RULE 203(B) EXPLANATION

Pursuant to Rule 203(B)(iv), the issue to be raised on appeal is whether the trial court abused its discretion when the Honorable Daniel D. Hall, modified a Permanent Restraining Order against the Appellant. The Court held a hearing on September 11, 2024 to modify a Permanent Restraining Order that had originally been issued after the Appellant pled guilty to a Domestic Violence in the 3rd degree on December 17, 2021. The December 17, 2021 Order only prohibited threatening or harassing conduct. The appellant was subsequently arrested for violations of that Order and an additional Harassment 1st Warrant. On September 11, 2024 the State called the case for a hearing to modify the December 17, 2021 Order to a full no contact order. The Appellant objected. After hearing arguments from both the State and the Defense the Honorable Daniel Hall modified the Permanent Restraining Order to a full no contact. The pending charges were then dismissed by the State. The Appellant was represented by Thomas L. Bowen Jr., Senior Public Defender.

The undersigned does not have a good faith basis to believe that this issue is properly before the Court of Appeals, and the undersigned did object to the modification of the Order, but did not file a motion to reconsider. Nevertheless, the undersigned consulted with the Appellant about his right to appeal, and after consultation, the undersigned has filed the instant appeal at the request of the Appellant because the Sixth Amendment requires counsel to follow the Appellant's request. See Frazer v. South Carolina, 430 F.3d 696, 705 (4th Cir. 2005) ("A defendant has a right to pursue a direct appeal, even if frivolous, which counsel must assist as 'an active advocate on behalf of his client.'") (quoting Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738, 744 (1967)).

Respectfully submitted,
