v.

Bryantavious k murray, Appellant.

notice of motion to dismiss respondents motion to dismiss

Pursuant to Rules 240 and 260(a), SCRAP, appellants move to dismiss the respondents motion to dismiss for reinstatement for the following reasons, the court gave appellants order after order with the time frames that were corrected by the appellants on numerous occasions, plaintiff also states that he has not practiced law that much as a pro se litigant and lacks little at law with no rights to attorney. Appellant states that he filed appeal the best way possible without attorney and, pro se. In accordance to Rule 240 and 260(a), SCRAP, despite respondents lack of communication with appellants, appellants move to dismiss the opposing partys motion for failure to comply with the court the right amount of evidence, and factual grounds of appellants filing appeal. The index and every other motion has been corrected in with no need for dismissal of appeal see Joanna Schwarts, the case against qualified immunity, 93 Notre Dame L. Rev 1799 which appellants states the final brief need to be filed with the record on appeal
