Mr. Brown,

I just received an email stating that it was December 9, 2024 so I apologize. However, I was not the court reporter on December 10, 2024 when that hearing was held. You will have to contact the other court reporter.

Again, I apologize and I hope you have a great day.

Thanks,

Felicia

Defendants.)
_____)

This matter came before Judge Coble on Plaintiff's Damages Hearing held in-person on December 10, 2024. Present at the hearing was the pro se Plaintiff, Samuel Brown, who presented his argument. Defendant did not appear and is in default. Judge Coble took the sworn testimony of Plaintiff to prove his case.

Based on Plaintiff's testimony, even though Defendant is in default, Plaintiff is still required to prove the damages sought in the Complaint regarding ownership of the property. Under South Carolina Code Section 15-67-10, Plaintiff did not present any evidence which would allow him to be entitled to the property.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

Mr. Brown,

I apologize for the delay of your request. On December 9, 2024 a hearing was not held. If I recall, a hearing was set, but upon waiting a couple of hours, I was told we would not be going on the record. I am not privy to information as to why it was not held.

Again, I apologize for not responding sooner.

Thanks,

Felicia
