I forgot to mention that when I had asked about the 14 days to Appeal her decisions she wasn't to happy about me knowing that and when I told her that I would be appealing her decision her comment to me was more power to you now what kind of response is that from someone that's supposed to be a judge that is very unprofessional and because of that she made the decision a moot order but I can still appeal it because she has it in the order.

Thank You
