Re: Andrew E. Lewis v. Lakeview Loan Servicing, LLC
Appellate Case No. 2024-002191

Dear Ms. Kitchings:

The Initial Brief of Appellants is due on January 21, 2025. Appellants, with the consent of Respondent, are filing a motion for a limited remand to correct the transcript of one of the hearings in this matter and for a corresponding extension of time to file their initial brief and designation of matter to be included in the Record on Appeal following that remand, if it is granted.

While that motion is pending, and to avoid any lack of clarity about the due date, Appellants request an initial thirty-day extension to serve and file their initial brief and designation of matter to be included in the Record on Appeal until February 20, 2025. Appellants also respectfully note that their counsels' schedule necessitate making this request even if the above-described motion were not also being filed. By copy of this letter we are serving this request upon opposing counsel via email only. Our check for the $50.00 filing fee will be sent to you today via Federal Express.

Very truly yours,

Bernie Ellis

Use of this system constitutes your agreement to the service conditions in the current FedEx Service Guide, available on fedex.com. FedEx will not be responsible for any claim in excess of $100 per package, whether the result of loss, damage, delay, non-delivery, misdelivery, or misinformation, unless you declare a higher value, pay an additional charge, document your actual loss and file a timely claim. Limitations found in the current FedEx Service Guide apply. Your right to recover from FedEx for any loss, including intrinsic value of the package, loss of sales, income interest, profit, attorney's fees, costs, and other forms of damage whether direct, incidental, consequential, or special is limited to the greater of $100 or the authorized declared value. Recovery cannot exceed actual documented loss. Maximum for items of extraordinary value is $1,000, e.g. jewelry, precious metals, negotiable instruments and other items listed in our Service Guide. Written claims must be filed within strict time limits, see current FedEx Service Guide.
