SC Court of Appeals

Dear Ms. Allen,

I received a letter from you on July 30, 2013 informing me that you had received my notice of appeal and to which had been assigned the case number above. Just several days later I submitted a letter to you informing you of the receipt of your letter and advising you that you had inappropriately addressed me as "counsel" in your letter when I am in fact a pro-se litigant. I had also furnished your office with a copy of a ~~financial~~ financial declaration from our accounting office in Columbia showing that I am completely indigent and have been for quite a few years. Among other things, I had requested that counsel be appointed from the S.C. Office on Indigent Defense. I had also humbly requested that you please write me and inform ~~to~~ me of the current status of my appeal. I am fully aware that it has been less than 60 days since filing, however I am anxious to be able to correspond with an appellate attorney as this appeal contains issues which should have been resolved at my trial.
(over)

I would therefore humbly request that you please write to me and let me know if an appointment of counsel has been made so far in my case. I sincerely thank you for your time, efforts, concern, help and understanding in this matter.

Sincerely
Jimmy D. Jones
