent the pollutant discharges and environmental harm it has caused for decades. An April 2005 discharge resulted in the release of more than 17 million gallons of highly acidic wastewater into waterways adjacent to its facility, including Bayou Casotte, Tillman Creek and Bangs Lake of the Grand Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve. These waters are some of the most productive nurseries for aquatic species on the Gulf Coast. MPC's massive discharge of pollutants resulted in the death of thousands of fish and other forms of marine life as well as the destruction of marsh grass, trees and shrubs. In the years following this environmental catastrophe, in spite of MDEQ's orders and MPC's remedial proposals, MPC never implemented the measures necessary to prevent the release of pollutants from its facility and the discharge of an even larger torrent of wastewater destroying even more marine life.

U.S. Attorney Davis praised the efforts of EPA's Criminal Investigation Division, for its diligent work in the investigation of this matter. Senior Trial Attorney Jeremy F. Korzenik of the Department of Justice's Environmental Crimes Section and Assistant U.S. Attorney Gaines Cleveland are the prosecutors in charge of the case.

EPA orders Mississippi phosphates corporation to correct problems at facility (9/30)

September 30, 2009

Mississippi Phosphates Corporation (MPC) in Pascagoula, Miss. has been issued an EPA Order that requires expedited corrective measures be taken at the facility to ensure protection of public health and the environment in the surrounding community. EPA issued the Order under Section 7003 of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), which states that an imminent and substantial endangerment to human health and the environment exists at the facility.

MPC manufactures sulfuric acid and phosphoric acid at the site and produces phosphate-based fertilizer. EPA's RCRA program and the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) conducted inspections of MPC on July 13 and 14, and collected sampling data on August 11 and 12, 2009. Ongoing releases of hazardous waste or hazardous constituents to soil and surface water were discovered during the initial inspection, which resulted in the return visit to collect samples of soil and groundwater to confirm initial concerns.

EPA believes that an imminent and substantial endangerment to human health and the environment exists at the facility due to improper storage, inadequate worker safety equipment and many leaks and spills of solid and liquid hazardous wastes. Some of the work required of MPC in the 7003 Order includes immediate treatment and containment of releases of hazardous waste; submittal of plans and timetables for rapid remediation of contaminated media; identifying and repairing sources of leaks and spills of sulfuric acid, phosphoric acid, and acidic process wastewaters on-site; submittal of plans and timetables for mitigating contaminant migration; and providing all employees with chemical resistant clothing for use inside the plant. EPA and MDEQ will continue to work jointly to oversee MPC's compliance with environmental laws, regulations and permits.

8829 N/A—MT, NC, OR, RI

PHRASEOLOGY CONVALESCENT OR NURSING HOME—ALL EMPLOYEES

CROSS-REF. Nursing or Convalescent Home—All Employees (N/A FL, MA); Home for Aged—All Employees (N/A MA, TX); Rest Home—All Employees (N/A MA, TX).

State Special: California—Convalescent Homes or Convalescent Hospitals—All Employees;

California—Rest Homes—All Employees;

California—Sanitariums—All Employees;

Florida—Convalescent Home—All Employees;

Massachusetts—Municipal, Township, County or State Employee NOC—Major Governmental Occupations Assigned to Classifications Other Than Code 9410—County Home—Nursing Home—All Employees;

Massachusetts—Nursing or Convalescent Home—All Employees—applies to any institution, however named, whether conducted for charity or profit which is advertised, announced or maintained for the express or implied purpose of caring for persons admitted thereto for the purpose of nursing or convalescent care. Institutions categorized by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Department of Public Health as Nursing or Convalescent Homes shall be rated as Code 8829. Institutions categorized by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Department of Public Health as Rest Homes shall be rated as Professional Employees—Code 8833 and All Other Employees—Code 9040;

