(1) It is well established that an accused may waive the right to counsel and proceed pro se. State v. Reed, 332 S.C. 35, 503 S.E. 2d 747 (1998), citing Forette v. California, 422 U.S. 806 (1975). Although a defendant's decision to proceed pro se may be to his own detriment, it "must be honored out of respect for the individual which is the lifeblood of the law."
