To whom it may concern for ready want to keep an update that I have not received anything yet from my email containing the transcript. I'm still waiting for that email I also waiting on mail to . Still waiting on for the probation court haven't received anything from them. Just wanted to appoint this to to whom it may concern to I went to the post mail office to receive mail cause I don't get mail at my residence cause of hindering non fixing boxes of what he refuses to fix but they say they about to stop holding our mail at their offices and sending them back to address of where it came from so if u send mail out it might return back to the sender so I asked in case send of what I need through email thank you sorry for the message

Have a great day
