Good afternoon: Please find six documents attached to this email: (1) Appellants' Final Opening Brief (with certificate of conformity); (2) Appellants' Final Reply Brief (with certificate of conformity); (3) the Record on Appeal (which has been broken into 3 separate volumes); and (4) a proof of service for the same.

Regarding the deficiency letter sent on March 31 about the record on appeal, I had submitted the ROA in 2 separate documents because of their size, intending that the final ROA would be broken into 3 separate volumes as required by the rules when my third-party printer prepared and submitted the paper copy, as requested. I certainly did not mean to cause any administrative confusion. In any event, I believe one physical copy of each of Appellants' briefs and the ROA has been delivered to the court; the physical copy of the ROA is divided into 3 volumes; and electronic copies of all physical copies (and each volume of the ROA) are attached to this email.

Thank you.
