To Whom It May Concern,

I'm writing you on behalf of Mr. Jamie Goss case #2021-00127. My name is Tyron Wilson, Community Advocate and Founder/Executive Director of The Tyron Wilson Let Us Mentor (TWLUM) Teens Project. I live in the community in which Mr. Goss lived before his incarceration. Mr. Goss comes from a single parent home in which his mother tried her best to create a good and stable living environment for him and his siblings. Not having a father figure and guidance that he needed as a young adult, has caused Mr. Goss to make some bad decisions; many of which he has paid his debt to society.

Mr. Goss has had to watch his 4 kids grow up the same way he did; without a father figure and being raised by his mom. His mother's health is failing now, she uses an oxygen machine and can't care for herself without assistance. Mr. Goss has been incarcerated for many years and understand his punishment for his crime. Over these years, Jamie has had time to grow mentally and spiritually. He now realizes how important his freedom means to him and his family. Through faith and a great support system, which I will provide, I strongly feel that Mr. Goss will become a productive citizen if given the opportunity.

I work closely with other organizations in Georgetown and Horry counties to better improve the well-being of our community. I will also help Jamie get the right resources to find a job. The Father's Place will definitely be a resource, which help fathers who were incarcerated become better father, upon his release. I truly believe Jamie is ready to become a law-biding citizen, and with myself as a mentor I will do my part in guide him to greatness.

I pray you take everything into consideration to grant Jamie parole/pardon for his 4 kids and his elderly mom whose health is failing. Every conversation I've had with him engaged in spirituality and God, he shows an impeccable love for his family and continues to be a guiding light despite his situation. His Faith is at its peak and the rehabilitation designed by the South Carolina Dept. of Corrections has been pivotal in the creation of who Mr. Jamie Goss is today.

If you have any questions give Tyron Wilson a call at 843.933.0281

SC Court of Appeals

To Whom it May Concern,

RE: Jamie Goss (Case#2021-00127)

I, Erica Hicks, would like to say a few things on behalf of Jamie Goss(case#2021-00127). Jamie has a humble personality and well-mannered young man. He was the product of a single parent home, where his mother Jacqueline Goss raised him to be respectful and have manners. I feel that Jamie got lost in society at some point and made some bad decisions, but none that warrant him being a danger to the community if released.

Jamie has four children that has fallen to the same circumstance of being raised by a single mother. I feel that they have lost a lot of time with their father, that they will never be able to get back since his incarceration. He was a good father to them and always present part of their lives. He has a family that cares for him deeply and will do everything in their power to provide the necessary support if released.

In our communications, Jamie is strong and has enlarged his faith. Jamie is humble and repentant, fully aware of the lives he has impacted in his crime. In his years of incarceration, he has taken every opportunity to better himself, encourage others, and stay connected with his family and faith family. Jamie's goal is to become physically, emotionally, and spiritually healthy, and takes every positive step to achieve this goal daily.

I sincerely ask that you approve parole for Jamie Goss). Jamie's life outside the walls of prison would be a testimony to the community and others. Until and when Jamie is released, I commit to providing any support to him and his family as Jamie transitions to being a free and fully contributing citizen.

Sincerely,

Erica L. Hicks
