To the South Carolina Court of Appeals, I'm emailing to ask for an emergency appeal concerning the decision that had been rendered on my case May 13th@2:00 due to me not being notified or informed that I was supposed to had been in court by my Attorney of florence County Clerk of Court..I came home to a Writ Of Ejectment on my door May, 29@2:20. My Attorney Name is Vanisa Siler Brown. She was notified and she did not tell me anything. I am disabled and I had back surgery nov.2024. My family and I are homeless for no reason of our own. I have proof that she was notified.I was given 72 hours to have all my furniture off the premises without a warning. I called my Attorney several times and she wouldn't answer or return my call. After this horrible incident, she responded when I texted her letting her know what had happened, and how her misconduct and negligence caused me and my family to be homeless. She then asked me to text her a copy of the written ejectment..After she received it, she responded to it a week later. She still denies that she was electronically notified but I have proof of it Through the Florence County Clerk of Courts.. Please help me Appeal this decision on behalf of my family and I.

Sincerely, Rachel Buie
