Good Morning,

I am following up on my correspondence below from last week requesting clarification as to the new deadlines now in place for initial briefs/responses now that the two matters have been consolidated.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

With kindest regards,

Stephanie Simpson

Subject: Re: Richard Lewis v. Robert M. Errato

Good Afternoon,

I just spoke with Emily Heid, the case manager for this matter and she suggested writing the Court to request clarification as to the briefing/response deadlines now that this matter has been consolidated.

Prior to these matters being consolidated per your January 21, 2026 correspondence, Robert Errato filed his Initial Brief and DOM in the first matter on January 12, 2026. To that end, that would make Respondent Lewis' Initial Brief due on February 11, 2026 - in the initial appeal. If that deadline is still applicable to the consolidated matter, Mr. Lewis will be filing for an extension.

But, now that these matters have been consolidated, both sets of parties are now both Appellants and Respondents. We are respectfully requesting clarification on any timelines and deadlines in the newly consolidated matter as to both parties' Initial Brief, Responses, etc.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

With kindest regards,

Stephanie Simpson
