Motion for Extension

The appellant, Olivia Aryeh, respectfully requests an extension to submit her final brief in the Aryeh v. Aryeh appeal (case number 2023-001334).

The appellant is from Los Angeles, California where her entire family resides, and where her children she shares with the respondent were born. The recent fires, which began on January 7, 2025, have personally affected the appellant and her family via a death and the destruction of property.

Though the fires continue to burn with some containment, the appellant is now better able to focus on this appeal now that the shock from the loss has begun to subside.

The defendant respectfully asks the Court to grant her an extension to submit the final brief.

With Gratitude,

Olivia Aryeh