New Jersey—Assisted Living Facility & Drivers (premium basis shall not include board or lodging). Applies to those risks providing on-site intermediate and/or skilled health care for residents. Independent living facilities operated in conjunction with, but separate from, the assisted living facility to be separately rated as Code 9015—Building NOC—Operation by Owner or Lessee;

New Jersey—Convalescent Home & Drivers (premium basis shall not include board or lodging);

New Jersey—Nursing Home & Drivers (premium basis shall not include board or lodging);

New York—Convalescent or Nursing Home—All Employees—a convalescent or nursing home operated by a hospital, at the same location or adjacent to the hospital shall be assigned to Code 8833—Hospital—Professional Employees and Code 9040—Hospital—All Other Employees.

SCOPE Code 8829 utilizes various descriptive phraseology such as “Convalescent or Nursing Home” “Home for Aged,” “Nursing Home” and “Rest Home.” Notwithstanding these descriptions, this classification is applicable to “all employees,” both professional and nonprofessional, of those risks which provide medical care and daily living assistance to the aged and/or infirm. As the term “all employees” does not include Standard Exception Codes 7380, 8810 and 8742, these classifications may also apply to a Code 8829 risk if these exposures exist.

Retirement living centers, which are described in the latter portion of this scope, are classified to Codes 8824, 8825 and 8826.

Insureds classified to Code 8829 provide various levels of health care depending on the patients' needs. The extent of professional or medical services provided by these health care providers includes complete medical care for postoperative patients and patients requiring extensive nursing care due to various illnesses such as terminal cancer, kidney disorders and heart disease as well as facilities where the patients require only minimal medical or professional care.

These health care facilities usually do not employ resident physicians, although they usually have arrangements wherein physicians are on call for emergencies. In some states, the licensing authority requires registered nurses to be on duty. Generally these homes will primarily employ therapists, practical nurses, nurses' aides and orderlies to afford the necessary medical care to their patients. The homes also may employ cooks, waitresses, maids, maintenance personnel, social workers and recreational directors.

Homes for the aged are assigned to the convalescent or nursing homes classification because of the operational similarity to convalescent or nursing homes. These homes function primarily to care for people who, due to illness, physical infirmity or advanced age, are unable to care for themselves and therefore require health care.

Other establishments that are not classified to Code 8829 but do cater to persons who have attained an advanced age are nursing or convalescent homes operated in conjunction with a hospital classified to Codes 8833 and 9040, and retirement living centers (RLCs) classified to Codes 8824, 8825 and 8826.

Retirement living centers (RLCs) are housing establishments that cater to the elderly population and offer a continuum of health care services. RLCs may vary from sprawling one-story to multi-story buildings or to cottages surrounding a central facility. The health care services offered typically include congregate, personal and nursing or medical care services. Congregate services include, but are not limited to, meal service, linen service, housekeeping and transportation. Personal care services, sometimes referred to as assisted living care, include assistance with daily living activities such as, but not limited to, ambulation, bathing and dressing. Nursing or medical care includes physical therapy as well as the administration of drugs, preparations or medications.

Retirement living centers (RLCs) are distinguished from Code 8829 risks by the fact that RLCs are similar to typical rental or condominium-type housing complexes with the exception that medical and other personal assistance is available for those in residence. Risks classified to Code 8829 provide living conditions typically found in a dormitory or hospital-like environment. Stated differently, the RLC provides a "home-type" environment as opposed to the "institutional-type" environment of the risk classified to Code 8829. As a group, RLC residents will generally require less care or personal services than those occupants of convalescent or nursing homes classified to Code 8829. RLCs are further distinguished from convalescent homes by the fact that RLCs are not expected to provide twenty-four-hour nursing care to individual building residents as is typically found in convalescent or nursing home operations.

If an insured qualifies as an RLC, convalescent or nursing home operations performed in conjunction with the RLC are not separately rated but are assigned to the RLC classifications. "Conjunction," as used in the preceding sentence, refers to facilities at the same location. These facilities may have a common kitchen, maid service and maintenance employees. A nursing home located away from an RLC that operates without interchange of labor with the RLC is separately rated.

