I apologize, but I just noticed that a document from an unrelated case was attached to “Exhibit A” submission (it is the last, ninth page of the document). The document is routine correspondence from another case and does not contain any sensitive information; nevertheless, I have attached a corrected version to this email. I have also uploaded a the correct documents to the Court through the AIS online portal. Please let me know if this is sufficient to correct the error or if you would like me to resubmit the entire motion, which I am happy to do.

Again, I apologize for the error. Sam.
