RE: Federico Castro v. SCDMV
Appellate Case No. 2025-000532

Dear Ms. Kitchings

The application of Rule 203(b)(1) established that the Appellant does not need an appeal. Therefore the order of dismissal against the respondent is final.

RULE 203(b)(1)

When a form or other short order or judgment indicates that a more full and complete order or judgment is to follow, a party need not appeal until receipt of written notice of entry of the more complete order or judgment.

The Default Judgment and the Order are final.

The respondents dismiss the court of appeal, Therefore, I sincerely appreciate your attention, based on the Court's rules.

South Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles Driver Records Manager, Respondent.

ORDER AGAINST RESPONDENT

The Appellant has complied with the requirements of RULE 203(b)(1). The Order has been invalidated by the Respondent's against the Appellant by not filing the Proposed Order so after the Statement Judgment there is no starting point therefore legally it is impossible to apply the Rule "In toto" this causes the Default Judgment to be automatic as well as the Order acting immediately against the respondent's in conclusion the order has already been applied against the respondents.
