

RECEIVED

Apr 17 2026

SC Court of Appeals

From: Allison Smith
To: Court Of Appeals Filings
Subject: Case 2025-002310, inquiry
Date: Friday, April 17, 2026 12:55:13 PM

---

*** EXTERNAL EMAIL: This email originated from outside the organization. Please exercise caution before clicking any links or opening attachments. ***

I received a deficiency letter dated April 15, 2026.

I mailed in my bounded copy of all filed documents and information I want in included on my appeal but from the deficiency letter I am assuming there is no record on appeal or proof of service found in the pages which requires me to do an amended record and appeal and mail it to the respondent attorneys office.

Is this understanding correct ?

If so I am complying with the 10 day deadline, However since you all already have a bound copy. Do I need to mail another bounded copy with all the sheets again plus the record on appeal and proof of service to the court of appeals or can I just mail a bounded copy of the record on appeal and proof of service and consider it a second book to what was already mailed in?