This procedure is followed no matter which classification predominates. The aforementioned is intended to preclude an enterprise operating a minimal amount of units to consider itself an RLC in order to avoid the assignment of nursing or convalescent classes to its business. An enterprise that considers itself an RLC must meet the requirements for these classifications as described in paragraph one of this scope.

State Addendum

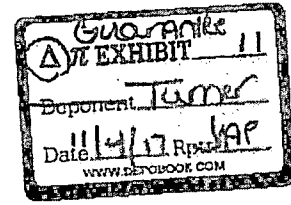

Massachusetts Refer to Codes 8833 and 9040 for rest home operations. Refer to Codes 8824 and 8826 for qualifying assisted living residences. Nursing homes operated in conjunction with a qualifying assisted living residence are assigned to Code 8829. In this context, "conjunction" means that the assisted living residence and the nursing home facility are at the same location and both facilities are owned and operated by a single insured entity.

Apartments or residential complexes known as continuing care retirement communities are to be classified in accordance with all applicable MA Manual Rules as follows: Code 9015 for residences with no services other than building maintenance and security; Code 8826 for residences that provide services such as meals, laundry, housekeeping, and transportation without personal care assistance; Code 8829 for nursing home accommodations; Code 8824 and Code 8826 shall apply to residences that provide personal care assistance with activities of daily living and/or medication administration in addition to providing services such as meals, laundry, housekeeping and transportation (Code 8825 is N/A MA).

Florida Refer to Code 8841—Nursing Home—Professional Employees and Code 9047—Nursing Home—All Other Employees for nursing homes.

Texas—Racetrack Operation—Dog—EMS Personnel;

Texas—Racetrack Operation—Horse—EMS Personnel;

Texas—Visiting Nurses Associations—Professional Employees—applies to employees whose primary responsibilities include providing medical services.

SCOPE Code 8833 is assigned to professional employees of all public or private hospitals. Please refer to Code 9040 for classification information pertaining to nonprofessional employees of hospitals. Hospitals contemplated by Codes 8833 and 9040 include general hospitals as well as those specializing in the treatment of specific infirmities.

Convalescent or nursing homes operated in conjunction with hospitals are classified as hospitals. "Conjunction" as used in the preceding sentence refers to facilities at the same location. These facilities may have a common kitchen, maid service and maintenance employees. A nursing home located away from a hospital that operates without interchange of labor with the hospital is separately rated.

Satellite dispensaries, emergency medical treatment facilities and clinics operated on the hospital's premises are considered incidental to the hospital operation and are properly classified to the hospital codes. Facilities of this nature away from the hospital premises that do not provide overnight accommodations are classified to Code 8832.

Professional employees of a physician who is not in the business of operating a hospital are properly classified to Code 8832 even though the physician's office may be located in a hospital.

The cross-reference phraseologies, "Asylum—Professional Employees" and "Sanitarium—Professional Employees," would apply to mental institutions, institutions engaged in the detoxification, treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics or narcotic addicts and similar institutions. Assign orphans' or children's homes to Code 8842.

Hospitals may employ staff nurses who visit patients at locations away from the hospital. These employees are classified to the proper hospital code unless the hospital operates a separate business that qualifies the hospital's visiting nurse service to be classified to Code 8835—Nursing—Home Health, Public and Traveling. Refer to Basic Manual Rule I-D-3 to determine the qualifications necessary for the assignment of Code 8835 to hospitals.

Employees of labor service contractors working at hospitals are classified as though they are employees of the hospital and would be assigned, based on the nature of their work, to either the professional or nonprofessional code.

The following is applicable to hospitals employing volunteer workers in states where such workers are entitled to benefits under the workers compensation law: The classification applicable to volunteer workers shall be the same as those applicable to other workers of the insured involved in the same operations. Except as otherwise provided, premium shall be determined on the basis of the pay normally received by regular employees doing the same or similar work.

