RE: Roman et. al. v. PNC Financial Services, Renee Beach, Phillip Beach et. al.
(S.C. Supreme Court - Case No. 2026-000713)

Dear Justices:

As you may recall, I represent Mr. Roman and Gravitas Synergy Solutions, LLC, Petitioners, in the above-referenced matter. On March 20, 2026, the Court issued an Order granting a Temporary Injunction for a period of thirty (30) days which expires on Monday, April 20, 2026. Since March 20, 2026, Respondents have timely submitted their Answer to Petitioners' Complaint and in turn, Petitioners' have timely submitted their reply to Respondents' Answer.

As of this date there does not appear to have been a decision by this esteemed body concerning Petitioners requested relief for writ of injunction and declaratory relief. Petitioners humbly request this court extend the Temporary Injunction until such time this matter has been decided or for any further time duration the Court feels appropriate to avoid the harm previously enjoined. Of course, if the Court has made a decision or anticipates doing so before Monday's expiration, please accept my apologies for the inconvenience of this letter and request.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Of course, if you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me and opposing counsel copied on this correspondence.

Kind regards,

Meriwether Law,

Taylor M. Smith IV
