

Dear Patricia Howard, clerk of court.

RE. JOHNICAN V. THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA. CASE # 2022-CP-06-00382

Thank you for your time.

Regarding your letter to me dated 9-06-24.

I wrote you asking who do I need to see <sup>(write)</sup> in the S.C. Supreme Court regarding an issue with the state: Asst Attorney General T. Cruise Mitchell Esq. The state in its proposed final order of dismissal is not using fact and conclusion of law in its proposed order in the above case. I never heard of Megan Harrigan Jameson. Mr. Mitchell is who I've been writing regarding my claims, as well as the Barnwell clerk of court. I have not received a Final Order of Dismissal in my case. The judge has to sign the order for it to become final. All I have is a proposed order to dismiss dated 7-30-24. Until I got your letter I thought my case was still pending. I can't appeal if I don't have a signed order of dismissal. Am I right? Because that's what they tell me here. Please clear this up for me. I don't know these procedures.

- And can you tell me who is the Chief Justice with the S.C. Supreme Court?
- Do I have to receive a Final Order of Dismissal signed by a judge meaning Judge Clyburn Pope?
- And who can I contact when I'm being treated unfair?

Please reply.