A comprehensive listing of hospital job descriptions that are considered professional in nature follows. It should be noted that employees in job descriptions with an asterisk may be assignable to Code 8810. This would be those employees whose duties are clerical in nature and who would qualify under the Standard Exception classifications rule of the Basic Manual, i.e., those employees engaged exclusively in bookkeeping, in record keeping, in correspondence or other office work, in areas physically separated from other operations by structural partitions. However, if these employees have any other professional (hospital) duties, Code 8833 would apply.

Certain occupations below do not have asterisks. In the unlikely event that employees engaged in these occupations meet the conditions of the Standard Exception rule for assignment to Code 8810, this code may be assigned even though there is no asterisk next to the employee's profession.

State Addendum

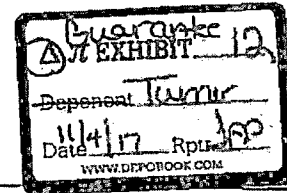

Massachusetts Independent medical testing labs that analyze medical specimens are not assigned to Code 4511. Refer to Code 8832 for laboratories engaged in testing and analyses of medical specimens for doctors and hospitals. However, testing labs that are not independent but part of a hospital must be classified as Code 8833.

The cross-reference phraseologies, "Asylum—Professional Employees" and "Sanitarium—Professional Employees" would apply to mental institutions, orphans' or children's homes, institutions engaged in the detoxification, treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics or narcotic addicts and similar institutions (Code 8842 is N/A MA).

Refer to MA Manual Rule IV-D-4 to determine the qualifications necessary for the assignment of Code 8835 to hospitals. Employees of temporary labor providers working at hospitals are classified as though they are employees of the hospitals and would be assigned based on the nature of their work to either the hospital professional/non-professional or standard exception codes. However, employees of insureds operating hospital departments under contract are assigned classifications reflective of those operations, not the hospital professional and/or non-professional Codes 8833/9040. For example, employees of an insured contracting with a hospital to operate its on-premises laundry, regardless of the fact the employees work on the hospital premises, are assigned to Code 2585, not Code 9040. In accordance with Sections 1 and 25A of M.G.L. Chapter 152, the Massachusetts Workers' Compensation Law applies to "employees." Hospital volunteers receiving absolutely no form of compensation for their services would generally not be deemed to be "employees."

In no case, however, shall the pay of any such police officer be taken at less than $275 per annum.

SCOPE Code 7720 principally applies to police department employees of municipalities, townships, counties or states. This classification would apply to all employees of a police department except clerical office employees qualifying for the assignment of Code 8810 in accordance with Basic Manual Rule 1-B-2-a. Code 7720 would apply to any clerical employee of a police department who had any other duty in connection with the police department's function. This classification would also apply to volunteer or auxiliary police officers, correction department employees, highway patrols, probation officers, parking meter readers, national guard persons, penitentiary employees, sheriffs and jail employees, etc.

Code 7720 also is assigned to private security services, protective or patrol corps, protective agencies, airport security screening employees, armored car service companies, guards, and messengers employed by a contracting agency engaged in providing such services for banks, forest rangers, game and fish wardens, hunting and fishing guides, and businesses engaged in providing watch guard services for others. This classification is assigned to inspectors for Departments of Motor Transportation and inspectors at permanent truck weighing stations. All employees of private security services would be assigned to Code 7720 except those clerical office employees qualifying under the Basic Manual rule. Private security services may include crowd management at athletic events, conventions and concerts. Employees of a private security agency whose assigned duties are those of a store detective or hotel detective would be assigned to Code 7720. There is no distinction made as to whether these employees are armed or unarmed, or whether or not they have the official authority or power to arrest.

It should be noted that in some states there is a separate classification applicable to private security guard services and private detective or patrol agencies.

