On August 18, 2025, the Appellants filed their Amended Record on Appeal. In response, on August 22, 2025, Responded filed a motion to dismiss the appeal on the grounds that Appellants' amended record on appeal failed to comply with the order issued by the Court on August 6, 2025. Subsequently, the Court issued an Order on September 11, 2025, which denied Respondent's motion to dismiss, but required the Appellants to serve and file a second amended record on appeal within ten days of the order to prevent dismissal of the appeal. The Order further provided details as to what the record on appeal should include and noted the relevant rules from the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules, including Rule 210, SCACR. On September 22, 2025, Appellants filed their second amended record on appeal.

Appellants' second Amended Record on Appeal also fails to comply with the Court's order and fails to comply with the applicable rules. Rule 210(c) provides that the Record on Appeal should include all matter designated to be included by any party under Rule 2009 and shall comply with the requirements of Rule 267. A review of the Appellant's second Amended Record on Appeal reveals that it still fails to comply with these requirements. In this second amended record, the Appellants failed to attach the Exhibit to the Respondent's Reply to Motion to Compel Arbitration and Stay; the appellants also failed to attach the Exhibits to the Respondent's Motion for Summary Judgment. Additionally, the Exhibits A and B, which the Appellants placed at the end of the record after the Transcript of Hearing, are actually exhibits that are part of the Respondent's Summons and Complaint, which are included at the beginning of the Appellants' record. Further, the page numbers are once again inconsistently placed throughout the amended record and incorrectly labeled within the Table of Contents. Lastly, the pleadings listed in the Record are completely misprinted and contain errors that are not in the original pleadings (See pages 30-34 of the Record).

This is the third time the Respondent has had to file a pleading in this appeal because the Appellants have failed to simply follow the rules of this Court. The pleadings received from the Appellant are coming from an individual named Isiah Smith whose email address is sisiah28@gmail.com. Respondent has no idea who this individual is, but the Respondent suspects that this individual is preparing pleadings for the Appellants and does not possess a license to practice law in the state of South Carolina. As a result, the Respondent has had to incur significant time delay and additional attorney fees and costs on this case which is a simple automobile repossession. For these reasons, the Respondent requests that the Appellants' appeal be dismissed.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ John S. Kay