Specialty contractors providing flagging services or pilot car services at construction sites for purposes of traffic control and safety are classified to Code 7720. When employees of the construction contractor perform these services, the appropriate construction classification applies.

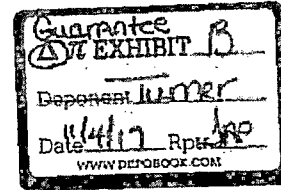

Refer to Code 7219 for classification procedures for dispatchers.

State Addendum

Massachusetts Regular members of police departments employed by, or volunteer members associated with, municipalities, townships, counties or the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, are, with exception of private duty details, subject to M.G.L. Chapter 41, Section 111F, and therefore are not generally covered under the Massachusetts Workers' Compensation Act, Chapter 152. It is the carrier's responsibility to determine if the police officers are employees or excludable municipal employees for workers compensation purposes with respect to private duty details. If it is determined that the police officers are employees, the carrier should determine premium in accordance with Rule V—Premium Basis of the MA Manual. Code 7720 would apply to all employees of a police department except clerical office employees qualifying for the assignment of Code 8810 in accordance with MA Manual Rule IV-2-a—Classifications—Standard Exception Classifications—Clerical—Office Employees. Code 7720 would apply to any clerical employee of a police department who had any other duty in connection with the police department's function. All employees of private security services would be assigned to Code 7720 except those clerical office employees qualifying under the MA Manual rule. In Massachusetts, juvenile detention centers, boot camps and pre-release homes for convicts, often referred to as halfway houses are assigned, by analogy, to classification Code 7720. Refer to Codes 8868 and 9101 for staffed residential group homes. And, refer to Code 8837 to review the representative list of social service agency operations and their classification procedure, which represents classification by analogy (Code 8842 is N/A MA). Refer to Code 7219 for classification procedures for dispatchers.

A department classified by two codes, e.g., Codes 8810 and 9410, means that that particular job description might be classified by more than one classification depending on the actual duties. The codes listed are the most appropriate codes used.

*Secretary is classified by Code 8810 unless governing code includes clerical office employees, e.g., Code 8868.

Minnesota—Bridge Operation & Drivers—includes all employees on approaches. Structural alterations or repairs, or the painting of the bridge structure to be separately rated;

Minnesota—Tunnel Operations & Drivers—this cross-reference has the same footnote as Bridge Operation & Drivers;

Montana—Municipal, Town, City, and County Employees—Administrative or Nonprofessional Employees—Code 9410 includes administrative or nonprofessional employees and supervisors engaged in the following occupations or operations: building maintenance, airports (not pilots), cemeteries, inspectors, laboratories, meter readers, parks, swimming pools, animal shelter and animal control workers, sewage disposal plants, street or highway surveyors, theaters, water plants, and other similar employees. These occupations or operations include duties inside or outside the office. Code 8742 cannot be used in conjunction with Code 9410;

Virginia—replace Municipal, Township, etc., footnote with the following: Social workers, eligibility workers, and social services directors shall be separately rated as Code 9411.

SCOPE Code 9410 contemplates governmental occupations enumerated in its footnote as well as tax assessors, property appraisers, tax collectors, toll collectors, directors of public works not in direct charge of work and welfare workers. Representative municipal occupations assigned to classifications other than Code 9410 and their respective classification assignments are animal control officers—8831; attendants—juvenile home—7720; attorney—city—8820; bookmobile driver—7380; court officer (bailiff)—7720; city manager—8810; doctors—health department—8832 and 8833 (see below); firefighters—7710 and 7711; garbage collectors—9403; garbage works—7590; janitors—9015; judge—city—8810; mayor and commissioners—8810; municipal garage—8380; police officers—7720; probation officers—7720; recreation department—9102; school board employees—8868; sewage treatment—7580; sewer construction—6306; snow removal—9402; street cleaning—9402; street construction—5507 and 5506; visiting nurses—8835; waterworks—7520.

The assignment of the above occupations to Code 9410 and other code numbers listed is in no way intended to supersede the General Inclusion rule of the Basic Manual. For example, employees engaged exclusively in the maintenance and repair of police vehicles are assigned to Code 7720. The assignment of Code 8380—Auto Repair and Service Center has been restricted to those municipal garages that service or repair vehicles for more than one department in a “motor pool” arrangement.

An additional example of including employments typically found in an enterprise to the one best code applicable to that enterprise is the assignment of Code 7580 to a sewage treatment or disposal plant operated by a governmental agency. As evidenced by this code's scope, the extension of pipelines from this type of plant, when performed by the entity operating the plant, is assigned to Code 7580, not Code 6306. Code 6306 would only be applicable to a governmental agency that engages in operations contemplated by Code 6306 (e.g., the construction of a sewer system).

Doctors and health departments may be classified to either Code 8832—Physician or Codes 8833 and 9040—Hospitals. Refer to these scopes for information regarding the assignment of these classifications. Coroners are public officials who investigate deaths thought to have resulted from other than natural causes. As Code 7720—Police Officers includes all employees of police departments except clerical office employees, coroners who are employees of police departments are classified to Code 7720. In the event a coroner's office is a separate enterprise, Code 8832 is applicable to the operation. This classification procedure is consistent with the "one best code" methodology discussed above.

Similarly, civil defense authorities or engineers who are employees of another department or "enterprise" of a municipality are classified as employees of that department or enterprise provided that the department may ordinarily be expected to employ civil defense workers or engineers. Civil defense authorities that are independent of other departments or are attached to departments that ordinarily would not contemplate civil defense workers are assigned to Code 9410. Engineers that are independent of other departments or are attached to departments that ordinarily would not contemplate engineers are assigned to Code 9410 or Code 8601, if qualified, per requirements described in Code 8601.

State Addendum

Massachusetts Refer to the approved phraseology and guide for those employments to be assigned to classifications other than Code 9410.

Refer to Code 7704 detailed in the referenced approved phraseology and guide for Firemen—Miscellaneous Employees—Not Regular or Volunteer Members of the Fire Department & Drivers (Codes 7710 and 7711 are N/A MA).

Garages operated by political entities such as municipalities for repair of their owned vehicles are not contemplated within Code 8380. Assign such garage operations to the appropriate governing classification of the department maintaining its own vehicles (e.g., municipal school bus garage—assign Code 8385—Bus Co.—Garage Employees, etc.). In those instances where a municipality operates a garage or several garages servicing or repairing more than one department, the municipal garage employees would be assignable to the classification that includes drivers, and/or the governing classification appropriate to the departments involved in the instant case.

Code 9402 is exclusively assigned to municipalities in conjunction with their sewer cleaning operations. Refer to Code 5509 for street cleaning, snow removal, traffic line or road marking operations conducted by municipal, township, county or state employees. Code 5509 also includes employees of toll roads who have been hired specifically to perform snow removal operations.

Regular members of fire and police departments employed by, or volunteer members associated with, municipalities, townships, counties or the Commonwealth of Massachusetts are, with exception of private duty details, subject to M.G.L. Chapter 41, Section 111F and therefore, are generally not covered under the Massachusetts Workers' Compensation Act, Chapter 152.

Montana The scope for this classification is reflected in the state's phraseology for this code.

Despite the term "administrative" in the phraseology, Code 8810 may still apply to those employees whose duties are clerical in nature and who qualify under Rule 1-B-2 in NCCI's Basic Manual. However, if these employees have any other nonprofessional duties, Code 9410 applies.

A listing of municipal, town, city, and county job descriptions follows below. Code 9410 applies to administrative or nonprofessional employees and supervisors. Refer to Code 8743 for professional or administrative employees and supervisors. Refer to Code 9420 for all other employees and drivers. For guidance regarding the terms professional and administrative employees, refer to 29 CFR 541, as adopted by the Montana Department of Labor and Industry.
